The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppression when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Irritability, Dependency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the kind peculiar to woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of 1,000 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

SATURDAY, APRIL 5, 1879.

The New Hampshire Senatorship.

The report of the democratic majority of the Senate committee on privileges and elections in the case of Senator Bell, of New Hampshire, says they can find no sufficient warrant in the constitution for the claim that a governor has power to make a temporary appointment to a vacancy at the begining of a term which the legislature had not undertaken to fill. Applying the rules recognized for the constitutional provisions, they are forced to the conclusion that the legislature alone is empowered to chose a senator upon the expiration of a senatorial term.

The minority declare that the evident purpose of the constitution to keep the representation of the States always full, requires a construction which authorizes such appointment when a vacancy happens at the beginning of a term, as if it happened at any other time. The authority of the governor is to appoint "until the next meeting of the legislature," which, literally construed, would require a senator so appointed to vacate his seat on the day the legislature met. Yet the Senate, in furtherance of the controlling purpose of the constitution that the place shall be always full, has uniformly held that a senator so appointed retains the seat until the legislature chooses his successor, or adjourns without making a choice.

Another War.

Peru and Bolivia have concluded an offensive and defensive alliance, and both countries have declared war against Chili. Bolivia's right to tax nitrate exported from her territory by Chilians, waived in a treaty which is repudiated because made by a revolutionary government, is the cause of the trouble.

"—and His Money," etc.

Joel Farren is a countryman hailing from the quiet little village of Cherryfield, Maine. He went to Boston on Fast day intending to see the "elephant" in all his glory. After wandering about the city until afternoon he was "picked up" by a man who gave the name of William Brown. Upon learning Joel's abiding place Brown acknowledged that he was a Maine man and belonged in Portland. Brown, during his conversation, pulled out a large sum of money and remarked how unfortunate it was that he was a little short of money to pay a bill which was due at that time. He had almost enough, but not quite. He asked Farren how much money he had. The latter replied $55.50, upon which Brown exclaimed "That is just the amount I need; how lucky!" and asked to borrow the amount. Farren complied with his request, and of course is now mourning the loss of his money.

Mob Law in Iowa.

Reports from Davis City, Decatur county, Iowa, say that the citizens, in view of the long series of lawlessness and crime by a gang of desperadoes led by Irving Tucker and one Tarter, on Monday, the 31st ult., banded together, seized Tucker and hanged him. Tarter was also captured, and said he was ready to swing if allowed to kill Topliff and Frisbie, two citizens against whom he had a grudge, but he was taken from the mob and placed in jail. The mob then went to the bagnio of one Martha McLain, tore down the house and destroyed the contents. During the fray, sympathizers of Tucker and Tarter set the Commercial printing office on fire. Much excitement prevails, and more trouble is anticipated.

A Chicago Sensation.

A scandal was occasioned some time ago in Chicago by the attentions paid Mrs. Henry Gelderman by Dr. Henry Meyers, arising from the fact that Dr. Meyers' wife and Mrs. Gelderman's husband had shortly before died under circumstances deemed suspicious. The bodies of the deceased were exhumed, and after a careful analysis, just completed, large quantities of strychcine were found in the system of Mr. Gelderman, and the stomach of Mrs. Meyers was found impregnated with deadly colchicine. The coroner's jury found a verdict recommending that Dr. Meyers and Mrs. Gelderman be held for murder.

News and Notes.

It is stated that in accordance with the unanimous resolution of the Senate, passed Feb. 28th, favoring an early termination of all agreements and treaties with England relative to the matter of the fisheries, Secretary Evarts has proposed to the British government for England to keep the five and a half million dollars paid to it, and to terminate at once the fishery treaty, instead of letting the treaty run the remaining six years.

Despatches from Provicetown, Mass., Friday, announced another severe snow and wind storm along Cape Cod, Thursday night. A schooner was sunk off Billingsgate, and her crew were in the rigging, with life-saving men trying to get them off. Another schooner was ashore near station seven; at noon two of her men had been washed overboard, and the rest were lashed to the bowsprit.

The board of inquiry in the case of Gen. Fitz John Porter has made a report exonerating him, and recommending the President to annul and set aside the findings and sentence of the court martial.

The Lynn police are satisfied that the body of the woman mysteriously murdered and left in Saugus river has been completely identified as that of Jennie Clark, and will deliver it to her relatives.

The secretary of the treasury on the 3d inst. issued the ninety-fourth call for the redemption of the 5-20 bonds of 1865, coupons of 1867. The call is for $10,000,000, of which $7,000,000 are coupons and $3,000,000 registered bonds, principal and interest to be paid at the Treasury on and after the 3d of July next, and interest will cease that day. The following is a description of the bonds: Coupon bonds, dated July 1, 1867, $50, No. 117,001 to 123,000; $100, No. 220,001 to No. 234,000; $500, No. 112,001 to No. 116,000; $1000, No. 203,001 to No. 213,000. Registered bonds redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after the first of July, 1872: $5000, No. 15,451 to No. 17,050.

The Senate on the 3d inst confirmed Clarence King of New York as director of the geological survey, David H. Strother (Port Crayon) of West Virginia as consul-general at the city of Mexico, James R. Weaver of West Virginia as consul-general at Vienna, and Dr. J. B. Hamilton of Illinois as supervising surgeon of the marine hospital service.

Hamlin, the convict who murdered Wells Shipman, a warden of the Connecticut State prison who attempted to prevent Hamlin's escape, has been sentenced to be hung on the 28th of May, 1880. Davis, the prison watchman who abetted Hamlin, has been found guilty of murder in the second degree, the penalty for which crime is confinement in the penitentiary for life.

An order was issued from the office of the adjutant-general of Massachusetts on Wednesday, by which Major James Leonard of the eighth regiment, living at Salem, is declared ineligible for the office. It appears that Major Leonard was born in Halifax, N. S., and that he has never taken out naturalization papers. He served four years in the late war, and rose from private to be lieutenant. He has served continuously in the Massachusetts militia since 1865.

Gov. Proctor of Vermont on Thursday reprieved John P. Phair, who was to have died on Friday, for six days, in order to allow his counsel time to again apply to two judges for a new trial on the ground of the discovery of new evidence. M. D. Downing, the man who said he met Phair on a railroad train from Providence for Boston on the 10th of June, 1874, visited Phair in jail on the 2d inst., and makes oath that he is the man whom he talked to in the train. This is the new evidence on which the reprieve is based.

The President has nominated Medical Inspector Thomas J. Turner to be a medical director in the navy, and Surgeon Charles H. Burbank to be a medical inspector.

New Hampshire Items.

Mrs. Charles Smith, a widow lady of Nashua, committed suicide on the 3d inst. by drowning in a canal.

The long-winded "Stratton case," which has been dragging along for a long time and has attracted much attention in Haverhill and vicinity, is not a divorce case as has been stated. It is a bill in equity in which the plaintiff, Enoch Stratton, sues for a decree enjoining Mrs. Ladd, his wife's daughter, from taking possession of a farm which Mrs. Stratton has deeded to her. Mr. and Mrs. Stratton some time ago separated, and since their separation have been fighting about this farm, which is owned by Mrs. Stratton.

Abuse of Witnesses.

The New York Herald, in several able articles, protests against the practice which has grown up in courts of the abuse of witnesses by lawyers, under the pretence of cross-examination. It says that when a lawyer bullies and libels a witness he is protected by his professional privilege. He can give way to the meanest impulses of a bad heart without any fear of personal consequences. A bully is generally a coward, and a lawyer who, shielded by his professional privileges, plies an unresisting witness with all sorts of insults and degrading insinuations, would shrink from such insolence in any place where he could be held personally answerable. This kind of torture is frequently practiced upon a helpless woman or a diffident citizen who is disconcerted and loses his wits under such treatment in the presence of an audience.

Such attacks, when they are wanton and uncalled for, as they usually are, are every whit as cowardly and disgraceful as firing upon an unarmed person from behind the safe refuge of a bush or a stone wall. The only rational purpose of a judicial enquiry is to elicit the truth, and when there is an evident desire on the part of a witness to further the ends of justice by telling the uncolored truth it is an indecent outrage on his private character to attempt to break the force of his testimony by coarse assaults and insinuations put to him in the form of questions. There are no doubt cases when it is allowable to go into the private history of a witness, as for example, when a scoundrel or criminal is put upon the stand to testify. But that is no justification for treating respectable citizens as if they were scoundrels or criminals.—Journal.

Soft Sawder.

"I don't like to be left alone with a gall," says Sam Slick; "it's plaugy apt to set me a soft sawderin' and a courtin'. There's a sort of natural attraction like in this world. Two ships in a calm are sure to get alongside of each other, if there is no wind, and they have nothin' to do but to look at each other; natur' does it. Well, even the tongs and the shovel won't stand alone long; they're sure to get on the same side of the fire, and be sociable; one on 'em has a loadstone and draws t'other, that's sartain. If that's the case with hard-hearted things, like oak and iron, what is it with tender-hearted things like humans?"

—He said he would like to be an editor; that he wanted to revel among fancies, startle the world with his ideas, with words that burned and thoughts that shook the nation. He was hired, but, when he had read a three column proof of an auditor's report and was handed a page of sheriff's sales, he remarked that facts were less in his line than poetry, and walked out of the door. —Oil City Derrick.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.
☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; it costs but 2c. a lb. Cream of Tartar over 40. Most, New York; Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.
☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere. 1i0.

THE CITY.

The spring vacation of Miss Morgan's school begins to-day.

It is stated that George L. Treadwell, Esq., has resigned the treasurership of the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Co., to accept a position in Boston.

Mr. Moses D. Moon, who has been acting as foreman of painters at the navy yard since November 28th of last year, on Friday received an appointment to that position.

An applicant for a pension recently wrote to his attorney, and closed his letter as follows: "Do all you can in my case with dispatch, as I am in very pecuniary circumstances and unable to work."

A letter received in this city on Friday from a person on board the U. S. S. Plymouth says she has lost five men by yellow fever since leaving Boston. She had better have remained at this station, and received a thorough fumigation.

Portsmouth Grange proposes to offer $50 premium for the best acre of beets, or $25 for the best half acre. Mr. C. H. Hayes, master of the Grange, expects to receive a large supply of imported beet seed to distribute for planting in this vicinity.

In 1679 New Hampshire was created, by the king in council, into a separate government, under the jurisdiction of a president and council. Judge Cutts, Esq., of this city, was appointed president, and his commission was received on the first of January, 1680.

An opportunity is offered for a scholar to obtain a Webster's Unabridged Dictionary by a little effort. The manager of the Liliputian Opera Company offers the above-mentioned prize to the pupil who shall sell the largest number of tickets. Apply at the Times counting-room to-day between 10 and 11 o'clock A. M. and 2 and 3 o'clock P. M.

The coal men anticipate the landing at this port, this season, of at least thirty thousand tons more coal than was brought here last year. Winter before last, it will be remembered, was an open one and very "light" on fuel, so that last spring found the local dealers and the large corporations in the interior of the State with much larger spring stocks on hand than usual; but the past winter—that is, if it can be called past—has been harder than usual on the coal-bins, and the stores on hand are now small.

On Friday evening a valuable sorrel colt belonging to Dr. Dearborn, which was hitched to an iron post in front of Capt. Matthews' house on Langdon street, got frightened at a passing train of cars, and in its attempts to get away broke the post, and ran down Langdon street into the stench-pool at the foot of the street. The colt was going at high speed, and probably stumbled on the bank, as he went into the mud with great force, head foremost, and was dead before he could be extricated. Both shafts of the carriage were broken and other minor damage done. This cess-pool is one of the nuisances that the city is trying to remedy, and but for the delay of the Eastern railroad it might have been already filled up. A boy about six years old broke through the ice there this winter, and but for the courage of a gentleman who saw him would have been chilled to death; as it was, it was almost impossible to aid him.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. Enoch F. Pillsbury was confirmed as postmaster at Biddeford by the Senate on Thursday.

There was a pedestrian match in Eagle hall, Dover, Thursday evening, between two men named Hurd and Burns, the former to walk eight and one-half miles while the latter ran eleven miles, for a purse of $50. Hurd won in ninety minutes and ten seconds.

There was a walking match of twenty-five miles in Saco, on the evening of the second inst., there being six starters, five of whom completed the distance. The winner, Cowan, finished in four hours, one minute and thirty-eight seconds from the start, the second pedestrian, Dearborn, finishing three minutes and fourteen seconds later; the last man, Stimson, was four hours and thirty-nine minutes doing the distance. The hall was "crowded with a very select and appreciative audience." All the contestants ran more or less, except Stimson, who made a "square heel-and-toe walk."

A building at Great Falls owned by C. E. Stevens, and used by Joseph J. Shallis as a slaughter-house, was burned Thursday night, with butcher cart, pump, sleigh, two buggies, and several tons of hay. Loss on the building $350; Shallis' losses, $400; both insured.

The town of York will raise the following sums for the ensuing year: Schools, $2123.16; ordinary expenses, $2000; interest on notes against town, $1000; special appropriations for roads, $200; From the auditor's report it appears that there was expended for roads and bridges during the past year, $822.34; ordinary expenses, $1344.07; notes and interest paid, $2612.20; schools, $3468.83; total amount of outstanding notes, nearly all holden by residents of the town, $10,637.32. The town debt amounted on March 13th, 1879, to $6,893 59, the debt having been reduced $1259.98 during the past year.

Our Rye correspondent writes, under date of April 4th, as follows: "The life-saving station crew and their life-boat are all right. They rowed in from the Shoals yesterday afternoon, arriving at the station about six o'clock." A gentleman from the Shoals who saw the Fairdealer when she ran in there, in telling about it said: "I knew she was being handled by somebody who knew all about the islands, for she ran down in good shape under a double reefed foresail—it was blowing lively just then, I tell you—and he put her into Smutty-nose island dock handsomely, just as far as she would go, the tide being clear out just then. The schooner was like a bladder on the water, and in that breeze could only sail like a hay-stack—dead to leeward."

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, April 4; Batchelder, J.

Reuben Rand, Jr., was bound over in the sum of $200 to answer at the April term of the supreme court to a complaint of aggravated assault.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The examinations of the public schools closed on Friday afternoon, and the scholars were given Saturday for a holiday, with a vacation through next week. The last examinations were in the schools taught by Mr. Buzzell in the first and Mr. J. Marshall Hawkes in the second districts. Quite a number of teachers of other schools, and parents and friends of scholars, were in attendance at the latter school, and the exercises lasted to quite a late hour. Remarks were made by Messrs. Wendell, Knight and Hackett of the board of instruction, and by the teacher. The latter commended the deportment of his pupils and their diligence, and paid a graceful compliment to the teachers of his district, by whose co-operation good results had been obtained in the schools under his supervision. Handsome bouquets of flowers adorned the desk on the occasion.

BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST.

This grand dramatic cantata will be given in Music hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, April 15th and 16th, with a matinee for children on Wednesday afternoon. At the matinee the hall will be darkened, and effects given by gas-light exactly as in the evening performance. The costumes are new and elegant, several of them never having been worn. A scenic artist has been engaged by the managers to come down from Boston to paint the special scene, "The marvelous hand-writing on the wall," and no expense has been spared to make this a first-class entertainment.

The sale of tickets for the evening performances will commence on Tuesday afternoon, 8th inst., at five o'clock, at Preston's; and no favoritism for singers or managers will be shown in the sale.

Sale of tickets for matinee, for children only, will commence at Preston's on Saturday, the 12th inst., at noon; on and after Monday, the 14th, the sale of matinee tickets will be continued for adults.

For prices, etc., see advertisement.

THE TEMPERANCE MEETINGS.

The temperance meeting Friday evening was a grand success, a number of hard drinkers signing the pledge; 950 have signed up to date. This evening Mr. Booth will address the working men, Prof. G. F. Monroe will sing several solos, and the grand chorus choir led by Dr. Goodall will take part. Doors open at 6:30, service to commence at 7:30. Admission free.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Miss Laura E. Giddings closed her labors Friday morning as third assistant at the high school, where she has been since September first. The classes which have been under her instruction have become much attached to her, and gave expression to their good-will in several beautiful and appropriate presents. The second class presented her with a pair of opera glasses; the young ladies of the first class gave her a beautiful bouquet, and the young gentlemen two handsome volumes of poetry, Scott and Whittier.

Dr. May, chairman of the high school committee, was present and addressed the school. He spoke of the excellent service Miss Giddings had rendered to the school, she having given entire satisfaction to all interested. He expressed the regret of the committee at the fact that Miss Hooper's ill health compelled her to resign the position of first assistant, and then presented to the school Miss Kate L. Cushing, who has been elected first assistant and who will commence her duties at the beginning of next term.

Col. T. E. O. Marvin was also present, and being called upon responded in a happy little speech which added much to the interest of the occasion.

Miss Cushing, the new teacher, resides at Cambridge, Mass., but for several years has been assistant in the high school at Hingham, Mass. She has had a very successful experience as a teacher, and brings the best of recommendations.

The spring vacation of this school commenced with the close of the session on Friday, and continues through next week.

LOSS OF SCHOONER M. E. ELDREDGE.

The fine three-masted schooner M. E. Eldredge, built at this port last year by Mr. Wm. F. Fernald, was destroyed by fire on Thursday night, while on the passage from Philadelphia for Boston with a cargo of coal. Mr. George T. Vaughan on Friday received a despatch from Capt. Staples, dated Provincetown, Mass., April 4th, saying "Eldredge took fire last night and was run on beach to save lives. Spars, sails and top of hull all gone."

The M. E. Eldredge was a very fine vessel, being unusually strong in her build, of large carrying capacity for her tonnage, and a good sailer. She was launched on the 1st of August, 1878, and went to sea on the 29th of August, bound for Windsor, N. S. Since then until she went up in smoke and flame she has been profitably employed, having made some very good passages and commanded the highest current rates of freight. Her last round trip was from New York to the Canary islands with a cargo of corn, thence to St. Thomas for orders, and thence to Cardenas, Cuba, where she loaded with molasses for Philadelphia, and after discharging at the latter port took aboard a cargo of coal for Boston.

She was owned by Mr. George T. Vaughan of this city, Capt. Staples of Wells, Me., who commanded her, and others. Her registered tonnage was 298.23, and she was classed A1 for twelve years in French Lloyds. She was partially insured.

The schooner was burned in Herring cove, where she had put in for shelter. About midnight fire was discovered in the forecastle, supposed to have caught from the bursting of a kerosene lamp, and all efforts to extinguish the flames proving unavailing, she was beached at about one o'clock, about a mile from Race point. At seven o'clock Friday morning all her masts had fallen.

A DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

From the Bangor Whig, April 2.

It is so much the custom for companies traveling through the country to send out brilliant promises that are not always fulfilled, that people sometimes get distrustful of all such notices; and when the Boskin Club advertised that the largest and smallest people in the world would appear, not as an exhibition of giants and pigmies, but as a talented and well-trained opera company, it would not have been surprising had our public been a little credulous. But perhaps the well-known fact that the Boskins are very careful not to attach their imprint to anything which does not fulfill its promises, had much to do with the fact that upon the rising of the curtain last evening the Liliputians appeared before an audience composed of the best class of our citizens, and those for whom no second rate show has any attractions. To say that the audience were satisfied with the entertainment would not be stating the truth,—they were delighted. To have seen eight such diminutive specimens of humanity at one time,—not dwarfed, but well-formed and handsome featured—would have been a rare sight of itself; to have seen an eight-foot giant, like Col. Orr, would have been another rare sight; but to see all these, and added to that to have them the possessors of fine voices, and to possess in a high degree operatic and dramatic talent, was one of those wonders of the world, the opportunity to see which once lost never returns.

Flattering as have been the notices of Miss Jennie Quigley, Admiral Dot and their attendant satellites, and immense as Col. Orr has been represented to be, they more than realized the highest anticipations of any. It is unnecessary to particularize the play of "Jack, the Giant Killer," but it is sufficient to say that it is the old story retold in rhyme, set to familiar and pleasing music, and enlivened by neat but never obtrusive hits, local and otherwise.

Miss Quigley has really a charming voice and under fine control, and her singing of the prison song from Il Trovatore, and "Baby Mine," showed in a marked manner her high talents in singing and acting. Admiral Dot as "Jack" was perfection itself, while little Gen. Totman, (a "distinguished son of Maine,") Misses Sarah Belton and Ella Kirtland, Prince Louis and Major Houghton, fully and admirably sustained their respective roles, and Col. Orr, though large enough to speak for himself, fairly earned our heartiest approval. The farce of "Toodles," which closed the entertainment was brimful of enjoyment, and showed dramatic talent far beyond that of more pretentious companies we have seen.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. tu22

It takes the palm. The Cough and Lung Syrup of Dr. A. J. Flagg's.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 35 cents.

Whooping Cough instantly relieved by a small amount of a very pleasant medicine known as Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. Keep it handy.

IN SPITE OF ALL TEMPTATION to try other remedies do not fail to give Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye a trial if you are troubled with a cough or cold. It is without doubt the safest and most reliable offered, and it is morever pleasant to take. Those who have used it will have no other medicine. It is a gentle tonic for the whole system, and taken in moderate quantities this depressing Spring weather, it is exhilarating and healthful. Order it from C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston.

Bronchitis will surely come if you let that cough run any longer. Stop it at once by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

While in New York this spring you need not pay twice for meals that you only get once. In other words, at the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, is now conducted on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00 and upwards, per day, which allows you to take your meals at the elegant Restaurant attached to the Hotel, at moderate prices, or to take a room only, and pay for what meals you get.

Children are so liable to colds and coughs. Cure them early by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

WHEAT MEAL!

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the fraternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call made up Graham, that is, artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hereby a person who uses the genuine Wheat Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

Fashionable Foolishness.

There is no modern fashionable notion quite so absurd as the generally received idea that to be beautiful and attractive a woman must possess a wan, spirituelle face and a figure of sylph-like proportions—a fragility in nine cases out of ten the result of disease. By many fashionable belles it is considered a special compliment to be spoken of as frail and delicate. They forget that the naturally delicate face and petite figure are very different from the pale and disease-stricken faces that meet us in the city thoroughfares, look out from the luxuriant carriages of wealth and glide through our crowded drawing-rooms. If disease were unfashionable, as it ought to be, not a lady in the land but would take every precaution to secure the fresh, blooming face and well-rounded figure that only health can give. Ladies should remember that much as gentlemen may profess to admire the face and form paled and emaciated by disease, when they choose a wife they prefer a blooming, healthful, buoyant, spirited woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the acknowled standard remedy for female diseases and weaknesses. It has the two-fold advantage of curing the local disease and imparting a vigorous tone to the whole system. It is sold by all druggists.

How to Catch a Shy Horse.

If the horse is shy and hard to catch, take finely-grated horse castor, oil rhodium and cummin; keep them in separate bottles, well corked; put some of the oil of cummin on your hand and approach the horse on the windy side. He will then move toward you. As soon as you can reach him, rub some of the cummin on his nose, give him a little of the castor on anything he likes, and get a few drops of the oil of rhodium on his tongue. After this you can make him do nearly everything you want. Treat him kindly, feed well, handle gently, and your victory is certain.—Turf, Field and Farm.

—A revival has broken out in Rev. W. H. H. Murray's church, which had assumed such proportions at last accounts that he had felt warranted in starting a factory in New Haven for the construction of a new style of road wagon.

—A well-known minister, at Amherst, Mass., rose from his knees at an evening meeting recently, right in the midst of a prayer, and soundly lectured parties who were whispering in the rear of the vestry, and then returned to his praying. There wasn't any more whispering until that prayer was finished.

—A colored voter in Mobile had been employed by a merchant to take some kerosene oil to the Mobile & Ohio railroad depot for shipment. He informed the gentleman who employed him that he was going to vote the democratic ticket—wouldn't think of voting any other. On his return from the depot he was asked for the receipt for the kerosene oil. Putting his hand into his pocket he pulled out a citizens' ticket. "This isn't the receip," exclaimed the merchant. "Bless de Lord," was the response, "I done gone an' voted de kerosene oil ticket."

—Two herdsmen quarrelled on a Nebraska prairie, and each threatened to kill the other. Neither was armed, but there was a gun in their hut, a mile away. Both started for the weapon, and it was a race for life, for the man who got it was certain to shoot his companion. They had several fights on the way, and were bruised and exhausted when they neared the goal; but they ran with desperation, and kept abreast until close to the house. Then one tripped and fell, giving the other the lead. The victor dashed into the building, pulled the gun down from its hooks, and mercilessly murdered his fallen foe.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

HON. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES—of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities offered to superior advantage for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal examination. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent postpaid for $1.50); or "Invalids' Guide to Health" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cataract (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Tumors, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of these diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, alluded to it as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, I am confident that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly; I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician, and am so confident that I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations on a single invalid lady who uses it. For any of the ailments for which I recommend it, the I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE (for conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and where it is safe to assert that no other agent, or any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Burning-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Consequent Inflammation, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness, I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not dispepsize, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats on the nature of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of these affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1873. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been perfected and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers: Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill now form the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our medical specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of a specialist in this department.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of treating diseases, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50); or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book," (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cutaneil (Skin) Cancers, Bladder, Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method, without a surgical operation, Tumors, Cancers, Tubercles, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the purposes for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Womb, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exist this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a diagnosis of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried — and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,
Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son, Physicians and Druggists, Dealers in Domestic Goods.
MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 250 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, th is name cannot be revealed by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a low sale, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

—When it is written D. D., it stands for doctor of divinity, but when it is written d—d, it signifies something altogether different.

—Gladstone has been presented with a silver hatchet. This places him under an awkward responsibility for the future. He cannot tell a lie.

—At a popular store, famous for the prompt and polite attention of the clerks, a woman of perhaps thirty years was looking at goods, when a young man stepped towards her and asked: "Is any one waiting upon you?" "Why, what a question! I've been married this ten years."

—Thirty-three years ago a "Passion play" was represented at Quebec, and, though it was regarded by the community [illegible] the theatre was crowded. In the crucifixion scene the stage took fire and nearly fifty people lost their lives in the ensuing panic. There has been no "Passion play" in Quebec since.

—The distinctive feature of a Free Methodist church in Toledo, Ohio, is the belief that all Christians ought to wear some distinctive badge. The members keep on their breasts a wide red ribbon, with a cross printed on it. The pastor of the Campbellite church in Austin, Texas, picks an India-ink emblem on the arm of every convert, and calls it "the saving mark."

Food Ill Digested

Imperfectly nourishes the system, since it is only partially assimilated by the blood. Pale, haggard mortals, with dyspeptic stomachs, imperfect circulation and weak nerves, experience a marked and rapid improvement in their physical condition by availing themselves of that sure resource of the sick and debilitated, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This genial tonic and alterative lends an impetus to the processes of digestion which insures an adequate development of the materials of blood, liver, and muscular tissue. Moreover, it soothes and strengthens overwrought or weak nerves, counteracts a tendency to hypochondria or despondency, to which dyspeptic and bilious persons are peculiarly liable, and is an agreeable and wholesome appetizer and promoter of repose. The infirmities of age, and of delicate female constitutions, are greatly relieved by it; and it is a reliable preventive of, and remedy for, malarial fevers.

Consumption Cured.

It takes the palm. The Cough and Lung Syrup of Dr. A. J. Flagg's.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 25 cents.

Whooping Cough instantly relieved by a small amount of a very pleasant medicine known as Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. Keep it handy.

IN SPITE OF ALL TEMPTATION to try other remedies do not fail to give Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye a trial if you are troubled with a cough or cold. It is without doubt the safest and most reliable offered, and it is morever pleasant to take. Those who have used it will have no other medicine. It is a genuine tonic for the whole system, and taken in moderate quantities this depressing Spring weather, it is exhilarating and healthful. Order it from C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston.

Bronchitis will surely come if you let that cough run any longer. Stop it at once by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

While in New York this spring you need not pay twice for meals that you only get once. In other words, as the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, is now conducted on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00 and upwards, per day, which allows you to take your meals at the elegant Restaurant attached to the Hotel, at moderate prices, or to take a room only, and pay for what meals you get.

Children are so liable to colds and coughs. Cure them early by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. MONDAY, APRIL 7, 1879.

Accepting the Results of the War.

Congressman Blackburn, of Kentucky, who is always frank as well as clear and forcible in his speeches, announced the democratic purpose in the House on the 3d inst., not only for present legislation but for its future action. He declared that his side would stand together and force the measures under consideration, or the Forty-Sixth Congress would die before the government should receive any supplies. In closing, he went further than any democratic speaker of standing has ventured, and said that his party, now that it had full power, intended to strike out of the statute books every vestige of the war legislation.

In the House on Friday a red-hot fire-eating speech was made by Mr. Singleton of Mississippi, who charged that no respectable person in the south was a republican; inquiries being made as to the existence of a system of ostracism in the south, he gave evasive answers. In closing his speech he said: "I would not leave one vestige of this war legislation [illegible] I can accept, until the proper time comes, the partial repeal of the supervisor law, but with due notice that in all time to come, in season and out of season, I will endeavor to repeal every law on this subject on the statute books."

This is just what the republicans have all along charged was the intention of the democrats—to undo all the results of the war so far as legislation can undo them—and what the democratic press has stronuously denied. When the editor of the Okolona (Miss.) Southern States a few weeks ago "thanked God that the confederates had at last captured the capitol," and boasted that as soon as a democratic president was elected every vestige of the "radical legislation" of the past eighteen years would be wiped out, he was roundly abused by his brother editors of the democratic persuasion, north and south—called a liar, idiot, and other pet names, the Boston Pilot (catholic organ) forming him a "—— fool" and the Boston Post referring to him as "the Okolona ass;" and now come Messrs. Blackburn and Singleton, and say that is just what the democrats do mean to do at the very earliest opportunity. It is not an answer to say that these men are only hot-heads, and that a reversion of the results of the war is not aimed at by the masses of the democratic party, for it is these same hot-heads who rule that party and will direct its course in the future as they have always done in the past.

News and Notes.

A court-martial has been ordered to try Major Holler, who was dismissed from the army in 1863 for disloyal conduct when in the field.

The fact that the German mission was offered to Whitelaw Reid, editor of the New York Tribune, last December, seems to have been one of the best kept official secrets of the present administration. It is now first made known by the publication of correspondence heretofore treated as confidential.

Washington Nathan, a son of the Nathan whose murder in New York created so much excitement some years ago, was shot at and wounded in a New York hotel, Thursday, by "Birdie" Bell, a woman of ill-repute and Nathan's mistress. Nathan was making a call upon Miss Alice Harrison, an actress, when the Bell woman entered the room and shot him, first firing at Miss Harrison without hitting her. Miss Harrison had nothing to do with the affair, and is said to be very circumspect in her conduct, never going to or from the theatre unaccompanied by a relative; Nathan, who is a "sporting" man and has occasionally had something to do with dramatic affairs, was merely an acquaintance of hers.

Dr. James M. Pease of Holyoke, Mass., was bound over to the superior court, Friday, in $2000, for procuring an abortion on Mrs. Fred King of Pittsfield. She testified positively that he used instruments.

John P. Daily, who murdered Thomas H. Spellman, an old scissors grinder, in front of the former's hotel near North Adams, Mass., on the 20th of July last, and W. A. Montgomery, who killed George W. Ellis at South Adams in November last, were arraigned at Pittsfield, Mass., Friday, and both pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree. They will be sentenced at the May term of the supreme court.

Ayres Jones, a mountaineer, accused of the murder of Lieutenant McIntyre two years ago at the head of a troop in the Georgia mountains, has been captured. McIntyre's murder created a great sensation in Georgia, and the authorities have been working it up ever since. Jones is a desperate man, who defied arrest and eluded the officers a long time.

The subscriptions for the United States four per cents on Friday reached nearly sixty millions, and the Secretary of the Treasury has called in the remainder of the five-twenty bonds. No more subscriptions will be received at present for four per cent bonds, except for the ten-dollar certificates.

King Cetewayo, of the Zulu nation, has sent messengers to the missionary bishop to explain that he did not desire war, and was sending the persons whose surrender had been demanded by the British, to be delivered to the general at Rorke's Drift, when his messengers and pickets were fired upon and the battle unpremeditatedly occurred. The Zulu general who permitted the battle to occur is now in disgrace. Cetewayo now asks the resumption of negotiations, with a view to a permanent settlement of all contested questions. The messengers, in reply to questions, stated that the Zulu army had dispersed to their homes. The above confirms the reports current at Cape Town, March 11th, that Cetewayo had made overtures of peace, which reports were then discredited.

Gordon Pasha, governor-general of southern Egypt, has received despatches from one of his officers sent to break up the slave depots in the neighborhood of Bahr el Gazal, in the province of Kordofau, reporting an engagement with Suleiman, one of the chief slave traders and owner of twenty-five depots, in which it is stated that the women alone awaiting importation into Egypt numbered 10,000. The Egyptian forces numbered 3000, and were entrenched, some being armed with Remington rifles. On the morning of the 28th of December, Suleiman, with 11,000 men, attacked the entrenchments, and after numerous assaults, in which the Arabs, under the personal leadership of Suleiman, fought with desperate courage, the attack was completely defeated and the assailants fled in disorder, leaving 1087 men dead on the field. The Egyptians lost 20 men.

The day after the battle between the Egyptians and the Arabs under Suleiman 500 deserters came over to the Egyptian camp. The Egyptians followed the retiring enemy and killed ten chiefs and 2000 more men, and were still in pursuit at last advices. The capture of all the slave depots was considered certain.

The town of Miragoane, in the island of Hayti, was almost entirely destroyed by fire March 16th. Five or six thousand persons were left homeless, and the loss is estimated at over one million dollars.

Madame Elizabeth Patterson Bonaparte, who married the pusillanimous cur Jerome Bonaparte, youngest brother of the great Napoleon, and was disowned by her husband at the emperor's order, died in Baltimore, on Friday, at the age of ninety-four.

A young lawyer named Proctor, recently from Portland, is accused of robbing a safe at Leavenworth, Kansas, of $110 in cash. He is at large.

The justices of the Maine supreme court have unanimously agreed in an opinion sustaining the positions taken by Governor Garcelon in his veto messages on the pay-roll of the legislature. The "reformers" who drew double mileage will now be required to restore the overdrawn amounts. About $4000 a year will be saved to the State under this decision of the courts.

A thick-skinned seventy-years-old gardener at New Haven recently fell fourteen feet from a tree upon an iron fence, breaking two rounds of it without hurting himself much.

William Harris came in second in a six days' walk at Louisville, Mo., and died four days later from congestive chills induced by exhaustion.

Joseph McManus, a young man of good family belonging in Lansingburg, N. Y., and a Mrs. Forbes of Cohoes, have been arrested for causing the death of Johanna Winkleman, twenty years old, by a criminal operation performed to conceal the young man's perfidy.

The report of a commission sent to enquire concerning the famine in upper Egypt, shows by statistics that 10,000 persons died by starvation alone in Girgeh, Keva and Esna. The famine, which was really a money famine caused by overtaxation, has now terminated.

The schooner reported wrecked near life-saving station seven. on Cape Cod, Friday, was the H. L. Fort, coal laden, from Hoboken. The captain took Race point light for Highland light, and sailed ashore in a snow squall, before the wind. The two men lost were the mate and cook. The rest of the crew were rescued by a whaleboat containing a picked crew commanded by Capt Isaac F. Mayo.

The English university boat race was pulled on Saturday, and was won by Cambridge, beating Oxford two lengths.

New Hampshire Items.

The democrats will not permit Mr. Bell to have a seat in the Senate, nor will he be allowed upon any of the standing committees.

Nashua is already in the field with a live potato bug.

The grand jury at Concord last week reported seventy-nine liquor indictments, every druggist and apothecary in Concord being indicted.

S. C. Clatur, who has created such a sensation among the Manchester liquor dealers by procuring indictments against them, was arraigned Friday before the police court for an assault growing out of a spirited controversy on temperance topics. He was fined $5 and costs, from which he took an appeal to the May term of the supreme court.

The men on top of Mount Washington have a hard time of it. An almost unprecedented gale has been blowing since Tuesday night, when the wind was blowing at the rate of 182 miles an hour. Thursday the velocity ranged from 138 to 144 miles, a really frightful rate, as it is estimated that in the worst of the East Indian cyclones the speed is but about 100 miles an hour.

A Plymouth despatch says it is very uncertain whether Dickey will plead guilty to manslaughter or not. He was at first reported as decided to do so, and it was so understood, but he has since repeatedly changed his mind and is still very vacillating. If he does not the case will probably be postponed to the May term of court.

A son of Daniel W. Foss of Pittsfield, aged thirteen, was seriously injured in Strafford on Friday by the falling of a tree upon him, breaking his skull.

Naval Matters.

Medical Inspector C. J. Cleborne is detached from this navy yard, and ordered as fleet surgeon of the North Atlantic squadron.

Paymaster Edwin Stewart has been nominated to be a Pay Inspector in the navy from March 8th, vice Pay Inspector J. N. Carpenter, retired.

Political.

The army bill, with its political riders attached, was passed by the House on Saturday afternoon, by a vote of 148 to 122, all but three of the greenbackers voting with the democrats.

A Washington correspondent of the Boston Post writes: "I had a talk the other evening with Hon. S. S. Cox. He contemplates retiring from public life at the end of the present Congress. He told me that he was left alone by the party, who did not recognize him in any way. The southerners, also, he said, 'abandoned me in 1861 to the mercies of the republican party,' and now come up here and calmly ride over him. It is largely his jealousy of other prominent men of the party, and his own abandonment of sound democracy." Poor Sunset.

Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ All of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; it costs but 2c. a lb. Cream of Tartar over 40. Mott, New York; Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.

THE CITY.

You can go trout fishing now if you want to; the law is "off."

The building on High street, formerly the Camp carriage factory, has been leased by the Howard Benevolent Society to Mr. Benjamin Cheever, who is converting it into tenements.

The schooners that carry brick from Dover point and other places up the river have fairly begun the spring business, three regular traders in that line—the Hattie Lewis, D. K. Ham and G. W. Ralit—having sailed from this port for Boton on Saturday.

Ex-Alderman Lewis C. Whiton, of Boston, a member of the firm of Whiton, Brother & Co., of No. 1 Commercial street, died at Washington, D. C., on Saturday. Mr. Whiton married a Portsmouth lady, who is well known in the literary world.

The ship Paul Jones, on her recent passage from Manila to New York, was in a cyclone on the 24th of January, in latitude 22 26 south, longitude 65 east, durwhich she had her lower maintopsail blown away; and when near port, March 30th, had a strong gale from the northward, with snow and sleet, and blew away the lower foretopsail.

The grand variety show by Black, Rooney & Ward's minstrels in Franklin hall this evening will be a good entertainment—much better than some of the highly-praised travelling combinations give. The boys deserve a big audience, and as the prices are low (25 and 15 cents) they will probably have it if the weather is propitious. For particulars see small bills.

The schooner Bob, Walsh master, left Rockland some days ago for this port with a cargo of lime, but leaked badly, and put into Portland supposing she was on fire; but after discharging three hundred barrels of the lime it was found she was not on fire, so she returned with the balance of her cargo to Rockland, arriving on the 2d inst., and will be repaired before again making sail.

A "lamb" ten months old, wearing a blue ribbon around its neck and a fleece estimated to weigh twelve pounds, attracted considerable attention Saturday, on Market square. It weighed one hundred and fifty-five pounds—almost enough to entitle it to be called a sheep. It was raised by Gilbert P. Hoyt of Newington, and was purchased by Harry S. Hartshorn of this city.

Capt. Staples, late master of the schooner M. E. Eldredge, reports that he was running into Herring cove at about midnight on Thursday, all hands being on deck, when the fire that destroyed the vessel was discovered in the forecastle, which was then all in flames. All efforts to extinguish the fire proving futile, he beached the schooner as best he could, and the crew then took to their boat and succeeded in getting on board the schooner Cora, which was ashore near by. One of the crew, Charles Robinson, had his arm broken, but no one else was hurt. Nothing was saved from the vessel.

THE VICINITY.

Frank Kinnison had his left arm nearly cut off by being caught in a mule head at No. 3 mill in Newmarket on the 2d inst.

Miss L. E. Dixon of Eliot is assigned the salutatory, and W. F. Fernald of Kittery the valedictory, at the next anniversary of New Hampton Institute.

Gov. Garcelon of Maine has appointed Edward S. Morris of Biddeford as State superintendent of common schools. Mr. Morris is spoken of as being peculiarly well fitted for the position.

Mr. John Bracewell has purchased of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co. the lot of land at the corner of Central and First streets in Dover, upon which is the hook and ladder building used as a ward room. Mr. Bracewell intends putting stores on the lot.

The schooner Caroline Knight, stranded some time ago at Rye beach and subsequently gotten off and taken to Rockland, for a bailing port, for repairs, was launched from the railway there on Friday, having been put in good condition.

Dover parties are having built on the Kennebec river a schooner to be launched in May, designed to run between the coal ports and Dover. She will draw less water than the John Bracewell, and go up to Dover with her cargo on board.

Kate McShane of Dover fell on the ice early in the winter, and broke her arm. Last week she appeared before the Dover city councils and stated her case, and while not claiming that the city was liable, seemed to think her case a proper one for sympathy and city aid. The councils seemed to think so too, and voted to pay her board and doctor's bill, amounting to $39.50.

Albert E. Rogers had a disagreement at a school meeting in Great Falls with George W. Farnham, and did assault and batter him. Farham entered a complaint against Rogers, and summoned fifteen witnesses to support it; and when Rogers looked at the army brought against him he surrendered at discretion, pleaded guilty, and was fined $2 and costs—$32.82 in all.

A freight train over the Boston & Maine railroad had a narrow escape from destruction Tuesday night, the 1st inst. At Lawrence a "bob-car" loaded with beer was attached to the train. When the train arrived at Wells, the bar that connects the trucks of the bob-car gave way, and one end of the car struck the platform and stove a hole in it. The car did not leave the rails but kept on, and at this station its condition was discovered. When the car knocked into the platform at Wells the beer barrels were broken, and molasses of the track all the way here. —Kennebunk Star.

The smiling and bland lightning rod men who "did" so many Rockingham county people last year are now collecting the notes so carelessly given, and I gal escape from payment is said to be difficult. The papers have warned the people time and time again against all peripatetic swindlers and humbugs, and have especially warned farmers against signing any paper whatever presented by unknown "agents," no matter whether they have lightning rods, or mowing-machine grinders, or anything else for sale, nor whether the paper presented purports to be an "agreement to act as agent" or any other apparently innocent document; but the swindlers keep right on, and seem to make a good thing of it—probably out of the men who can't afford to pay $1.50 a year for a paper that will give them the local and general news every week. The only safe rule for farmers to follow is to buy what they want of dealers whom they know, and to sign nothing at all!

P. M. L. A.

At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Mercantile Library Association, held at Mercantile hall on Friday evening of last week, officers were elected as follows:

William A. Hodgdon, president;
Frank L. Pryor, vice president;
Albert H. Sides, secretary;
William C. Robinson, treasurer and librarian;
Chas. A. Hazlett, Thomas H. Odion, Charles H. Marston, Floren Barri, William G. Billings, Edward H. Hall, directors.

William H. Sise was elected a trustee for three years. The reports of the treasurer and librarian were entirely satisfactory. It was voted that the sum of $100 be appropriated for the purchase of new books. The library, which is very valuable, now numbers nearly 1900 volumes, and in fine condition. Several new members were admitted. During the past year one member, Mr. William B. Lowd, has died, and three have removed from the city.

THE TEMPERANCE MEETINGS.

On Saturday evening Music hall was completely filled, and great interest was manifested; several solos were beautifully given by Mr. G. F. Monroe, the chorus sang very well indeed, and Mr. Booth made a moving address intended especially for working men. Quite a number of well known citizens, business men and others, some of them rather free drinkers in the past, and others of the "moderate" class who drink pretty regularly but "never take enough to show it," donned the blue ribbon.

On Sunday evening the last meeting of the series was held; Music hall was crowded, and many blue ribbons were put on. One liquor dealer took the pledge, and contributed $25 toward the expenses of the campaign.

BACK AGAIN.

On Friday the navy yard authorities received orders to at once prepare the quarantine station at Wood island for occupation, and on Saturday morning the steamer Leyden was sent down with the necessary supplies, etc. The cause of this action was that the Plymouth, which left Boston on the 15th ult. for a cruise to the West Indies, had returned to Vineyard sound, where she anchored on the 2d inst. with yellow fever on board, and had been ordered here by the department.

It will be remembered that the Plymouth was in this port some months ago, and was finally ordered to Boston—on account, it was currently reported, of the action of the Kittery health officer, Dr. M. F. Wentworth, who refused to certify to her freedom from yellow fever, she having had several cases on board during a cruise in the West Indies the previous summer; complaints were made to the navy department that the ship was needlessly kept in the lower harbor, and she was accordingly ordered to Boston, where she laid during the remainder of the winter.

It is stated that the ship during her stay was thoroughly and persistently fumigated; but when about a thousand miles on her way to the West Indies, before reaching hot weather and without her having touched at any port, the yellow fever appeared, several men being taken down by it. The ship was promptly headed north, and anchored off Nobska point, Martha's Vineyard, on the 2d of April, Peter Eagan, boatswain's mate, having been buried at sea on the previous day.

The stricken ship arrived in the the lower harbor at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening, and anchored at the quarantine station.

A WARM ENDORSEMENT.

Rev. Mr. Pitblado, pastor of the Methodist-Episcopal church in this city, has received a unanimous invitation to remain with that society another year, and will do so if the bishop presiding over the New Hampshire Conference consents. The church we understand is in a very prosperous condition; and as an evidence of the manner in which the pastor is regarded we may mention that not a Sunday has passed since his pastorate began that the pulpit has not been decorated with flowers by members of the congregation.

At the close of Mr. Pitblado's sermon on Sunday forenoon, Mr. Frank G. Thurston, (in the absence of Mr. Stephen W. Clarke) stepped forward and requested the privilege of saying a few words, and then read the following address:

PORTSMOUTH, April 6th, 1879.

To Rev. Charles Bruce Pitblado: It is with feelings of unmingled pleasure that I assure you of the high estimation in which you are held by the various temperance organizations in our city. In you the cause has ever had a warm, zealous, fearless advocate, and your services have been highly appreciated by the friends of temperance as well as by the public at large. It is therefore to be desired that your connection with the varied interests of our city should not be dissevered, believing, as we honestly do, that the cause of temperance would be seriously impeded were you to be removed at the present crisis of affairs. Our united prayer is, that the blessing of the Almighty may ever attend you, and that we may be privileged to enjoy your ministrations and labors for the up-building of the church and society at large for at least another year.

Yours in christian brotherhood and on behalf of the temperance organizations, and others:

MRS. D. H. SPINNEY,
President Woman's League.
JAMES W. MARDEN,
President Reform Club.
FRANK G. THURSTON,
Vice Pres't Temp. Relief Ass'n.

The pastor was surprised and very visibly moved, but responded briefly and in fitting terms, saying that in all his temperance work he had never met with such generous sympathy as has been extended to him here.

Mr. Pitblado preaches the opening sermon at the conference, which opens at Plymouth on Wednesday, the 9th inst.

PRESENTATION.

On Saturday evening at about half-past eight o'clock a large number of Eastern railroad employes and others were gathered in the ladies' writing room at the Eastern depot, the occasion being the presentation to Mr. Samuel Barrett, late station agent of the Eastern railroad and now filling a similar position at the Concord depot, by his former associates, a token of their good will and esteem. The affair was kept a profound secret from Mr. Barrett, and it was not until he entered the room that he was aware of what was in store. The presentation was made by Mr. Albert T. Pickering, conductor on the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, who addressed him in substance as follows:

Mr. Barrett: You have been invited here this evening by some of your many friends in the employment of the Eastern railroad, that we may present you a mark of the high esteem and regard we have for you as a citizen and a friend, and for the courteous manner in which you performed your duties as an official while acting in the capacity of agent of this station. In behalf of your friends here assembled I present you with this reclining chair and cane, as a token of sincere respect and true friendship; may you live a long and happy life, in health, wealth and prosperity, to enjoy their comforts; and may the hand of Providence ever guide you, and the all-seeing eye be ever watchful over you, so that wherever you may go or whatever you may do you will be blessed with that will and power (due to all mankind) to enable you to perform your duties in a just, fair and impartial manner, so that every one may say of you, as the sentiment is here to-night, "he is indeed truly a friend."

Mr. Barrett, though taken completely by surprise, responded very pleasantly, as follows:

Mr. Pickering and Friends, allow me to express my gratitude and sincere thanks for these beautiful gifts; and coming as they do from those with whom I have been associated for years, rest assured I shall prize them not merely for their intrinsic value, but far more as a remembrance of pleasant hours, and a token of your kindly regard. I can truly say I have always had your generous support in the discharge of my duties; again I thank you and all the rest. In my new situation it will be my aim to merit the confidence and friendship of my superiors and subordinates alike, and to discharge my duties faithfully and with a due regard for the rights of every one.

Three rousing cheers were given for Mr. Barrett by the assemblage at the close of his remarks, and all hands were then invited by him to an entertainment.

The cane is of black ebony, and has a heavy gold head and band, suitably inscribed. The easy chair is of black walnut, richly upholstered, and arranged so that the occupant can recline in any desired position. Both gifts are very handsome, and costly.

The Liliputians.

From the Hamilton (Ontario) Times.

From the extremely favorable notices that have appeared in the press wherever the Liliputian Opera Company has performed, the expectation of our theatre-going public was raised to rather a high pitch, and those who went to the hall last night expected to see something very good and very much out of the common, and before proceeding any further we are glad to say that not one of the very large audience which filled the hall last night were one whit disappointed. From the rise of the curtain in the first act of the "Giant Killer" to the fall in the last scene in "Toodles" there was not a single hitch, and the little folks did their work in a manner so graceful and artistic that they would have put many a would-be star to the blush.

The story of "Jack, the Giant Killer," is one which is unknown to but few of our little ones, and is looked upon as a standard nursery work, and even old heads delight to look back on the days when "Jack and the Bean-stalk" was pleasing to them, and its reality representation last night must have vividly recalled early years. The story as told by the little people is pretty and amusing, and all its points and situations are brought out in a striking manner. "Jack" is represented by Admiral Dot, a hero twenty-eight inches high and twenty years old, who walks the stage with an air of an Achilles, tackles his gigantic opponent "Fin Ma Coon" (Col. Orr), the giant, eight feet high, in a manner worthy of the Victoria Cross. Miss Jennie Quigley, "Jack's" betrothed, is a charming little lady twenty-five years old and thirty inches in height. She is a perfect actress, and her singing is remarkably good. "Baby Mine," to the Giant, and "The Sly Young Girl" being especially well given. She became a general favorite last night. Miss Sarah Belton is an admirable "Gertrude," and gives valuable aid to the completeness of the entertainment. Very handsome is Miss Ella Kirtland, who is just as good as she is pretty and a very conscientious little actress. She has a pleasant contralto voice, which she uses with skill, and her dancing is extremely graceful. Prince Louis makes a praiseworthy "Ulric," and Major Houghton as the old woman—well the Major could not be improved upon. Gen. Tutman immediately won the favor of the audience, and his song of "Don't Make a Noise" was very funny. We have hardly said enough of the Giant, but the quality of his acting is fully up to the quantity of the man, and for the information of our young friends we may say he is a very kindly giant. The character acting of the company at the end of the "Giant Killer" was very good, the singing of Prince Louis, the Highland Fling of Miss Kirtland, and the humorous acting of the gens d'armes by the Giant and Dot with the big and little guns and the big and little drums, were very amusing. "Toodles," which was given by request, was more than laughable. The Admiral is a splendid "Toodles" and shows he is a thorough comedian. He was loudly applauded. Miss Quigley as "Mrs. Toodles" was also very good and fully shared the honors with the Admiral. The support was good.

The matinee, which is crowded to an extent never seen in the city and from which many have been turned away, is proceeding as we go to press, and from the laughter of the young people who fill the hall, "Jack" is a decided success. Extremes always meet, and it is rumored that the gigantic showman, P. T. Barnum, is the power behind the throne of the Liliputian Company.

WHEAT MEAL!

— OR —

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the fraternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call made up Graham, that is, artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hardly a person who uses the genuine Wheat Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

WILLIS G. MYERS.

An Asparagus Bed.

He who lives in the country and has no asparagus bed has at least one heavy sin of omission on his conscience for which he never can give an adequate excuse. If the man who does "not provide for his own house is worse than an infidel," he that will not "bother" with an asparagus bed is anything but orthodox, and yet cannot call himself a rationalist. Some are under the delusion that an asparagus bed is an abstruse garden problem and an expensive luxury. Far from it. The plants of Conover's Colossal (the best variety) can be obtained of any seedsman at slight cost. I have one large bed that yields almost a daily supply from the middle of April till late in June, and I shall make another bed in this simple way: As early in April as the ground is dry enough—the sooner the better—I shall choose some warm, early, but deep soil, enrich it well, and then on one side of the plot open a furrow or trench eight inches deep. Down this furrow I shall scatter a heavy coat of rotted compost, and then run a plough or pointed hoe through it again. By this process the earth and compost are mingled, and the furrow rendered about six inches deep. Along its side, one foot apart, I will place one-year-old plants, spreading out the roots, and taking care to keep the crown or top of the plant five inches below the surface when level; then half fill the furrow over the plants, and when the young shoots are well up, fill the furrow even. I shall make the furrows two feet apart, and after planting as much space as I wish, the bed is made for the next fifty years. In my father's garden there is a good bed over fifty years old. The young shoots should not be cut for the first two years, and only sparingly the third year, on the same principle that we do not put young colts at work. The asparagus is a marine plant, and dusings of salt sufficient to kill the weeds will promote its growth.—E. P. Roe, in Harper's.

—Always remember the poor; it may save the awkward mistake of trying to borrow a dollar from the man who hasn't got it.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases of the blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Lung Scrofula, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of drastic drugs, and bulky excipients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Dull Pain in the Head, Fullness after Meals, Flush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their searchive influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharging falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcerated membrane, and wasting, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be used, or by blower applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which a medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the adjacent bones or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by Druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Propr. INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1873. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Medical Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

HON. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. F. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior character for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid on receipt of $1.50 or "Invalids' Guide Book" (168 pages, 10 cents post-paid.

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Hernia, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Pelvic Abscess, Rupture, Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cancer, Club Foot, Stricture in the Rectum, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Tumors, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet quoted, "Medical as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousands cases of those diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while winessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for the class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I order and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Prostration, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness. It does not exist this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a diagnosis of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 200 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of these affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried ——, and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly and free influence of the RADICAL CURE secured freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 250 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and today, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in to cheat a few silly but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

The Things Which Belong to the Peace of Our City.

A Sermon preached on Palm Sunday, April 6th, 1879, by James DeNormandie, Minister of the South Parish, Portsmouth, N. H.

Luke 19:41-42. When he was come near, he beheld the city and wept over it, saying, if thou hadst known, even thou, at least on this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

To-day is called Palm Sunday in the ecclesiastical year, from the incident of throwing branches of palm along the way, as Jesus made his triumphal entry into Jerusalem a short time before his crucifixion, and it is a day when the pulpit generally employs itself in discoursing upon the kingly powers and attributes of Jesus. For a brief period it seemed to the multitude that Jesus had confessed or assumed the prerogatives and offices of the Messiah, although with little of the outward pomp and glory, which had been associated in the common mind with that personage. There was a great gathering at Jerusalem for the Paschal Feast. It has been said that as many as three million Jews some years crowded to the Holy City during the week of this national festival, and it was rumored that Jesus the new prophet, for or against whom they had heard so much, would be present, and his arrival was looked for with intense interest and curiosity. The Jews who had seen him at Bethany spread the report that he was to arrive on Sunday morning. As he passed on from that little town the crowd increased and some spread their garments in the way according to an oriental custom of homage to a distinguished traveller, and others broke off branches of the palm, olive, fig and walnut trees which lined the road, and scattered them before him. Many came out of the city to join the throng, and to assist him along the crowded way, so that the multitude might see the one to whom it desired to pay its homage. Jesus mounted an ass, and rode slowly on amidst the shouts of his followers. For a little while in that toilsome and sorrowful ministry he seems to yield to and gratify the enthusiasm of the people, to recognize him as their king, for a little while to acknowledge that he really was that Messiah for whom they longed. Yet there was little in it which approached any royal triumph; it was after all a very lowly imitation of any earthly ruler, and it was of brief duration; the triumph and the shouts of the exultant crowd were soon exchanged for the humiliation and suffering of the cross. If it was a passing gratification to the Oriental taste to surround Jesus with the glory of an earthly king, it was something which ill became his mission or his nature, and all talk about him as a king is strangely out of place in our day and democratic land, and it only leads us astray from any true appreciation of his work or spirit. But there is an incident in that transient and apparent triumph from which we draw a lesson of enduring value. At a certain point on the road which leads around the Mount of Olives, all at once the city of Jerusalem bursts into full view. It is a sight which from its rare beauty as well as rich historical associations, impresses the traveller still as of peculiar grandeur and solemnity—but it was a view of much greater magnificence as Jerusalem was in that day, with the golden roof of its temple dazzling the eye. As Jesus came to that point, and beheld for the last time that city whose people he had so often summoned to the ways of godliness, and saw in no very rare prophetic spirit the destruction which should follow their deafness to his voice, with tears he cried, —"if thou hadst known, even thou, the things which belong to thy peace,—but now they are hid from thine eyes."

A city is always a sight for tears. Perhaps this great massing of human beings together, wherever there are natural advantages for trade, is a necessity of the business world, but it is a necessity which endangers, while at the same moment it calls forth the humanities of life. We cannot be forgetful of the advantages which attend this bringing into a small circle all the various aspects and conditions and occupations of life, this establishing a microcosm on the banks of every great river, or at the head of every ocean harbor. We cannot be forgetful of the great philanthropic movements, of the benevolent associations which exist in every city; of the great charities which there go on. We rejoice when the wealth of ages is shaped into some magnificent pile of architecture like St. Peter's; or some grand galleries of art like the Louvre or Brera, or Dresden or Florence; or some great museums or libraries like those at Paris or Naples, or London. Nevertheless a city is a place for tears. The more it brings men together the more it keeps them apart; the greater the population the greater the contrasts; if it awakens the humanities, it multiplies the temptation; it makes social life easier and social dangers greater. A city arouses a hardness, a sharpness, a coldness, selfishness and loneliness of life it is difficult to resist. In the press of its business who can stop to think or care for others. Where is one so lonely as in the crowd of a great city? And yet it is hardly right to speak of selfishness, for here of all places men are so engrossed in toils and ambitions they wear themselves away and think not of their own welfare, or rest. What thronging and intensity! what anxious and care-lined faces! Stand on London Bridge and watch the tide of mortals pour into and out of that great whirl of commercial life. Stand in the Bourse, or Stock Exchange of New York and watch the excitement and frenzy — no religious revivals, no presidential campaigns can equal these. Walk along the streets in the early morning when the first footfalls are heard and the vast body, like a huge giant, rushes to its work—or what a strange field for meditation is a city asleep! What envies and strugglings and aspirations are for a few hours hushed to rest! What strange varieties of life does a thin partition-wall divide! What wild dissipation does the night but half conceal!

Now all that is true of a great city is to a certain extent true of our own quiet little home. What are the things which belong to our peace—which how seem hid from our eyes,—and over which if we had the sweet sympathy and yearning of Jesus for human welfare we should surely weep? But before passing to consider two or three measures which will give to us a truer peace, let us ask what is the actual condition of our city? And it is an inquiry pertinent to our subject, because there are those who would make us believe that this is an especially wicked place. It is an unfortunate trait in many persons of limited observation or feeble insight into human nature, or because their interest in reform centres upon only one object, or because they themselves are not duly appreciated, in order to make their cause good, or to give them an appearance of superior wisdom or interest in humanity, that they begin by depreciating everything else. It is a common weakness of reformers to exaggerate the success of their efforts by portraying the utter demoralization against which they had to fight. I have lived long enough in this city and mingled in all its varied interests and met its inhabitants enough to have some fair conceptions of its moral or immoral condition in comparison with other places in this land or abroad, and when would-be reformers talk about this beported city, or invoke the Almighty's aid against such a doomed and accursed place, it is time they received only neglect or contempt at the hands of those who in ignorance or selfish scheming, or hypocrisy they have thus falsely accused. It is simply disgraceful in those who are satisfied to abide in the midst of such abominations, and help swell the number of such an abandoned community, and to gain their livelihood in the midst of such surroundings, and who find here a more comfortable and successful life than they can elsewhere, to indulge in such defamations. It does not arise out of any desire to improve the condition of this city, or out of any unselfish philanthropy; it is a species of parricide of the most inexcusable type, of destroying the fatherhood which supports and shelters them. When it is said that the leading citizens of this place have not taken as hearty an interest in reforms as those in other cities, it might be mentioned to our credit that many of them have not been obliged to give up the debauchery and dissipation which have marked the past lives of some of those who in other cities have been advanced to conspicuous places of executive or judicial influence. We want to uphold and hold on to every one struggling to reform until we despair, and for their own self respect and encouragement give them any position for which they are competent. There is great joy over any returning sinner, which for the moment seems to overshadow the life of unfaltering virtue, and the returning prodigal has for the moment the heartier welcome and a lavish provision, but we must beware lest too constant a demonstration in this direction may encourage the young to try the pleasures of sin for a season, or to wander and feed among the husks of worldliness. A person who has truly escaped from his degradation, and not merely substituted one excitement for another, may bitterly confess his past life, but hardly take delight in feeding on the memory and description of his vices. The country is full to-day of ecclesiastical vagabonds under the cloak of evangelists who ought to come within the provisions of the tramp law, and who by a diligent portrayal of the corruption to which their lives have been abandoned, only feed a prurient taste for debauchery, and in the end minister to the very evils they may think they are healing, and it is greatly to our credit that such as these are generally less successful here than elsewhere. God knows we need not look far to see the temptations which lurk within our borders, the miserable victims of intemperance and sensuality who have their homes among us; the apathy, the spiritual slothfulness which is true of too many of us—but it is not true, it is not true, there is not the shadow of truth in the statements that we are upon the average worse than other places. All such measures to arouse this community fail and always will fail simply because the religious views which disapprove of such violent excitements are in proportion more largely held here than in any other town, and this we deem is to our general credit. And in proportion to our numbers there is no other place which has more institutions and provisions for the relief of the suffering or for aid to the tempted; no place where—from that beautiful provision for the orphaned child to that grateful rest for the indigent aged—the charities are more ready and ample, where there are more devoted women or unselfish men spending themselves in the philanthropies, and those who say otherwise are simply ignorant of other places or disappointed in their own idle schemes and think to establish for themselves the role of reformers by being the common slanderers of human nature.

The first needful thing which belongs to the permanent peace of our city is that we should get rid of partisanship in our municipal affairs. How strange it is we so slowly learn that all this wrangling of parties has nothing to do but to embarrass and to make more extravagant and less effective the whole working of city affairs! Every now and then there must be certain vital questions of national or State welfare, upon which we necessarily have different opinions; and these we must, if we are sincere, bend all our energies to make triumphant; and the executive persons and their advisers we must select on account of agreeing with the popular sentiment in this direction. But when we come to the right conduct of affairs in our own little city, what possible difference can a man's political views make? What possible excuse can there be for carrying these questions into municipal matters, unless there be a secret feeling that some party advantages can can be gained by having charge of city affairs? What requisitions for any city office can justly be monopolized by one party? Why this constant and bitter struggle for even the most insignificant position, unless from the wide-spread feeling that somebow or other some unusual advantage is to be gained out of the city, some compensation without a just equivalent; some easier form of service with a larger return than in any other manner? How few of us pause to think of the secret intrigues which are all the time going on, in order to gain some position in one department or another for our friends, or our family, and without the least interest in the welfare of the city! Think how many, who know nothing or care nothing about education, have a transient enthusiasm in order to carry this or that point for their own advantage or to secure this or that person a position as teacher, and who think all these things are excusable because the city has such places, and they might reap its benefits as well as any others. Why is all this unless from a deep-seated sentiment that all government is for the sake of its spoils? The city owes none of us anything. Each one of us owes to it an unselfish and an unpartisan interest to see that everything is done with the greatest economy, prudence, honor and justice, and it can never be accomplished until we get rid of this miserable and unworthy partisanship in municipal affairs. Here in our little circle of citizenship—would it be so hard indeed to select enough to fill all our offices from those of tried judgment, integrity and public spirit, who should be above any private speculation;—and what, what keeps us from doing so, unless it be this Nessus-robe of party spirit which has thrown its destructive folds around us down to the most trifling positions—which yet are not trifling as long as they minister to this corrupting sentiment? What tranquility, what prosperity we might have, if we would only rid ourselves of this pestilential habit. What a different place might we make of our favored and beloved city. How does it hide from our eyes at present the things which belong to our peace? Is it not something which ought to bring to us tears whenever we draw near to our favored home; and to assure us, in no strange voice of prophecy, that if we do not abandon it, it will destroy us.

The next needful thing, which belongs to the enduring peace of our city, is that we should get rid of sectarian animosity in our church affairs. If we think at all in religious matters we must come to different conclusions; and we must carry these conclusions into different organizations for purposes of worship; but as the years go on people begin to see more and more plainly that the differences which centuries ago established churches have passed away while the churches abide without any distinguishing features, and yet how fierce the struggles to keep many such churches alive, merely out of personal pride or social relations, while in the struggle the whole spirit of religion dies away. What numbers in this city agree far more nearly in religious matters than they have ever dreamed,—and yet know not of their agreement by reason of this bitter spirit of sectarianism, which all the time keeps them asunder. Sometimes it seems to me if I could have a full, free conversation, as I gather from occasional words, there are comparatively few of us who could not agree upon the essentials of the religious life. We might emphasize one or another expression of doctrine, but we must agree upon the results which all doctrines are intended to bring about, goodness of life—the supremacy of christian graces in our character. We struggle to maintain a certain church, when the same generosity or the same zeal, would regenerate and inspire many a life. We try to build up our church just as we strive to carry our political plans, when the same efforts from so many dying organizations brought into fewer but more vital associations, would make religion a power felt throughout our whole community in lives adorned with all the virtues. We like to carry our own point; we like to see our views prosper—but what point, what doctrine, is this very day so important as to join all our forces in one harmonious effort to redeem our fellowmen from the temptations which bind them with such powerful chains? Is it not something over which we may well weep to see so many men and women of the finest purposes, and the broadest sympathies, and the most fervent prayers for the uplifting of society,—thus kept apart by this bitter sectarianism. How does it hide from our eyes even the things which belong unto our peace?

These are two of our most pressing needs in regard to the management of our city affairs, deliverance from this extreme spirit of partisanship, and spirit of bigotry; then our united efforts would bring about these moral reformations which we want to see advanced but which our divided interests prevent. Like Jerusalem of old we must suffer for all our heedlessness and neglect of these calls and prophecies which the life of holiness utters amidst tears. Our influence for good is dwarfed and broken by these selfish pursuits which keep us apart, and we spend our time in idle denunciations instead of harmonious action. We are not so far apart as these bigoted sectaries, striving more vigorously to enforce their favorite speculations than to encourage the christian graces would have us believe. We are not doomed, nor accursed, nor besotted beyond other places—we are doomed to suffer in the just order of God's providence according to the actual quantity of our unrightousness. What could we not do if all those who have any sympathy or yearning for christian citizenship would lay aside for awhile the barriers which we all build around us, and which if they are not the chief cause of sin, are the chief preventive of virtue—and labor together for that moral regeneration in which lies the real peace of our city! What if one, but one of our children, your child or mine, only one growing fast up into manhood or womanhood, should mis-step or fall, then it would not be Jesus by the spur of Olivet weeping over the city across the Kedron, nor the angels as they keep their guard over the children of men, but hotter tears from parents' eyes, over a city nearer home, a city which had not followed and obeyed the things which belong unto its peace.

A poor unknown girl is found concealed in the river at Lynn, and before she can be identified, we hear the appalling confession of some six hundred unfortunate wanderers whose parents supposed them lost in a life of shame—hardly a village so small as not to send its inquiries for at least one strayed away. Here is another who has gifts which can charm and bless a whole community, rare opportunities for success, the encouragement of friends on every side to stay him up, and help him across the tempted way, and yet wastes and loses them all by yielding to the fatal enticement of intemperance. What are all these revelations but so many repeated warnings and calls from the Father of all Lives to give up all partisanship and bigotry and work together for the moral regeneration of society? Make this prominent and let everything else be secondary. The things which belong to our true peace are hid from our eyes, while that loving Heart which knew what was in man, and took in all humanity, still weeps over our city as well as Jerusalem, saying, if thou hadst known, even thou, the things which belong to thy peace.

It is all in vain to strew with palm branches the way of some outward conquerer, and to shout hosannas to him who cometh in the name of the Lord, while all the time the real Leader in spiritual realities is denouncing unto our immoralities, "Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say."

The Lebanon Free Press comes out in a very much "inflated" condition, being almost twice as large as formerly, and as vigorously republican as ever. It uses a "patent inside," and now has eight five-column pages. The Free Press has always been a lively local paper, and of excellent politics, and it deserves to succeed.

Catharine Dunsbrack, fifty years old, was violated and murdered in her home at Cohoes, N. Y., Saturday, it is supposed by a tramp.

The dead body of an unknown man, supposed to have been murdered and thrown overboard from some vessel, was found in New Haven harbor on Saturday.

The recently murdered Chief-Justice Elliott, of Kentucky, belonged to a fighting family. His father was killed in a row; one of his brothers killed another brother; one brother was killed in one of the battles of the rebellion; another brother blew his own brains out with a pistol. It is not known that the chief-justice had ever killed anybody.

Dr. Charles Jewett, widely known as a temperance lecturer, died in Norwich, Conn., Thursday morning, in his seventy-second year. Dr. Jewett was born in Lisbon, Conn., and began temperance work in Rhode Island in 1829. Since then he has been almost constantly engaged in it, having held State agencies of temperance societies of Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. He has lectured in nearly every State of the north and west. His death was caused by heart disease, which had prevented his doing anything the past winter.

THE CITY.

Messrs. C. E. Walker & Co. have reduced the price of coal to $5 per ton, delivered.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado will this evening deliver in the Methodist church a lecture on "Pulpit orators."

Mr. Timothy Young of York is to supply piles for the railroad wharf, to be cut on the land of Samuel Parker and others of Kittery.

Do not forget that the wonderful Lilliputian Opera Co. performs "Jack the Giant Killer" and "Toodles" at Music hall this evening. See advertisement.

Young Henry Horn, who some time last fall lost a part of his foot at the navy yard, has so far recovered as to permit his performing light labor, and has been remustered in the construction department at the yard.

Miss Laura E. Giddings resumes her duties as teacher of a primary school at the opening of the term on Monday next, she taking the school in the easterly room on the upper floor of the Cabot street schoolhouse, the whole of which building is in the future to be devoted to primary scholars—Mr. Kidder's school having been transferred to the lower room in the State street schoolhouse—the teachers being Miss Dolly Rowe, Miss Clara Barri, Miss Ida L. Marston and Miss Giddings.

Dr. A. C. Pollock of Portland, the surgeon chiropodist whose skill was recently displayed in this city to the entire satisfaction of many of our prominent citizens, cautions the public against a self styled corn-doctor who has been using his name and circulars during his absence from Portsmouth. Dr. Pollock will make his second professional visit to this city early in May—probably the first week—when persons having trouble with their feet will be able to get whatever relief the best professional skill can afford.

The Boston Pinafore Co. are to return here on Fast night, April 10th, (see advertisement,) at the earnest request of a large number of citizens who attended their entertainment a few weeks since, and who have promised a full house for this occasion. To those who saw them it is needless to say "Go again," and those who missed the treat we can assure of the pleasure they are to have. The management say that if at the close of the performance any think they have not had the value of their money, they will refund the price paid for their tickets.

Lots of people passed a fat-looking pocket-book in a Watertown, Conn., street on All's-fool's day, with a knowing chuckle; but an old countryman, who took the trouble of dismounting from his wagon to pick it up, was rewarded by the sight of over $300 in good money. One of Portsmouth's retired sea-captains would also have picked up a fat pocket-book which he saw lying on the sidewalk on the 1st of April, (and which may have contained $300 in good money for aught he knows to the contrary,) but for the eccentric conduct of the pocket-book, which skipped under a neighboring fence with astonishing celerity when the portly and dignified ex-mariner stooped to pick it up.

THE VICINITY.

Kennebunk has organized a cornet band, with a membership of twenty.

The April term of the supreme court opens in Exeter to-day, Judge Wm. H. H. Allen presiding.

Mr. Benning Morrill, of Eliot, who has for many years driven a butcher's cart into this city, died on Sunday.

The Second Congregational church of Kennebunk has extended a call to Rev. George A. Lockwood of Oxford, Me.

Triumph fire engine company of North Berwick has passed a vote to expel any member who may use intoxicating liquors.

George W. Muchmore of Kittery has been appointed foreman of blacksmiths in the department of construction at the navy yard, in place of William H. Sanborn, deceased.

Albert L. Junkins, of the Scotland district of York, is making considerable improvement on his farm, and building a new two-story house.

The Great Falls hotel has been sold by Mr. Hussey to Mr. John H. Nutter, an old hotel keeper, who has taken possession of the house. Mr. Henry S. Gray of Dover has been engaged as clerk.

The bakery of M. M. Duke, in Great Falls, was damaged to the amount of $800 by fire on Sunday night; insured. The building, which is owned by other parties, and is also insured, was damaged $200.

Moses D. Moore, who was last week appointed foreman painter at the navy yard, invited his friends to a chowder on Monday: the invitation was accepted by many, and they enjoyed a good chowder and a very pleasant time.

Albert Maddox and Mike McHugh, of Great Falls, stole a valuable watch from Mr. T. A. Hobbs of Biddeford. The watch was soon taken from them and handed to its owner, and the two thieves sent to jail in default of $500 bail each.

A Sunday train is now run over the Boston & Maine railroad from Exeter to Boston and return, leaving Exeter at a quarter past seven o'clock in the morning, and returning in time to start from Exeter for Great Falls at half-past seven o'clock in the evening.

Albert F. Hurd, the Kennebunk jewelry thief who escaped from an officer's custody in Biddeford last July, and was again arrested recently and taken back to Kennebunk, had an additional charge entered against him for selling liquor, and was then stored away in Alfred jail.

Mr. Fred A. Forsaith, of Kittery, has sent his female English setter "Di" to be exhibited at the Westminister Kennel Club's dog show, to be holden in Gilmore's Garden, New York city, this week. This fine animal has taken two first prizes at the dog shows held in Boston. She was raised and formerly owned by Capt. John S. Sides of this city, and went by the name of "Diana."

The lectures of Mr. John Albee at the Union League theatre, given on Thursday and Monday afternoons, at three o'clock, have already been mentioned more than once in our columns, but we remind our readers again that these popular discourses on the early English language and literature are full of instruction and entertainment, embodying in pleasant form the results of deep and intelligent research.—N. Y. Tribune.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MATTERS.

On Monday evening of this week, it being the first Monday in the month, steam fire engines Sagamore, Kearsarge and Moses H. Goodrich were out for trial, the first-named being stationed at the Market square reservoir and the others on Pleasant street, with a line of hose leading from one to the other. The object of this trial was to see how the machines would work in case it should be necessary at any time to send water a long distance to a fire, and the test we believe was satisfactory. The meetings of the various companies for choice of officers were held later, and resulted in elections as follows:

BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST.

It is very seldom that people are invited to a banquet with a king and queen, and lords and ladies of the court, for the moderate sum of fifty cents. "Belshazzar the King made a great feast to a thousand of his lords!" Let the Bibles be taken from the shelves, and the 5th chapter of Daniel read by all who are invited to this feast, that the story may be fresh in mind, and the scenes understood; possibly some missing spectacles will also come to light.

Let everybody remember that the tickets for Belshazzar's Feast are for sale to-day.

THE SCHOONER "FAIRDEALER."

Our Rye correspondent writes as follows concerning the schooner "Fairdealer," which recently ran away with most of the life-saving men at Rye beach:

Mr. Editor: It is not often that so many misstatements get crowded into two brief items as occur in the despatches sent to Boston concerning a recent trifling mishap to the schooner Fairdealer, of Castine, Me. The despatches said she ran ashore near Straw's point, Rye beach, and "stuck hard and fast," and that her crew were rescued by the life-saving station men; the facts being that she did not touch on Straw's point or anywhere else, and so of course did not stick fast, and that her crew landed in their own boat after anchoring their vessel, the life-boat simply giving them a tow in, having met them half-way ashore from the schooner. The despatches further stated that when the schooner floated off the beach "the crew of the life-saving station, who were on board her," were unable to land on account of the severe gale, and were carried to sea; and that the last that was seen of the vessel "she was evidently in a bad condition," trying to get into Smuttynose dock at the Shoals, and that considerable anxiety was felt for the safety of the crew. Lastly, the schooner's arrival at the Shoals "with the loss of one anchor and her rudder damaged," was noted. Now the vessel as before stated was never at any time on shore; when she broke adrift she left both her anchors on the bottom, which necessitated her being run into the dock at Smutty-nose island, where her rudder was slightly damaged; the life-saving men were not on board of her at all when she went adrift, and had to chase her four miles in their life-boat before catching up with her; and there was never the least anxiety about her or the life-saving crew, as she was distinctly seen from the beach to run into Smutty-nose dock and lower her foresail. This is a trifling affair, but as a specimen of what can be done in the way of crowding in errors, it is quite a curiosity.

Food Ill Digested

Imperfectly nourishes the system, since it is only partially assimilated by the blood. Pale, haggard mortals, with dyspeptic stomachs, impoverished circulation and weak nerves, experience a marked and rapid improvement in their physical condition by availing themselves of that sure resource of the sick and debilitated, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This genial tonic and alterative lends an impetus to the processes of digestion which insures an adequate development of the materials of blood, fiber, and muscular tissue. Moreover, it soothes and strengthens overwrought or weak nerves, counteracts a tendency to hypochondria or despondency, to which dyspeptic and bilious persons are peculiarly liable, and is an agreeable and wholesome appetizer and promoter of repose. The infirmities of age, and of delicate female constitutions, are greatly relieved by it; and it is a reliable preventive of, and remedy for, malarial fevers.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility an all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. fa22

It takes the palm. The Cough and Lung Syrup of Dr. A. J. Flagg's.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 35 cents.

Whooping Cough instantly relieved by a small amount of a very pleasant medicine known as Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. Keep it handy.

IN SPITE OF ALL TEMPTATION to try other remedies do not fail to give Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye a trial if you are troubled with a cough or cold. It is without doubt the safest and most reliable offered, and it is morever pleasant to take. Those who have used it will have no other medicine. It is a gentle tonic for the whole system, and taken in moderate quantities this depressing Spring weather, it is exhilarating and healthful. Order it from C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston.

Bronchitis will surely come if you let that cough run any longer. Stop it at once by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

While in New York this spring you need not pay twice for meals that you only get once. In other words, as the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, is now conducted on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00 and upwards, per day, which allows you to take your meals at the elegant Restaurant attached to the Hotel, at moderate prices, or to take a room only, and pay for what meals you get.

Children are so liable to colds and coughs. Cure them early by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. cod&wtnov79

WHEAT MEAL!

—OR—

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the fraternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call made up Graham, that is, artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hardly a person who uses the genuine Wheat Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

New Hampshire Items.

The holders of over $800,000 of the $1,000,000 in bonds of the Worcester & Nashua railroad, and of between $400,000 and $500,000 of the Nashua & Rochester bonds, have already agreed to the reduction of interest.

It having been reported that Ex-Gov. Straw's health and mental faculties were utterly broken, the following from the Hartford Post will be of interest: "The many friends in this vicinity of Ex-Gov. Straw of New Hampshire will be pleased to learn of his improvement. Ex-Gov. Jewell, who has been visiting him this week, reports that his health has materially improved since his retirement from the Amoskeag company. He sees all his friends, and his vigorous mind is as clear as ever. He spends most of the time in reading, and takes as lively an interest as ever in political and business affairs."

Fashionable Foolishness.

There is no modern fashionable notion quite so absurd as the generally received idea that to be beautiful and attractive a woman must possess a wan, spiritualic face and a figure of sylph-like proportions—a fragility in nine cases out of ten the result of disease. By many fashionable belles it is considered a special compliment to be spoken of as frail and delicate. They forget that the naturally delicate face and petite figure are very different from the pale and disease-stricken faces that meet us in the city thoroughfares, look out from the luxuriant carriages of wealth and glide through our crowded drawing-rooms. If disease were unfashionable, as it ought to be, not a lady in the land but would take every precaution to secure the fresh, bloming face and well-rounded figure that only health can give. Ladies should remember that much as gentlemen may profess to admire the face and form paled and emaciated by disease, when they choose a wife they prefer a blooming, healthful, buoyant, spirited woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the acknowled standard remedy for female diseases and weaknesses. It has the two-fold advantage of curing the local disease and imparting a vigorous tone to the whole system. It is sold by all druggists.

OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SHARES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all or which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well-defined bodies.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more expeditiously developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. A Prospectus giving full particulars sent free, on application to the Secretary. mch29d&w3mos

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M.D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of chalk, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard-seeds.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remarkable power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are superceded and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, and they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprietor, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, other times thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, secretions, scabs from nose, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, emaciation, irritating cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The disease may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our specialities.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Convulsions, St. Vitus's Dance, Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated nearly thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE (for conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exist this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a single class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practiced medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used every thing in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine pomphing that we sympathetics are very loth to do) tried——and divers others until I got hold of yours, followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly and fairly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 250 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, its names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in fo time a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

The Charleston (S. C.) News, is indignant that the men who for four years fought desperately to destroy the Union are not allowed to assume command of its army and navy, and thus discourses: "The people of the States in insurrection during the late rebellion' are entitled to any privilege that any other American citizens enjoy, or they are still regarded as 'rebels' and 'traitors.' It is ridiculous to bar out from even a second lieutenancy in the army, men like those who, as senators and representatives, fix the strength of the army and make provision for its support. We must have all our rights or none. A half loaf is not enough. This is due to the southern people, not as ex-rebels but as Americans; and it is as American citizens, and because they are American citizens, that they ask for it and insist on it."

One of Coffee-Pot Wallace's secret campaign letters has recently been published, which was sent by him as chairman of the democratic committee in Pennsylvania to the county committees. In it he says: "In every district I would suggest a special contract with active men; contracts to 'pay them a fixed sum the day after election.' This," he remarks, "is an incentive to bring men out," and he concludes by observing: "Be careful of this paper; keep it entirely secret." Mr. Wallace, as chairman of a Senate committee, is very zealous in seeking out election frauds, and particularly those where there was any indication of bribery. The awful example is sometimes useful, as he knows how it is himself.

Everything Goes Wrong

in the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation, are certain to ensue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organ and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headaches, ye lowness of the skin, furred look of the tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is its best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics. Nerve weakness and exertension are relieved by it, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility an all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 140 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. ts22

Righteous Decision of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The maintenance of the fidelity of a contract entered into by a sovereign State of the Federal Union has been frequently before the Supreme Court of the United States, in varied forms of litigation, and in every instance the judgment of that august tribunal has pronounced that the contract entered into is inviolate. The Louisiana State Lottery Company has a contract for twenty-five years from 1868, when it was incorporated, and the action of no legislature can prevent that renowned corporation from continuing its regular monthly distributions at New Orleans on the second Tuesday of every month. Ohio and Michigan.

Elections were held in Ohio and Michigan on the 8th inst.; the returns show republican gains everywhere in Ohio, and Michigan gives a decided republican majority over the demo-greenback fusionists.

News and Notes.

Thomas P. Hewett was shot, probably fatally, at Bloomfield, N. J., Friday night, by Frank Glennon, in a quarrel about a gamecock.

At Rondout, N. Y., Thursday night, in a passion, Mrs. Margaret O'Reilly threw her infant at her mother. The child struck the stove, upset a pot of boiling soup, and died three hours afterwards. Mrs. O'Reilly was arrested.

At Davenport, Iowa, Friday night, Harry Watt, cigar maker, and his wife's sister, Louise Felter, took prussic acid, and died within a few minutes of each other. The coroner's investigation revealed the fact that improper relations probably existed between them.

Gov. Wallace complains that society in New Mexico is lawless to a deplorable extent. Murders and robberies are so common that he is almost discouraged at the outlook. A murderer named Evans, an English subject, whom Gov. Wallace had in custody, was permitted to escape by the neglect or treachery of a sentinel. Gov. Wallace also complains of Col. Dudley, the military commandant, who persists in representing that there is no occasion to get excited over the condition of things there.

Yung Wing, a member of the class of 1854 at Yale, and Chinese secretary of legation at Washington, has given the Yale college library nearly 400 Chinese books.

Timothy C. Murphy, a Norwich, Conn., Irishman, twenty-one years old, has received a silver medal and autograph letter from Secretary Sherman for saving twelve persons from drowning within five or six years, many of them at great risk to himself.

Secretary Sherman expresses the opinion that specie payments is not only an accomplished fact, but a settled fact which there is no chance will be disturbed. Financially, he believes the country to be safe, and is entirely confident of the future.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the fraternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we eat made up Graham, that is, artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; it costs but 2c. a lb., Cream of Tartar over 40. The Royal Baking Powder is recommended for its wholesomeness by such eminent chemists as Dr. Mott, New York; Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.

☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere. 1y.

THE CITY.

A bicycle appeared in our streets on Monday, the first real evidence of spring.

The new government ten-dollar certificates, bearing interest and convertible into four per cent bonds, have appeared in circulation.

The reform club will hold a meeting this evening at Mechanics' hall for the election of officers and the transaction of other business.

The drinking-saloon keeper who gave $25 on Sunday evening to help pay the expenses of the temperance revival, did not sign the pledge. So the Times says.

Union services will be held on Fast day at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon, in the Court street Christian church; sermon by Rev. J. A. Goss, on "Infidelity." The public are invited.

Black, Rooney & Ward's minstrels gave another fine variety entertainment at Franklin hall on Thursday evening, and were greeted by a good audience. They give a better show than half of the regular professional travelling minstrel troupes.

Mr. Robert Roberts, who lives on Hill street, has a parrot which has been in his possession for thirty-two years, and he does not know how old it was when he first had it. It talks as merrily as in its younger days, and does chattering enough for a big family of children.

Driscoll's attempt to walk 500 miles in Portland last week ended at eleven o'clock Saturday night, with the man thoroughly used up and only 400 miles accomplished, and it is said "some doubt his having made even that distance." A similar doubt was expressed when he walked in this city.

Prof. Goldberg's mysterious announcement at Music hall, several months ago, of the Boston Theatre Co.'s advent some time in the spring, is about to be cleared up. Music hall has been engaged by that company for Friday evening, April 18th, and the young fair debutante belonging to Portsmouth will make her long-anticipated appearance on that evening.

The wreck of the schooner M. E. Eldredge was sold on Monday afternoon by auction, as it lay near Provincetown, Mass., the hull bringing $300 and the remainder of the coal $87. The appearance of the wreck indicates that the fire caught in the cargo, as the vessel is burned to the keelson forward, and her anchor-chains melted into a solid mass.

Hosea Crane, senior partner of the firm of Crane & Waters, yarn and hosiery manufacturers of Milbury, Mass., and president of the Milbury national bank, died on Saturday morning. This is probably the Hosea Crane who many years ago resided in this city, and was noted for the way he managed the stocking factory which stood on the present site of the Eldredge Brewing Co.'s buildings.

THE VICINITY.

The Saco river is now open, and though not wholly clear of ice is nearly so. Vessels now experience no difficulty in reaching the city.

John I. Christy of Dover, who has for some years been assistant sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate, is to be retained in that position.

Exeter had a fire on Tuesday, a small house on Franklin street being slightly damaged. The department was out in full force, but was not called upon to do much service.

George H. Flint, who formerly with his mother kept the Belmont house at Old Orchard beach, and since has resided in Lewiston, Me., was found dead in bed at a hotel in Montreal one morning last week, having died from an overdose of opium, which he was accustomed to use freely as well as whiskey.

A fair was held in the Methodist church at Dover last week, engineered entirely by gentlemen, and all the fancy articles and ornamental gear shown were the work of men's hands. The "fancy work" included boots, horse-shoes, steel and iron work, a wheel-barrow, furniture, toys, ladies' aprons, saw-horses, book-marks, cradles, worsted work, jewelry, etc., and was really a remarkably fine display. The fair continued two evenings, and was an entire success, about $460 being netted from the sale of tickets and goods.

A Portsmouth gentleman who knows what a good horse is, assures us that the lot of horses on sale at Virgin's stable, Newmarket Junction, brought from Vermont by Mr. C. F. Smith, is one of the finest lots he ever saw. Among them is one little pony, black as a coal and very handsome, and thoroughly broken to harness and saddle.

Schooner Henrietta, Hill master, of Saco, one hundred and ninety tons register, from Pensacola for New York with lumber, was abandoned at sea, having experienced a hurricane March 30th, during which the captain and mate were injured, the former seriously, by falling spars. The crew were landed at Delaware Breakwater on the 7th inst.

A quantity of waste saturated with kerosene was found in a closet in Duke's bake shop, which was damaged by fire at Great Falls, Sunday night, and the fire engineers will make a thorough investigation, being satisfied the fire was of incendiary origin. Four women were sleeping in a tenement over the bakery, and one came very near losing her life by suffocation.

Rev. John F. Blades, pastor of the Congregational church in Saco, has tendered his resignation to take effect the last Sunday in April. In tendering his resignation Mr. Blades made some cutting remarks to the society, saying that in the endeavor to curtail expenses in the church he thought there was a disposition to reduce the pastor's salary and not cut down on the appropriation for music.

A gentleman whose business recently took him on a drive through Stratham, informs us that near Stratham hill he passed a snow-drift that overtopped his head as he sat on the wagon seat. He returned from a tour through Eliot, York and Kittery on Monday, and reports the travelling almost everywhere off the post road as being horrible; on the cross roads the wheels would at one time be almost to the hubs in mud, and a few rods distant he would have to drive through a narrow channel cut with shovels through an immense snow drift. Some of the roads had men with ox-teams at work on them on Monday, breaking them out.

The schooner Nellie Bell, Jones, owned in Waterboro', Me., and registering one hundred and eleven tons, left Portsmouth lower harbor on the 30th ult. for New York with a load of lumber, the wind then being light and variable. Early next morning, however, it had increased to a violent hurricane, and all sail but the foresail was taken in. The pump was sounded, and it was found the vessel was making water. Sails were blown away, and the schooner continued to make water. At eight o'clock in the evening she was filled up, and rolled over on her beam ends, carrying away both masts, bowsprit, and deck-house. When she righted the deck was under water. For the next fifty-two hours the crew suffered greatly. Snow and hail fell on April 1st, and the sea continually washed over the wreck. All hands were lashed to the quarter deck for safety. The weather next day was more moderate, but a heavy sea was running and the deck was washing up. At five o'clock on the morning of April 2d a signal of distress was hoisted, and at eight o'clock a three-masted schooner passed within two miles, but heartlessly proceeded without rendering them assistance. At four o'clock in the afternoon the British barque Brazil bore down on the wreck, and took off the crew. All hands were thoroughly exhausted, and of course they saved nothing from the wreck. They were without food or drink for two days. The wreck of the Nellie Bell has since been seen near Nantucket shoals by several vessels.

THE LILIPUTIAN OPERA.

The Liliputian Opera company, consisting of eight diminutive ladies and gentlemen, and one gentleman so big that if all the rest of the company were melted and run into a mould they would'nt fill out his clothes respectably, had a good audience Tuesday evening, and kept them in a jovial mood from the first to the last. The ridiculous contrast of stature presented is alone "worth more than the price of admission" to see, and the operetta of "Jack the giant killer" is full of humor and lively repartee. The little folks act with a vast deal of spirit, and they sing with a power which makes one wonder where such little creatures can store away so much sound. Miss Jennie Quigley and Admiral Dot, as Mr. and Mrs. Toodles in the concluding farce, were capital, the admiral's Toodles being the best we ever saw. The whole show was first rate, and the applause was hearty.

Should any boy or girl in the city not be taken to see the Liliputians, that boy or girl will be swindled. This afternoon there will be a matinee for children, when pupils of public schools will be admitted for 15 cts. each; and this evening another entertainment similar to that of last night will be given, and the amusing performers should be greeted by a rousing audience.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Orders have been received at the navy yard to fit the U. S. S. Kearsarge as a practice ship for use at the naval academy at Annapolis. A trial of her engines will be made in a few days, and the riggers will at once finish her rigging, which is but partially completed. The following named officers have been detailed from the naval academy and ordered to duty on board the Kearsarge: Comdr. Alfred T. Mahan, commanding; Lieuts. John C. Soley, (executive officer,) William H. Parker, Jr., William J. Barnette, James W. Miller, John V. B. Bleeker and Arthur B. Speyers.

Naval Constructor Theodore D. Wilson, attached to this naval station, has received orders to report to Commodore Ransom at the Charlestown navy yard on the 10th inst., for special duty on a board of which Naval Constructor Thomas E. Webb is president.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

The total number of cases of yellow fever on board of the Plymouth it is now stated was but two; one of the patients died, as previously reported, and the other is convalescent.

The storeship Guard is being fitted up for the reception of the crew of the Plymouth, who will be transferred to the storeship as soon as the necessary arrangements can be completed. All possible precautions will be taken by the officers of the yard to prevent any further spread of the disease.

A commission consisting of three medical inspectors of the navy has been appointed by the secretary, and ordered to investigate into the cause of the reappearance of this disease on board the Plymouth, and to at once enter into the discharge of that duty. William T. Hord, Richard C. Dean and Thomas W. Leach are the members of the commission.

THE TEMPERANCE MEETINGS.

At the meeting on Sunday evening the following testimonial to Messrs. Booth and Smith was submitted:

Considering the peculiar circumstances attendant upon the visit of Messrs. Booth and Smith to our city, we feel it incumbent upon us to express the high appreciation we entertain toward them as christian workers in the temperance cause, and do most sincerely congratulate them on the success attendant upon their labors amongst us, evidenced by the hundreds who have voluntarily come forward to sign the pledge and "don the blue." The spirit manifested by the laborers has endeared them to the hearts and sympathies of the community, and in retiring from our midst it must be truly gratifying to them to witness the victory which has been achieved. The interest they have taken in conducting a daily service of prayer, is a special feature in their work, of which we cannot speak too highly; and on their departure from our city we would gladly testify the gratification and encouragement we have derived from their devoted and unwearied efforts in the cause of Gospel Temperance, and our prayers will ever follow them that wherever in the providence of God they may be privileged to advocate this great and noble work, the blessing of the Almighty may ever attend them, rendering their endeavors for the reclamation of fallen humanity a lasting benefit to individuals and to homes that have suffered so severely in consequence of their indulgence in that which must necessarily bring with it sorrow and disgrace.

Signed in behalf of the temperance organizations in the city of Portsmouth this 6th day of April, 1879.

J. S. TREAT, Chairman.

It was moved by W. A. Layne, city missionary, and seconded by Mr. James Janvrin,

That the thanks of this meeting be specially tendered to those ladies and gentlemen who have so cheerfully and liberally given their means to sustain the public Gospel Temperance meetings by making the Music hall free, (since Tuesday evening,) for all who were anxious to participate in its exercises.

The testimonial and vote of thanks were adopted by a rising vote of the audience.

Mr. Booth's address Sunday evening was on "The apathy of Christian churches," and had special reference to their crusade work generally. It is said that during the labors of the temperance revivalists in this city at least 1500 persons put on the blue ribbon, add some of them were well known as hard cases.

H. M. S. PINAFORE.

Persons intending to see "Pinafore" to-morrow evening would do well to secure their tickets so-day, as they are being rapidly taken up. This is the last appearance of the company here; the members of it are superior singers and actors, and the scenery, including the beautiful moonlight scene, painted expressly for it. We have before said that those who only saw Pinafore the first time it was given here have not yet seen it at all, and the Great Falls Journal is of the same opinion. It says: "The first production of Pinafore in Great Falls was very tame compared with the production of the same by the Boston Pinafore Company. The manager may well feel proud of the talent he has in this troupe. Liberal applause was bestowed, and the curtain had to be raised twice after being dropped at the end of the piece before the audience would leave. Very few companies visit Great Falls who give better satisfaction than did the Boston Pinafore."

BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST.

The sale of tickets to the evening performances commenced at Preston's on Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock, and before the store was closed the plan of the hall was thickly sprinkled with marks. The indications of the first day's sale of tickets are that Music hall will be crowded both evenings.

SUPREME COURT.

APRIL 8th; Allen, J.

Court came in at Exeter. Prayer was offered by Rev. George B. Morgan, rector of Christ's (Episcopal) church. Weare N. Shaw, of Kensington, was appointed foreman of the grand jury, and the jurors were excused (by reason of some persons failing to appear) until two o'clock in the afternoon. The grand jury is composed of the following gentlemen:

John Currier, East Kingston; David D. Langley, Epping; John W. Elliot, Exeter; Alden F. Sanborn, Fremont; George T. Ball, Greenland, excused; Bailey D. Johnson, Hampstead; Horace M. Lane, Hampton; Charles F. Chase, Hampton Falls; Weare N. Shaw, Kensington; Joseph W. Sanborn, Kingston; Lucien H. Nesmith, Londonderry; John Poole, Newcastle; John O. Davis, Newmarket; Frederick Pickering, Newington; Edward Hayford, Newton; Morris H. Smith, North Hampton; James W. Hoitt, Northwood; David T. Cilley, Nottingham; Charles Ray, Plaistow; Charles F. Locke, Portsmouth, ward one; Abraham B. Smith, Raymond; C. Austin Jenness, Rye.

In case Craig vs. Gerrish the defendants have moved for a review and stay of execution.

The trial of case Griffin vs. Auburn is set down for Monday of the third week.

The following numbered cases were marked for the jury: 101, 103, 106, 111, 117, 133, 138, 144, 145, 160, 162, 163, 164, 165, 171, 173, 178, 179, 181, 186, 191, 193, 197, 201, 202, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 219, 220, 225, 231, 233, 236, 242, 243, 247, 248, 257, 268, 278, 294, 300, 312, 316, 323.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, April 7th.

The union exhibition of all the schools came off at the town hall on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week, and was a success in every respect. About one hundred and thirty scholars took part in it; and all of them are entitled to much credit for the very meritorious rendering of what they did in the way of recitations, dialogues, singing, etc., which constituted the performance. Nearly all had their parts fully committed and needed but little prompting, and it can be truthfully said that a finer exhibition was never given here. Mr. N. R. Goss, the superintending school committee, labored unceasingly for weeks in arranging the programme and drilling the scholars, and the result proved that his efforts were not in vain. The vocal exercises, and the accompaniment thereto, were an important and pleasing feature of the exhibition, and reflected much credit on Mr. David Jenness, conductor, and Mrs. C. O. Philbrick, organist. To mention all who took part in the exercises would be taking too much space, but a quartette sung by Master and Miss Sanborn and Misses Ida and Etta Jenness, seems worthy of especial notice, and their rendering of it would do no discredit to much older singers. Mrs. E. A. Jenness, who was their instructor, and accompanied them on the organ, can congratulate herself on her success in teaching her two young daughters, and Master and Miss Sanborn, to sing so prettily and correctly before an audience. The attendance was very good both evenings, and the receipts were about $44, which will be used for educational purposes, and distributed equally among the four school districts.

At the school meeting in the east district, although the ladies failed to put in an appearance, the men were gallant enough to choose one of their number as committee, viz., Mrs. Emery Woodman; and it is understood that she will accept the responsibility.

"Society" was just a trifle agitated last week over the nuptials of Mr. Sylvanus W. Foss and Miss Ella F. Philbrick, only sister of Hon. E. B. Philbrick. The ceremony was performed by Rev. I. S. Jones, and took place at the residence of the Senator at the south part of the town. Only the relatives of the parties were present. After the congratulations were tendered, the party proceeded to discuss a bountiful and excellent repast, at which no wines were provided—an omission undoubtedly after Frank Miller's own heart. The happy couple left in the evening train, to enjoy a brief bridal tour, and on their return a serenade will probably be in order, as that is what the boys of the band consider the proper thing, when one of their number gets married. It may not be uninteresting to state that excellent authority whispers that the attire in which the bride appeared was elegant, which is the extent to which the writer can go in alluding to "that part of the occasion," as just at present there is no one handy to whom he can apply for further and correct particulars in regard to the proper way of describing the fixings which go to make up a bridal—what do you call it—costume, or something of that sort.

Two flocks of wild geese, numbering over seventy, flew over the centre, headed westerly on Saturday afternoon, in which direction they proceeded for some distance, when they altered their course to the north, evidently intending to seek a resting place in Great bay. NAT.

BEET SUGAR.

On account of sickness, and of the storm, the proposed discussion of this question at Newington and Greenland last week was postponed, and will be given by Mr. Harris, a practical farmer of Maine, at Newington Monday afternoon, April 24th, at two o'clock, and at Greenland on Tuesday afternoon—and no postponement for weather. All are invited, and the subject is worthy the investigation of all.

The Manchester Brewery.

Carney, Lynch & Co.'s Ales a Grand Success.—The Peculiar Manner in which Rival Brewers Award Them the Palm.

A few short months ago the firm of Messrs. Carney, Lynch & Co., purchased the Manchester Brewery, and began the manufacture of ale. They began their task under the rather adverse circumstance that this brewery in the Granite State had an unenviable reputation, the two preceding brewery firms conducting it, having failed to produce a beverage that could stand before the public upon its merits; hence enviable brewers heralded far and near the statement that it was an utter impossibility to manufacture a first class ale at the Manchester brewery, chiefly owing to the poor water which was available in that city. But the new firm was comprised of gentlemen of large means and great experience in the trade, and they inaugurated their new business venture in the most thorough and promising manner. First, they secured, without regard to expense, one of the best practical brewers in the country, Mr. Wm. J. Moat, who for more than a dozen years successfully brewed the famous ales of Frank Jones' brewery, at Portsmouth. Then they thoroughly renovated the Manchester establishment, introducing every known improvement in mechanism and appurtenances for successful manufacture. Next, and most important of all features, they procured at great expense, pure water. The use of the water heretofore available was entirely discarded, and the city water works recently established, were drawn upon. No purer or better water for the purpose can be found in the country, it being secured from Lake Massabesic, a few miles from the city, a body of water noted for its purity, the bottom of the lake, at a distance of from twenty to forty feet, being distinctly visible. With plenty of capital, a first-class brewer, the purest of water, a thoroughly constructed establishment provided with all modern appliances, there could be but one result, viz: a beverage unexcelled by any in the country, and equalled by few other manufactories. But the beverage seeking public, the consumers of ale, always have, and always will, decide upon the merits of the article placed upon the market, and of this proof the new firm had the greatest confidence, and in this they were not mistaken. The first brewing was a success, and was rapidly taken by the expert dealers. For the second brewing the demand excelled the ability of the brewers to supply, and those dealers at first timid, were at once eager to secure the beverage the ale drinkers so emphatically demanded. From the first moment Messrs. Carney, Lynch & Co. have been unable to supply the demand made upon their new brewery, and not a day has passed but that many orders have been turned away; many dealers who cannot have their orders fully filled, take what they can get, and then supply their customers with what is next in greatest demand. Eldridge's ales, of Portsmouth, come in for a liberal share of patronage, and all that the establishment can possibly make, finds ready sale, for few better ales are manufactured in this country.

When the Manchester brewery first started, it was with persistent opposition from the famous Frank Jones brewery, at Portsmouth, which was readily accounted for by the new firm securing Frank Jones' able brewer, Mr. Moat. Newspaper articles, derogatory to both the Manchester brewery, and to Mr. Moat, were published in journals in this vicinity, and paid for. The new firm made a straight forward statement to the public, which plainly convinced all that they had been unfairly and selfishly attacked, causing a reaction favorable to them.

The best test of the superiority of the ales of the Manchester brewery, is the recent action of the Frank Jones brewery, at Portsmouth. Acknowledging that the Manchester ale is a thorough success, and realizing that the public will have it, as the best in the market, Jones' brewery has reduced its prices by one dollar per barrel, hoping, of course, to regain the trade which has left it. This action may work well with some of the smaller dealers, but no dealer who cares for his trade will be apt to change his ale for this temporary reduction in price, which of course will soon be raised, and perhaps increased over former figures. It does not lie with the dealers to say what articles they will sell, but with their customers, who will have nothing but the best, hence Messrs. Carney, Lynch & Co., have no fears of the recent competitive reduction, and they will continue to keep up the standard they have raised, sell at regular and fair prices, knowing well that consumers will demand the best in the market, especially when the retail dealers, and not the consumers, are the ones temporarily benefited by the reduced prices.—Lawrence American.

"He took the modified oath." This is the record set against the names of nineteen senators, of forty members of Congress, and half of the officers of both branches. It means simply that the man to whom it refers was, for years, a rebel and a traitor, and that he cannot hold up his hand and swear that he has not tried to destroy the government. Is there a man on the congressional roll from the south who was an earnest Union man through the war, either soldier or civilian?

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers: Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JNO. F. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms coming within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature and other deformities. Our pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, adapted it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exhibit this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely on those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) tried— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say I am a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 50 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possesses undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Something Worth Knowing.

Every little while, writes a correspondent, we read in the papers of some one who has stuck a rusty nail in his foot, or knees, or hands, or some other portion of his person, and that lockjaw has resulted therefrom of which the patient died. If every person in the world was aware of a perfect remedy for all such wounds, and would apply it, then all such reports must cease. But although we can give the remedy, we cannot enforce its application. Some will not employ it because they think it too simple; others will have no faith in it, when they read it; while others often think such a wound of small account and not worth fussing over, until it is too late to do any good. Yet all such wounds can be healed without the fatal consequences which follow them. The remedy is simple, almost always on hand, and can be applied by any one; and what is better, it is infallible. It is simply to smoke the wound, or any bruise or wound that is inflamed, with burning wool or woolen cloth. Twenty minutes in the smoke of wool will take the pain out of the worst wound, and repeated once or twice, it will allay the worst case of inflamation arising from a wound we ever saw. People may sneer at the "old man's remedy" as much as they please, but when they are afflicted just let them try it. It has saved many lives and much pain, and is worthy of being printed in letters of gold and placed in every home. —Ex.

Fate of a Herd of Buffaloes.

An army officer who recently arrived at Chicago from the Yellowstone Valley tells a story of what happened to a herd of buffaloes as they were migrating southward. The herd numbered two thousand five hundred head, and had been driven out of the Milk river country by the Indian hunters belonging to Sitting Bull's band. When they reached the river they ventured upon the ice with their customary confidence, coming upon it with a solid front, and beginning the crossing with closed ranks. The stream at this point was very deep. When the front file, which was stretched out a quarter of a mile in length, had nearly gained the opposite shore, the ice suddenly gave way under them. Some trappers who were eye-witnesses of the scene said it seemed as if a trench had been opened in the ice the whole length of the column. Some four or five hundred animals tumbled into the opening all in a heap. Others fell in on top of them and sank out of sight in a twinkling. By this time the rotten ice was breaking under the still advancing herd. The trappers say that in less than a minute the whole body of buffaloes had been precipitated into the river. They were wedged in so thickly that they could do nothing but struggle for a second and then disappear beneath the cakes of ice of the swift current. Not a beast in all that mighty herd tried to escape, but in a solid phalanx they marched to their fatal bath in the "Big Muddy." In a minute from the time the first ice broke not a buffalo's head or tail was to be seen.

Brutal Officers of Vessels.

A newspaper correspondent says:—I have been an interested witness of marine tyranny and brutality in the American service. Twenty-five years ago, in company with six other American boys, I shipped on an A1 clipper bound from New York to California. The history of that four months' voyage was one steady repetition of blows, knock-downs and rope's-ending by the mates on the slightest pretext. When reefing topsails I have seen the second mate dash into a group of boys engaged in hauling out the reef tackle on deck, knock down right and left, and singling some one of them out, jump upon him and kick his face till it was black and blue. I have seen a common seaman hit in the back with an iron marlingspike thrown at him, and sent to his berth for a fortnight. Because a man did not spread the tar on his "parcelling" as thick as the brute in authority deemed it proper, he is flayed alive with the end of the main brace. And so on for months, until as good a crew as ever sailed out of New York became sullen, and all the able seamen in one watch once refused duty. Whereat ten of them were put in irons and promptly released next morning, for we were already short-handed. The ship leaked badly and their services were indispensible. The first mate was an Englishman. His motto in treating young sailors was that "duty and discipline had been 'kicked into him,' while a boy, and he believed in kicking it into others." The second mate and chief ruffian of the rope's end and belaying pin was a Scotchman. The third mate was a Kaiser.

—As a man was passing a house in Portland, Me., the other day, a two-year-old girl, who was playing in a second-story room, jumped out of a window and struck fairly on his head. The child fell to the pavement and was badly bruised, though not seriously hurt, and the man, except being half scared to death, was not much injured.

—Carl Beck, who was some time ago the first singer of his time, has just died in Vienna. He was great a favorite of the late Czar, who one day told Beck to ask a fover of him, at the same time promising to grant it. Beck, instead of soliciting money or patronage, said he would like to drink a bottle of champagne with the Czar, both drinking out of the same bottle. The Romanoff was highly offended, but kept his word and ordered the "fiz." Beck, however, paid for his temerity by receiving orders the same night to leave Russia within three days, a promise being at the same time exacted that he would never divulge the above. This account has just been discovered in Beck's papers after his death.—London World.

Michigan Election.

The republican candidate for judge of the supreme court of Michigan is elected by a majority of 2000 over Shipman, who was the candidate of the democrats and greenbackers. Two thousand majority is not a very heavy one, in a State that throws about 300,000 votes; but then it must be remembered that at the last previous election the combined democratic and greenback vote exceeded that of the republicans by about 26,000, and that the fusionists confidently expected to carry the State this time, and put forth immense efforts to that end.

An Appeal from the Gloucester Female Charitable Association.

During its forty-four years' work of relieving the necessities of the destitute poor whom we have always with us, this society has never sought aid from abroad. But the needs of this time are so urgent and unusual that it becomes our duty to ask the co-operation of all benevolent people in the name of a common humanity.

Since the middle of December 191 men have sailed from this port only to sink in the sea. And of those who survived the great February gale several returned with limbs broken in their terrible battle with the waves on Georges. Some sixty wives have become widows; 166 children are left fatherless.

With their resources exhausted by two years of ill-success, these families were peculiarly unfitted for such disaster. Their present needs are very great, and they must be judiciously helped for a considerable time. We who are familiar with their situation should be without excuse in failing to appeal in their behalf.

Contributions of money may be made to Mr. Samuel E. Sawyer, Tremont House, or to Mr. E. E. Patridge, Sec'y North American Insurance Co., Old State House, State street, Boston, or mailed in checks to the order of Mrs. Joseph O. Proctor, president, Mrs. John C. Calef, secretary, or Mrs. Allan Rogers, treasurer, Gloucester. Wearing apparel and materials left at the store of Taylor, Thomas & Co., Nos. 67 and 69 Summer street, and boots and shoes at the store of Mr. E. K. Butler, 57 High street, Boston, will be forwarded without cost. All will be thankfully received and distributed to the best of our judgment and ability.

GLOUCESTER, MASS., March, 1879.

News and Notes.

The "Providence Line" of steamers, so deservedly popular the last two seasons with travellers to New York, will be reopened the 28th inst. By this route there are only forty-two miles of railroad from Boston to Providence, and no intermediate landing between that point and New York. The steamboat express train leaves Boston each week-day at six P. M., connecting at Providence with one of the magnificent steamers of this line, affording travellers an opportunity to view the manifold beauties of Narragansett bay during its passage by daylight. The dining-rooms on the main deck are in marked contrast to the stived quarters usually alotted to such a purpose. Tickets and state-rooms by this favorite line may be had at the company's office, No. 214 Washington street, Boston, or at the Boston & Providence railroad station, in that city.

The Zulus of South Africa have again fallen upon a detachment of the British army there, and overwhelmed it by force of numbers. The losses are not stated definitely, but it is evidently a bad defeat, and more troops are being hurried off to the Cape.

Mercy on us! Mrs. Oliver, of nauseous fame through her breach of promise suit, has started out on a tour to the south to deliver a lecture entitled "What I know about Simon Cameron." Hope she'll keep on going south.

Rev. John Millor, D. D., of Princeton, N. J., late professor of the Theological seminary at the place, has been formally deposed from the ministry for heresy, at a session of the presbytery.

The Cheyenne Indians at Wichita agency, Kansas, are said to be on the war path.

British steamship Surbiton, from New York for Europe, is two months out without being heard from, and is supposed to be lost with all hands, twenty-eight in number. She was an iron vessel, built in 1877, and was valued at $125,000; cargo valued at $100,000; both insured.

At Mt. Vernon, Texas, on the 5th inst., Robert Morgan, whom the sheriff had left in charge of the jail, was assassinated by six men, who, after murdering Morgan, attempted to rescue the prisoners, but the door resisting their efforts, and being fired on by citizens, they were compelled to take to their horses to escape. The citizens threatened to burn the jail with the prisoners in retaliation, but were prevailed upon to desist.

The president of the Bulgarian National Assembly has written to Eugene Schuyler, thanking him in the name of the Bulgarian nation for his famous report about Turkish atrocities in Roumelia, which brought truth to light and helped remedy the evil.

Edward Kinney (colored) and Mary Hall (white) have been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by the Hanover county court of Virginia for violating the State law by getting married.

Hamilton Brock, who absconded from Boston last fall with $22,000 belonging to the creditors of M. Frank Paige, manufacturer, has been found at Montreal. The detectives succeeded in getting him to return and give up $18,000 worth of bonds on the condition that he would not be prosecuted.

The Greenfield, Mass., Gazette reports that Rev. J. W. Cole, Methodist pastor at Claremont for the past year, has been in the habit of horse-whipping his wife, and she has been seen on her knees before him pleading for mercy. The church closed the pulpit against him several weeks since.

A Universalist church has been organized at Raymond with thirty-two members, which includes many substantial citizens of the town.

—Sitting Bull's medicine man is about to issue a little pamphlet on the "Treatment of the scalp."

—If a man really wants to know of how little importance he is, let him go with his wife to a dressmaker.

—A mule's head does not contain a brain capable of culture and refined rearing, but it is wonderful to what an extent the other end of his form can be reared.

—Sojourner Truth still sojourns in this land of the living and chatters away as brightly as ever. She is 104 years old and is living at her home in Battle Creek, Mich.

—In a street car. Lady in a shabby dress to animated tailor's model standing in front of her: "Will you please ring the bell sir?" "Pawdon, madame, I'm not the conductaw—ah." "Indeed? What are you?" He gives it up.—Puck.

—No first-class reporter will ever forget to add at the end of an unsuccessful burglary item that the fellows overlooked a box containing one thousand dollars in cash. This always makes the burglars mad enough to shoot themselves.

—A retired milk man sent his son to travel, telling him to take notes and write home what he saw. He crossed a Spanish river dry shod, and wrote: "It would be impossible to carry on the milk business in this country."

—Miss Florence, the youngest daughter of the late E. L. Davenport, who has adopted the stage as a profession, made her debut recently at Philadelphia, as Josephine in "Pinafore." This makes five daughters of the Davenport family now on the stage.

—Two darkies were vaunting their courage. "I isn't 'feared o' nothin', I isn't," said one. "Den, Sam, I reckon you isn't feared to loan me a dollar?" "No, Julius, I isn't feared to loan you a dollar, but I does hate to part wid an ole fren' forebber."

—It is said that the reason why bigamy is of so rare occurrence in Hungary is that once on a time a man who was convicted of this crime was sentenced by the court to live for two years with both wives. The punishment was considered cruel, but it had the desired effect.

—A poultry fancier wants a hen that can lay 2000 eggs in 2000 quarter-hours.

—In the race for matrimony it isn't always the girl that covers the most laps that wins.

—It is heartrending to make such corrections, but it is very necessary sometimes. "In speaking of the president of our local bank," says a country journal, "for 'skedaddled,' please read 'his schedule.'"

—We are glad to see that, while the majority of male athletes in running, walking, rowing, ball-playing, wrestling, are Irishmen, there are no Irish women to be found among these absurd and unsexed female pedestrians.—Pilot.

—A Buffalo minister has been preaching upon "The people we kick." The people we kick are those smaller than ourselves, though the Buffalo clergyman may occasionally lift a robust chromo peddler off the front stoop when he knows his wife is immediately in his rear with a broom.

—Remark by a disgusted playwright: "'Pinafore?' Yes. All the rage, isn't it? Takes because it's foreign manufacture. Had it been turned out at a New York shop not a manager would have looked at it. Would have said, 'My friend, that won't do for our audiences. It's better suited to a variety theatre.'"

THE CITY.

No CHRONICLE to-morrow.

Pinafore at Music hall to-night.

Post office hours to-day: From 8 to 11 o'clock A. M. and from 5 to 6 P. M., for general delivery; box office open all day.

Union services will be held to-day at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon, in the Court street Christian church; sermon by Rev. J. A. Goss, on "Infidelity." The public are invited.

This evening Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars is to entertain the lodges from Kittery, Eliot and North Hampton. A supper is to be served at Good Templars' hall, and a regular session of all the lodges held at Mechanics' hall.

The schooner Charles A. Jones, from Chrisholm's island, S. C., with phosphate rock for Wood's hole, Mass., sprung a leak March 30th off Frying-pan shoals lightship, and went down next day. The crew were picked up by schooner Agnes I. Grace and landed at Lewes, Del. The Charles A. Jones was built here, was 314 tons register, and owned by E. H. Atwood and Capt. C. S. Kent of Boston.

THE VICINITY.

An amateur company of young people at Exeter will play Pinafore on Wednesday evening of next week.

The dwelling of James Hurd, at Kennebunk, was burned with its contents on the 8th inst. Loss $1000; partially insured. A building on Main street, occupied as a barber's shop on the lower floor, and as a tenement overhead, was slightly damaged by fire at nine o'clock in the evening of the same day.

Mr. I. N. Blake, a prominent shoe manufacturer of Hampton Falls, and C. B. Lancaster, who has one of the largest wholesale shoe firms in Boston, are soon to locate at Pittsfield and engage in the manufacture of shoes on an enlarged scale. The citizens will furnish them with a building 150 feet long and forty feet wide. The machinery will be run by water.

The Manchester Mirror says: "Mr. John S. Folsom, and a portion of his family, are next week to move to Greenland, where they will take up their residence upon a place of thirty-five acres, formerly occupied by Capt. Salter. The house is furnished with all the modern improvements, and is very desirable in every respect. The place has been purchased by Mr. Folsom, and he intends to live in Greenland permanently."

At Saco, on the afternoon of the 7th inst., Mrs. Theodore Caron was at the house of a married daughter who was dying, leaving her own house in charge of her nine-years-old daughter Jane, who also had the care of two younger sisters. Another little girl called on the children left at home, and as the fire did not burn very well the visitor suggested kerosene, and Jane poured some out of the can. As the oil touched the coal it ignited, and the flames leaped upon the girl and set her clothes on fire. The terrified child ran screaming out of doors and up street toward the house where her mother was, pursued by two men who soon caught her and tore off the burning clothing, but too late to save the girl, who died next morning. The married sister died an hour and a half later. The two men had their hands badly burned.

FAST DAY FESTIVITIES.

In this city there is to be a pedestrian tournament at Franklin hall in the afternoon, commencing with a walking match of twenty-five miles for a silver cup and fruit-dish, open to any resident of Rockingham county or York county, Me.; to be followed by a running race, in which a man will undertake to run ten miles in less time than another walks eight miles; and ending with a walking match of twenty-five miles between two men, for $25 a side and the gate money, in the evening. At Music hall, in the evening, the excellent Boston Pinafore Company will present that most amusingly ridiculous opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore," in a manner to astonish and delight those persons who did not attend its previous performance here by the same company, and to delight all who did then attend, as few of them will be willing to miss the treat they know is in store for them.

At Newcastle, in the evening, the last dance of the season will be given at the town hall, with music by Marr's quadrille band.

In Exeter there is to be a ten-mile race at the town hall in the afternoon, for a purse of $25, between four runners.

REFORM CLUB ELECTION.

At the quarterly meeting of the reform club, held Wednesday evening, 9th inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

James W. Marden, president;

Edward F. Hall, Horace A. Martin, Edwin Foster, Joseph Pettigrew, Samuel Taylor, F. Herbert Peverly, Samuel Stringer, vice presidents;

The meeting was very harmonious, and the best of feeling prevailed. Remarks were made by Mr. C. P. Nims of Boston, Rev. John A. Goss, and others.

A CARD.

PORTSMOUTH, April 10th, 1879.

Mr. Editor: In the CHRONICLE of Wednesday a statement appears with my name appended thereto, that places me, by implication at least, in a false position in regard to the recent temperance movement. The testimonial presented at Music hall on Sunday evening endorsing Messrs. Smith and Booth and their Gospel Temperance prayer meetings—while it received the approbation of those present, has not either my approval or endorsement, and whatever assistance I may have rendered was not for the sake of testimonials with which Messrs. Smith and Booth can advertise themselves in other places, but for the good of the cause in our city.

JOHN S. TREAT.

[Note. The "testimonial" and accompanying resolution were printed by us just as they were handed in for publication. Mr. Treat's name was appended to the former, by whom placed there we do not know, it appearing it was done without the authority of Mr. Treat.—Ed.]

NO "BAR"--NOT ANY.

The poet's license is broad, but should never deviate from the truth. Sentiment may be twisted into the most fanciful shapes, to mark a measure or to tune a rhyme; but facts are facts, and any direct mistatement, which presents a glaring contradiction to that which is well-known, mars the beauty of the choicest lines, and leads the reader to a state of doubt as to the intelligence or the truthfulness of the poet. Our sweet singer Whittier has committed this error in two of his poems, which appear in a small collection recently published called "Poems of Places." In each of the two poems referred to the scene lies near our city. In the one, called "The wreck of Rivermouth," a line says "The beacon glimmered from Portsmouth bar;" in the other, called "Amy Wentworth, Portsmouth, N. H.,"

"She looks across the harbor bar,
To see the white gulls fly."

Is there then a bar in our harbor? Does the memory of the oldest inhabitant recall one, or the tradition of one, that ever existed? Do we not point with pride to our deep, clear, sandless harbor, when we compare it with the harbors of Newburyport, Ipswich and others. Let us then proclaim to all the world, including the poets, that our harbor is one of the best in the world. It has no bar, it never had a bar, and we trust never will have a bar.

PISCATAQUA.

KEEP COOL.

The Washington correspondents report that the breaking out of the yellow fever on board the Plymouth, after a winter's "freezing out and fumigating" in Boston, has greatly alarmed the southern members of Congress, who think it foreshadows the total failure of the Gamgee process of freezing out the disease at quarantine by means of artificial cold developed in a ship specially constructed and fitted for the purpose—in other words, they think it shows that cold does not destroy the germs of the disease, as has always been supposed. But the Plymouth has not been frozen out at all.

The storeship Guard, which arrived at this station from South America last fall with yellow fever on board, was allowed to lie all winter without her cargo being taken out and with no fires on board of her, and it may be presumed that she got well chilled through. Whether she was so thoroughly frozen as to kill the germs of the fever, in the vessel and in her cargo of rope and canvas, time will show; for our own part, we should be more afraid of the cargo than of the ship, as the stores were shipped home from Rio, where yellow fever epidemics have raged for several years past. Undoubtedly the yard officials will take all possible sanitary precautions, and with the timely warning given by the appearance of the disease on the Plymouth such measures will be adopted as to preclude any rational cause for alarm concerning its spread in this vicinity.

ELIOT LETTERS.

SOUTH ELIOT, Me., April 8th.

The last quarterly meeting for the conference year was held at the Methodist Episcopal church in this place on Sunday. The preaching was by Rev. Mr. Jaques, Presiding Elder of the district; it was practical, able and interesting. The society is now shingling the church and parsonage, and making other repairs.

Last evening Rev. Mr. DeNormandie of Portsmouth favored the people of this place with a very able, interesting and instructive lecture on Thomas Jefferson. The lecture was listened to for more than an hour with marked interest.

Mr. John Foster of this place, a soldier in the war of 1812, was stricken with paralysis on Sunday last, and died today. He had been totally blind for several years. His age was eighty-four years.

E. F.

—Two seedy individuals in St. Louis, who claimed to belong to the theatrical profession, asked Mr. John Schoffel, manager of the Lotta combination, for a pass. Not liking their looks he refused, when they became very indignant, and threatened to "write him up" or down to the Clipper. He told them to go ahead, and kindly informed them how he spelled his name. They seemed to have great difficulty in getting it right, and he further accommodated them by writing his name himself on a small slip of paper. They departed, vowing vengeance. That night Mr. Schoffel found the same slip among the free passes. The men had written "pass two" above the signature, and enjoyed an evening's performance free of charge.

Everything Goes Wrong

In the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation, are certain to ensue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organ and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headaches, yellowness of the skin, furred look of the tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is its best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics. Nerve weakness and overtension are relieved by it, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility an all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. 1s22

Ulcerated Sore Throat yields readily to Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 35 cents.

Righteous Decision of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The maintenance of the fidelity of a contract entered into by a sovereign State of the Federal Union has been frequently before the Supreme Court of the United States, in varied forms of litigation, and in every instance the judgment of that august tribunal has pronounced that the contract entered into is inviolate. The Louisiana State Lottery Company has a contract for twenty-five years from 1868, when it was incorporated, and the action of no legislature can prevent that renowned corporation from continuing its regular monthly distributions at New Orleans on the second Tuesday of every month. For further information address

M. A. DAUPHIN,
P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, La.

You may not think it now, but a cough is a forerunner of lasting disease. Check it at once by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

American and European plans, both have been adopted by the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York. You can now pay $1.00 per day and upwards, for a nice room at this large first-class Hotel, on Broadway, take your breakfast there, at the elegant restaurant, attached to the house, at moderate prices, and if you do not return till night you have nothing more to pay. Or you can stop there on the American plan for $2.50 to $3.00 per day, room and meals included.

A Merchant Up Town went without his overcoat, took a hard cold, and was cross, most sick, when one of his clerks prevailed upon him to try a little of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. Three doses cured him.

There is a light ahead in Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye for all who are suffering from throat or lung troubles. It is sold by C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market street, Boston.

Chronic Catarrh is easily cured if you will use Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. eod&winov79

WHEAT MEAL!

— OR —

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the fraternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call made up Graham, that is, artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hardly a person who uses the genuine Wheat Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

Somebody's Child.

Somebody's child is dying—dying with the flush of hope on his young face and an indescribable yearning to live and take an honored place in the world beside the companions of his youth. And somebody's mother is thinking of the time when that dear face will be hidden where no ray of hope can brighten it—when her heart and home will be left desolate—because there was no cure for consumption. Reader, if the child be your neighbor's, take this comforting word to the mother: heart before it is too late. Tell her that consumption is curable, that men are living to-day, aged, robust men, whom the physicians pronounced incurable at the age of twenty-five, because one lung had been almost destroyed by the disease. Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a most efficient alterative for separating the scrofulous matter from the blood and lungs, and imparting strength to the system. It has cured hundreds of consumptives.

—Grace (whispering): "What lovely boots your partner's got, Mary?" Mary (ditto): "Yes; unfortunately he shines at the wrong end."

—Bunting is to be fashionable at the seaside this summer, and the swell on the beach will be on the lookout to see the girls hoist their sailors.

—"Here," said a farmer in Syracuse, as he exhibited a broken jar to the manufacturer, "I packed this jar full of butter, and the jar split from top to bottom. Perhaps you can explain the phenomenon." "Oh, yes, I can," was the ready reply, "the butter was stronger than the jar."

—Dr. Garrett is Congressman Ackles's physician. Some one at Washington asked him the other day if it was true his patient was dying. "Dying?" ejaculated the doctor; "do you think I'd let a voter die when we have only one majority, and no time for a special election to fill the vacancy? Erebus, no! I'd take this medicine for him and die myself first!"

The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined bodies.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. The Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Specially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
"THE LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of chaff, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance, the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pals in the Shoulders, Fullness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a single organ escaping their alterative impress. Ages does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. This liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE's Douche. This is the only form of Instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried up, up and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which pores and ulcerations usually exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1873. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $250,000.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of emigenence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature experience and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy or Falling Sickness, St. Vitus's Dance, Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele, Disease of the Scrotum, Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Dropsy, Cancer, Tumors, Stone in the Bladder, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cataracts, Crooked Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, if she will send it back to me with the A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely on those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have prescribed medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried——and discovered in two days that the book of years I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly and free influence of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

"It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 50 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possesses undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

PORTSMOUTH

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9th.

There is absolutely very little to report of progress made by Congress, unless speech-making may be so designated. Several exceptionally able efforts of that kind have been brought out by the questions at issue, and that of Ex-Sec'y Robeson a few days since takes about the highest rank of any yet delivered, as a constitutional argument and exposition of the matters in dispute. Of course it was from the republican standpoint, and while his political opponents deny his premises and as a matter of course hold that all his reasoning must have been fallacious, they credit him with having set them about the hardest "stent" of any of his party associates who have yet entered the arena against them.

The average congressman seems disposed to take it moderately, even complacently, as though they had months of cool weather before them instead of the torrid season just at hand.

The few grains of comfort afforded the democrats from the victory achieved by the party at the Chicago election, have been more than counter-balanced by reports from the later April elections. So far as reported the republicans seem to have made gains at about every important point where national issues swallowed up local interests in the several States that held elections this week, and republican congressmen are correspondingly elated. It can only have the effect to make the contest now in progress on Capitol hill the more determined, for no one now looks for a compromise of any kind, at least not till the two bills which called the extra session, with their riders, shall have run the Presidential gauntlet and he has cleared up all doubts as to his intentions in the matter, by approving or vetoing them.

It is held by many of the officials who have endorsed the Gamgee yellow-fever specific that the recent outbreak of that disease on a United States vessel after it had been subjected to the freezing temperature of a winter in northern waters, is not relevant as a test of the efficacy of the method in question, simply because there were many parts of the ship which escaped the degree of cold requisite to insure the death of the germs, and which is a formly distributed by the thermo-glacial engine of the Gamgee process, and to a degree sufficiently intense to absolutely insure the death of every living thing within the range of distribution. The passage or rejection of the political riders attached to the two appropriation bills that have rendered an extra session of Congress necessary, sinks into comparative insignificance when contrasted with this matter of yellow fever. A moment's reflection will convince all save those who make a living by politics, of this assertion. There is no question that the Gamgee process had commended itself theoretically to a great many thinking persons, including many of our best physicians. It was hoped by all, and confidentially believed by many, that a long stride had been taken towards a complete mastery of the pestilence by that method. Your correspondent was assured this morning by that gentleman that the associated press dispatches had wholly misrepresented the views of Sec'y Thompson; and that far from discouraging it, he (the secretary) was the more anxious to practically test the refrigeration process since the outbreak on the Plymouth.

All accounts agree that there is no perceptible diminution of the emigration fever among the freedmen. KNOX.

Selection for a Fruit Garden.

The occupant of a new place wishes a selection, or moderate list of varieties of the large and small fruits, for spring planting. In giving a list for this purpose, every cultivator would vary more or less in naming different sorts, according to personal preference founded in diverse taste, varying success with soil, and with cultivation and keeping; but there are a few sorts which are widely approved, to which additions may be made to suit different regions of the country, this list being intended for the northern and more eastern States. It may assist those who have partial plantings, in completing their collections. The earliest sorts are named first, so that with apples the first will be summer varieties, then autumnal, followed by winter sorts, and ending with long keepers. With pears the season will be shorter, or from midsummer to mid-winter, while peaches and plums will extend only eight or nine weeks.

Apples.—Early Harvest, Red Astrachan, Sweet Bough, Autumn Strawberry, Porter, Gravenstein, Maiden's Blush, Fall Orange, Twenty Ounce, Westfield, Seek-no-further, Baldwin, Rhode Island Greening, Northern Spy, Roxbury Russet. Some will add Early Strawberry, Fameuse, and Golden Russet of Western New York.

Pears.—Summer Doyenne, Giffard, Rostiezer, Tyson, Washington, Bartlett,

Peaches.—Amsden, Early Louise, Hale, Serrate Early York, Large Early York, Crawford's Early, Crawford's Late, Oldmixon Free.

Cherries.—Early Purple Guigne, Gov. Wood, Black Tartarian, Coe's Transparent, Early Richmond, Reine Hortense, Rockport, Large Morello. (Note.—We place Early Richmond after some other sorts which it is supposed to precede, but its full size and flavor are not reached unless it hangs long on the tree.)

Grapes.—Hartford, Delaware, Wilder, Concord, Diana.

Raspberries.—Doolittle, Mammoth Cluster, Philadelphia, Herstine, Franconia.

As already remarked, no two cultivators will make the same list, and no one cultivator will make the same list in different years; and some would criticise sharply their own previous selections, if they did not know who made them. The preceeding, however, would afford a rich family supply, if growing on good soil and with good management and cultivation.—Ex.

FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1879.

Senator Bell Seated.

Hon. Charles H. Bell was on the 10th inst. admitted to the United States Senate as Senator from New Hampshire, by a vote of thirty-five to twenty-eight. Bayard, Gordon, Voorhees and other Democrats voted for Mr. Bell's admission while Carpenter, Conkling and Davis of Illinois voted against it.

News and Notes.

John P. Phair was hanged at Windsor, Vt., on the 10th inst., for the murder of Ann E. Frieze at Rutland five years ago. He died without a struggle.

Mrs. Freeland, the Newburyport woman who deserted her husband and two little children recently, and ran off with a sewing machine agent, has returned, but her husband refuses to live with her or to permit her to see the children.

On Wednesday afternoon, the 9th inst., George Haas, about sixty-five years of age, residing near Shohola, Pike county, Penn., after cutting his wife's throat in a terrible manner, drowned himself in Shohola creek.

Gen. Mite and Lucie Zarate, the "Midgets," are to be married April 20th. The groom weighs nine and the bride five pounds.

The whistle of the automatic buoy off Brigantine shoals, New Jersey, was stolen about the 1st inst., but was replaced on the 9th. It is believed to have been stolen by wreckers, as there has been no wreck there since it was put in operation. The government offers $400 reward for the persons who removed it.

The house, barn, farming tools, four three-year-old steers, a span of horses, and eight tons of hay, belonging to Cyrus Moody, at Limington, Me., were burned early on the morning of the 8th inst. Mr. Moody was badly burned about the face and hands while endeavoring to save his stock. The family also had a narrow escape, being obliged to leave the dwelling in their night clothes, and nearly all the household furniture was burned; loss estimated at $3,000; insured $1,200.

Naval Matters.

The Senate on the 9th inst. confirmed Surgeon Charles H Burbank as a medical inspector in the navy.

The U. S. S. Vandalia, which left Boston on the 7th inst. to join the squadron of Rear-Admiral Robert H. Wyman at Norfolk, Va., is reported to be in excellent condition and in all respects ready for an extended cruise. She carries eight guns and a crew of 201 persons, officers and men, and is a ship of 2100 tons displacement. The Vandalia had been absent from Boston but a few hours when a telegram was received at the navy yard ordering her detention ten days longer. She will probably reach Norfolk before the order can be communicated to her officers.

The secretary of the navy is in receipt of despatches from commodore Shufeldt, dated Monrovia, Feb. 21st. He had just arrived in the Ticonderoga from Sierra Leone.

New Hampshire Items.

Martin V. Dickey, who killed Frank H. Eastman at Plymouth in June last, was brought into court at Haverhill on the 10th inst., and pleaded guilty of manslaughter in the first degree, the plea being accepted by the State.

The Concord, Northern, Concord & Claremont, Boston, Concord & Montreal, Nashua & Lowell, and Boston & Lowell railroads deny the charges of fraudulent elections of officers and improper contracts, made by John H. Pearson of Concord, and their answer has been filed in court.

"Dr." Solomon Jefferson, the quack who married and deserted several women in Connecticut, and left Bridgeport in that State just in time to escape arrest for bigamy, has found another victim at Manchester, where he formerly lived.

Miss Julia Eveline Smith of Glastonbury, Conn., the only survivor of the Smith sisters, celebrated for their resistance to taxation without representation, was married on the 9th inst. to Amos G. Parker of New Hampshire. Both the bride and groom are in their 87th year.

The Manchester base ball club opened the season on the 10th inst., playing a game with the Dartmouth college nine. Only seven innings were played, owing to a blinding snow-storm. The Manchesters won by a score of eleven to one. Fully 1000 spectators witnessed the play.

Dickey, the Plymouth murderer, was on Friday morning sentenced to seven years at hard labor in State prison, and to pay the costs of prosecution.

We have received the spring number of Ehrich's Fashion Quarterly and it seems to us to be just what is needed by every wife and mother, for by its aid, in the quietude of her own sitting-room, a lady can arrange her season's expenditure in every department of her housekeeping, certain that she will be reminded of everything necessary, certain of prices she will have to pay, and equally certain that the goods she may decide to buy, however cheap, will have about them nothing outre or unfashionable. From an infant's wardrobe to a bridal suit—from a garden chair to an adjustable toilet mirror—every article that can possibly be needed in a family during the Spring season, is here represented in a variety of styles and prices suitable to every taste and pocket. Besides its business pages, this tasteful periodical contains a Literary department, replete with original tales, sketches, essays, poems, humorous and instructive matter, which should alone suffice to render it a welcome guest at every fireside. Published by Ehrich & Co., 287 to 295 Eighth avenue, New York, at fifty cents a year, or fifteen cents a single number.

The May number of the International Review will be more than ordinarily interesting. Mr. Longfellow and Mrs. Muloch-Craik, the author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," will contribute, and Mr. Hamerton will conclude his interesting account of the art exhibition at Paris in 1878, dealing this time principally with American artists. Felix Oswald has written an article on "American Autocrat-," for the same number of this periodical.

Everything Goes Wrong

In the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation, are certain to ensue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates healthy organic and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headaches, yellowness of the skin, furred look of the tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is its best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics. Nerve weakness and vertigo are relieved by it, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

Consumption Cured.

Ulcerated Sore Throat yields readily to Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 25 cents.

You may not think it now, but a cough is a forerunner of lasting disease. Check it at once by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

American and European plans, both have been adopted by the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York. You can now pay $1.00 per day and upwards, for a nice room at this large first-class Hotel, on Broadway, take your breakfast there, at the elegant restaurant, attached to the house, at moderate prices, and if you do not return till night you have nothing more to pay. Or you can stop there on the American plan for $2.50 to $3.00 per day, room and meals included.

A Merchant Up Town went without his overcoat, took a hard cold, and was cross, most sick, when one of his clerks prevailed upon him to try a little of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. Three doses cured him.

There is a light ahead in Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye for all who are suffering from throat or lung troubles. It is sold by C. B. Barrett & Co., 15 North Market street, Boston.

Chronic Catarrh is easily cured if you will use Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. eod&wtnov79

During the debate in the House on the army bill, Mr. Frye of Maine read the famous article from the Okolona Southern States newspaper entitled, "We have captured the Capitol." At that time Muldrow, representative from Mississippi, rose in his place and said that the paper was edited by an Ohio carpetbagger, and represented no respectable element in Mississippi. A day or two ago Mr. Frye presented to the House a letter from the editor of that paper showing that he was a Confederate soldier throughout the war, and that whether the Okolona Southern States represented respectable people or not, it supported this Mr. Muldrow himself for Congress.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; it costs but 2c. a lb., Cream of Tartar over 40. The Royal Baking Powder is recommended for its wholesomeness by such eminent chemists as Dr. Mott, New York; Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.

☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere. 110

THE CITY.

There was a glass-ball shooting match at Frost's point, Fast day, and two barrels of glass balls were broken by the shooters.

There is no foundation whatever for the report so many days current in this city, that Rev. James De Normandie has received a call to New York.—Journal.

The First Congregational church of Danbury, Connecticut, on Monday evening, the 7th inst., voted to tender a call to Rev. James W. Hubbell, formerly of the College street church in New Haven, and at present pastor of the North church in this city.

One of the most severe snow storms of the season commenced at about four o'clock Thursday afternoon, and about six inches of very damp, heavy snow fell between that time and shortly after midnight. A sharp breeze blew during a portion of the night, and the travelling in the suburbs was reported to be very bad on Friday.

One of the last dances of the season was held in Congress hall on Fast eve, and was quite a successful affair, thirty-six couples taking part in the grand march. The very last dance of the season comes off in Mechanics' hall on Monday evening, under the auspices of the Granite State base ball club.

Three enthusiastic boating men went down the river, and up Sagamore creek nearly to its head, on Fast day; two of them rowed, and the third one officiated as ballast and occasionally steered the boat ashore or against a rock. The rowers stood the sport very well, but the ballast looked mournfully blue before the party got back to this city, which they did just as the snow commenced to fall.

The Journal says: "Rev. W. H. Alden, D. D., of this city, has been made a life member of the New Hampshire Bible Society. During the past year this society has canvassed ninety-two towns and visited 22,471 families. During these last twelve months 1405 copies were donated, costing $445.33; while 6156 copies were sold for $2842.11. The sum of $1540.02 was collected for the Bible cause, mostly in small sums, in going from house to house. The entire receipts of the treasurer for the year amounted to $7381.25."

MISS NORAH G. BARTLETT'S DEBUT.—An event of more than common interest to our amusement loving citizens is announced elsewhere for a week hence, when MISS NORAH G. BARTLETT of this city will appear at Music Hall as "Julia," in Sheridan Knowles's beautiful play of the "The Hunchback," supported by the leading members of Tompkins & Hill's Boston Theatre Company, so that there is no risk in assuring our readers of a magnificent entertainment. Seats will be on sale at Preston's drug store on and after this morning at nine o'clock.

THE VICINITY.

A go-as-you-please race of ten miles on Thursday afternoon at the town hall in Exeter, between George Virtue, James Coughlin and William Mullen, purse twenty-five dollars, was won by James Coughlin. Time, one hour and twenty minutes.

At the school meeting in district seven at South Eliot there was a prolonged contest over the choice of an agent. The meeting was called to meet at seven o'clock on the evening of the 10th inst., and did so meet, and balloted away about sixty times, finally effecting an election at two o'clock on the morning of the 11th, by the choice of Mr. Samuel A. Staples.

On the 2d inst. Mrs. George Stevens of Kennebunkport, whose husband is in the Maine lunatic asylum, took a westward bound train, and at Wells beach station was joined by Robert Littlefield, since which nothing has been heard of either. The woman, who is said to be quite wealthy, left behind a little girl; the partner of her flight is said to be worthless, in a pecuniary sense and every other.

Concerning the lectures of Mr. John Albee, of Newcastle, on "The foundations of the English language," at the Union League theatre in New York, the Evening Post says: "Under his kindly and masterful treatment language becomes a thing of poetry as well as science, and in listening to him one forgets the labor of the student in the delight at the art which conceals it in the higher charm of the poet." The Boston Post says that "a number of Mr. Albee's friends and admirers will endeavor to have him deliver his lectures in Cambridge or Boston."

A barn belonging to George H. Caverly was burned at Mt. Pleasant, Dover, on the morning of the 9th inst., by an incendiary fire; insured $600. This is the fifth fire that has occurred in that vicinity within about a year.

The Newmarket cornet band gave a band concert and variety entertainment in the town hall at Newmarket on Fast night, and every reserved seat ticket was taken up within three hours of the commencement of the sale.

At the last meeting of the Saco and Biddeford Fish and Game Protective Association steps were taken looking to the incorporation of the association. The name was changed to the York County Game and Fish Protective Association.

The would-be collector of "lightning-rod notes" recently visited Derry, Raymond and other neighboring towns for the second time. Some of the notes he holds have been altered, and failing to collect, he offered to sell them cheap. The whole affair is a fraud and swindle, and on being charged with it in Raymond, the collector threatened to shoot any man making the assertion.

Judge Virgin, of the Maine supreme court, on the 9th inst. rendered a decision in the appeal from the court of insolvency in re First National Bank vs. Titcomb & Thompson of Kennebunk, as copartners, and also against the individual estates of the two partners. The case was tried March 20th. The judge decides that the notes being negotiable paper, were provable against the individual estates of Thompson and Titcomb, and not provable against the partnership.

An associated press dispatch from Dover to the Boston papers, reporting the recent purchase of real estate on the river bank in Dover by Mr. John Bracewell, in mentioning the projected improvement of the property said that "cast iron piles are to be driven across the river, and eight stores put in." The Dover Democrat thereupon remarks: "We shall sent our reporter to witness the driving of those cast iron piles into the granite bed of the Cocheco. We want our readers to know how that thing is to be done."

THE LILIPUTIAN OPERA.

The matinee on Wednesday afternoon was attended by a very large audience, the house being filled, a large proportion of those present being children, who were of course delighted with the little performers and their presentation of the old nursery story of "Jack the giant killer."

The attendance Wednesday evening was only fair, many adults who would have attended then but for the matinee having no doubt taken advantage of the cheap admission in the afternoon.

There was one feature of the performance which was not down in the bills, and that was the appearance at each entertainment of a little shrimp of a youngster, apparently about the height of a quart measure, who raced across the stage carrying a wooden axe bigger than himself, during the chase after the giant by the Liliputian army, being greeted with abundance of mirthful applause at each appearance.

H. M. S. PINAFORE.

Notwithstanding the driving snowstorm of Fast day evening the Boston Pinafore company had a large, select and appreciative audience at Music hall, and with any decent kind of weather at all would have had a crowded house; many seats that were taken and paid for were not filled. The singing and acting of the company were such as to confirm the extremely favorable impression created by them on their first appearance here, and the reputation they have so fairly won will tend to secure them generous patronage when they again return to present the operetta of "The Little Duke," which it is said they will shortly do.

THE PEDESTRIAN TOURNAMENT.

In the twenty-five mile walking tournament at Franklin hall on Fast day, for the championship of Rockingham and York counties, there were five starters, the prize, a silver fruit dish, being awarded to Daniel Collins of this city; time, four hours, fifty minutes, thirty seconds. The second prize, a silver drinking cup, was taken by Jacob Burns, also of this city; time, four hours, fifty-two minutes, fifteen seconds.

In a heel-and-toe walking match, distance twenty-five miles, for a purse of fifty dollars and gate money, between Charles G. Locke of this city and Henry E. Nutting of Boston, the former left the track on the fifteenth mile, his competitor being ahead, Nutting continuing and finishing the twentieth mile, when he was declared the winner.

In a running race on a wager of ten dollars that Harvey Lear of this city could run ten miles in less time than Locke would consume in his first eight miles with Nutting, Locke won by two minutes, fifteen seconds; time, one hour, eighteen minutes, fifty-five seconds.

Lear has challenged Locke to another trial for $100 a side—Lear to go ten miles, as he pleases, while Locke is walking eight.

SEVERAL "BARS"--OH YES.

Mr. Editor: The dictum with which "Piscataqua" began his rebuke of the Quaker poet, in Thursday's CHRONICLE, was not remarkably lucid. He said "the poet's licence is broad, but should never deviate from the truth." Now if the young man knows what broad license is he must have a very incoherent idea of truth. License is defined as excessive liberty, freedom to excess, in the dictionaries. Broad license must imply even a greater degree of freedom from restraint. Consequently a poet to whom broad license is allowed may sometimes deviate from the truth so far as to take poetic liberties with his subjects, if he wants to.

Our friend also says sentiment may be twisted into the most fanciful shapes to "mark a measure." Then why not turn that fact—"facts are facts"—to practical account and give employment to idle people who would be willing to earn a penny (a cent I meant) by marking the measures of our shop keepers? Perhaps, however, they may not be—fanciful measures.

I am really and truly sorry for the "sweet singer" who has led our tyro to a state of doubt as to his intelligence, or truthfulness, by a direct misstatement which presents glaring contradictions to "that which is well known," in two of his poems. In one, "the wreck of Rivermouth," a line says in the other he says of Amy Wentworth,

"She looks across the harbor bar,
To see the white gulls fly"

Piscataqua goes into a paroxysm of anxiety and calls pathetically upon the oldest inhabitant, and asks if there is a bar in our harbor. Without waiting for an answer from the aforesaid O. I., he proclaims to all the world, including the poets, that our harbor has no bar, never had a bar, and trusts it never will have a bar. The fast day proclamation of our friend, however, deviated from the truth with more than a poet's licence, because there are several bars to be avoided in entering Portsmouth harbor. White island bar, Wood island bar, and the one from which the "beacon glimmers" impede navigation off the eastern shore of the harbor. The western side is not entirely destitute of beacons and bars. From the old Wentworth house "Amy" could look

"Across the harbor bar

Whittier says she did, and I am bound to believe she did. The bar is within a mile of the old hall, and I have looked across it myself, and actually seen the white gulls fly. By consulting the "American Coast Pilot" any one can ascertain the precise locality of the bars mentioned above, with the trouble of visiting the premises.

If Piscataqua must quarrel with the poets, it would be safer for him to try his unpracticed hand upon Watts' hymns or the Songs of Solomon. Quakers are not to be trifled with by young men who are so innocent as to doubt the existence of bars in or around Portsmouth harbor.

SAGAMORE.

Mr. Editor: I am provoked to reply to the barbarous nihilism of "Piscataqua," who, at one fell swoop of his crow quill would destroy some of our most cherished and time honored institutions. No bar at Portsmouth! indeed—as well say there is no balm in Gilead. If there be no bar why this garrulity of the reformer rampant? Are not many of our citizens practicing barratry on both sides of the bar? enough in truth to fill a page? Take the wings of the wind on some summer morning, ascend our barryphoniously named river,—shall we not there from behind the bars, hear the poetical "baa" of the mutton, mingling with the bar of the bartramian-piper and barnacle-goose? While in barytone along the winding stream resounds the romantic barcarole of the Earrington bargemen. If this gush of truth does not bring Piscataqua to the bar of his senses it will at least dam him. No bar at Portsmouth! Bah!

WHEAT MEAL!

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the fraternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call made up Graham, that is artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hardly a person who uses Graham Flour knows what Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

Of Every Description!

A comparison of the appropriations for the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the government recommended by the House committee at the last session of Congress and passed by the House, with the appropriation bill reported by Representative Atkins on the 1st inst. for the same purpose, shows a net increase of $3,203,639.26. It appears to be the opinion of Representative Atkins that under democratic rule the Senate will need $2620 more for the payment of officers, etc., about $6000 more for committee clerks, $4535 more for pages, and $1800 more for police, than was judged to be necessary when it was in the hands of the republicans. The present House of Representatives, too, will need, it is thought, about $1100 more for pay of officers, and $10,382 more for contingent expenses than the last House.

One Dodge of Virginia, who was discharged as a messenger in the Senate in 1861 for uttering disloyal sentiments, has been restored to his place. In order to do this a Union soldier was discharged. Fourteen years after Appomattox, to have been in the rebel army is a better passport to office in either house of Congress than to show an honorable discharge from the Union army dated in 1865.

Somebody's Child.

Somebody's child is dying—dying with the flush of hope on his young face and an indescribable yearning to live and take an honored place in the world beside the companions of his youth. And somebody's mother is thinking of the time when that dear face will be shaded by ray of hope can brighten it—when her heart and home will be left desolate—because there was no cure for consumption. Reader, if the child be your neighbor's, take this comforting word to the mother' heart before it is too late. Tell her that consumption is curable, that men are living to-day, aged, robust men, whom the physicians pronounced incurable at the age of twenty-five, because one lung had been almost destroyed by the disease. Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a most efficient alterative for separating the scrofulous matter from the blood and lungs, and imparting strength to the system. It has cured hundreds of consumptives.

OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SHARES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streaks, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation, over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Heated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escapes their beneficent influence. Accidents not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or paste-board boxes. (Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business for exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen of unquestionable skill to join him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES—Epilepsy, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of a surgeon in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50), or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Fistula (Rectum), Hydrocele, Hernia (Rupture of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cancer of Breast in the Modern, Skillful, etc., etc. We use treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operations, Cancer, Tubercle, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Medical as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for those diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficient remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and be confident that I shall in all not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Prostration, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have prescribed your medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, and finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) tried—and given others which I got hold of young. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say that I found a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 20 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, its names cannot be recalled by the best-informed drug gist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possesses undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price 1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

During the night some of the students who were unfavorably inclined towards the tutor determined to put it in for him. This they did, piece by piece, and through the window. Tutor Thacher was obliged to get under his bed to escape being stoned, or rather, coaled to death. In after years at a public supper, when asked as to the amount of his salary, Professor Thacher said "$1000, with coal put in."

Everything Goes Wrong

In the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation, are certain to ensue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organ and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headache, yellowness of the skin, furred tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is the best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics. Nerve weakness and nervous tension are relieved by it, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

Consumption Cured.

Democratic Reform.

An important point was brought out a few days since in the examination of Duncan S. Walker, secretary of the democratic congressional committee, by the Wallace (late Teller) investigating committee of the Senate. Walker was forced to admit in reply to questions put by republican members of the committee, that during the last campaign the democratic committee used government envelopes to send out the million of printed campaign documents, and that the work necessary to be done to fold these documents and mail them was performed by employes of the House who are paid by the government. To save postage, democratic members franked a large number of these documents. In view of the horror with which the democrats have professed to regard the action of the republicans in asking persons in office to contribute money to aid the party, the testimony was regarded as very refreshing.

Getting Ready for the Campaign.

Samuel J. Tilden and his brother, Henry A. Tilden, proprietors of an extract and drug manufactory at New Lebanon, N. Y., are in trouble, charged with defrauding the government out of a large amount of internal revenue. Several days ago the internal revenue officials at Chicago seized a number of packages containing bottles of bromo-chloralum, put up by Tilden's house, which had not been properly stamped. Since this seizure, the internal revenue bureau has directed an examination of similar packages at St. Louis, New Orleans and other points, which has resulted in seizures in the cities where the goods have been examined. Mr. Tilden's nephew, a son of Henry Tilden, visited Washington a day or two ago to get the revenue bureau to stop further seizures, and to compromise matters and suppress further publicity. The services of Ex Senator Barnum, of Connecticut, the chairman of the democratic national committee, were obtained, and he was before Commissioner Raum, to get the case settled, but failed to accomplish that object. The internal revenue authorities have no doubt that the government has been defrauded out of a large sum of money in a systematic manner by the Tildens not stamping the goods manufactured by them as required by law. The Uncle of His Nephew, and friend of Smith Weed and Moses-Match-Manton-Marble-Mobble, having decided to nominate himself for the presidency once more, is preparing for the campaign—that's all.

"Nepotism."

If there was ever any one thing which more than another aroused the righteous wrath of the reform democrat, it was "republican nepotism." Concerning the management of affairs in the Senate, it was always popular for the democrats to criticize the republican Senators for appointing their relations and near friends to confidential places, such as the clerkship of committees. But nothing like the grabbing game now witnessed was ever seen before. The majority have not only practically taken the appointing power out of the hands of the secretary and sergeant-at-arms, and apportioned the offices among themselves according to a system of political distribution, but they have in addition appropriated the clerkships to their families, and left the poor District of Columbia, which has done the campaign work, out in the cold. Senator Eaton has appointed his son clerk of the foreign relations committee. Senator Vance has made his son clerk of enrolled bills. Senator McDonald has his son-in-law as clerk of public lands. Senator Gordon has his brother-in-law in the document-room. Senator Voorhees has his son located under Clerk Adams. Senator Withers has his son-in-law for clerk of pensions. Senator Ransom intends to make his son clerk of the railroad committee, and so on through the list. Mr. Fields, doorkeeper of the house, who before his election was begging a consulate from President Hayes, has recently appointed his son as a special clerk, while hundreds of hungry democrats are crying out for bread.

Bryant.

The second number of the series of personal, literary and anecdotal biographies of great American authors, published by Sheldon & Co., No. 8 Murray street, New York, has appeared. This volume contains the biography of William Cullen Bryant, and an excellent steel plate likeness. The design of Professor Hill in this work, is to present the leading facts in the life of our recently departed great poet,—not a biography in detail, but a sketch which will attract the general reader, interest both old and young, and at the same time do justice to the subject. In this work we have brief but interesting accounts of the childhood and early years of the poet, his legal life for ten years in western Massachusetts, his removal to New York, his literary work in the great metropolis, his foreign tour, his domestic life, his career as a literary and journalistic celebrity, and his poetic results. Born in 1794, living to an age of remarkable maturity, and with a life of uninterrupted usefulness, there is much to note in such an eventful career. The author has been able to compress within the limits of his little book the salient points recognizable by all who have been familiar with Mr. Bryant's writings, and to present generous glimpses of the character and habits of a man who will always have a prominent place in history as one of the leading men of letters in this country. The book may be had of Goodrich at the uniform price of the series, $1.00.

News and Notes.

The Knights Templar are making big preparations for the celebration of St. John's day in Portland.

Burglars recently attempted to enter the residence of Dr. Lee in Niantic, Conn., by blowing chloroform under the door and then trying to force it. The doctor took in the situation at once and opened the inner doors, making a good circulation of air, and the robbers took their departure.

A correspondent of the Kennebec Journal writes that a bit of excitement is now enjoyed at Cherryfield, Me. Some are even confident that another California has been discovered in the eastern part of Maine. Gold has been found near Sprague's Falls, on the land of Wm. Freeman and T. Smart in Cherryfield. Mr. Freeman has already several men at work in the mine on his lot, and if it proves all they hope for, a company will be formed for the purpose of working it. The gold they have tested is of superior quality.

On Friday three lady residents of Rockland, Me., were fined each one dollar and costs for drunkenness and disturbance of the peace.

Seventeen thousand persons in Szegedin and his neighborhood are still subsisting on charity. It has been raining ten days, and the supply of bread is becoming exhausted.

The corpse of a student was found recently near Kasan Cathedral, St. Petersburg, stabbed and labelled "Sentenced as a traitor by the Socialists' Revolutionary Committee."

New Hampshire Items.

In the supreme court at Concord, Friday, Daniel W. Stickney and Frank W. Stickney of Canaan, indicted for fraud, having made restitution and paid the costs, were discharged.

The governor and council held a meeting Friday and transacted considerable routine business. The annual visit to the Insane asylum was made, and the committee on the State prison will visit that institution.

The New England small boy began to go in swimming on Good Friday last year. Now he is shivering with the cold; and just up in this State he is stealing rides on the teams that are crossing Lake Winnepisaukee on the ice.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; it costs but 2c. a lb., Cream of Tartar over 40. The Royal Baking Powder is recommended for its wholesomeness by such eminent chemists as Dr. Mott, New York; Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.

☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere. 110

THE CITY.

Among the receipts by rail last week were 2100 bushels of malt consigned to the Eldredge Brewing Co.

First Lieut. Lorenzo T. Burnham, of the City Guards, has resigned that position on account of leaving the city.

Rev. C. A. Holbrook administered the rite of baptism to eleven person's at St. John's Episcopal church on Saturday afternoon.

It is said that Admiral Dot, who performed Toodles so admirably at Music hall last week, wishes to marry. This leads a contemporary to remark that he will probably take to wife the girl of the period. We will stop here.

Dr. Benjamin E. Hartiman, a son of Gen. Walter Harriman, and Miss Jessie B. Farmer of Manchester, were on Saturday evening united in marriage by Rev. James DeNormandie, at the residence in this city of County Solicitor Walter C. Harriman.

There was a baptising at Noble's island on Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, by Elder G. W. Sederquist of the Advent church, a large number of spectators occupying the bridge and other points from whence a good view could be obtained. Eighteen persons were baptized, ten males and eight females.

This is the last chance to secure reserved seats for Belshazzar's Feast. This cantata has been in rehearsal during the past three months, and will be given in a thoroughly artistic manner. The managers hope to be able to obtain a large golden image, eight feet high, representing Baal, which will be used in the worship chorus, "Great Baal, we cry to thee." Go to this feast of melody, and encourage home musical talent.

Mr. Robert L. Harris of this city has been appointed chief consulting engineer of the Boston, Hoosac Tunnel & Western railroad. Mr. Harris has had extended experience in railroad engineering in the eastern and western States as well as in the Canadas, and is everywhere regarded as an engineer of great ability. His office will be at North Adams, Mass. Mr. Harris has recently been engaged as engineer of a railroad under construction in Canada.

There was considerable excitement about town on Saturday owing to the grand jury at Exeter having found fifty-three indictments against fifty Portsmouth parties for violation of the liquor law. Some of the indicted ones say that the moral effect of this wholesale onslaught upon the traffic in intoxicants will prove worse than the past indifference has been, from the evident favoritism displayed by the movers in the matter toward certain well known drinking places.

The Boston Advertiser claims Miss Norah G. Bartlett, the young debutante who on Friday evening will appear at Music hall before the most brilliant audience ever gathered there, as a native of Boston. She belongs in Portsmouth—was born here, of parents who are natives of the city—and we shall not relinquish our just claim to her. The sale of reserved seat tickets for Friday evening commenced at Preston's on Saturday forenoon last at nine o'clock, and the rush for them was something unprecedented. We shall not be surprised to see a liberal premium offered for seats before the time arrives for the fair Julia to appear behind the foot-lights.

THE VICINITY.

A schooner arrived at Saco last week with two hundred tons of pig iron for the Saco Water Power machine shop.

The Piscataqua Congregational Association meet at the Elm street chapel in Exeter on Tuesday forenoon at ten o'clock.

James Owen of Biddeford was on Friday taken to Portland by a United States official, on a charge of selling liquor without an internal revenue license.

Charles Castini, a Frenchman of Biddeford, would have been married on Monday, April 14th, but for the fact that he went to Alfred jail on the 11th to await trial for stealing $21 from Joseph Bernier, with whom he went for a drive on Fast day.

On Friday evening, soon after sunset, an unoccupied house in Dover owned by Cyrus H. Ford and situated on the Dover point road, near the railroad crossing, was burned, probably by an incendiary. A French family had moved out of it a few days before. Loss $800; insurance $600.

Rev. Samuel K. Lothrop, of Boston, preached in the Unitarian church at Dover on Sunday forenoon. Mr. Lothrop was the first pastor settled over that church, and preached there fifty years ago. Some of his old parishioners are still living, and attended the service on Sunday.

Sheriff Kent received a telegram Sunday evening from Deputy Sheriff Smart of Newmarket, that he had arrested that day, at Candia, E. R. Ingalls, the treasurer of that town, who it will be remembered reported that he was robbed some few months since of about four thousand dollars. Ingalls will be taken to Exeter to-day to answer to an indictment for embezzlement.

An eight-years-old son of Calvin Blaisdell, of Berwick, was seen at play on the bank of Salmon Falls river at about five o'clock in the afternoon on Wednesday of last week, and not having returned home it is feared he fell into the river and was drowned. The river was unsuccessfully dragged on Thursday and Friday, and the selectmen of Berwick offered a reward of $25 for the recovery of the body.

There is a mad dog excitement in Rochester, and the town authorities have ordered all unmuzzled dogs to be killed on sight. Nine dogs were shot last week. Many valuable animals having been bitten by the rabid ones, are to be at once slain, as a precautionary measure. Two persons, a child and an adult, are reported to have been bitten. In Gonic village three dogs were shot down on the public highway, on Sunday, the 7th inst., having previously shown symptoms of hydrophobia.

Geo. Hobbs, alias "Dublin," and Jack Goff, two bright lights of Happy Valley at Great Falls, went up to the hanging-out place of Joe Roberts, a Nova Scotiaman, one evening recently, to "clean him out" as they said. Joe was not that night in a mood for being cleaned out, and Jack Goff soon retired with his nose handsomely remodelled, "Dublin" at the same time carrying off three stabs in his back from a pocket-knife in the hands of the amiable Joseph. They do not propose to clean Joe out any more this spring.

HOTEL WENTWORTH.

We are gratified to be able to announce that the long mooted negotiations concerning the purchase of the Wentworth house at Newcastle, have been concluded, and this eligible property passed to the proprietorship of Capt. Frank W. Hilton. This house will be kept under the management of Frank W. Hilton & Co., after extensive repairs and renovation, to be completed before its opening on the 20th of June. Capt. Hilton, whose experience in hotel business dates from his boyhood, and who has gained his reputation as one of the most successful managers, has been connected with some of the largest and best conducted hotels in the United States. His acknowledged ability shown as manager of the Oceanic at the Isles of Shoals during the first year of that establishment, and subsequently at the Rockingham in this city, is a sufficient guaranty that the Wentworth under his immediate supervision will at least be found second to no hotel at any watering place upon the New England coast.

Among the improvements to be made here, we may briefly mention that the house is to be thoroughly painted inside and out; the walls in the parlors, dining hall and rotunda are to be frescoed; and indeed the walls in every room are to be beautified. Bath rooms are to be constructed; water closets with running water introduced; and new drainage made, with every attention paid to the sanitary condition of the premises, both indoors and out. A floating stage is to be placed at the bridge, forming a convenient and accessible landing from steamers and sail boats. A new stable, sixty feet in length and thirty feet wide, is to be built, where guests can always obtain teams for drives to the various attractive points of this region, and where horses will be kept for visitors bringing their establishments. The entire house will be newly furnished in black walnut, and the comfort and convenience of guests in this regard consulted to the minutest detail. A kitchen separate and distinct from the main house will be erected, the building to be three stories high, and to contain servants' rooms and dining-hall, laundry, etc. Steam apparatus will be introduced, and in an easterly storm the patrons of the house will find radiators located in the halls from which comfort can be derived. In the basement is to be made a billiard and refreshment room of goodly dimensions. By the removal of trees in the rear, an excellent view of the river and the city of Portsmouth is obtained, while the removal of shrubbery from too close proximity to the house will be an acknowledged improvement. Indeed, the changes for the better at this favorite place of summer resort, both indoors and without, will be of the most extensive and commendable character.

Every visitor at the Wentworth at once sees and admires its natural beauty of location. Here one can enjoy surf bathing, or warm bathing in still water, as may be preferred. Its distinguishing feature is its high elevation, with its view of the Shoals and the broad Atlantic by day, and seven light-houses by night. Its accessibility by boats or by good roads, its pure air and its proximity to the railroad stations in Portsmouth, render it the place on the coast. The hotel will be connected with the Rockingham house by a telephone, and comfortable coaches will be in readiness to transport visitors to the house. Amid the many pleasant places of resort upon our seacoast, there is none more attractive than this, and we are glad it has, at last, come into the ownership of a gentleman whose large experience and peculiar good taste in everything that pertains to a first-class establishment, is such an unquestioned guaranty of the manner in which the "Wentworth" hereafter will be maintained. Our friends may be assured that this marks a new era in the development of the attractions of our vicinity, and we feel confident that under the new regime the Wentworth will hereafter maintain a reputation in which we shall all have a justifiable pride, and which will render it one of the most enjoyable places of sojourn during the summer season to be found in a locality so long famous for its resorts of this kind.

EASTER SUNDAY.

The Easter services at the various churches were well attended, the Episcopal and Catholic churches being crowded. The floral display at the former was unusually fine and tasteful, and at the latter also was very beautiful. The pulpit and communion table at the Universalist church were very handsomely ornamented with pot-plants and cut flowers. The forenoon services at this church had special reference to the day; six persons were baptized, and eight united with the church. At the Unitarian church the display was less elaborate than usual, consisting mainly of plants in pots; but it was a very pleasing show, for all that. The children's Easter service at three o'clock in the afternoon was very largely attended.

State vs. Newell Hayes of Candia, for horse stealing; plea, not guilty. Trial assigned for Monday, 14th inst.

"THE HUNCHBACK."

Those who are unfamiliar with the above elegant drama, will have a rare pleasure in witnessing its performance, on Friday evening of this week, at Music hall, when our fair young townswoman, Miss Bartlett, is to make her debut in its leading character of Julia. When written, it was regarded as the finest play the present century had produced, and to it Fanny Kemble, in her admirable delineation of the heroine, owed the largest portion of her success upon the stage on both sides of the Atlantic. It may truly be said of James Sheridan Knowles, that in all he ever wrote, "there was not one line, dying, he would wish to blot," and this play was the best of his productions. It opened a new era, in no slight degree, in dramatic composition, and in its chasteness disarmed those who had been enemies to the stage from the impurity of many of the old dramas that were written in an age when the double entendre, in which an impure thought was conveyed, was not only tolerated but regarded as smart and witty; when vulgar profanity was not held in the reprehension it now is even among the least cultured, and when ladies and gentlemen played cards for money at social entertainments. So pure was it in sentiment and moral in tone, as well as possessing every other attraction in a play, more copies of it were sold than of any other drama ever put upon the stage to those who witnessed it, and who read it until its language became as familiar as household words. From a similiar cause, hundreds went to see it who were never before within the walls of a theatre, and who never forgot the beautiful thoughts embodied in it, that often came like music to their ears. It was a rare privilege then, in the large cities, to see the author in the noble character of Master Walter, and, in Boston, the fair Mrs. Barrett as Helen, and her husband, "Gentleman George," as Modus. With no other interest in the occasion than the memory of past pleasure in the years gone by, from a like cause, and a kindly wish for the success of the talented youthful debutant, the writer feels assured that those present on Friday evening will have a season of enjoyment but seldom equalled at the popular Music hall.

WHEAT MEAL!

— OR —

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the referent (known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread on his table made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call made up Graham, that is artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hardly a person who uses the genuine Wheat Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

"What are you going to do with that shipyard?"

Answer—One thing I propose is to make it an "eye-opener" to our buried advantages.

Somebody's Child.

Somebody's child is dying—dying with the flush of hope on his young face and an indescribable yearning to live and take an honored place in the world beside the companions of his youth. And somebody's mother is thinking of the time when that dear face will be hidden where no ray of hope can brighten it—when her heart and home will be left desolate—because there was no cure for consumption. Reader, if the child be your neighbor's, take this comforting word to the mother' heart before it is too late. Tell her that consumption is curable, that men are living to-day, aged, robust men, whom the physicians pronounced incurable at the age of twenty-five, because one lung had been almost destroyed by the disease. Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a most efficient alterative for separating the scrofulous matter from the blood and lungs, and imparting strength to the system. It has cured hundreds of consumptives.

—The "Christian" names of ten girls in a Pennsylvania family are these: Emma Angelina Adlet, Lovinia Serena Cornelia, Alice Ellen Amanda, Torvilla Susanna Corilla, Francina Telara Cencillia, Perlinda Sibylla Agnes, Christiana Effibulna Eliza, Annie Olivia Virginia, Ida Cora Joline, and Mary Anna Alecia.

—A scheme is on foot to collect all the articles of value which the bed of the Tiber is supposed to contain. The golden candle sticks taken from the temple at Jerusalem, and the gold and silver cups and ornaments which once decorated the palaces of Roman emperors, are imagined to lie beneath the Tiber's yellow mud. By means of drags it is thought all this buried wealth may be recovered and restored, to form a national museum of extraordinary value. A committee of archæologists has been appointed to consider the best means of fishing up the legendary statues, coins and other articles

OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000 000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting very decided veins, good pay streak, and well-defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the present moment over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more effectually developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Application for the shares will be made to the office of the Company, 21 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. A Prospectus giving full particulars sent free, on application to the Secretary.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Itch, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and enlisted physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprr. World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
"THE LITTLE GIANT" THE CATHARTIC.
No one of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of drugs, crude and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Pain in Region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, Piles, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive impress. Accidents not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, and they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or blown or applied by the aid of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the throat, ulcers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Tumors, Swellings, Abscess, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Itch, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, thermal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of crude, and mostly useless ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, a gentle cathartic can be required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fevers, Hideous Feelings about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive impress. Nor does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be sniffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used every thing in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried — and divers others until I took hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The diseased and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 50 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Setting out Trees.

Now that the season is approaching for transplanting fruit trees, we give the following good practical directions furnished by P. Barry to the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat:

The Soil for Fruit Trees.—The average soil to be found in the garden of any part of our city, is good enough in its natural state. All it needs is a good deep plowing or spading, to fit it for the trees.

It must be free from stagnant water. No one would think of permitting the garden which surrounds his dwelling to remain a swamp. For health's sake the drainage must be perfect. The health of fruit trees requires this too.

How to Plant.—Inexperienced persons are very apt to make a great fuss over the planting of a tree, or they will run to the other extreme and cram it into the ground as they would a bean pole. Very common errors are planting too deeply and applying manure around the roots. No manure is needed at time of planting—wait till the tree gets to growing and then apply the manure, if needed, on the surface of the ground over the roots.

Dig a hole large enough and deep enough to receive the roots, spread out in their natural way, and so that the tree will stand no deeper in the ground than it did in the nursery; then fill in good surface earth among the roots carefully, filling every space. When the spaces are all filled and the roots covered, then begin to pack the earth as it goes in, and keep packing firmly till the work is complete. To the errors I have already mentioned—deep planting and manure at the roots—I will add the other—loose planting, which is very general and very fatal. Do not be afraid of making the earth too firm about the roots.

The Use of Water in Planting.—It is very common to pour water around the roots of a tree at planting without stopping to enquire why. Unless the soil is extremely dry, in the spring, and the tree has already commenced to grow, water does more harm than good. And right here it may as well be said, if dry weather ensues after planting so as to affect the tree, do not sprinkle every day, but remove two inches of the surface over the roots and pour on water enough to go clear down to the lowest roots—replace the earth and mulch with a little hay, or grass, or straw, or tan bark, or something to prevent rapid evaporation. Seldom will any more water be needed.

What Kind of Trees to Plant—Most people want large trees, must have large trees; when the planting humor comes patience seems to be lost—must have trees that will bear right away. Looking at trees just of the proper size they will exclaim "Who could wait for such whips to bear?" "We may all be in our graves before that time." True enough, there may be exceptional cases where a few large trees, removed and planted with extraordinary care, may be a success, but in a general way the trees that plant most successfully and thrive best after planting and ultimately make the most healthy, productive and long-lived trees, are those transplanted young—say apples three or four years, pears and plums two to four years, cherries two years, peaches one year. The age means the growth of the bud or graft, and has no reference to the age of the stock grafted or budded upon. The older the tree the greater the check in transplanting, and this is why the young trees will overtake and pass the older and larger tree in the race of growth.

But whatever may be the age, size or character of your tree, look well to its roots. Have them all, or as many of them as may be possible, preserved from mutilation or injury of any kind, and protect them from the air, so that they will not be dried to death before you get them in the ground. I see people every year handling trees as if they were dry brush, and it should be an indictable offence.

What about Pruning at the time of Transplanting.—This is a mooted question, but long experience shows that whatever theory may teach, it is safe to shorten back the branches at time of planting, their by reducing the number of leaf-buds, and consequently leaves, reduces their evaporating power while the tree is forming new roots and getting used to its new home. A good rule, as far as we can make a rule, is to cut back the young shoots to three buds at the base, and where shoots are too close cut out some of them altogether.

How far apart should Trees be Planted?—The average distances may be given as follows: Standard trees—Apple 30 feet; pears 20 feet,—the smaller class of cherries will do very well at 15 to 18 feet; plums, peaches, apricots and nectarines, 16 to 18 feet; quinces 10 to 12 feet. Dwarf trees—Apples on paradise stock six feet apart,—and nothing in the whole range of fruit culture is more interesting than these miniature apple trees, three or four feet in height and the same in diameter, whether in blossom or fruit. Pears, cherries and plums ten to twelve feet. Currents, gooseberries and raspberries three to four feet. These distances can of course be varied to suit circumstances.

—Somehow or other, this winter got by without any Iowa woman shooting a large gray wolf. The newspapers of the Hawkeye State have been so absorbed in politics they have been a little remiss in duty.—Burlington Hawkeye.

—Westinghouse, the air-brake inventor and manufacturer of Pittsburg, is in London. Last week the seventieth anniversary of his father's birthday occurred, and the absent son cabled a gift of $5000 to the paternal home in Schenectady, N. Y.

State Rights and Pleuro-Pneumonia.

In the House on Saturday, Mr. Robinson of Massachesetts, in the discussion of the proposition of a Virginia Bourbon to appropriate $250,000 to enable the government to prevent the spread of pleuro-pneumonia, gave the democrats some very wholesome views of their own State rights doctrine. He said that Massachusetts had been able by State law to stamp out the disease, and that the State of Virginia, when the legislature was in session, would have done well to have taken measures to check the disease by its own means, and not run Congress; the Bourbons, however, advocate State rights only when the colored men are to be protected or the United States to beaffronted, but never when the general government can be made to bear the burdens of the southern States.

The debate took a wide range. The Virginia democrats were sorely pressed by several northern democrats, who showed that a few days before the members from that State opposed a national quarantine. And now they are struck with panic and rush to the general government on account of a sick cow.

Dr. Loring recited his experience as member of the Massachusetts board on the cattle disease, and said that had the United States been empowered to check the disease at the wharves of Boston, the commonwealth would have been saved $125,000, and the farmers of the State countless sums. He favored clothing the government with the power to check the disease.

A National Health Bill.

The Senate committee on the introduction of diseases, of which Senator Harris of Tennessee is chairman, and the National Board of Health, have agreed upon a sanitary bill which Senator Harris reported on Monday. It appropriates $650,000, gives the National Board of Health almost plenary powers to prescribe rules and regulations for preventing the introduction of infection and for inter-State quarantine during pestilence, authorizes the board to send examining surgeons, not exceeding six in number, to each port to inspect vessels in foreign ports, requires our consuls in all foreign ports to make weekly reports to the board on the sanitary condition of the places where they may be stationed, provides a penalty not exceeding $5000 for each offending vessel, and gives the board an advisory relation to local health boards, which may be converted into a compulsory one if these local boards do not cordially co-operate with the National Board of Health. The National board is also instructed to look after the inspection of animals in transit to foreign ports, or to our ports from foreign ones. Whether the democrats will permit this usurpation of the powers of long established State and city boards of health remains to be seen.

News and Notes.

The treasurer of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars of Maine reports that the receipts last year were $2276.41; expenditures, $1829.59; leaving a balance of $446.72 in the treasury.

The pastor of one of the Portland, Me., churches sent in a check of $300 for the parish toward the debt, with a request that $300 be taken from his salary. The check was returned, but the latter offer was accepted.

A Highgate, Vt., girl recently thrashed a fellow who attempted to jilt her. He backed down and apologized, and they are now engaged to be married next month.

Gen. Richard Taylor died in New York city Saturday. He was the only son of President Zachary Taylor, and one of his sisters was the first wife of Jeff Davis. He took a prominent part in the late war on the rebel side, having important commands in the southwest, his greatest feat being the defeat of the Red river expedition of Gen. Banks.

There is considerable excitement at Foxboro', Mass., because of alleged irregularities in the accounts of Mr. Isaac A. Barnes, treasurer of the savings bank. A keeper is in charge of the bank, but Mr. Barnes still holds the keys of the safe.

A Berlin dispatch states that Germany, though entertaining no idea of annexing the Samoan islands, intends to protect German interests and prevent Americans establishing themselves there to the detriment of other nations.

In Baltimore on Saturday colliers were quoted scarce, and good demand and rates firmer—$1.70 a ton to this port.

Mrs. Amanda D. Bishop, the mother of Wesley W. Bishop, the wife-poisoner, died of consumption in Norwich, Conn., on Wednesday.

The brig Gipsey, Capt. J. H. Post, of Newburyport, Mass., sailed from New York, Friday, for the Venezuelan coast, on an expedition to recover treasure from the wreck of the Spanish man-of-war San Pedro, sunk about seventy-five years ago. The Spanish ship was supposed to have on board at the time about five million dollars in coin and bullion besides a large value in precious stones.

A new serial story by Jean Ingelow will begin in the number of Littell's Living Age for the week ending April 26th. It is published from the author's advance sheets, and opens in a very interesting way. The progress of a new story by this popular writer will be eagerly watched. A new volume of the Living Age, by the way, began with the first number of April, affording a good time for the beginning of new subscriptions. For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3,000 pages a year), the subscription price, $8, is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Co., Boston, publishers.

The New York World, having carefully inspected a great number of journals representing both sides in politics, announces its impression that all the republicans want Tilden nominated for president, and all the democrats want Grant. There is something more than a joke here. The World, by the way, is this year against Mr. Tilden, and is the mouthpiece of August Belmont and other equally prominent New York men, who are quietly digging away under the governor's foundations.

A child living in the upper part of North Berwick has a kitten that has quite a novel way of eating. When called by name she runs quickly to the side of the child and demurely waits while a tiny bib, made expressly for her, is tied around her neck. A two-ounce vial filled with milk is then laid on the floor beside her, and, taking it between her paws, she raises herself on her hind feet, puts the nipple in her mouth, and remaining in that position sucks until the milk has entirely disappeared; then, laying the bottle gently down, she patiently waits for her mouth to be wiped and for the bib to be removed, after which she usually indulges in a nap.

—A Kentucky youth, having no money, offered the county clerk a big pistol for a marriage license. Of course the clerk already had a pistol, and the offer was declined.

—A Belfast, Me., man who had a handsome red-lined sleigh one day last week left it in the stable floor, preparatory to storing for the summer. The door being open, a neighbor's cow strayed in and surveyed the conveyance with interest; then another cow ventured in, also regarding it with curiosity. Then they both assaulted it with their horns, probably objecting to the color, first one and then the other hooking and pushing it across the floor. When the owner came home at night he found the shafts entire; the rest of his handsome sleigh he gathered together in a bushel basket.

Everything Goes Wrong

In the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation, are certain to ensue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organ and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headaches, yellowness of the skin, furred look of the tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is the best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics. Nerve weakness and overtension are relieved by it, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

Consumption Cured.

Ulcerated Sore Throat yields readily to Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 35 cents.

You may and think it now, but a cough is a forerunner of lasting disease. Check it at once by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

American and European plans, both have been adopted by the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York. You can stay or pay $1.50 per day and upwards, for a nice room at this large first-class Hotel, on Broadway, take your breakfast there, at the elegant restaurant, attached to the house, at moderate prices, and if you do not return till night you have nothing more to pay. Or you can stop there on the American plan for $2.50 to $3.00 per day, room and meals included.

A Merchant Up Town went without his overcoat, took a hard cold, and was given, most sick, when one of his clerks prevailed upon him to try a little of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. Three doses cured him.

CONQUER that bronchial affection by the use of Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye. It never fails to give relief even in the most obstinate cases. Order it of C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston.

Chronic Catarrh is easily cured if you will use Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. cod&wlmo79

New Hampshire Items.

At Haverhill this week the case of S. K. George, Jr., vs. Deputy Sheriff comes up. The sheriff seized his only horse, and he claims it is exempt by law for teaming purposes. The case is considered important, and the decision will be looked for with interest.

Under the provisions of our amended constitution, the legislature will meet eleven times more in this century, and at seven of the eleven sessions there will be a United States senator to elect, to fill a vacancy caused by the expiration of a term on the proceeding March. In other words, unless Congress changes the law relative to the election of senators, or we tinker over our constitution so as to have the legislature meet before the fourth of March, the same condition of things that recently existed will occur seven times before 1800, and the governor will have to appoint a senator, or we shall have to get along from March to June without one.

At Concord, Saturday, the third adjourned meeting of the Union school district was held. The attendance was very much smaller than at previous meetings, some fifty women being present. Twenty thousand dollars for school purposes were appropriated. Except a somewhat heated controversy as to the amount to be appropriated, there was no particular excitement.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; it costs but 2c. a lb., Cr am of Tartar over 40. Moll, New York; Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.

☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere. 110

E. G. PEIRCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

Dr. F. E. Potter is making extensive improvements upon his newly purchased estate at the corner of Islington and Pearl streets.

Workmen are engaged upon the cellar of Mr. Wm. Ward's new house on North street, upon the southerly side of the Raynes ship-yard.

Charles H. Rollins, Esq., was on Monday chosen treasurer of the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Company, vice Geo. L Treadwell, resigned.

John Sise, Esq., has purchased the March estate on Court street, and will at once sell the house thereon to be removed, and erect a fine residence upon the site of the old mansion.

It is now said to be not altogether certain that General Rockwell will retire from the position of president of the Eastern railroad. His resignation has not been accepted, and the directors of the company are making a strong effort to induce him to abandon his purpose.

Medical Inspectors Thomas W. Leach and William T. Hord, of the naval board of investigation appointed by the secretary of the navy to enquire into and report upon the cause of the reappearance of the yellow fever on board the U. S. S. Plymouth, are at the Rockingham house, awaiting the arrival of the third member of the board, who is detained by sickness.

Major Urch has purchased of Mr. J. W. Towle, of Exeter, a mammoth wax plant, (hoya carnosa,) eighteen years old and 100 feet in length. This plant (said to be the largest in the State) is to be used with other rare plants in decorating the floating stage, aquariums, and other novelties with which the Major is to surprise and delight the public later in the season.

A large delegation of Portsmouth parties indicted for selling liquor went to Exeter on Monday, pleaded not guilty, and were severally required to personally recognize for their appearance to answer on the 28th inst. It seems a little singular that every one of the Portsmouth parties indicted by the grand jury on liquor counts are charged with selling "one glass of whiskey," while it is a well-known fact that some of them have never dealt in whiskey at all. Evidence which served to indict these parties is said to have been secured in July, 1878. All the indictments were issued solely on the testimony of the "spotters" Drake and Webster; Drake, it will be remembered, is under indictment now for perjury. The reform club of this city, as a club, have publicly repudiated these two men, and have nothing to do with them.

THE VICINITY.

Biddeford is to have a new weekly paper, the Advance, which will appear the last of this week.

Ex-Mayor Isaac Bradford of Cambridge, Mass., has been appointed superintendent of the Exeter paper mills.

Business at Kennebunk village has taken a lively turn of late. The Ventilating Waterproof Shoe company is running on full time, with a larger number of hands, and the leather board mill is in full blast.

At the late school meeting in district eight of Wells it was voted that no child from any other district in that town should attend school in that district. The school-house has ample room for fifty scholars, while only about ten ordinarily attend.

Deputy sheriffs at Biddeford on Saturday morning seized twenty-one gallons of rum and whiskey addressed to Biddeford parties, at the Boston & Maine railroad depot; and at noon they captured eight gallons more of whiskey, at the same place.

A thirty-six-hours foot race, "go-as-you-please," came off in Dover city hall last week, commencing at eleven o'clock Wednesday forenoon, and ending at eleven o'clock Thursday night, for a purse of $100, in prizes of $50, $25, $20 and $5. There were twelve starters, one from Great Falls and the others all Dover people; and the winner of the first prize, named Rundlett, made a little over 126 1-2 miles. The managers of the affair had a good thing of it, the total receipts being $640, while the expenses, (including the prizes, and the entrance money of all unsuccessful contestants who stuck to the track to the end of the race, they receiving their entrance money back,) were but $275, leaving a profit of $365. The result is so satisfactory that another similar tramp is proposed, to take place in the same hall on the 14th and 15th of May, to be open to all residents in Rockingham and Strafford counties.

There was a "pedestrian tournament" in Rochester on Fast day, under the management of the American brass band of that town, and was largely attended. A man named Willey won a fifteen-mile match in the afternoon, in two hours and twenty-seven minutes; in the evening one O'Brien won a ten-mile race in one hour and twenty-three minutes.

BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST.

The cantata of Belshazzar's Feast will be given this evening at Music hall, with a large and highly-trained chorus, popular soloists, rich costumes and rare scenic effects. It has been in rehearsal for several months, and we are assured that it is full of historic interest and dramatic power. See advertisement.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The navy department has issued orders for the officers and crew of the Plymouth to be kept in strict quarantine.

Naval Constructor Webb passed Sunday with Constructor Wilson, at the latter's home on the navy yard.

The Kearsage on Monday hauled to the coal wharf, to take in her fuel and fit for sea.

It will be recollected that the U. S. S. Ticonderoga at the expiration of her last cruise was ordered to this port from Key West for sanitary reasons, she having the yellow fever on board. After being exposed to the weather she was brought to the yard, and was properly cleansed and fumigated, the work being done in a most thorough manner. She is now the flagship of Admiral Shufeldt, and has been in the warmest of weather for some time, yet no cases of yellow fever have been reported as breaking out on board of this ship. Would it not be advisable for the Plymouth investigating board of which Med. Ins. Leach is chairman, to enquire into the disinfecting process used on the Ticonderoga, as it might be adapted for use in other cases.

METHODIST APPOINTMENTS.

The following are among the appointments of ministers made by the New Hampshire Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church:

RYE LETTER.

RYE, April 14th.

The first strawberries of the season made their advent on Friday last, and the fortunate individuals who experienced the luxury of eating them, with the usual addition of cream and sugar, were Rev. I. S. Jones and wife. The berries came by mail all the way from Florida, and were in a very fair condition on their arrival. They were forwarded by Mrs. W. S. Plummer, their daughter. Mr. Plummer, formerly of Skowhegan, Me., who served in the late unpleasantness—on the right side, of course—went to Florida in 1878, and has taken 160 acres of government land as bounty; and has recently been appointed internal revenue collector for Duval county, at a salary of $1000.

Mr. Jones, yesterday, completed a year's pastorate with the Christian society; and in alluding to his work since he has been here, in his sermon in the morning, he gave the following statistics: There were services every Sunday in the year with one exception. He preached 115 sermons, and attended 165 evening meetings; baptised nine persons, received into membership thirteen, and has six as candidates for baptism and confirmation; attended ten funerals, and united in marriage five couples; has conducted altogether 290 services, besides doing much pastoral work. The average attendance at the Sunday services has been from 150 to 200, and the Sabbath school is large and flourishing.

In this connection it may be stated that the Christian society in this town originated in 1820, and Elder Philbrick was its first minister. The present meeting house was dedicated in 1839, since which time it has had twenty-one ministers to occupy its pulpit as regular supply. The inside of the church was entirely remodeled in 1875, and now presents an exceedingly neat and attractive appearance, and everything connected with the church and society seems to be in a flourishing state.

The boys tried to get up a game of ball on Fast day, but hardly made a success of it. The wind was cold and raw, when they commenced, and soon the snow began to fall, and they gave up in disgust. It didn't stop snowing until there was eight inches of it on the ground, and the result has been, more horrible travelling.

At the annual meeting of the Congregational society, on Monday evening of last week, W. C. Walker, John O. Foss and George S. Walker were chosen wardens. The society has not as yet succeeded in getting a minister, but keeps on trying; Mr. A. L. Love, of Andover seminary, preached last Sunday very acceptably.

The selectmen will meet on the 15th inst., to receive the "iron clad" inventories from the tax payers.

S. B. Spear & Son, the painters, expect to commence on their town hall contract this week.

The writer of this, always did try to be "genial," and he hopes he is, but he never was sure of the fact until the "local" of the Times came to the rescue, and says he knows he is. That settles it. But he is mortally affected with anguish to have the same authority doubt his reliability as a man. He certainly does not claim infallibility, but does try, when writing for the CHRONICLE, to state things as near right as possible; and in dealing with that little affair of the "Fair-dealer," if the Rye "marine correspondent" of the Times is any more reliable than Capt. Philbrick of the live-saving station, from whom the statement about that vessel was obtained and which is corroborated in every particular by Capt. Hen. Varrell—then "this side" will consider that the proper thing to do, upon the first opportunity presenting itself, will be to show his "genial" disposition by assuming the necessary responsibility for what may be deemed essential to the occasion.

The correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter was in error, in stating that Mrs. T. W. Rand attended the recent school meeting in the centre district. As has been stated before, no ladies attended any of the school meetings in this town.

WHEAT MEAL!

— OR —

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics, formed his maternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call made up Graham, that is, artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hardly a person who uses the genuine Wheat Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

Naval Matters.

Naval Constructors Webb, Pook, Wilson and Bash have been inspecting a lot of timber which has been through a process for preservation at the Charlestown navy yard.

Advices from Yokohama, Japan, of March 27th, reported the Ashuelot at Hong Kong, the Ranger at Amoy, the Monocacy at Shanghai, the Palos at Tientsin, and the flagship Monongahela at Yokohama. The health of the squadron was excellent.

The Swatara is to be hauled up and repaired at the Charlestown yard, as soon as the Wachusett is ready for sea.

The trial by court martial of 1st Lieut. F. A. Mullany, U. S. M. C., commences at Boston to-day, and a number of officers and others from this navy yard are ordered to appear as witnesses.

—Arabella (after three months abroad)—"Bridget, je vous prie to use extreme care when dusting the articles of virtu, the brica-brac and ceramics." Bridget—"Sure, ma'am, I understand what ye say, but I don't know what ye mane."

—A bridesmaid at the recent Connaught wedding, had to pay all the expenses out of her own purse for her robes, wreaths and rides at and to royal Windsor. Her altar robes alone cost over $700, and being the daughter of a poor duke, this charge upon her purse was a sorry offset to the honor. A bracelet worth $23 was all the Duke of Connaught gave to each of the bridesmaids. Royal favors carry their penalties.

Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1873. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
Dr. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the WORLD'S HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
HON. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JOS. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms treated within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially those peculiarities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Nervous Weakness, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
YOU NEE ESSARILY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," (1,000 pages, cloth, post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book," (192 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Varicose Veins, Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully by a new method, without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, no one has dwelt, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly. I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician and as confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which it is recommended. It is a fine cordial and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottles.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those addictions.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Saltrheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Loaly Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has attained the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of crude, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. Cure Piles, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Heated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive impress. Are once not longer the proprietors of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Douche. This is the only form of treatment yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried——and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,

D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflammation and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 150 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, th it names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in for ing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Benton's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

[Communicated.]

New and Yet Old.

I do believe what is written in the Bible to be true, though I do not understand it all now. I find it is written in it that God, who has made the world, has promised to give his son Jesus Christ a kingdom, the uttermost parts of the earth, for his possession; all kingdoms or dominions have and will have a seat of government within its territory, where the chief, magistrate, or ruler of the people resides, called the capital or throne. Christ when on earth said to his disciples, recorded by St. Luke, 22d chap., 29th and 30th verses: "I appoint unto you a kingdom as my Father hath appointed unto me that ye may eat and drink at my table, in my kingdom." Christ says again in Revelations, 3d chap., 21st verse: "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me on my throne."

With these precious promises before us, it leads us to ask three questions: First, does Christ sit on his throne now? Second, Where in his dominion or kingdom is his throne to be located? Third, When will his throne be set up? The Bible answers these three questions; first, does Christ set on his throne now? Revelations, 3d chap., 21st verse, "As I also overcome and am sit down with my Father in his throne;" there is abundant evidence in the Bible that God's throne is in Heaven, and that Christ sits there with him as the Great High Priest and as a mediator with God for man.

Second question, where is Christ's throne to be located? St. Luke, 1st chap., 31st and 32d verses. Here we find a history how God sent an angel to Mary to inform her that she should have a child and what his name was to be, and that he was to have David's throne; she bore the child, and his name was Jesus, according to promise, but he never has from that day to this set as a ruler on any throne in Heaven or on earth, but the promise will be made good. Where was King David's throne located on the earth? In Asia, up on the mountains of Israel, or Palestine.

Third question, when will Christ's throne be set up? In Asia, upon the mountains of Israel; and at that time, when Michael stands up, as it is written in the book of Daniel, 12th chap., 1st verse; in this verse we are told that Michael shall stand up, and at that time, when a certain ruler of a nation, as is written in the last verse of the 11th chap., which says: "And he shall plant the tabernacle of his palace between the seas in the glorious holy mountain, and yet he shall come to his end and none shall help him." This verse describes the land of Canaan in Asia, the mountains of Israel, the holy land where God delighted to bestow blessings on his people; it was here the holy temple stood; King David's throne also; here Christ was born, and the promise made that he should have David's throne. It is very evident this verse has not been fulfilled to the present time. There is not any seat, capital or throne of any nation's there; but that land is held by the Turkish nation, while their capital or seat of government is at Constantinople in Europe. Many of the nations in my day have changed their seat of government from one place to another in their empire, and it will be so with the Turkish nation; they will leave Constantinople and go to Asia, and locate the seat of the Turkish government upon the mountains of Israel, and while in Asia, he is to come to his end, and none shall help him. Not so while in Europe, for he has help while he remains there. I believe the financial affairs of their government will compel them to do it; and when they do it and at that time Michel the Lord Jesus Christ will stand up and reign and will contest the right of the Turkish government for locating their capital there, for it is promised to him, Christ, and then the kingdoms of this world are to become the kingdoms of our Lord and his Christ, and he shall reign for ever, and ever. Revelations, 11th chap., 15th verse. All that sleep in the earth will have a resurrection to life then. I am looking for it this year; it may not come for two or three years, but it will within that time. I wish all would get ready for it, and keep ready.

WM. S. WILLEY.

The Only Way.

The only way to cure catarrh is by the use of a cleansing and healing lotion, applied to the inflamed and diseased membrane. Snuffs and fumigators, while affording temporary relief, irritate the affected parts and excite a more extended inflammation. Besides, no outward applications alone can cure catarrh. The disease originates in a vitiated state of the blood, and a thorough alterative course of treatment is necessary to remove it from the system. Dr. Sage's

Catarrh Remedy has long been known as an efficient standard remedy for this disease, but, to insure a radical and permanent cure, it should be used in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the best alterative yet discovered. The Discovery cleanses the vitiated blood, while the Catarrh Remedy allays the inflammation and heals the diseased tissues.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 1879.

A Democratic Congress.

Owing to the illness of his sister Vice President Wheeler on Tuesday was absent from the Senate, and Mr. Thurman was elected President pro tem. Congress is now completely democratic, the presiding officers, officials and majorities in both Houses being of that party.

Remedying a Defect.

On Monday, in the United States Senate, Mr. Carpenter introduced a bill concerning the election of senators, proposing to amend section fourteen of the Revised Statutes by inserting the words "and organized" after the word "chosen," so it will read: "The Legislature of each State, which is chosen and organized next preceding the expiration of the time for which any senator was elected to represent such State in Congress, shall on the second Tuesday after the meeting and organization thereof proceed to elect a senator in Congress." The bill is designed to remedy a defect in the existing law recently brought into public view by the New Hampshire case.

Alaska.

William Gouverneur Morris, special agent to the treasury, in his report upon Alaska, says there are now sufficient American citizens in Alaska, not counting the citizens acquired by purchase, to entitle it to territorial government. The tide of emigration is setting thither. The Russians who elected to become citizens of the United States are not serfs, but are free born and have civil and religious liberty. Morris says, in Alaska, that Indian slaves, male and female, are owned by the chiefs and principal men of the different tribes all along the coast, and likewise in the interior. Morris regards the conditions for successful mining in Alaska far superior to those in Arizona or the Black Hills, in respect to the abundance of fuel. He is sanguine regarding the future wealth of Alaska in minerals, but congressional legislation is needed for the protection of the miners.

Captain Selden, of the revenue cutter Walcott, reports from Sitka that the Indian troubles arose out of a demand by an influential young Indian chief that the citizens of Sitka pay his tribe $1000 indemnity for the loss of some of its members in a schooner several years ago, and for an Indian who drank himself to death in company of a miner. To avoid trouble the citizens imprudently compromised the claim by the payment of $250. The chief now demands the balance of the $1000. The chief tried to induce his tribe to assail the whites. As they refused to do so, he went off to stir up other tribes. The danger is over for the present, but the captain recommends a man-of-war be kept to cruise in the waters. The Indians have been under the impression that the government had surrendered the country.

News and Notes.

For the sake of drawing custom to a Cincinnati beer saloon, it is advertised that a German baker has begun the task of drinking 1,000 glasses of beer in as many hours. If he succeeds he gets his beer free, and probably an interest in the extra custom.

There is trouble between the Catholic bishops and the government of Brazil, as the former desire fall away in certain matters, and also demand the suppression of Free Masonry.

It has been well understood that William Allen, now on trial for aiding in the murder of Wells Shipman at the Connecticut State prison, for which Henry Hamlin, his associate, has been sentenced to be hanged, was serving a sentence in the prison under an assumed name. It is now admitted that his real name is William H. Smith and that he is a native of Bangor, Me., where he has relatives now living. Nine or ten years ago he was in the saloon business in Cleveland, Ohio.

S. B. Forbes, of Winstead, Conn., having allowed liquors seized from rum-sellers to be stored on his premises, the insurance companies have cancelled their risks on his buildings.

Some scamp stole into the gate-house of the Asylum Hill reservoir at Hartford the other day, and let 50,000,000 gallons of water run to waste, and the reservoir's walls have partly caved in.

D. J. Williams, a merchant, of Laurinburgh, N. C., while closing his store on Saturday night was shot and killed by H. Oglesby. The shooting was the result of an old grudge. Oglesby is in jail.

The body of a young Chinaman has been found in the woods at North Manchester, Conn., lying across a bed of ashes, with his clothing nearly burned off and his flesh badly crisped in places. He was formerly in a Hartford laundry, and had been seen tramping in the vicinity with a travelling tinker, being apparently on a spree.

Josiah Bacon, treasurer of the Goodyear Dental Vulcanite company, of Boston, was found dead in his room at San Francisco on Sunday afternoon, with a pistol shot wound in the abdomen. It is believed that he was murdered.

It is stated that 4000 repeating rifles and a million rounds of ammunition were shipped from New York last week for the Zulus of South Africa. They were invoiced as canned meats and hogsheads of machinery.

An attempt was made on the Russian Emperor's life Monday morning, while he was walking near the imperial palace. The would-be-assassin discharged five shots at the Czar, fortunately without effect. The assassin was arrested. His name is Skoloff, and he is an ex-official of the government.

William Billings of Woodstock, Vt., has driven stage fifty consecutive years, commencing when he was seventeen. His son follows the business of his father, having driven stage twenty years, commencing when he was fifteen.

The Windsor, Vt., Journal says conclusive proof has been discovered since Gravelin's execution that he committed the murder for which he died.

News from South America is to the effect that the Chilian forces have occupied the towns of Cobija and Calama, as reprisals for the confiscation of the property of Chilians in the interior of Bolivia. Calama is a strong strategical point on the river Loa, about sixty miles north of Caracales. A small detachment of Bolivian troops stationed there made but a slight resistance. A ministerial crisis is announced in Chili. It is proposed to issue ten millions of paper money of the same character as the greenbacks of the United States. Chili has formally declared war against Peru.

Wrenched and Racked

By the pangs of rheumatism, the joints eventually become grievously distorted, and sometimes assume an almost grotesque deformity. To prevent such results by a simple and agreeable means is certainly the part of wisdom. A tendency to rheumatic ailments may be successfully combated with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine with the prestige of a long and successful career, of unbounded popularity, and of emphatic professional endorsement. It removes from the blood those inflammatory impurities which pathologists assign as the cause of rheumatism, and not only assists the life current, but enriches it, meanwhile vigor by fertilizing its source. Digestion, the action of the bowels and the secretion of the bile are aided by it, and it imparts the kidneys and bladder to a regular and active performance of their functions. It is besides a thoroughly reliable remedy for, and means of preventing, periodic fevers.

Consumption Cured.

Queer Legislative Doings in La.

The action of the Legislature of the State of Louisiana in passing an act to repeal the charter of the Louisiana State Lottery Company has been announced in the papers; but it appears that the injury intended to an institution which has paid by contract hundreds of thousands of dollars to keep the doors of the far-famed Charity Hospital open for the sick and suffering cannot be accomplished. The Supreme Court of the United States has always maintained that the sanctity of such contracts cannot be violated, and hence, for twenty-five years from its organization in 1868, it will continue its work of usefulness and benevolence. The Louisiana State Lottery Company draws next month, its 108th monthly grand distribution at New Orleans, and an application to M. A. DAUPHIN, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, will secure any information desired.

Live like a Prince, on $2.50 per day; you can do this now in New York, and on Broadway too, by getting a room, at the Grand Central Hotel, on the European plan for $1.00 per day and upwards, and taking your meals, at their elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices. Or you can choose the American plan at $2.50 or $3.00 per day, which includes both room and meals.

Your Voice is gone and it is because you let that cough run when you might have cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Farm laborers about Concord command from $13 to $18 a month, while the pay of those in the back districts runs down as low as $10.

On Saturday evening the wife of Francis C. Beede of Concord went to her husband with an empty bottle in her hand, saying, "I have taken poison." Mr. Beede looked at the bottle and saw that it was marked laudanum, and he went immediately for a physician. A doctor arrived soon, and the woman's life was saved. Mr. Beede has recently kept a provision store, and has been active in the temperance reform movement. There are various reports concerning the cause of the woman's rash act. Mrs. Beede is about forty years old, and is said to be a most excellent woman.

John P. Phair, who was executed for murder last week, left with his counsel a long statement, which has been published. He reasserts in a most solemn manner his entire innocence of the crime for which he suffered. The statement is mainly devoted, however, to a review and criticism of the trial and the various decisions against him, and was evidently prepared under the guidance of a lawyer; it not likely in the least to alter any person's opinion as to his guilt or innocence.

THE CITY.

Osgood Lodge of Odd Fellows will go to Stratham to-day to attend the funeral of their deceased brother Edward Wiggin.

Black, Rooney & Ward's Combination are to give another entertainment, with change of programme, at Franklin hall, this (Wednesday) evening. This will probably be their last show in this city, as they intend to travel; the boys should have a full house, so as to give them a start. The recent entertainments given by them in this city, actually surprised the spectators.

The rain of Tuesday evening did not prevent a large audience attending the presentation of the cantata of Belchazzar's Feast" at Music hall, though it probably kept many persons away. The cantata was well received, and will probably draw good audiences again this afternoon and evening, admission this afternoon being only 25 cts. There are fine scenes, rich costumes and pleasing solos and choruses in the cantata, neither expense nor trouble having been spared in preparing for its presentation.

In Boston, Tuesday morning, before Judge Lowell of the United States circuit court, Col. John H. George, counsel for the Eastern railroad, petitioned to have set aside the verdict against the road, awarding $39,500 to Dr. Charles Hackett for personal injuries received. The reason urged is that the damages were excessive. Allen, Long and Savage oppose the motion for the plaintiff. Judge Lowell's decision in the case will be awaited with much interest by railroad men and the public at large.

THE VICINITY.

The funded debt of Exeter is $24,000, and the floating debt between $28,000 and $29,000.

Mr. Abram Goodwin and wife, of Kittery point, will celebrate their golden wedding on the 18th inst.

Rev. D. B. Murray, of North Hampton, lectured onintemperance before the reform club of Manchester on Tuesday evening.

Rev. Mr. Tyrie, for three years and a half past minister of the Free Baptist church in Saco, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday to a very large congregation.

After a stirring temperance address on Fast day at Stratham town hall, seventeen persons signed the pledge. It was the 39th anniversary of the old Washingtonian society in that town.

A lecture on "Temperance our duty" will be delivered in the Methodist Episcopal church at Kittery on Thursday evening, 17th inst., by Rev. W. H. Sigston, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Admission free; collection at the close of the lecture.

On Sunday last the church and congregation in Saco ministered to by Rev. John T. G. Nichols took especial pains to make the church edifice attractive with flowers, it being the 39th anniversary of the settlement of Mr. Nichols over the church as pastor.

A grand demonstration occurred at Salmon Falls on Monday evening, on the reception of a new fire engine for South Berwick. The machine was met at the depot by the fire department, accompanied by two brass bands and a large concourse of people. After parading the streets the firemen repaired to their hall, where the usual "bountiful collation" was served.

The adjourned school meeting in the south district of Rye was largely attended and the report of the committee on repairing the school-house was accepted. The committee, consisting of Emmons B. Philbrick, Richard L. Locke and Otis Goss, estimated the cost of the needed repairs at $75, and reported that the building needs shingling and painting, that new benches should be put in, and a new outbuilding erected. The school-house was last repaired in 1856; the district is the most wealthy one in town, and should have a decent school-house. George G. Lougee and C. O. Philbrick were added to the prudential committee, which now consists of three members, Levi T. Sanborn having been chosen at the previous meeting; Mr. Sanborn is chairman of the committee.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The steamer Leyden took a quantity of coal down to the Plymouth at quarantine on Tuesday.

The engines of the U. S. S. Kearsarge were started up on Tuesday, for the purpose of making a trial of them.

TUESDAY, April 15; Allen, J.

Case State vs. Nowell Hayes was given to the jury in the forenoon; verdict, guilty; sentence, five years in State prison.

State vs. Hurley, for larceny of a tub of butter from the Eastern railroad station in Portsmouth, was next heard; verdict, guilty; sentence, four months in jail. Harriman for State; Towle for respondent.

John F. Berry of East Kingston, indicted for stealing a silver-mounted harness from George F. Rowell, was arraigned and pleaded guilty. Berry is a minor and an orphan, and the court enquired as to his reputation of several gentlemen from East Kingston, but the enquiring did not help the prisoner, as he had before been in difficulty. The court took time to consider upon what would be a proper sentence.

John Smith, alias John Rogers, charged with breaking into the cottage of Charles Williams at the Epping campground, was adjudged insane, and committed to the asylum at Concord.

Several others of the parties indicted for liquor selling appeared, were arraigned, and pleaded not guilty.

The new docket will be called on Monday afternoon next. Cases on the civil docket numbered 117 and 144 are in order for trial.

DUCKS AND LOBSTERS.

Deputy-Sheriff D. K. White of Manchester, who is also a warden of the Fish and Game League of New Hampshire, recently brought before the court in that city several store-keepers for having wild ducks in their possession contrary to the statute, and one dealer was arrested for having in possession lobsters not big enough to cover the law. By request we publish the law which protects—or is intended to protect—game birds:

If any person shall, between the first day of February and the first day of August of each year, take, kill, or destroy any of the birds called plover, yellow-legs, sandpipers, woodcock, ducks, or rails, or shall, between the first day of February and the first day of September of each year, take, kill, or destroy any ruffled grouse, partridges, or quails, or shall, within the respective times aforesaid, sell, buy, or have in possession any of said birds, he shall be punished by a fine of ten dollars for each bird so taken, killed, or destroyed, bought, sold, or had in possession, or by imprisonment not exceeding sixty days, or both.

The law in regard to lobsters, which must be enforced in this city more particularly than anywhere else in the State to make it of any practical effect — and which we are informed is to be strictly enforced here, under the direction of the Fish and Game wardens—is as follows:

No person shall catch, preserve, sell, or expose for sale within the limits of the State of New Hampshire, any lobster between the fifteenth day of August and the fifteenth day of October of each year; and from the said fifteenth day of October to the fifteenth day of August next following of each year no lobster shall be caught, preserved, sold, or exposed for sale, under eleven inches in length, measuring from one extreme of the body to the other, exclusive of claws or feelers, nor shall any female lobster be killed or destroyed while carrying her spawn or hatching her young; and any person violating any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of ten dollars for every lobster so caught, used, sold, or exposed for sale, as aforesaid.

The Manchester duck and lobster dealers were each fined $10 and costs, Monday morning.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin is publishing a series of gossip and interesting articles on the "experiences of thirty years in trade, by a Boston merchant." In the second paper the writer tells of his experience on his first trip as a travelling salesman, when little more than a boy. At Exeter he made his first sale, and felt as if a ton of lead had been taken off his heart. He says:

Kelley was the man, of the firm of Geo. Gardner & Co., who rescued me almost from the jaws of despair. He treated me with deference, purchased confidently, and by his generous conduct reestablished me in my usual good opinion of myself. How wide the effect sometimes of the smallest actions; how little is sufficient at the beginning of one's career to change the currents of a lifetime. Kelley is dead and gone, but his kindness has to-day a living effect, and who shall say when that effect shall terminate?

Kelley (J. P. P. Kelley) isn't dead at all, but is still to be found at his old place, as cheery and good natured as he was thirty years ago. At Dover and Great Falls the young salesman met some odd characters among the merchants, and closed his trip in this State by a visit to this city, of which he says:

Making my way to Portsmouth, I found there a very comfortable and jolly set of traders; Stephen H. Sines, Benjamin Cheever, Stephen Walker, Chas. E. Myers, and many others, with all of whom for long years afterwards I had very pleasant relations. Myers paid me six hundred dollars on the firm's account, and after visiting Newburyport, Salem and other places, I returned home, feeling not altogether unsatisfied with my short excursion into the country, and my first experience as a commercial travelling

SOME MORE "FAIRDEALER."

The Times says "somebody, or else several bodies, are evidently 'at sea' about" the schooner Fairdealer's recent trouble at Rye beach, and cites "the Times Rye marine correspondent" and "his backer, the Shoals seaman," also the "correspondents" of the Portland Press, the Belfast Progressive Age and the Shipping List, (not one of which papers has a correspondent at Rye beach) to prove that the Times account was correct and the CHRONICLE one of course not. We presume that our Rye correspondent, "Nat," will now give it up, and admit that the "Fairdealer" did run ashore and stick fast, that her crew were rescued by the life-saving station men, and that when she drifted off next morning with the loss of one anchor the life-saving men, who were on board of her at the time, were unable to get on shore and so were carried to the Shoals—that being the account of the affair given by the Times. True, Capt. Philbrick, who commands the life-saving station, and Capt. Hen. Varrell, who went to the Shoals in the schooner, both say the vessel never touched the beach at all, that her crew landed in their own boat, and that not a soul was on board of her at the time she broke adrift and left both her anchors on the bottom; but these men, who were on the spot and the principal actors in the affair, will of course back down before such an array of "witnesses" from far distant points as the Times calls into court. The life-saving station men, like Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., may "mean well, but they don't know" that a statement once made by the Times is to be stuck to through thick and thin and against whatever array of proof to the contrary.

—An exchange says "In 1695, in the township of Eastham, Mass., a regulation was made that every unmarried man should kill six blackbirds and three crows a year as long as he remained single. If he neglected this order, he was not allowed to do so until he had shot his full number of birds."

WHEAT MEAL!

— OR —

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the fraternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call Graham Flour, that is, artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hardly a person who uses the genuine Wheat Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

Wonderful Running.

The feats of modern pedestrians, though surprising enough, are cast into the shade by the recorded exploits of Ernst Mensen, a Norwegian sailor in the English navy, early in the present century.

Although for a long time known to his shipmates as an extraordinary runner, he first attracted public attention by running from London to Portsmouth, a distance of 73 miles, in nine hours, on a wager that he could not accomplish the feat in 10 hours; and soon after he ran from London to Liverpool, 150 miles, in 32 hours. Mensen did not quit the sea until he had distinguished himself in the battle of Navarino in 1827, but shortly after that date he became a professional runner.

After winning a number of lesser matches he was induced to undertake the great feat of running from Paris to Moscow. He started from the Place Vendome at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of June 11, 1831, and entered the Kremlin at 10 o'clock A. M. of June 25, having accomplished the distance of 1760 miles in thirteen days and eighteen hours. The feat created a decided sensation throughout Europe, and the employment of Mensen as a courier extraordinary by kings and princes became a popular amusement in European courts.

He ran from country to country, and from court to court, bearing messages of congratulation, condolence, or despatches of greater importance, and when matched against the swiftest mounted couriers, easily succeeded in beating them. He always carried with him a map, a compass, and as many biscuits and ounces of raspberry syrup as there were to be days occupied on the journey. In winter he took with him a pair of long, slender Norwegian snow-shoes, and in travelling he always chose the most direct line, turning out neither for mountains nor rivers, but climbing the one and swimming the other. He never walked, but invariably ran, keeping up a long, swinging lope for hours at a time without rest. His only refreshment was one biscuit and an ounce of raspberry syrup per day, and two short rests of ten or fifteen minutes each in twenty-four hours. These rests he took while standing and leaning against a tree or other object of support. At such times he covered his face with a handkerchief and slept, and after such a nap he would pursue his way apparently as refreshed as though he had slept for hours.

In 1833 he started from Munich at 1 P. M., June 6th, with despatches from the King of Bavaria to his son Otto, King of Greece. These despatches were delivered at Nauplia at 9 A. M., July 1, or seven days sooner than if they had been sent by the regular post.

In 1836, while in the employ of the British East India Company, Mensen was charged with the conveyance of despatches from Calcutta to Constantinople through Central Asia. The distance is 5615 miles, which the messenger accomplished in 59 days, or in one-third of the time made by the swiftest caravan. On this wonderful journey he made his way across terrible deserts, awful salt swamps, where for hundreds of miles he saw no living being, and through countries whose inhabitants were savage robbers and who lived in a state of continual warfare.

At last the project was broached to Mensen to explore the Nile and attempt to solve the most interesting geographical problem of the age, the discovery of the sources of that great river. He set out from Silesia on May 11, 1842, and ran to Jerusalem, and thence to Cairo and up the western bank of the river to Upper Egypt. Here, just outside the village of Syaou, he was seen on the morning of January 22, 1843, to stop and rest, leaning against a palm tree, with his face covered by a handkerchief. He rested so long that some persons tried to wake him, but they tried in vain, for he was dead. He was buried at the foot of the tree, and it was years before his friends in Europe knew what fate had befallen him.

—Judge Jere. Black, famous in contemporary history and law, has long worn a black wig. Having lately donned a new one which looked new, and meeting Senator Bayard, of Delaware, the latter accosted him: "Why, Black, how young you look; you are not so gray as I am; and you must be twenty years older." "Humph," said the judge, "good reason, your hair comes by descent, and I get mine by purchase."

—Col. Ingersoll thinks it should not be forgotten that Tom Paine wrote for the first time these words:—"The United States of America."

OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH BES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSABLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 81 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878. CAPITAL STOCK, $500,000.
(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers: Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JAS. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER M. SHUMWAY, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Mental Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as by personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Cancer and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We place at your service, free of charge, a new and old without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special cases indicated to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, as a rule, prove sure under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not call this medicine a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats intimately of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial diseases, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this potent, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, you need the remedy, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and puts the whole body in a healthy condition.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of chalk, crude, and bulky ingredients. The Pellets are much smaller than other pills.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Furred Tongue, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Dose, Costiveness, Piles, Dr. R. V. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. Its explanation of the remarkable power of these Purgative Pellets to cure a great variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive influence, nor does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in clumsy wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, snuffing up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, uncertain, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by means of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used every thing in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried —— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully, D. W. GRAY, M. D., Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son, Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 50 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggists. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Doing up Men's Linen.

A husband complained that his shirt bosom and collars were badly done up, and the case was referred to a knowing shirt-maker, and his answer was well worth the attention of housekeepers:

"Yes," said the man, "the fault is with your laundress. While doing up your collars, she stretches them the wrong way. Damp linen is very pliable, and a good pull will alter a fourteen-inch into a fifteen-inch collar in the twinkling of an eye. She ought to stretch them crosswise, and not lengthwise. Then in straightening out your shirt bosom she makes another mistake of the same sort. They also ought to be pulled crosswise instead of lengthwise, particularly in the neighborhood of the neck. A lengthwise pull will draw the front of the neckband somewhat under your chin, where it was never meant to go, and of course it spoils the set of your collar. With the front of your neckband an inch too high, and your collar an inch too long, you have a most undesirable combination."

The necessary changes were made in the methods of the laundry, and all was right with shirts and collars.

—"But it stopped short, never—What, never? Well, hardly ever to go again."

—A New York clergyman lately said: "I have always been a tolerably contented man, and haven't grumbled much through life." He has for twenty years had a salary of $20,000.

—A tutor of a college lecturing a young man on his irregular conduct added, with earnest pathos: "The report of your vices will bring your father's gray hair with sorrow to the grave." "I beg your pardon, sir," replied the pupil, "my father wears a wig."

—London has more Roman Catholics than Rome, more Jews than Palestine, more Irish than Belfast, more Scotch than Aberdeen, more Welsh than Cardiff; its beer and gin shops, placed one alongside of another in a line, would reach sixty-two miles, and one entire quarter of the city is inhabited by three hundred thousand of the most miserable wretches and worst thieves to be found on earth.

—Upon arriving at Naples recently the business manager of Adelina Patti compained to the hotel proprietor that the prima donna's rooms were not up to her standing of luxury. "But, monsieur," said mine host, "dukes and princes have been satisfied with these apartments." "Fudge!" interrupted the manager, "the world is full of dukes and princes, but it can boast of only one Patti!"

Wrenched and Racked

By the pangs of rheumatism, the joints eventually become grievously distorted, and some times assume an almost grotesque deformity. To prevent such results by a simple and agreeable means is certainly the part of wisdom. A tendency to rheumatic ailments may be successfully combatted with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine with the prestige of a long and successful career, of unbounded popularity, and of emphatic professional endorsement. It removes from the blood those inflammatory impurities which pathologists assign as the cause of rheumatism, and not only purifies the life current, but enriches it, imparting vigor by fertilizing its source. Digestion, the action of the bowels and the secretion of the bile, are aided by it, and it imparts the kidneys and bladder to a regular and active performance of their functions. It is besides a thoroughly reliable remedy for, and means of preventing, periodic fevers.

Consumption Cured.

My wife had a terrible cough and cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 25 cents.

The East Winds are trying to the throat. Keep Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup at hand to ward off trouble.

Live like a Prince, on $2.50 per day; you can do this now in New York, and on Broadway too, by getting a room, at the Grand Central Hotel, on the European plan for $1.00 per day and upwards, and taking your meals, at their elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices. Or you can choose the American plan at $2.50 or $3.00 per day, which includes both room and meals.

Your Voice is young and it is because you let that cough run when you might have cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

CONQUER that bronchial affection by the use of Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye. It never fails to give relief even in the most obstinate cases. Order it of C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston.

She was threatened with lung fever, so the doctors said, but a half of a bottle of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup relieved her immediately and in less than a week she was all right.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. cod&winov79

Portsmouth Chronicle

THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1879.

Mr. Blaine's Speech.

Senator Blaine's speech on the army bill, delivered in the Senate on the 14th inst., was a caustic review of the legislation proposed by the democrats, and a merciless exposition of the ends they seek to accomplish. The Maine Senator has acquainted himself with the facts relating to the actual strength and distribution of the army in the south, and shows from the official accounts that the total army strength in the territory east of the Mississippi is but 2,797, or sixty soldiers to a million of people. In Delaware there is not a soldier. In West Virginia there is not a soldier. In Maryland, 192 artillerymen are employed to man Fort McHenry, at the entrance of the Baltimore harbor. In Virginia 282 men attend the school of practice at Fortress Monroe, and there is not another federal soldier in the State. In North Carolina there are thirty soldiers guarding the fort at the mouth of the Cape Fear river. The 130 men guarding the forts at Charleston harbor are all the troops now in South Carolina. Twenty-nine soldiers only are stationed in Georgia; in Florida there are 258; in Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Mississippi there is not a solitary federal soldier; there are but 57 in Arkansas; 32 in Alabama; 239 in Louisiana; and in Texas, apart from those that guard the Rio Grande, there is not a soldier. But 1150 soldiers are stationed in the south, and not one of these troubles polling-booths, or interferes with the right of suffrage.

The truth is, and Senator Blaine made it evident, the south and the democratic party do not fear the army. They are contending for the enactment of that clause in the army bill which, while ostensibly doing away with the presence of soldiers at the polls deprives the civil officers of the government, the marshals and supervisors, of the power to secure fair elections and guard against fraud. They are fighting, not for the free exercise of suffrage in the south, but for the liberty of "repeating" and ballot-box stuffing in the democratic cities of the north. They seek to break down all barriers that stand in the way of the repetition of the infamy that gave in 1868 the electoral vote of the most powerful State in the Union to the democratic candidates.

And they seek to accomplish their purpose by revolutionary methods. They threaten that the machinery of the government shall be stopped unless their demands are complied with and the President sign all the bills they pass, no matter how unjust and unconstitutional he may deem them to be. They will rule or they threaten to ruin. The same threat was made in 1861, and the answer of the loyal north was prompt. The threat made eighteen years later will meet with as emphatic rebuke.

News and Notes.

The House on Tuesday passed the Senate bill appropriating $200,000 to enable an experiment to be made with the Gamgee plan for a refrigerating ship to be used at the mouth of the Mississippi to disinfect arriving vessels.

The schooners Sarah M. Jacobs, Garibaldi and another vessel from Gloucester are reported at New York with fresh mackerel, the former with 130 barrels. Two mackerel fares are reported at Philadelphia.

Albert Chalmers of Wells River, Vt., who was recently adjudged to pay S. M. Rollins $451.45 and $166.47 costs as damages for the seduction of his daughter and expenses incident to her sickness and death, has been put in jail for noncompliance with the decree of the court.

At a New Bedford church on Sunday, the 13th inst., while the clergyman was waxing eloquent in his Easter address, a minute youngster, to whom the exercises had become rather wearisome, startled the persons in the vicinity of his seat by suddenly exclaiming, "O, div us a west."

The Mexican government complains that the United States continues to violate the treaty of 1848 by the military orders to Gen. Ord. The Mexican president, at the opening of Congress on the 1st inst., stated that a contract had been concluded for laying a submarine cable to the United States.

Mons. Lavelle, twenty-two years old, started in a walking match at Woonsocket, R. I., on the 14th inst., but became suddenly ill and died soon after.

It is now supposed that Josiah Bacon of Boston, who was found on the floor of his room in San Francisco on the afternoon of the 13th inst., dead, with a pistol shot wound in his abdomen, was murdered by Dr. Samuel P. Chalfant, a dentist. There has been some ill-feeling between the parties on account of Chalfant refusing to pay royalty to the Vulcanite company, of which Bacon was the agent. Chalfant's appearance corresponds with the description of a man who called at Baldwin's hotel in search of Bacon, since which he has not been seen in the places he usually frequented. Chalfant's friends think that, having shot Bacon in a moment of anger, he has committed suicide.

The reception of General Grant in British India has been of almost royal magnificence. At Bombay, after a State dinner, he gave a reception to the Parsees, Brahmins, Arabic, native and English officers. Thence he visited Allahabad, Agra and Jeypore, where he was received by the Maharajah, and an elephant ride was taken to Ambur. The general was received at Delhi with troops and salutes. At Lucknow, on the 5th of March, a ball was given in his honor. On the 8th he left Lucknow for Benares. The scene was brilliant, and striking and oriental. All the British officers under Gen. Chamberlin were at the station, and a line of fifty elephants drawn up at one side were inspected by the general. A battalion of European troops formed a guard of honor. As the general departed the guard gave a royal salute, dropping colors, the band playing "Hail Columbia," and a battery of artillery in an adjoining field firing twenty-one guns.

Midshipman Charles A. Gove has been confirmed as an ensign.

New Hampshire Items.

In the suit of John D. Hopkins of Lyndon, Vt., vs. R. W. Dickson of Lancaster, for assault and battery, which has been several years pending in the supreme court at Haverhill, the jury have returned a verdict for the plaintiff, awarding him $350 damages. The suit was brought for $10,000, and the case has been one of the most sharply contested ever tried in this State.

The selectmen of Hopkinton on the 15th inst. closed a three days' session for receiving inventories under the new law. The chairman of the board says hardly more than six of all the blanks have been completed properly. Before the return the selectmen had to assist parties in most every instance. No one has refused to fill out his inventory. An increase of taxable property to the approximate extent of $40,000 has been secured by the new operation.

Political.

Columbus Upson, democrat, has been elected over Money, greenbacker, from the sixth district of Texas, to fill the vacancy in Congress occasioned by the death of Schleicher.

The republican State central committee of Iowa have called a State convention at Des Moines on Wednesday, June 11th, to nominate a governor and a full State ticket.

At Washington, N. J., Daniel F. Beatty, a well-known organ manufacturer, was elected mayor by the democrats.

—The marriage of a daughter of an ex-governor of Connecticut to a coachman has been noticed at more length editorially by American papers than that of a member of the royal family of England some days previous. Americans are not so snobbish, after all.

—No country has such an abundance of doctors as the United States, for in no country can the medical diploma or license be obtained so easily as in our Republic. As a result of this, we have one doctor in every 600 people; whereas, our neighbor, Canada, has one doctor to 1,200 people; Great Britain, one to 1,672; France, one to 1,814; Belgium, one to 2,048; Autria, one to 2,500; Germany, one to 3,000; Italy, one to 3,500; Norway, one to 3,480; Russia, one to 50,000.

Order in a Dakota Court.

Mr. Webster's attorney (rising and addressing the attorney for the other side)—I call you a coward and a liar.

The Court—Sit down, sir.

Mr. Webster's attorney—He is a coward and a liar.

The Court—I tell you to sit down and be quiet.

Mr. Webster's attorney—He is a coward and a liar.

The Court—If you don't sit down and keep quiet you will be sorry.

Mr. Webster's attorney—He is—

In the subsequent proceedings the court took a hand. It swiftly glided from its seat, and placed its powerful grasp upon the coat-collar of the attorney for Mr. Webster. There was a momentary void in the understanding of that gentleman. The morning stars began to sing together in his ears, and danced before his confused vision. Then he found himself outside the building, without any hat, and the dusty zephyrs playing through his mustache. Parties present in the room as innocent spectators aver that the feet of the attorney for Mr. Webster did not touch the floor after the muscles of the court had contracted upon the collar of his coat.—Yankton Press.

The Only Way.

The only way to cure catarrh is by the use of a cleansing and healing lotion, applied to the inflamed and diseased membrane. Snuffs and fumigators, while affording temporary relief, irritate the affected parts and excite a more extended inflammation. Besides, no outward applications alone can cure catarrh. The disease originates in a vitiated state of the blood, and a thorough alterative course of treatment is necessary to remove it from the system. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has long been known as an efficient standard remedy for this disease, but, to insure a radical and permanent cure, it should be used in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the best alterative yet discovered. The Discovery cleanses the vitiated blood, while the Catarrh Remedy allays the inflammation and heals the diseased tissues.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much farther and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; it costs but 2c. a ℔., Cr am of Tartar over 40. The Royal Baking Powder is recommended for its wholesomeness by such eminent chemists as Dr. Mott, New York; Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.

☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere. 110

THE CITY.

A sturdy German, bound from Topsfield, Mass., to Kennebunk, Me., passed through this city on the 16th inst. with his worldly goods in a bundle on his back. The package was about the size of a three-story Saratoga trunk, and weighed fifty-one pounds.

Union temperance prayer meetings have been held daily in the Pearl street vestry for some weeks, and have been well attended and deeply interesting. They are to continue while the interest demands it, and the public are cordially invited. Meetings at half-past two o'clock in the afternoon.

Black, Rooney & Ward's combination gave another really good variety entertainment at Franklin hall on Wednesday evening—the best one yet, though the former two were much superior to half of those given by travelling companies. The audience was a fair one, and liberally applauded the performance all through.

As Capt. Jonathan Young, U. S. N., commandant of the navy yard, was sailing on the river in his little bit of a skiff, Wednesday afternoon, owing to one of the sheets getting a turn around his ankle the boat was capsized by a flaw of wind, the accident occurring where the water was deep and the tide swift. There was some excitement occasioned among the spectators, but the boat's "crew" with prudent alacrity followed the boat as she went over, and coolly took up a position on her bottom until help arrived, moving so promptly that he only got wet a little above the knees.

The most marked-up plan of Music hall yet seen is the one now at Preston's drug store, for the "Hunchback" to-morrow evening, when the most flattering ovation ever offered to a young lady of this city is to be tendered to Miss Norah Bartlett. Her young school-mates were seen in squads with sparkling eyes and expectant faces watching and reporting the sale of tickets, which pleasure became delight when they so soon were able to say that all the first-class seat were sold. Mr. Tompkins, the proprietor of the Boston Theatre, evidently was not aware of the great attraction he possessed in his debutante, or he would have secured tickets for himself and party earlier; from his delay of two days he is compelled to scatter his party by twos around the hall.

THE VICINITY.

A man named Dyer, belonging in Portland and working in the shipyard of N. L. Thompson at Kennebunk, on Monday of this week fell from one staging to another, and broke two of his ribs.

A Saco harness maker has contracted with parties in the west for the manufacture of fifty fine harnesses, to be completed by May 1st; and if the first lot proves satisfactory, another lot of fifty for the same parties will be made.

The story of the elopement of Mrs. Geo. S. Stevens with Robert Littefield of Kennebunk has no truth in it. Mrs. Stevens took the train to visit her relatives in Massachusetts, and Littlefield got on board the same train, but not with her. Some enemies of the woman who wish to injure her, reported the story which was given in the papers. It was false.—Biddeford Times.

At about ten o'clock in the forenoon, on the 15st inst., the house in Saco owned and occupied by Andrew McKenney, the cetenarian, was burned, the fire catching from a defective chimney; it was an old structure, two stories high, with an ell; most of the furniture and personal effects were saved. Mr. McKenney is now in his 102d year.

In Kennebunk, one evening recently, a Mrs. H—— was going home when she saw a woman sitting on the steps of a store, crying. Asking what was the matter, the stranger said she had no place to stay that night, and the charitable lady took her home. During the night the stranger gave birth to a fine boy; in the morning she ate a hearty breakfast, and at eleven o'clock in the forenoon left by the train for Portland, with her baby, promising to repay her kind hostess for her trouble. Mrs. H—— never expected to hear from the mysterious stranger again, but very soon received an envelope containing a $5 bill, but no name or other indication of who the stranger was.

ST. JOHN'S PARISH MEETING.

At an adjourned parish meeting of St. John's church, held on Wednesday, the 16th inst., Lyman D. Spalding was chosen moderator, and Arthur E. Pfeiffer secretary. Officers for the year were elected as follows:

Vestrymen, Albert R. Hatch, Robert C. Peirce, Arthur E. Watson, Frank W. Rand, Robert King, Lyman D. Spalding, Arthur F. Pfeiffer, Joseph Amazeen, George B. French, Washington Freeman, William R. Martin, John Christie;

Parish Clerk, William C. Robinson;

Treasurer, John R. Reding;

Auditors, Robert C. Peirce, Wm. R. Martin;

Delegates to Diocesan Convention, Lyman D. Spalding, John Christie and John Hatch.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

To-day being Fast day in Maine, work on the navy yard will be suspended.

Chief Engineer Thom Williamson, and Passed Asst. Engineers Sidney L. Smith and John A. Tobin were the board appointed to superintend the twelve-hours' test of the Kearsarge's engines, which took place on Wednesday. The boilers have excellent draught and steam finely, and the test of the engines we are informed was entirely satisfactory.

Medical Inspector Charles H. Burbank has been substituted for Medical Inspector Richard C. Dean (who is sick) as a member of the yellow-fever commission now at this station to investigate the cause of the reappearance of that disease on board the Plymouth.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

On Wednesday evening of this week the parishioners of Rev. C. B. Pitblado, or rather the younger portion of the Methodist society, planned for him and carried to a successful termination a most pleasant surprise. Wishing to show their appreciation of his successful ministrations in this city as well as their gratification at his return for another year, they gathered to the number of about a hundred at his residence on Islington street, laden witt substantial presents and delectables for the "inner man." Meanwhile the pastor had been invited out to a neighbor's, and knew nothing of the riot "run wild" in his domicile. Returning at half-past eight o'clock he met with some difficulty in gaining admission, but when he did so was borne irresistibly to an elegantly upholstered easy chair, with desk and flower-stand attachments, and made to try it. At this juncture Mr. Eugene A. Sanborn stepped forward, and in words fitly chosen made the presentation speech, —spoke of the sympathy and encouragement the young men of the city had received from the reverend gentleman in their endeavors to reform, and closed by wishing him many years' enjoyment of the slight testimonial of their esteem. Mr. Pitblado appeared nonplussed for a moment, but his ready wit soon came in play, and his reply was most happy, setting every one in the best of humor. After an hour spent in pleasant intercourse of greetings, a plentiful collation was partaken of, prepared by the ladies of the invading party. The company broke up at a reasonable hour, the occasion having apparently been greatly enjoyed by All.

PISCATAQUA ASSOCIATION.

The Piscataqua Association of Congregationalists met in Exeter on the 15th inst., the following members being present: G. W. Christie of Great Falls, president of the association, moderator; J. C. White of Newmarket, scribe; George Lewis, South Berwick, Me; Jacob Chapman, W. A. Patten, Kingston; Frank Haley, Hampton Falls; F. W. Chandler, Kensington; J. W. Hubbell, Portsmouth; Mr. Lowell Milton, Mr. Roke, Newington; T. V. Haines, North Hampton; W. A. Jackson, Brentwood; J. W. Lees, Lee; W. C. Childs, South Newmarket; Mr. Bowker, Salem; A. J. Quick, Rochester; A. B. Peabody, Stratham; J. S. Stearns, Epping; G. B. Spaulding, Dover; I. T. Otis, S. Byington and Geo. E. Street, Exeter.

Rev. G. W. Christie of Salmon Falls preached the opening sermon, on "Christ as a preacher." The affairs of the Piscataqua Missionary Society were reported in a flourishing condition, much good being done through its agency. Rev. J. W. Lees gave a review of the papers presented at the late prophetic conference in the city of New York, and was followed by remarks and criticisms on the doings of that distinguished body. Rev. Frank Haley of Hampton Falls then preached a sermon on the theme "Fervent and effectual Prayer." Suitable refreshments were furnished by the ladies, and the meeting was harmonious and instructive.

YORK LETTER.

YORK, ME., April 15th.

Mr. Editor: As there has been quite an excitement during the past few months in school district two, in order that the true state of affairs may be known I wish to state the case through your columns. Several months ago, at the earnest solicitation of both agent and district, a teacher was procured who had taught the school the previous season with perfect satisfaction to all; and the report given by the committee even more favorable than was expected. After the school had been in session a few weeks it was most unexpectedly visited by the superintending school committee, consisting of three persons, two of whom are ministers, one of the Baptist or Christian persuasion, the other a Congregationalist. After only a brief visit, and before investigating affairs or making any inquiries whatever, (which they should have done in order to have obtained the true state of affairs,) they very blandly requested the teacher to resign. Upon inquiry it was found that a complaint had been entered, to the effect that two of the pupils were not receiving the attention which they ought. It was ascertained that the complaint was entered by a gentleman whose daughter is a teacher and to whom undoubtedly the school would have been highly acceptable. The people of the district became indignant at this unjust proceeding and declared themselves satisfied with the school, and with two exceptions unanimously in favor of the teacher's continuing, which was complied with.

A few days after first visit the teacher was briefly informed that the committee would be in attendance that day for the purpose of examining her and her scholars. They came as appointed, but were somewhat surprised to find themselves confronted by nearly the entire district, who were ready to investigate the matter, to demand that justice and not prejudice should be shown. An examination was at once demanded by the committee to take place between the two scholars already mentioned and their teacher; this the teacher respectfully declined to comply with, as she had already passed three examinations and obtained certificates to that effect from this same board of committee-men. The teacher, however, proposed to meet them privately, and they appointed a certain day to meet at the town hall,—not, however, without extending an invitation to these same scholars to be present, thus making an examination between scholars and teacher unavoidable. I know of no reason for this unjust proceeding, unless the reverend gentlemen did not think themselves qualified to examine the teacher. According to promise and in compliance with the committees' wishes, the teacher went at the appointed time; but the gentlemen failed to appear, (probably owing to the inclemency of the weather,) and nothing further was heard from them, and the school continued as usual.

A few weeks before the close the committee were requested by the teacher to visit the school, and were also officially notified by the agent. Neither of these requests were complied with, and the school closed without being visited. In making out their annual report the committee say it is alleged "that unpleasantness arose from the incompetency of the teacher to instruct the advanced scholars." This allegation, if made, was false, as the three scholars who left were not advanced scholars, one of them being unusually dull. If, however, after passing three examinations the committee were not competent to judge whether the teacher was qualified or not, many persons think it about time we had a new board of superintending school committee. They close their report by "presuming" that those who remained made improvement. As they are men who are supposed to be above local prejudice, they should have visited the school and ascertained that fact, and not presumed it. I "presume" that their profession would not allow them to make a false report, for which reason therefore they would not visit the school, knowing that improvement had been made. But I am most happy to state that the school closed with the entire satisfaction of the people of the district.

In closing I would respectfully call the reverend gentlemen's attention to a portion of Scripture which I should be pleased to hear them expound at some future time: "He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him." JUSTICE.

DOVER AND PORTSMOUTH.

Everett O. Foss, of Dover, writes to the Democrat of that city as follows, in answer to a statement that the increase of Dover's valuation in 1876 from 1875 caused an increase in the State and county taxes, taking his figures from the State valuation in 1878 and from the city accounts of Portsmouth and Dover for 1877:

In 1875 Portsmouth returned an inventory through its Assessors of	$7,490,216
In 1876	6,441,168
Decrease from '75 to '76	$49,048
In 1876 Dover returned an inventory of	$7,705,068
In 1875	5,323,706
Increase from '75 to '76	$2,381 382
Portsmouth decreased in valuation	$49,048
Dover increased in valuation	$2,381,382

The representatives from these two cities had to defend these figures from their assessors for 1876, before the State apportionment committee, and in doing so those from Dover asked attention to the following figures:

Dover—money at interest	$581,781
Portsmouth—money at interest	334,192
Dover the most by	$247,798
Dover stock in trade	$877,436
Portsmouth stock in trade	889,789
In 1875 Dover reported stock in trade	$468,025
Portsmouth made year	939,454
Dover increased stock in trade, '75 to '76	$228,711
Portsmouth decreased same time	99,636

Upon these figures they asked the committee to decide that Dover had increased its inventory as required by the new law and that Portsmouth had not, and the committee did so decide and increased the inventory of Portsmouth $1,500,000, and decreased the inventory of Dover $1,220,031.

The final inventory of Dover footed up	$7,228,821
Portsmouth ditto	10,967,765

And upon these figures the apportionment was made, and Dover was rated at $36.36 on each $1000 raised by the State, and Portsmouth $50.65.

Portsmouth paid State tax in 1877	$20,260
Dover same year	14,544
Dover less than Portsmouth	$5,716
In 1876 Dover paid State tax	$15,468
In 1877 " "	14,544
Decrease in State tax on increased valuation	$923

Portsmouth paid $49.51. on each $1000 raised by the State, for the four years previous to the year 1876. For the four years subsequent to 1876, it will have to pay $50.65, or $1.14 more. Dover paid $38.67 previous to 1876 on each $1000; we it pays $36.36, or $2.31 less than before.

In county taxes Portsmouth paid in 1877, $22,050.79. Dover paid for the same year, $14,523.67, or $7,527.12 less than Portsmouth. In 1876 Dover paid $15,080.45; in 1877, $14,521.67, thus saving $556.78 on the county tax by reason of the increased valuation of the assessors of 1875 and 1876.

Portsmouth's State and county taxes for 1877 were $42,310.79. For the same year Dover's State and county taxes were only $29,067.67, or $13,243.12 less than Portsmouth, enough to pay the interest on Dover's city debt.

WHEAT MEAL!

— OR —

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the fraternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Whole Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call made up Graham, that is, artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hardly a person who uses the genuine Wheat Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

A Fable.

A dog being very much annoyed by bees, ran, quite accidentally, into an empty barrel, lying on the ground, and looking out at the bung-hole, addressed his tormentors thus:

"Had you been temperate, stinging me only one at a time, you might have got a good deal of fun out of me. As it is, you have driven me into a secure retreat; for I can snap you up as fast as you come in through the bung-hole. Learn from this the folly of intemperate zeal."

When he had concluded he awaited a reply. There wasn't any reply, for the bees had never gone near the bung-hole; they went in the same way as he did, and made it very warm for him. The lesson of this fable is that one cannot stick to pure reason while quarreling with bees.

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.

PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.

UNASSESSIBLE.

Daniel J. Splane. Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.

The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined holes.

Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.

The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.

Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 41 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago associated several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of unusual ness and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the practice of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the treatment of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES—Paralysis, Neuralgia, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Insanity, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50; or "Invalids' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cancer (Stone in the Bladder), Strictures, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-foot, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for those diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the accession of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficient remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the diseases for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has wrought cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Irritability, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a diagloness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those in need of further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats infinitely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mercury, Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Tetter or Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially it manifests its potency in curing Tetter, Blotch, Humor, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternate with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it exerts perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Consumption, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Side and Back, Fulness after Eating, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Palpitation of the heart, Pain in the Region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Heated feeling about the Stomach, Hot flashes of Heat in the Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping the beneficent influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes, for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS—Frequent headache, discharge falling into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, mucus or mucopurulent, offensive. Eyes inflamed, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyelids, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, sleepiness, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total suppression of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged glands, tickling cough, &c. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PARKER'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers of cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Dr. Sage's Remedy and Douche are for sale by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Sirs: I have prescribed your medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) entitled—and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say I have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M.D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 50 different preparations for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Influence of Newspapers.

A school teacher, who had been a long time engaged in his profession, and witnessed the influence of a newspaper on the minds of a family of children, writes as follows:—

I have found it to be a universal fact, without exception, that those scholars, of both sexes and of all ages, who have access to newspapers at home, when compared with those who have not, are:—

1. Better readers, excellent in pronunciation, and consequently read more plainly and understandingly.

2. They are better spellers, and define words with ease and accuracy.

3. They obtain practical knowledge in geography in almost half the time it requires of others, as the newspapers have made them acquainted with the locations of the important places of nations, their government and doings on the globe.

4. They are better grammarians, for, having become so familiar with every style in the newspapers, from the commonplace advertisement to the finished and classical oration of the statesman, they more readily comprehend the meaning of the text, and consequently analyze its construction with accuracy.

5. They write better compositions, using better language, containing more ideas more clearly and correctly expressed.

6. Those young men who have for years been readers of newspapers, and are always taking the lead in debating societies, exhibit a more extensive knowledge upon a greater variety of subjects, and express their views with greater fluency, clearness and correctness.

—Most people's compassion is worse than their indifference.

—You may mend a rent in a damaged reputation so that it may not show, but you can never make the reputation quite whole again.

—Patrick—"And, Biddy, darlint, they've been tellin' me there's too many of us in the wurrld. Now, if me and you get the praste to make us two wan, troth won't there be wan the less?" Hardly ever.

—A Colorado paper says: "An Englishman, 'who had seen better days,' was riding in the coach to Leadville recently. There were a good many other people in the coach, also. 'Will you please,' said the Englishman, 'open that window; I want to see the mountain scenery.' An Irishman, who was snoozing in a corner, looked up on hearing the remark, and observed: 'Bedad, you'll see plinty of it a month from now, when you're comin' back on fut.'"

Wrenched and Racked

By the pangs of rheumatism, the joints eventually become grievously distorted, and some times assume an almost grotesque deformity. To prevent such results by a simple and agreeable means is certainly the part of wisdom. A tendency to rheumatic ailments may be successfully combatted with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine with the prestige of a long and successful career, of unbounded popularity, and of emphatic professional endorsement. It removes from the blood those inflammatory impurities which pathologists assign as the cause of rheumatism, and not only purifies the life current, but enriches it, promoting vigor by fertilizing its source. Digestion, the action of the bowels and the secretion of the bile, are aided by it, and it impels the kidneys and bladder to a regular and active performance of their functions. It is besides a thoroughly reliable remedy for, and means of preventing, periodic fevers.

Consumption Cured.

My wife had a terrible cough and cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 25 cents.

The East Winds are trying to the throat. Keep Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup at hand to ward off trouble.

Live like a Prince, on $2.50 per day; you can do this now in New York, and on Broadway too, by getting a room, at the Grand Central Hotel, on the European plan for $1.00 per day and upwards, and taking your meals, at their elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices. Or you can choose the American plan at $2.50 or $3.00 per day, which includes both room and meals.

Your Voice is gone and it is because you let that cough run when you might have cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

CONQUER that bronchial affection by the use of Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye. It never fails to give relief even in the most obstinate cases. Order it of C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston.

She was threatened with lung fever, so the doctors said, but a half a bottle of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup relieved her immediately and in less than a week she was all right.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. eod&wtnov29

Desty's Federal Citations.

San Francisco sends nearly every product to the east, but the latest advent is seen in the law-books, published by Sumney, Whitney & Co., in that city. The firm publish the works of Robert Daty, the latest of which is known as "Federal citations; being an alphabetical table of English and American cases cited in the opinions of the courts of the United States." The points as to which these cases are cited are given in brief, the effect of the citation being given by letters and characters appended thereto. The design of the work is to show the value as authority of every case referred to in the decisions of the Federal courts. The works of Mr. Desty have the indorsement of the most eminent justices and lawyers in the country. This volume contain 810 pages of small but bold-face type, and has already received the indorsement of the leading law journals of the United States. The author must have expended in its preparation an immense amount of labor, and the lawyer who has the book in his library, in a corresponding degree economizes his time, labor and patience. In addition to the decisions of the Federal courts it is also a key to other decisions upon the same point. Having found any one case on a given subject, the book will refer the reader to every decision in which that case has been cited, and each of the cases in which it has been cited will give him a new chain of authorities. It contains about twenty-seven thousand cases, many of which have been referred to from fifty to eighty times; some of them having received every grade of approval and denial. The book will prove valuable if not indispensable to the judge on the bench as well as to the practitioner in the study or trial of a case. It will readily show that a case cited by counsel in brief or argument has been either.—

1. Acknowledged as authority by the highest courts of the land;
2. That it has been received as authority on one point, but denied as to another; or,
3. That it has been doubted, limited, or entirely overruled.

Fully one-half of the cases cited are from the English reports, one-fourth of the entire number are from the courts of the various States, and the remainder from the Federal courts. The legal profession rarely has had prepared for its use a work involving such an immense amount of labor as the compilation of these citations must have cost Mr. Desty, and the practitioner in both the Federal and State courts will find here an opportunity to make use of the labors of an industrious compitlor, seldom to be attained. The book is published at $7.50, and can be found upon the shelves of all dealers in law books in the country.

News and Notes.

The Boston & Maine railroad will pay a dividend of three per cent on the 15th of May.

The handicap race at Newmarket, Eng., on the 16th inst., was won by Pierre Lorillard's horse Parole.

Steamtug Curlew exploded her boiler in Boston harbor on Thursday, and the cook and two engineers were scalded and blown overboard. They were picked up by another tug, and will probably recover.

Four masked burglars broke into a store at Bolger, Pa., early on the morning of the 16th inst., and blew open the safe. The noise aroused a telegraph operator named Laird, who went out to see what was the matter, when he was seized, gagged and bound, robbed, put into the store and bound to a post. The ruffians then fired the store and left. Laird succeeded in freeing himself from the gag, and by his cries attracted help before the fire reached him. The villains are unknown.

A United States customs officer at St. Albans, Vt., has seized a lot of silks, being smuggled by a woman from Montreal.

Special Deputy Collector Davis and men have destroyed six illicit distilleries in north Alabama, just over the Tennessee line.

Maurice Barrymore, the actor who was shot at Marshall, Texas, on March 19th, by James Currie, has arrived at Philadelphia, much improved in health.

A Norwich, Conn., vandal who owns a diamond ring has been using it to disfigure plate glass windows in that city, one worth $500 being ruined.

Henry McLaughlin, a boy of thirteen, while playing the national game in Philadelphia a short time since, was struck in the stomach by a ball which had been batted him by a companion. The ball was coming with considerable force and swiftness, and the boy missed it. It struck him in the pit of the stomach and injured him so seriously that after lingering for about ten days he died. A post-mortem examination showed that the bladder was injured.

Last fall a shooting affray took place in Baltimore between Denwood B. Hinds and a young man named James, growing out of the alleged seduction by Hinds of James' sister Lizzie. The young lady is now dead. On the 16th inst. Miss James' father met Hinds and his brother, and all parties commenced shooting; James was killed, and Hinds and his brother slightly wounded. Hinds has been arrested.

Dr. Samuel P. Chalfant, the San Francisco dentist who was suspected of the murder of Joseph Bacon of Boston, has surrendered himself to the police. He confesses the shooting of Bacon, but claims that it was accidental, the pistol going off he does not know how, he having taken it from his pocket to frighten Bacon into treating him respectfully.

It is announced that the experiment of shipping ice by railroad, instead of in sailing vessels, which was tried last summer, proved so successful, the ice being so much more quickly delivered, so little wasted, and managed so much more to the satisfaction of both shipper and receiver, that a company for ice transportation has been formed in Boston. The company is represented as being a very strong one, and arrangements will be made for shipping ice all over the country by rail. This will transfer a very large carrying trade from merchant vessels to the railroads. The new company own large ice houses in Maine and in Boston, and propose to do an immense business this summer.

Rev. W. H. H. Murray has finally located his buckboard factory at New Haven, a joint stock company with a capital of $250,000 having been organized.

The Lowell & Lawrence and Salem & Lowell railroads have been sold to the Boston & Lowell road, the former for $100 per share and the latter for $25.

As the schooner Jamestown was going out of Gloucester harbor for Georges on the 16th inst., one of the crew, George Huntson, deliberately jumped overboard, and although every effort was made to save him he was drowned. He was under the influence of liquor when he jumped overboard. He was a single man, and thirty years of age.

Naval Matters.

The Ticonderoga was off Cape Palmas, Africa, March 7th. Commodore Shufeldt intended to return north in April, to meet the Liberian boundary commissioners.

Rear Adm. Rodgers reports to the department the arrival at Valparaiso on the 12th ult. of the Pensacola. Capt. K. R. Breese on that day assumed command of the ship, which will remain there for the present on account of the war between Bolivia and Chili.

Comdr. Lester A. Beardslee is ordered to the command of the sloop of war Jamestown, now fitting out at Mare Island navy yard for Alaska. Lieut. Comdr. Charles H. Rockwell is ordered as executive officer.

Political.

The municipal election at Newport, R. I., on the 16th inst., was close and exciting, the republican candidate for mayor being elected by a small majority. Local issues only were considered.

It is evident from the way in which he made up his committees and from his rulings since, that Speaker Randall has gone with the main body of his party, over to the greenbackers.

Sufficient official returns of the vote for supreme judge of Michigan are in to show that the republican candidate has at least 4000 majority over the candidate of the combined democrats and greenbackers. This will do very well, considering that at the election last fall the fusion majority against the republicans was 30,205. The issue this year was squarely made, the republicans being for honest money and national supremacy, and the democrats against both.

The Cincinnati Gazette says the question now is whether the republican majority in Ohio next October will be 50,000 or over that figure.

New Hampshire Items.

The town of Croydon is the first to send to the secretary of State the inventory required by law; the increase of "money on hand, at interest, or on deposit," over last year, is $38,210, or 175 per cent. Taxable property in Atkinson is increased $25,000, and Winchester will increase its taxable property over $100,000, by the operation of the new inventory law.

D. W. Beckley, grocery merchant, hanged himself at Keene on the 16th inst. He was an upright, respectable man, in good circumstances. He had been in feeble health for some time.

Considerable anxiety is felt over the prolonged absence of a commercial traveller of a leading Boston house, who left his home in Manchester on the 11th inst. for Boston. He is reported to have been seen at Lawrence, Mass., on that day, since which no traces have been had of him.

At Manchester a large number of taxpayers have been responding to the new system of taxation, which reaches a great amount of personal property not heretofore taxed. There has been a good deal of squirming to avoid taxation, but on the whole the assessors are satisfied that the tax-payers are disposed to give the new system a fair trial.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Does not possess the acknowledged most dangerous to health; it costs but 20. a lb., Cream of Tartar over 40.

☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere. 110

THE CITY.

Work was commenced at the south mill-bridge on Wednesday.

The officers of the first regiment N. H. Militia assembled at Manchester on Thursday, for instruction and drill, and adjourned to meet in this city may 22d.

The municipal committee on mill-pond nuisances were in consultation with Mr. Bissell of the Eastern railroad on Thursday, in relation to the abatement of the nuisance at the north pond.

A meeting of citizens interested in the observance of Memorial day is to be held at the common council room on Monday evening at eight o'clock, to act in conjunction with the committee already appointed by Storer Encampment, Post No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic.

The May number of Harper's Magazine is very richly illustrated, containing over one hundred engravings. The illustrated subjects offer unusual opportunities for picturesque treatment, and the entire table of contents is of the most interesting nature. Harper's may be had at Moses Brothers' news-room and Myers' book-store.

If the friend Charles Dickens used to write about, who said he never wanted to go to a public entertainment unless the house was so full he could not get in, were here this evening, he could be gratified in his paradoxical wish to his heart's content. Miss Norah Bartlett's debut is to have a bumper audience, entirely ahead of the opening night of the new hall.

Mr. Andrew H. Jones was called upon at his house one evening this week by two tramps, who asked for something to eat, and he took them in and gave them a good supper, after which they went off. At the same time, or a little later in the evening, Mr. Jones' nice new overcoat went off, carrying with it a pocket-book containing valuable papers and $26 in money. About two weeks previous Mr. Jones had another pocket-book disappear, this one containing $44.

Benjamin F. Patrick, late general ticket agent of the Eastern railroad, was arrested in Boston on Wednesday afternoon, on a warrant of indictment issued by the superior court. It will be remembered that he was arrested in January last on a charge of embezzlement of $1800 of the company's money. When the case came up for examination the company failed to prosecute, and the case was placed on file. It was generally thought at the time that this would end the matter, so far as legal processes were concerned, and the issuing of the warrant is a surprise to many people. Just what led to this course is not stated.

THE VICINITY.

The town of Exeter has settled with A. R. Prescott for damages occasioned to his horse by falling in the street, by the payment of $60.

A gentleman of Saco offers to erect a building worth ten thousand dollars, and give the same to the trustees of the York Institute and Athenæum, provided the trustees select and pay for a suitable lot of land.

The hardware store of Treadwell & Folsom at Newmarket was burglarized on Wednesday night, the 16th inst., and $41 in coin and scrip taken from the drawer. Entrance was effected through the cellar.

Laban Kenniston, a native of Newmarket and always a resident there, was buried on the 16th inst.; a detachment of the Newmarket Guards, under Lieut. A. C. Haines, attending the funeral. Mr. Kenniston, who was ninety years old when he died, was a veteran of the war of 1812 and of the Mexican war.

Madame Rivi-King, the pianist, whose performances on the piano are so correct and artistic, gives a recital in Dover on the 19th inst. at two o'clock. She will be assisted by Miss Abbie Whinnery of Boston, vocalist. To any one who is interested in the truly beautiful in music, it will present a fine opportunity to gratify their taste.

The sloop Alice, of Exeter, Capt. Furnald, made her first trip to this city on Wednesday, April 16th, the Swampscot river not having previously been in a condition suited to navigation. Last year Capt. Furnald made two trips to this city in March.

Newmarket had a "pedestrian tournament" on Wednesday of this week. John Goodrick won a running match of one mile, in seven minutes and nine seconds. John Behen won a boy's match, in seven minutes and fifteen seconds; John Griffin, nine years, did the distance in seven minutes and twenty-eight seconds. A ladies' mile walk was won by Fannie Thompson in twelve minutes and thirty-eight seconds; and a five-mile walk was won by Eva L. Keniston.

The next "go-as-you-please" foot race in Dover is to come off on the 7th and 8th of May, instead of the 14th and 15th as first announced. The prizes are to be a silver cup and $100 in money to the person who shall cover the greatest number of miles in thirty-six consecutive hours; $50 to the second man, $30 to the third and $20 to the fourth—all contestants to be residents of Strafford county, and no one who makes less than one hundred miles to take a prize.

The Exeter Gazette says that during his pastorate in the Methodist church of that town, "Rev. J. H. Haines has united twenty-one couples in marriage and attended thirty-four funerals, has baptised sixty-nine persons and received one hundred and six into the membership of the church. Much of his work has been done with very infirm health, yet always with a hopeful courage that leaves its impress upon that church in all its departments. Among recent tokens of regard from friends of Mr. Haines is a beautiful gold watch chain, but better even than that will be the lasting remembrance of a grateful people."

Wednesday, April 16th, was a very good day for runaways in Dover. A horse driven by Edward Wentworth of Rollinsford, a milkman, was frightened by some boys who were playing base-ball in the street, and ran away; at the corner of Washington and Belknap streets he ran into another milk wagon, cleared himself from his own vehicle, and continued his course until he finally reached the bank of the river at a spot where there is a bank wall eight or nine feet high, unprotected by any fence; over this precipice the horse jumped, landing on his head on the rocky bed of the river, the tide being out, and breaking his neck. The other milk team, with which Wentworth's team collided, also ran away, but was stopped without any damage. Another horse ran down Green street into the upper Cocheco, at a point where the water is fifteen or twenty feet deep, but swam across and landed safely on the other side. A teamster named Hugh Smith, who had some kind of a machine in his wagon, was driving across the track at the Boston & Maine depot when his horse gave a jump, pitching the machine and Smith both out behind, smashing the machine and planting the man flat on his back in a convenient mud-puddle. The man was slightly hurt, but was able to hunt up his horse, which was stopped without any other harm having been done.

THE NEW COMMANDANT.

Commodore John C. Beaumont was on Thursday ordered to the command of this navy yard. Commodore Beaumont was born in Pennsylvania on the 27th of August, 1821, and entered the navy as midshipman March 1st, 1838, becoming a passed midshipman in 1844, lieut. in 1855, commander in 1862 and captain in 1872. His present commission dates from July, 1874. While in command of the "Aroostook" he took part in shelling Drury's Bluff, May 15th, 1862, and commanded the "Mackinaw" in both attacks on Fort Fisher; and for his services on those occasions was recommended for promotion by Adm. Porter in his official despatch of Jan. 28th, 1865.

THURSDAY, April, 17; Allen, J.

Bank vs. Stewart and another was given to the jury in the afternoon.

State vs. Eben L. Chapman of Epping, indicted for selling liquor contrary to law, was next begun. Harriman for State; Towle for Chapmnn.

The alarm of fire at a quarter before one o'clock Friday morning was occasioned by the burning of a small building at Doane's fish wharf. The fire was incendiary. Loss about $5000, all of Mr. Doane's mackerel seines having been in the building.

A Child's Faith.

Birdie was only four years old, but she had already been taught that God loved her, and always took care of her. One day there was a heavy thunder storm, and Birdie's sisters and her mamma even laid by their sewing, and drew their chairs into the middle of the room, pale and trembling with fear. But Birdie stood close by the window, watching the storm with brightful eyes.

"Oh, mamma! that buful!" she cried, clapping her hands with delight, as a vivid flash of lightning burst from the black clouds, and the thunder pealed and rattled over their heads.

"It is God's voice, Birdie," said mamma, and her own voice trempled.

"He talks very loud, don't He, mamma? S'pose it's so as deaf Betsy can hear, and the other deaf folks."

"Oh, Birdie, dear! come straight away from that window," said one of her sisters, whose cheeks were blanched with fear.

"What for?" asked Birdie.

"Oh! because the lightning is so sharp, and it thunders so loud."

But Birdie shook her head, and looking over her shoulder with a happy smile upon her face, lisped out:

"If it funders, let it funder! 'Tis God makes it funder, and He'll take care of me. I ain't a bit afraid to hear God talk, Maizy."

Important changes are to be made in the Mount Washington railway. About a sixth of the line is to be rebuilt, including the trestle at "Jacob's ladder," and a new engine and passenger car are to be built to accommodate the growing patronage of the road.

Two Tilden seminary girls at West Lebanon having been suspended for carrying on a secret correspondence with Dartmouth students, the latter have retaliated by getting out a burlesque catalogue of the seminary and the teachers.

WHEAT MEAL!

— OR —

Graham Flour.

When Wheat is ground it becomes Wheat Meal; when it is bolted it becomes Wheat Flour. Dr. Graham, who lectured through the country forty years ago on dietetics formed the fraternity known as "Grahamites." He said that bolted Flour should not be eaten, but that bread ought to be made of Wheat Meal instead; from him it got the name of Graham Flour. All Graham Flour therefore ought to be Wheat Meal, but about three-quarters of it is what we call made up Graham, that is, artificially mixed Cheap Flour and Bran, and is in every way inferior to the genuine article. Hardly a person who uses the genuine Wheat Meal would take the bogus article except on compulsion.

What a Democratic President Did.

The impression a reader of democratic papers gets from their perusal is that, previous to 1865, United States troops were never permitted to approach the polls, and that republican legislation that year gave the commander in chief of the military force the privilege of controlling voting, counting votes, declaring the result, and directing elections to suit himself. We are asked to believe that the country is under the rule of a stratocracy.

The fact is that the troops had, from the time the constitution was adopted up to fourteen years ago, full authority to approach the polls. They could go to the polls as freely as they could to any other place on any day. But the law of 1865, now denounced as a "radical" measure, limited that authority by providing that on election day the soldiers should not approach the polls except to preserve the peace. Until that time, when a restraint was put on the army by a republican Congress, the troops were not forbidden by law to be present at the polls.

A striking example of the use of troops to keep the peace at elections was afforded under the administration of the latest—and it is to be hoped, the last—democratic President. In 1857, during the municipal election in Washington, on the 1st of June, a party of "Plug Uglies" from Baltimore visited Washington, and started a riot by attempting to take possession of the polls at the North Liberty market on Seventh street. Mayor Magruder went to President Buchanan at the White House, and stated the case. The President sent an order to the navy yard for a detachment of marines to march to the scene of the disturbance, suppress the riot, and guard the polls. A company did march to the scene; they were fired upon by some of the roughs, and they promptly returned fire with a volley from the front rank, which killed ten persons and wounded others. Then these United States troops took possession of the polls and guarded them. In the evening, a company of flying artillery, by direction of President Buchanan, also marched to the disturbed quarters of the city, and guarded the counting of the election returns. This was the action taken by a democratic President who so thoroughly believed in the dogma of State rights that he declared he had no power to "coerce" a State that had gone into rebellion.—Portland Press.

The Only Way.

The only way to cure catarrh is by the use of a cleansing and healing lotion, applied to the inflamed and diseased membrane. Snuffs and fumigators, while affording temporary relief, irritate the affected parts and excite a more extended inflammation. Besides, no outward applications alone can cure catarrh. The disease originates in a vitiated state of the blood, and a thorough alterative course of treatment is necessary to remove it from the system. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has long been known as an efficient standard remedy for this disease, but, to insure a radical and permanent cure, it should be used in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the best alterative yet discovered. The Discovery cleanses the vitiated blood, while the Catarrh Remedy allays the inflammation and heals the diseased tissues.

—Beware of prejudices; they are like rats, and men's minds are like traps. Prejudices creep in easily, but it is doubtful if they ever get out.

—The Count Jeannes was sitting in the green room of the St. James Theatre a few evenings ago, made up for Richard III, when the call boy entered with: "Your cue will be called in five minutes, sir." "Boy," said the Count, "remain." "Yes sir." "Tell me truly the number of the multitude that go to make up our audience this night." "Well, sir, there's three men, two women and a dog." "Boy, you are sure about the dog?" "Yes, sir." "Then ring up the curtain, that I may have the pleasure of playing to at least one intelligent member of God's creatures."

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION
INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878.
BUFFALO AND LONDON.
CAPITAL $1,000,000.
(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago invited several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. T. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Specially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases so peculiar to female.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (168 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Hardsh, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. Our new pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for those diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while winessing its positive results in the special diseases indicated to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax of my extensive array of medical remedies. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid into whose hands it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness.
Do not think this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple, Eruption, or Eruption. Mercurial diseases, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially does it manifest its potency in curing Tetter, Tetter Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Coffee-or-Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, dismal feelings, with appetite alternated with loathing, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and early stages of Consumption, it has admitted the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of drastic, crude and bulky materials. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without discomfort to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Dimness of Sight, Costiveness, Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In Colds, Coughs, or nervous power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping the sensitive impress. Are mild yet thorough in their effects. Are not to impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated, and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., PROP'R, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge, full, rounded nostrils, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be inhaled, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP AND PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Sirs: I have prescribed medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried—and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say that I had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the case of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly and free influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 300 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in fooling a few sales, but, unless the remedy possesses undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

The Trotting Ox.

That an ox, in some circumstances, may show speed in striking contrast with its usual slow gait is proved by the following story told by a correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer:

A member of a party of miners, named Green, disgusted with prospects at Pike's Peak, took, as his share of the camp outfit, an ox and the fore-part of a cart; and out of the latter he made a sulkey. With this he drove eastward and squatted on some land near Denver, which he cultivated. One day as Green was driving his ox into Denver some fellows on horseback attempted to pass him. The ox, moved by some apparent freak, quickened its steps until it went off in a swinging trot, leaving the horse behind.

This was the first intimation Green had that his bob-tailed ox (it was bob-tailed) could trot. The idea then presented itself to him that if he could only accustom it to trotting a short distance on a certain piece of ground it could outtrot any horse in the neighborhood. There was a gambler named Randale in Denver at this time who owned a horse that could do his mile in 2:40. Randale was acquainted with Greene, and would occasionally drop into his quarters and praise his horse. A day or two after Green's discovery of his ox's powers Randale dropped in, and, as usual, began "talking horse." Green remarked that he had an ox that could beat Randale's horse for three hundred yards. Randale laughed at first, then got mad, and at last offered to bet ten to one that it could not be done.

The bet was promptly taken, and they adjourned to the prepared place. The ox was backed up to a little hand-cart. When everything was ready, away they went. Sure enough, at the end of four hundred yards the ox came in ahead. On the spot Randale bought half the ox for $500. The next day it was pitted against two horses, and the whole city turned out to see the Randale gambler lose his money, a trotting ox. Again was it victorious, and amid the wildest excitement passed the line six lengths ahead.

Every day thereafter the ox defeated a horse or two, and there soon became a popular demand for a share in the animal. Accordingly a company was formed with a joint stock of $6400, being sixty-four shares of $100 each. The stock went like hot cakes, and soon sold above par. In a week, during which the ox had won several more races, the stock was quoted on the gambling tables, and passed for $1000 a share.

At last a horse sired in San Francisco came along, and a trial of speed was made between him and the ox. On the appointed day it was estimated that there were ten thousand people present. The ox took the lead from the start; and at the one hundred yard pole he was a length and a half ahead; at the one hundred and fifty it was two lengths; at the two hundred and fifty the distance had widened into five lengths and the ox still gaining. But when within a dozen yards of the winning post the ox became tired and made up his mind to stop.

Accordingly he planted his front feet and refused to budge. Moral suasion, profane abuse, physical ill-usage, all failed to move him, and the horse quietly trotted past and took the race. From that minute the stock sank from $1000 a share down to one sixty-fourth of the value of the ox as meat. Many efforts were afterward made to coerce the animal into a trot, but all enticement and persuasion, gentle or otherwise, failed, and he never trotted again.

Toads.

The toad is a most useful thing in a garden. I had a plant dreadfully infested with wood-lice, almost destroyed by them, and a toad located himself close by it as its protector; and, in order to be ready in an emergency, he made in the mould a hole all but deep enough to prevent his having a thorough good view of the plant; and when a wood-louse, beetle or anything of the kind appeared near him or the plant, out he came and pounced upon it—"You are mine!" This was wholly his work. I only watched him sometimes greatly pleased at the success. Another time, as I was one day walking along a path in the garden I saw a toad approaching; the pace was quick for a toad, but I soon saw what he was after. Just on before him was a beetle, which I expected to see caught, but ere there was time for them to meet, the beetle disappeared, so quickly that my eyes were not quick enough to see it taken, but no doubt it was in the toad's mouth, for I heard a click which told the tale of capture. Two other toads seem to have concerted between them how to take a border regularly, and in order to do their work well it appeared to be arranged that one of should go inside the border and the other stay outside, having the box edging between them; and so they did their work of clearing, keeping just opposite the one to the other; and I was watching them from the window above. I wish we could act with good feeling towards such useful creatures. They do much good and little harm, but I have reason to believe that they are sometimes treated most cruelly.
—R. T. ROE in Gardener's Chronicle.

—Certain high-toned persons in Newport, R. I., got up an entertainment at a hotel, the special feature of the occasion being the presence of a British fleet's officers, and excluded many other and equally high-toned persons; yet they sent the bill to the treasury of Newport, to be paid by its citizens, among whom were the uninvited individuals. Judge Durfee says, in effect, that those who danced ought to pay the fiddler $3,000.

Portsmouth Chronicle

SATURDAY, APRIL 19, 1879.

Miss Bartlett's Debut.

It was a rare spectacle witnessed at Music hall on Friday evening for the quiet and staid city of Portsmouth, which is by many of its non-residents supposed (or at least reported) to have nothing new and to be the embodiment of conservative repose—the appearance of one of our lady residents, refined, educated and respected, who courageously braved so many difficulties and labored so perseveringly in this untried path.

In these days, when the drama, to please the unfortunate sufferers from the hard times, gives us surfeit of Pinafore and what Mr. Boucicault designates as the idiotic drama, instead of the sterling English comedy of other days, every one who studies and labors to elevate the tone of the dramatic profession, either as artist or manager, is entitled to public gratitude.

The interest of the audience was second to none ever assembled in Music hall; and Portsmouth, a city which has sent forth to so many other places such an array of talented men and women, last evening introduced to the lovers of the drama a new candidate for histrionic honors, of whose career we have the highest hopes and the greatest expectations.

We trust that the reception so generously given at home by our own people, is but a foretaste of what is in store for the fair debutante, as she may from time to time hereafter appear upon the stage in other cities.

Chronicle Correspondence.

NEW YORK, April 16th.

"And its greatly to his credit—
For he himself has said it—
He is a Portsmouth man."

Youthful gatherers of early fruit in old "Strawberry Bank," some twenty-five years ago, were unanimously acquainted with "Charlie" Rand and "Tom," young men to whom the coming generation looked up as worthy examples to emulate, when behind improvised snow-forts and at the annual battles for supremacy near the Universalist church on "Pope nights," the "South Enders" met the "North Enders," from "Christian Shore" and thereabouts, met, charged again, and scored wondrous victories. The qualities required for successful leadership in those campaigns have been shown on more desperate battle-fields since, and many a brave boy whose first experiences at fort-capturing was earned in this primitive way, became a hero in the war for the Union that came twelve years after. "Charlie" Rand was among the Pioneers of California, a knight-errant as chivalrous as of olden time, an active, fearless leader, who became one of the foremost of the members of the famous Vigilance committee which brought order out of chaos in San Francisco in early days. The call to arms in 1861 gave opportunity for "Charlie" and "Tom" to show their patriotism, and to the front they went, brothers in arms, as in the days gone by when they unitedly laid plans near "Puddle Dock" to turn defeat into victory, or cheered themselves hoarse over the triumphs ensuing. At Chancellorsville, both were in the thickest of the fight, Capt. "Charlie" in the 3d corps under Gen. Sickles, and Capt. "Tom" in the 11th corps under Gen. Devens, now Attorney General. In that battle Capt. "Charlie" was shot dead, and was buried before his brother heard the sad news. Capt. "Tom," after repeated attempts, recovered the body and returned home with it, consigning the cherished brother to a grave among his kindred, and many a Portsmouth boy recalled to mind the active little fellow who but a few years ago had been their leader, who had fallen in no ignoble contest, and not without winning a reputation to which his family could point with pride.

But I did not intend to digress to such an extent. It is of Capt. "Tom" I am to write—no longer the little chap who followed "Charlie" in those days of tin horns and pumpkin lanterns, away back in 1849, nor the young soldier returning at the close of the war and witnessing the nation's triumph with saddened heart for the lost. How quietly American soldiers lay down their arms and seek peaceful pursuits,—and after such a game of war as that of 1861 to 1885! Scattered all over the country, in varied pursuits, their deeds are mere matters of memory—and occasional mention.

Our Capt. "Tom" is like "the rest of them," and is senior member of the firm of Rand Bros., proprietors of the St. Cloud Hotel in this city—the solid man of the firm in weight at least, and with the steadiness of a veteran in all the walks of life. It is his pride to command, yet, although a young and lovely wife and baby demand a great deal of his attention,—and so having the orders conferred upon him by Palestine Commandery, No. 18, Knights Templar, in October 1874, he became Captain General April 20th, 1877; and the Palestines boast that as a drill master, Capt. Rand has no superior, if equal.

Palestine Commandery celebrated Easter, on Monday evening, by a reception, drill and festival. At eleven o'clock, the Academy of Music was crowded to overflowing. First on the programme was the review of the Commandery, and that body showed such proficiency in drill that the ladies and gentlemen present vied in applauding each manœuvre, Capt. Gen. Rand bearing his honors meekly,—unaware to the last of the great surprise in store for him. Marching by threes, platoons and sections, in crosses, squares and triangles, the Commandery gave evidence of excellent drill and fine training. At its conclusion, R. W. Elwood E. Thorne, Past Eminent Commander, complimented the Capt. General on the efficiency of the command so evidently due to his untiring efforts, and at the close in behalf of the Sir Knights presented him with a magnificent sword as a mark of the personal esteem of the members of Palestine Commandery. Capt. Gen. Rand was taken aback at the sudden change in affairs, but responded in a brief and feeling speech of acceptance. The sword is an elegant affair, of D. B. Howell & Co.'s best make. The ornaments are artistically arranged, emblematic of the order, with garnets set in solid silver and forming a cross and other symbols of the Masonic Brotherhood. DEKE

Enormous Subscription.

The secretary of the treasury on Thursday had an offer from the First National bank of New York, on behalf of a syndicate, to subscribe for one hundred and fifty millions of the four per cent bonds. The same parties also want $40,000,000 of funding certificates. Uncle Sam's credit is good—thanks to republican management.

Tornado and Flood.

A violent wind and rain storm raged in South Carolina through the night of Wednesday, the 16th inst. Accounts from the interior show the storm began with a terrific tornado, which swept through the lower portion of the State, causing great destruction to life and property. In the village of Waterboro more than a hundred dwellings and all the churches were swept away. Fifteen persons were killed, and many more wounded. Three-fourths of the inhabitants are homeless. At Oakley station on the Northeastern railroad, all the negro houses were levelled and one negro killed, besides many hurt. Similar casualties are reported from the various points on the track of the tornado.

Terrible Mining Disaster.

By an explosion of fire-damp in the Argrappe coal pit, near Mons, Belgium, on the 17th inst., the woodwork of the shaft caught fire and fell in. There were 240 men in the mine, and no hope was entertained that any of them could be rescued.

News and Notes.

Official returns in Wisconsin show that the republican majority for judge of the supreme court will be almost exactly 28,000. This will do for a doubtful State.

Christian Leslie of Mooretown, N. J., shot his wife dangerously and then shot himself dead. Cause, rum.

During a dispute about land at St. Genevieve, Mo., on Wednesday, Daniel Sheffer shot two negroes dead.

By an explosion of gas in Otto colliery, near Branch Dale, Pa., Thursday, eight miners were burned, some seriously.

Hezekiah Shaffer, who murdered his wife, was hanged in the jail yard at Chambersburg, Pa., Thursday. He was carried to the scaffold in a blanket, loss of blood consequent upon an attempt at suicide on the 14th inst., rendering him so weak that he was unable to walk.

Peter Keough, who recently hired a girl at an intelligence office in Providence, R. I., ostensibly to work in his family, took her to Kent county and in a lonely place in the road abused her shockingly, was on Thursday sentenced to the State prison for fifteen years.

A despatch from New Eagle Pass, Texas, says a Mexican named Manos on the 16th inst., cut his wife's throat, causing her death. His daughter attempted to interfere, and was also injured. A neighbor tried to arrest Manos, but was hewn down with an axe, dying shortly after. The murderer escaped to Mexico.

The Army and Navy Journal republishes in full, from an official copy, the report of the board of inquiry in the case of General Fitz John Porter. It is accompanied by a colored map prepared expressly to illustrate the operations discussed in this report. "Without such a map," says the report at the outset, "neither the testimony upon which General Porter was convicted, nor the additional testimony submitted by the board, could have been correctly understood."

The body recently found in the harbor at East Haven, R. I., has been identified as that of John Roller, a seaman on board the schooner Kane, Capt. Peterson, who commands the schooner, is suspected of the murder.

Mrs. Louisa A. Brock has received a verdict of $1800 against the city of New Bedford, for injuries received through her falling on an icy sidewalk.

James Carroll, a negro accused of outraging a Mrs. Thomas, at Lickesville, Md., on the 14th inst., was taken from the custody of an officer at Washington, Md., on Thursday, by a score of masked men, and hanged.

Mrs. Edward Curry of Upton, Mass., who is nearly sixty years old, fell down stairs this week while carrying a lighted kerosene lamp, which was broken by the fall. Her clothing took fire and she was so badly burned that it is feared she cannot live.

Considerable excitement prevailed in Cheshire, Mass., this week, over an assault made on Hon. John C. Wolcott by Felix Petticular of that town, a well-to-do French Canadian. Wolcott accused Petticular of swindling the town out of fifteen or twenty thousand dollars, whereupon the assault was committed, Wolcott's nose being broken and other injuries inflicted.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; it costs but 2c. a lb., Cr am of Tartar over 40. The Royal Baking Powder is recommended for its wholesomeness by such eminent chemists as Dr. Mott, New York; Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.

☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere. 110

THE CITY.

Gunner Thomas H. Fortune is ordered to the Jamestown, now fitting out at Mare Island navy yard for Alaska.

The house on Court street, which was to have been sold at auction to-day (Saturday), has been disposed of at private sale.

The contribution of the Unitarian parish of this city to the fund for the relief of the Gloucester sufferers amounted to $132.39, which amount has been forwarded and duly acknowledged.

A grand opportunity to purchase watches, diamonds, pictures, jewelry, pianos, etc., is offered in the 38th semi-annual sale of the Boston Collateral Loan Co., advertised in another column.

The Times says that Mr. Augustus Stevenson, who has been running the steamer James Sampson under a charter, has now purchased the little steamer and will continue to run her as a ferry-boat on this river.

Mr. B. F. Patrick, the late general passenger agent of the Eastern railroad, was rearrested it is said because he did not fulfilled his promise to make good the $1800 claimed to have been embezzled from the company.

City Marshal Entwistle was notified on Thursday that a boy by the name of Morrill, who had run away from his home in Laconia, was wanted. On Friday he discovered him on the street in company with another boy by the name of McCloud, also from the same place. The marshal notified the authorities of Laconia that he had both boys in custody, and was requested to let McCloud go and hold Morrill for his father, who would come and get him.

The storm which commenced at midnight on Thursday was unusually severe in this vicinity. Several vessels bound westward from eastern ports were caught in it, and suffered considerably from the loss of sails and spars. Capt. Rand, of steamer Clara Batemen, reports that on Friday afternoon five or six light schooners that had failed to reach an anchorage in the lower harbor were at anchor off the harbor's entrance, and when he saw them they were riding securely. A schooner lying in the lower harbor reported the loss of her mainboom and boat. The sea was very heavy outside.

We very willingly publish the following, at the request of a gentleman personally interested in the property destroyed or imperilled by the fire of Friday morning: "The fire at Shapleigh's island, early Friday morning, came near being a serious affair, as it was impossible for the watchmen on the place to have kept the flames at bay longer than they did. But the prompt action of the fire department in sending two engines with so little delay saved a large amount of property which would otherwise have been certainly and speedily destroyed. The firemen are entitled to great credit for their prompt and efficient service at this fire; and it should be a source of great satisfaction to the citizens of Portsmouth to know that the dangers to life and property here are so greatly diminished by reason of the excellent appliances and competent management of our fire department."

A RARE OCCASION.

The finest audience that ever assembled in Music hall gathered there on Friday evening, to witness the presentation of the "Hunchback," with Miss Norah Bartlett as "Julia." Every eligible seat was occupied, gallery and all, and there were quite a number of "standees;" and this great audience was largely composed of the very best people in the city. The great attraction of the occasion was neither in the play nor the company, though the play is a most pleasing one, and the company, being from the Boston theatre, was of course expected to be excellent—an expectation that was fully realized; but what drew so large and refined an audience from their homes on such a dark and tempestuous night was the first public appearance on the stage of Miss Norah Bartlett.

It seems to us that this young lady—as yet but little more than a child in years—could hardly be placed in a more trying situation than that she occupied Friday evening; the part of Julia is an emotional one, exacting in the extreme, and the young debutante could not have helped knowing that her every word and gesture, and every intonation, were watched and studied and "passed upon" by every individual of such an audience as is rarely gathered anywhere on any occasion. But she bore herself with perfect self-possession, and passed through the ordeal in a manner to delight her friends, and to surprise and gratify those who were merely curious. And we think she has no just cause of complaint at the warmth of her reception, "cold and critical" though Portsmouth audiences have been called; the finer points made were received with generous applause, and at the close of the first act a perfect shower of flowers, arranged in bouquets and various devices, descended on the stage from all over the house; and all through the play the pleasure and satisfaction of the audience was markedly demonstrated, the fair debutante being called before the curtain at the end of each act. That she will take a high place in her chosen profession we think those who witnessed her acting on Friday evening will not doubt.

The support merits at least a word of commendation, all the actors being good, and Master Walter, and Helen and her terribly green lover, excellent; they were heartily applauded, and Miss Noah (Miss Bartlett's teacher, by the way) was the recipient of several bouquets during the evening.

DISASTER.

The schooner L. S. Barnes, of Dresden, Me., Capt. Oren Alley, bound from Wiscasset for Boston with a load of hay, put into the lower harbor for shelter from the heavy storm, on Friday, having previously lost her captain, who was knocked overboard by the mainboom off Cape Porpoise at half-past six o'clock in the morning. At one o'clock in the afternoon the schooner dragged her anchors and went ashore on Jerry's point, Newcastle. The tug Clara Bateman went to her assistance, but on reaching the place found the vessel firmly fixed on the rocks, with the tide ebbing fast and the sea running heavily on the shore, and it was considered inadvisable to attempt to render any aid. The schooner had bilged and her hold was full of water, and it was considered probable that she would be badly disabled, even if she did not become a total wreck. At the time the captain of the schooner was knocked overboard the wind was blowing a furious gale and the sea running high, and it was impossible to rescue him.

State vs. Eben Kenison of Epping, indicted for having in his possession implements for making counterfeit money. Harriman and J. Warren Towle for State; Hatch and C. H. Smith for deft. Given to the jury at 5:15 o'clock P. M.; verdict, not guilty.

Wm. Robinson of Newton and Frank Fiske of Epping, each paid $50 and costs for selling liquor.

Court adjourned to 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Case Griffin vs. town of Auburn was set down for Tuesday forenoon.

FATAL FIRE AT WELLS.

The town farm buildings at Wells were burned on Thursday night, including house, barn and woodshed. George Dykeman, the keeper, and Emlus Hill, one of the paupers, perished while vainly endeavoring to save the stock, which consisted of five head of cattle, and one valuable horse; several tons of hay were also destroyed. Loss $5000; insured. It is supposed the fire was caused by a tramp, who took lodging in the barn.

A PICNIC WEDDING.

About two weeks since Simon Lamprey, a well-known resident of Hampton, was arrested on the charge of bastardy with Miss Eliza J. Rowe of Seabrook, a girl of respectable parentage, and was held in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the present term of the supreme court. To-day, unknown to the girl and without any previous consultation whatever with her, this man, accompanied by Uri Lamprey, also of Hampton, and who is a justice of the peace, started in a team for the home of Miss Rowe for the purpose of marrying her. Reaching Seabrook depot the men hitched their horse and proceeded on foot along the railroad in the direction of Miss Rowe's home, and had gone but a short distance when they unexpectedly met her face to face coming around a curve, bound on a shopping trip to Seabrook. Notifying the girl of their mission she refused to turn back, and without further delay the couple were united by the side of the track in the presence of several railroad hands and Deputy Sheriff Brown of Seabrook, who accidentally chanced to be near. After the ceremony was over the newly wedded couple immediately separated, the former proceeding to his home in Hampton, and the latter on her errands to Seabrook. This unexpected and novel event caused considerable excitement and satisfaction in both towns, where there has since been much rejoicing over this terminus to what was expected to be a big scandal.

Wrenched and Racked

By the pangs of rheumatism, the joints eventually become grievously distorted, and sometimes assume an almost grotesque deformity. To prevent such results by a simple and agreeable means is certainly the part of wisdom. A tendency to rheumatic ailments may be successfully combatted with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine with the prestige of a long and successful career, of unbounded popularity, and of emphatic professional endorsement. It removes from the blood those inflammatory impurities which pathologists assign as the cause of rheumatism, and not only purifies the life current, but enriches it, promoting vigor by fertilizing its source. Digestion, the action of the bowels and the secretion of the bile, are aided by it, and it impels the kidneys and bladder to a regular and active performance of their functions. It is besides a thoroughly reliable remedy for, and means of preventing, periodic fevers.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility an all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. ta22

My wife had a terrible cough and cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 25 cents.

The East Winds are trying to the throat. Keep Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup at hand to ward off trouble.

Live like a Prince, on $2.50 per day; you can do this now in New York, and on Broadway too, by getting a room, at the Grand Central Hotel, on the European plan for $1.00 per day and upwards, and taking your meals at their elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices. Or you can choose the American plan at $2.50 or $3.00 per day, which includes both room and meals.

Your Voice is gone and it is because you let that cough run when you might have cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

CONQUER that bronchial affection by the use of Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye. It never fails to give relief even in the most obstinate cases. Order it of C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston.

She was threatened with lung fever, so the doctors said, but a half of a bottle of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup relieved her immediately and in less than a week she was all right.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. cod&winov78

The Coming Sunday.

Upon the Sunday of the future, the Christian Union has the following:—"The Sabbath of the future will be neither that of the Puritans nor that of Paris. The attempt to introduce either reacts and tends to produce the other. The Sabbath of the future will be both a holy day and a holiday; but it will have a freedom that the old Puritans' holy day never had, and a purity and elevation that the French holiday never had. And the work of Christians should be not to reproduce an old pattern, not to bring back the world to the Sabbath of Cotton Mather, but to carry it forward to a Sabbath adapted to the needs and in accordance with the spirit of the nineteenth century."

—Now is the time to look out for that house-hold pest—the carpet beetle. It is about one-sixteenth of an inch in length, drab in color, and marked with black—a distinguishing sign being two crimson marks on the wing covers. It is orange beneath and has black legs.

Deacon Jesse Knowles of Hampton, who has been blind eight years, has had his sight restored. He is over eighty years old.

The case of Charles W. Cook of Buzzell-Hanson notoriety came up at Ossipee, on the 16th inst., for examination, and was further continued, the prisoner being held. Cook has finally engaged James A. Edgerly of Great Falls as counsel. It is understood Cook once more "retracts."

The supreme court at Haverhill adjourned Thursday, after a four weeks' session, having disposed of a large amount of business. Laird vs. Passumpsic rail road, Sargent vs. town of Littletown, and Lovejoy vs. town of Littleton, all important cases, were continued to the September term.

The directors of the Manchester & Keene railroad have completed arrangements for putting the road-bed in thorough order, and it is expected that within two weeks trains will again be running. There is reported to be trouble between the management of the Peterboro' and Nashua & Lowell roads regarding the interest account on the stock of the Peterboro' road, and it is also reported that the rolling stock of the Nashua & Lowell was attached, Thursday, in the interest of Peterboro' stockholders.

A petition to the legislature to reduce the exorbitant railroad fares is receiving many signers in Lisbon. The petition prays for a reduction to two cents per mile, but if that reduction seems impracticable, that such other fixed definite rate may be established as the legislature may deem just. The petit on shows that the rates between Lisbon and Bath are six cents per mile, between Bath and Woodville seven cents, and the thorough rates on the Boston, Concord & Montreal over four cents per mile. This is the same petition that has lately been circulated in Bath and adjoining towns. It will be presented to the legislature next June, and action thereon urged.

The Secrets of Masonry.

Old Zach Wheeler was quite a character in his time, being a clever, easy-going, confiding man, who managed to let everybody cheat him out of his inherited estates. Just as his last farm was about to slip out of his hands he succeeded in raising the money to lift the mortgage. Aaron Remer, a prominent mason, accompanied him to the town. As they were riding along on horseback Zach says to Aaron, in a confiding tone:

"Now, Aaron, we are here alone, and I want you to tell me the secrets of masonry."

"I can't, Zach; they would kill me."

"Why, they won't know; they'll never find it out."

"Yes, they will; you'll speak of it."

"No, I swear I won't."

"Well, if you'll ride close alongside of me, and put your hand on my thigh, and take the oath I'll administer, I'll tell you the secrets of masonry."

Zach was not slow to comply, and a most powerful "iron-clad" oath was administered and taken.

"Now for the secrets," exclaimed the impatient and unsuspecting victim.

"Well," said Aaron, with much solemnity and secrecy, "in the first place, we masons combine together to cheat everybody as much as we can. This is the first grand secret. The second is like unto it. When we can't find anybody else to cheat, we cheat each other, but as little as we can."

"Well," exclaimed Zach, "I swear I'll join. I wish I had done it twenty years ago.—I might have been a rich man afore now."

The Only Way.

The only way to cure catarrh is by the use of a cleansing and healing lotion, applied to the inflamed and diseased membrane. Snuffs and fumigators, while affording temporary relief, irritate the affected parts and excite a more extended inflammation. Besides, no outward applications alone can cure catarrh. The disease originates in a vitiated state of the blood, and a thorough alterative course of treatment is necessary to remove it from the system. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has long been known as an efficient standard remedy for this disease, but, to insure a radical and permanent cure, it should be used in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the best alterative yet discovered. The Discovery cleanses the vitiated blood, while the Catarrh Remedy allays the inflammation and heals the diseased tissues.

—The London police have received orders to arrest any person seen dropping orange peel in the street.

—Barnum is now near his seventieth year, but is as active as ever. He has been in the show business for forty-four years, but still feels that he has something yet to learn. His wealth is estimated at two millions, all of which he has made during the past twenty years, as he failed in 1857, owing to heavy endorsements.

—One of the strange characters of the Irish bar toward the close of the last century was "Bully Egan," so-called from his rough, brow-beating manners. Egan had considerable practice, and specimens of his addresses to the jury show more sound than sense. On one occasion, alluding to the eloquent address of his opponent, a dark-visaged barrister, he begged the jury "not to be carried away by the dark oblivion of a brow." "How can you use such balderdash?" remonstrated his learned friend. "It may be balderdash," replied Egan, "but depend upon it, it will do very well for that jury." On another occasion, having exhausted the usual vocabulary of vituperation, he concluded by describing the defendant as "a most naufragious ruffian." "What in the world do you mean by that?" whispered his astonished junior. "I have no idea," responded Egan, "but I think it sounds well."

OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Spinne, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Sig. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, has developed many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman. I have been enabled to perfect a specific and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, alluded to it as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficacious remedy for the class of diseases, but one, I will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly. I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician, and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations, that I will gladly pay the price of the medicine for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, if it does not cure them, provided the sufferer will comply with the conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exhibit this medicine as a "panacea," but it eliminates, with a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific for all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of chronic diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most exacting expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppression when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not offer this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats infinitely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Sirs: I have prescribed medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine something that we allopathists never do, very loth to do) I tried——and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and was happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 20 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggists. Advertising may succeed in for sing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possesses undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Solidly all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Tanning with Fur On.

Speaking of tanning with fur on, an English writer tells the Country that he has a cat's skin, pliable as kid, free from smell, and the hair still clinging firmly, which, two years ago, was dressed according to the following recipe, which he says is equally safe and unfailing in all such cases: Nail the fresh skin tightly and smoothly against a door, keeping the "skinny side out." Next, with a broad-bladed blunt knife, scrape away all loose pieces of flesh and fat; then rub in much chalk, and be not sparing of labor; when the chalk begins to powder and fall off, take the skin down, fill it with finely-ground alum, wrap closely together, and keep it so in a dry place for two or three days; at the end of that time unfold it, shake out the alum and the work is done.

Wrenched and Racked

By the pangs of rheumatism, the joints eventually become grievously distorted, and some times assume an almost grotesque deformity. To prevent such results by a simple and agreeable means is certainly the part of wisdom. A tendency to rheumatic ailments may be successfully combatted with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine with the prestige of a long and successful career, of unbounded popularity, and of emphatic professional endorsement. It removes from the blood those inflammatory impurities which pathologists assign as the cause of rheumatism, and not only purifies the life current, but enriches it, promoting vigor by fertilizing its source. Digestion, the action of the bowels and the secretion of the bile, are aided by it, and it imparts the kidneys and bladder to a regular and active performance of their functions. It is besides a thoroughly reliable remedy for, and means of preventing, periodic fevers.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility an all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. tu22

My wife had a terrible cough and cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 25 cents.

The East Winds are trying to the throat. Keep Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup at hand to ward off trouble.

Live like a Prince, on $2.50 per day; you can do this now in New York, and on Broadway too, by getting a room, at the Grand Central Hotel, on the European plan for $1 00 per day and upwards, and taking your meals, at their elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices. Or you can choose the American plan at $2.50 or $3.00 per day, which includes both room and meals.

Your Voice is gone and it is because you let that cough run when you might have cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

CONQUER that bronchial affection by the use of Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye. It never fails to give relief even in the most obstinate cases. Order it of C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston.

She was threatened with lung fever, so the doctors said, but a half of a bottle of Dr. A J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup relieved her immediately and in less than a week she was all right.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. cod&winov23

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 1879.

A Free Ballot—No "Federal Bayonets" Wanted.

In the United States court at Charleston, S. C., on Friday, the trial of one Grant and fourteen other democrats for violating the election laws was begun. Eight witnesses for the prosecution testified that on the 11th of last October the republicans of Barnwell county, the scene of the election riots two years ago, attempted to hold a meeting in support of the election of Robert Smalls to Congress; that when the meeting assembled four or five hundred democrats on horseback, in red shirts and fully armed, galloped up, firing pistols, and took possession of the meeting. The chairman was thrown from the stand, and the red-shirt riders rode over the benches on which many of the people were sitting. That after a little order had been restored through the democratic county chairman, the republicans proposed to withdraw and hold a meeting somewhere else, and the democrats would not even allow them to do this, but insisted upon their remaining and dividing the time, which they were compelled to in order to prevent a riot. The witnesses further testified that on account of the manner in which the democrats acted on that occasion, and the threats made afterward, the republicans held no other meetings during the campaign in that county. The result was that a county with fully 2000 republican majority gave a democratic majority of over 4000. Nearly all of these witnesses have been driven away from home, and dare not return.

News and Notes.

Gen. John A. Dix was reported dying in New York on Saturday.

A canoe containing eight men was capsized on Friday while attempting to cross the river near Quebec, and six lives were lost.

Dr. Moses B. Pardee of South Norwalk, Conn., has been expelled from the Fairfield County Medical Association for the heinous crime of consulting with homœopathic physicians, among whom is his wife.

A singular case came before the district court at Attleboro', Mass., the other day. Pascal A. Hardy and Pascal Hardy, Jr., were arraigned, charged with larceny of a horse from Thomas Deveraux. The complainant said that he was driving home from Pawtucket at night, very drunk, and that the defendants, unknown to him, took his horse from the shafts and put in a very inferior one. The defendants said that they, at the urgent solicitation of complainant, traded with him, and that he was not so drunk but that he showed great shrewdness in the trade. A horseman was examined as to the value of the horses, and he said there was no great difference, one being worth about nine shillings, and the other being worth about two dollars, and the defendants were discharged.

The Boston Post says: "The enormous subscription of $190,000,000 for government securities in one bid has surprised foreign capitalists, and they feel a little chagrin at not having secured these desirable investments now that the London market shows such an advance in their market rates. The Maverick bank of this city, which has been such an energetic disseminator of the new four per cents, takes $15,000,000 of this loan."

Of the 240 miners imperilled by the fire-damp explosion in the Agrappe coal pit near Mons, Belgium eighty-nine were rescued on Friday.

Mary Paul, a grand-daughter of the famous privateer, John Paul Jones, lately died in Scotland at the age of seventy-nine years. Her ancestor's name was really John Paul; when he entered the privateering business he added the "Jones."

Mary Ann Carrigan of Newburyport, a servant girl, was arrested Friday for the attempted murder of a fellow-servant at Beverly a few days since, by mixing laudanum with tea.

Olive and Fisher, charged with the murder and burning of Ketchum and Mitchell, were found guilty Thursday at Hastings, Nebraska, of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to prison for life. A new trial was refused.

New Hampshire Items.

The twenty-third annual examination of the State reform school will be held on Thursday, May 1st. Trains up and down will stop opposite the institution that day for the accomodation of visitors.

Charles H. Scott, who has been missing from Manchester, has been heard from.

In the Supreme Court at Concord, in the case of Samuel Head of Hooksett vs. Amoskeag Corporation of Manchester, a suit for damage by flowage of land, the jury Friday returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $335.

The house and farm buildings of James S. Dearborn of South Conway were burned on the night of the 16th inst. Loss $1500; not insured.

Gen. W. S. Pierson, a prominent lawyer of Windsor, Conn., died Friday morning very suddenly at Keene, from congestion of the lungs. He was called there to attend the funeral of his relative D. W. Beckley, who was to be buried Friday, and at whose house he was stopping. He was aged about sixty years.

Chronicle Correspondence.

NEW YORK, April 18th.

Nobody has been more talked about this winter than Mapleson of Her Majesty's Opera Troupe,—Colonel Mapleson as he is called, probably in deference to the American partiality for titles. Certain it is that the prefix of "Her Majesty's" has had a great deal to do with the success of his company. Some people have found fault with him; others have lauded him, but everybody agrees that he has been successful. Let me picture him to you, as not long ago he squeezed his way out through the crowd at a matinee just in front of me. A sturdy, florid Englishman, very nearly six feet; broad and stout, but not the least incommoded or heavy in appearance. Seemingly about fifty years of age—not more I should judge than fifty-five. His brown hair, which he keeps closely cut, is tinged perceptibly with gray; his eyes are a clear blue, his features regular; the toute ensemble expressive of great strength of will—a countenance that would be fine but that the mouth is too compressed—an indication that there is a lack of generosity in his nature. This defect however is somewhat concealed by a short moustache. A pair of brown whiskers give a becoming finish, for his face is somewhat wanting in breadth. But if he is really deficient in generosity, he does not show it in his management, for this has been in all things most liberal. Details have been well looked after; everything has been on a large scale, and the people have appreciated this by an equally generous support.

Close beside Mapleson as he made his way out that afternoon, was his son Charles, (not Henry,) who married Marie Roze. We must not confound them, for Henry is by far the superior of the two. He seems to inherit his father's talent as a manager, while Charles has left rather an unenviable reputation behind him from the fact that his board bill at the Corrett House is still unpaid. The proprietors were obliged to consent to a losing compromise, and accept a doubtful note from the young man. His appearance is very ordinary, as he is small, and his face as meaningless a one as I ever saw.

Now let me give you an account of a visit to the hotel where I called to know something of the future plans of Mme. Gerster. I did not ask to see the prima donna herself, for she was to sing that evening, and I know well enough that a singer does not wish to receive a visitor on the day of a performance. But I was very courteously welcomed by Dr. Gardini, her husband, with whom I had a very pleasant talk. Mme. Gerster is of course delighted with America. She has every reason to be, for her popularity here this winter has been very great. It a quite a mistake to suppose that Dr. Gardini was her teacher. That has been asserted with such confidence that I believed it to be true. But he does not pretend to be anything more than an amateur in music, for he is a doctor of medicine. An Italian of course, as the name would show, and this summer, after the season in London is over, he will retire with Mme. Gerster to Italy, where she will take a rest of two months preparatory to a return here next fall. Dr. Gardini has all the Italian warmth of manner, and is a very approachable and agreeable gentleman. He is of medium height, having dark eyes, side-whiskers and moustache, yet his complexion is by no means so swarthy as is general with Italians; he would pass well enough for an American, though the moment he speaks, his foreign origin becomes evident. His English is however quite intelligible, yet his look was one of decided relief when I informed him that I was acquainted with French. I asked him something in regard to Madame's costumes, but the reply was given with that helplessness by which the average man seems overcome when speaking on so intricate a subject as dress. "She dresses very simply," he said, "very simply"—and then after a pause, as if he wished to convey at least some information, he took hold of the damask curtain, saying, "she has something on her bonnet like that." I concluded he meant a garnet colored ribbon or flower. Mme. Gerster, who has really bewitched New York this season, is quite small and delicate in appearance; somewhat on the brunette order, with dark, lustrous eyes and hair.

Last Sunday, but for the blowing of a cold wind belonging to March rather than April, I should have gone over to the Brooklyn Tabernacle in order to write you my impressions of Brother Talmage. There is yet time, and in my next letter on city gossip I hope to give you a picture of the man and his surroundings.

LUCY CARTER.

A Mackerel Trail.

Some frivolous people at Allentown, Pa., recently, undertook to make the noble sport of fox-chasing odious. Profiting by the unfortunate experience of some of the New York sportsmen who turned their foxes loose and were never able to find them again, the Allentowners let the animal over a trail and then secured him for future use. The hounds were turned out and for some time followed the trail beautifully, but at the very moment when the chase seemed to promise a most successful conclusion, the pack became confused and went off in the most unaccountable directions, as if twenty foxes had divided at that point and gone twenty ways. When this remarkable thing had been investigated it was found that somebody, not understanding the sublime character of the fox-chase, had dragged an odorous and detestable mackerel over the trail, and at the critical point had broken it into a whole lot of trails, so that each hound could have one all to himself. The mackerel trail is not a new idea, but its successful introduction on this occasion suggests a new and economical thing for sportsmen. The mackerel is considerably cheaper than the fox, and not by any means as likely to get away when turned loose.

—A bright little fellow of four, the son of a former pastor of a flourishing church who attends the infant class in Sunday school, received last Sunday morning a card on which were the words, "Pray without ceasing." After his mother had explained the text, he said, "I guess I won't show this to the minister; he prays long enough now."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes so much further and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.

☞ Most of the Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; it costs but 2c. a lb., Cream of Tartar over 40. The Royal Baking Powder is recommended for its wholesomeness by such eminent chemists as Dr. Mott, New York; Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.

☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorates upon exposure to the atmosphere. 110

THE CITY.

The last of the ice in the north millpond broke up on the 16th of April this year; last year the pond was clear of ice on the 15th of March.

The contest over the will of Mrs. Caroline A Merrill was resumed before Surrogate Calvin in New York, Saturday, after a recess of eleven months.

Citizens' meeting in the common council room this evening at eight o'clock, to take measures for joining with Storer Encampment in a proper observance of Memorial day.

Philip H. Kirby of this city and William E. Dunbrack of Hampton were on Saturday discharged from jail, having served out a year's sentence for stealing freight from the Eastern railroad.

During the storm of Friday a good-sized schooner, lumber laden, after vainly trying to work into the lower harbor, succeeded in clawing into a good anchorage at Little Harbor, and rode the gale out in smooth water.

One year ago last Saturday the grass upon the terraces in front of the Rockingham house was mowed. The week of last year corresponding with the past week was pleasant and warm, which the past week very certainly was not. Some of the weather-wise ones predict a cold summer, but we don't believe they know anything about it.

Mr. Samuel K. Batchelder in another column announces that he has purchased a hack, and on and after Wednesday of this week will attend to any calls in the line of a hacking business, promptly and at reasonable rates. Mr. Batchelder is a skillful and careful driver, and we have no doubt will deserve and receive a fair share of the public patronage.

On Saturday evening a saloon keeper of this city was suprised by a visit of a party of ladies to his saloon, in the interests of temperance. The visitors held a service of prayer, singing and exhortations, after which they departed. They were treated with courtesy by the proprietor of the peace, and close attention was paid the services by all present during the ladies' stay.

The schooner L. S. Barnes, before reported ashore on the rocks near Jerry's point, Newcastle, and likely to become a total wreck, went to pieces on the next flood tide after going ashore, and her splinters and cargo of pressed hay were scattered along the beach. The crew report that the captain must have been instantly killed by the blow from the mainboom which knocked him overboard off Cape Porpoise, as the swinging spar struck him with terrific force. The mate and crew, numbering four all told, landed in their own boat, and were hospitably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Meloon of Newcastle. The L. S. Barnes was a vessel of one hundred and one tons register.

A friend in Florida sends us a too brief letter, in which he tells us how seven young men from this city or its immediate vicinity are occupied in that State, as follows: James W. Fitzgerald, captain of steamer T. H. Moore; John Fitzgerald, captain of steamer City of Bridgton; John L. Amazeen, captian of asteamer Hattie; Robert Decker, captain of steamer Oyster Bay; R. L. Fitzgerald, engineer of steamer St. Johns; Eddie Fitzgerald, engineer of steamer Oyster Bay; R. M. Beck, passenger agent. The Portsmouth boys are evidently giving a good account of themselves away down south in Dixie, as they are accustomed to do everywhere.

It was once remarked by an observing man that it was a wise provision of Providence in having the big rivers run by the large towns. But the railways have revolutionized the mode of transmission of heavy merchandise, in their zeal to carry it at low rates. For example, the Boston & Maine railroad, which once paid its stockholders ten per cent in dividends, carries coal from Newburyport via Haverhill to Newmarket for a dollar per ton, and as cheaply as it can be taken by scows from a vessel's side in this harbor to the wharf in Newmarket; and the question, when one considers how cheaply freights are carried by rail in competition with water communication, occurs, "how can the railways continue to make their renewals, pay their large interest and leave anything for stockholders, if vessels competing with them can earn but little over and above the cost of running?"

The sums paid the collectors of this and neighboring ports during the last fiscal year, including salaries, fees, commissions and perquisites of all sorts, were as fellows: A. F. Howard, Portsmouth, $808.13; E. A. Bragdon, York, $265.66; J. W. Sargent, Kennebunk, $302.20; Moses Lowell, Saco, $258.56; Ivory Lord, Saco, $77.03; William H. Huse, Newburyport, $2259.02.

There was a considerable expenditure of sulphurous language regarding the weather, Saturday morning, by pedestrians who had to trudge through the slop and slush made by the snow that had fallen during the previous night, not a few asserting that they "never saw such peculiar weather;" "peculiar" is not really the adjective that was most commonly employed, but we think it looks better in print, so soon after the ending of Lent. But the snow continued to fall quietly all through the day, and at nightfall everything bore a wintry appearance. The season, though more than a month later than that of last spring, is still not the latest that ever was; for according to an exchange "in April, 1874, there were seven days of rain and snow, and five snowy days; two feet, two and one-half inches to lay on the ground; some sleighing; the last snow on the 30th." A Rye farmer informs us that last year his potatoes were up on the 20th of April; this year but few farmers have any in the ground as yet, and the few that are planted would be better off in the cellar.

THE VICINITY.

The new inventory law increases the taxable property of Stratham about $30,000.

Rev. J. R. Bartlett, late of Epping, has been transferred to the Vermont conference.

East Kingston has no church bell, nor any minister, doctor or lawyer resident in the town.

"Pinafore" was given at Exeter one evening last week by a company of local amateurs, and every seat in the hall was taken.

Rev. D. B. Murray, recently at North Hampton, has accepted a called to supply the pulpit of the Christian church at Manchester for three months.

Rev. L. F. McKinney, Grand Master of Odd Fellows of New Hampshire, delivered a lecture in the town hall at Hampton Falls on Friday evening, on the subject of Odd Fellowship.

The young ladies and gentlemen of the Methodist Episcopal church at Eliot will give a theatrical entertainment at Bartlett's opera house on Tuesday evening, April 22d, supported by first-class artists.

The Dover Democrat says that several gentlemen of that city have associated to build there a first-class schooner for the Dover trade and general freighting purposes, and to be named the Charles H. Trickey.

The selectmen of Exeter have appointed C. A. Merrill and A. S. Wetherell, druggists, as town agents for the sale of liquor, and have given notice to all violators of the liquor laws to desist therefrom, if they wish to avoid the legal penalties.

The Exeter News-Letter of last week says: "The most degraded-looking specimen of the professional tramp that ever got into the hands of our police, slept in the lock-up Sunday night last. He hailed from Portsmouth, and has been at the business two years."

On Thursday of last week Mr. P. H. Whitehouse of South Hampton was thrown from a carriage in Amesbury, Mass., by the running away of the horse, but escaped without injury, though Miss Lucy A. Ordway, an elderly lady of Amesbury, who was riding with Mr. White at the time and was also thrown out, was seriously hurt.

Joe Ladd, of Biddeford, a boy sixteen years old, who has picked up a living by selling fruit, cakes, etc., about the streets, recently started out to sell small wares for a Biddeford storekeeper, taking out about $10 worth of goods. He went to Dover, sold the goods for whatever he could get, and then went to Boston on a "bust" with the proceeds. Last week he was sent to the Maine reform school for two years.

A Biddeford boy sixteen years old, the son of a respectable and well-known citizen, was arrested in Haverhill, Mass., last week, for attempting to blackmail a gentleman of Biddeford to the tune of $100. The enterprising youth wrote from Haverhill, signing himself "Morris," and was arrested when he called for an answer to his letter; he was terribly scared when informed that the penalty of his crime is fifteen years in State prison, but he escapes this time, as the gentleman refuses to prosecute on account of the boy's family.

MILITIA NOTES.

On Saturday evening the City Guards held a meeting at their armory for the purpose of electing officers, and Edward F. Hickey was promoted from second lieutenant to first, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Lieut. Lorenzo F. Burnham. First Sergeant Chas. E. Pinder and Second Sergt. Horace W. Gray were complimented with votes for the position of second lieutenant, and John S. Mills was then elected. It was voted that the company, in conjunction with the Heavy Artillery, provide a collation for the officers of the first regiment on their official visit to this city, May 22d.

At the meeting of the officers of the first regiment, held in Manchester on Thursday, the 17th inst., a vote was passed requesting Col. Dillon to confer with Gov. Prescott in regard to changing the time of the spring muster from the second Tuesday in May to Memorial day.

A FLORAL GREETING.

At the Methodist church, on Sunday morning, Rev. Mr. Pitblado arose from a bank of flowers completely surrounding the pulpit, to give out the opening hymn. In the centre a curtain of bright-colored bloom extended from the floor to the gilt-edge of the open bible, resting against a background of evergreen vines. Towering above and enclosing the pulpit, stood a magnificent floral arch fourteen feet high, the apex surmounted by the word "Welcome" wrought in scarlet and white carnations, from the centre of which was suspended a beautiful white dove bearing in its beak a wreath of pansies. On the right stood a large, elegant cross of callas, the centres of these vase-like flowers being filled with heliotropes and carnations; on the left a superb flower piece, four feet high, representing a fountain. The pulpit stairs on either side were guarded by sentinel clumps of exotic fern and palm, banked about at the bases with red and white roses, lilies, verbenas and other beautiful flowers. Massive urns, beautiful in variegated foliage, stood at the head of the aisles, and baskets of trailing vines depended from the gas-brackets on the walls. It was a magnificent floral display, and if the language of flowers means anything, the love of this parish for their eloquent pastor is unbounded.

The reverend gentleman prefaced his sermon with feeling remarks of the cordial co-operation of the society during the past year, and the good results arising therefrom, and predicted even greater blessings in store for them. He then discussed eloquently on the text, "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him." No report, however full, of this sermon would do the gentleman justice, as the manner of its delivery, peculiar to this clergyman, made it doubly impressive and beyond description. The church was thronged at all its services.

THE FAIRDEALER'S "WRECK."

RYE, April 17th.

Mr. Editor: The statements published in the CHRONICLE and the GAZETTE from your Rye correspondent in regard to the schooner "Fairdealer" were correct; and the statements in other papers, that she went ashore at Straw's point, and that the crew of the life-saving station boarded her and were carried off with her when she got afloat, are not true.

The "Fairdealer" did not go ashore at all, but anchored a mile from the shore in six fathoms of water; her crew left the vessel in their own boat, and landed from that, remaining at the life-saving station all night; and when the schooner broke adrift there was no one on board of her, and the life-saving crew had to row four miles before they overhauled her and got aboard, when they ran her into Smutty-nose dock and grounded her, and did not anchor her at all, as they had no anchor that would hold the vessel.

The only error in your correspondent's account was the statement that the schooner lost both her anchors; she only lost one and a part (the stock) of the other—the latter, a small one, being easily dragged after its stock was gone.

R. W. PHILBRICK,
Keeper L. S. Station Seven.

STRUCK OIL.

On Wednesday evening, at Music hall, a play new to this city will be presented, the principal characters being taken by Mr. J. G. Williamson and Miss Maggie Moore. This play, "Struck Oil," has been given by them all over the English-speaking world, with unqualified success, both play and players winning strong commendations from the press. Of the play the New York Herald says: "It is pathetic without being namby-pamby, and funny without being vulgar." The Philadelphia Ledger says that "while there are many pathetic scenes in the play, it is replete with quaint humor and funny situations." The World says that as played by the Williamsons "it is exceptionally attractive both in its humor and its seriousness." Of Mr. and Mrs. Williamson the Detroit Free Press says: "The former is a good dialectician, and he is equally effective in humor and pathos, between which his best scenes are about evenly divided. Mrs. Williamson is one of the most rollicking of soubrettes, a pretty singer, a fascinating dancer, and also an adept in dialect. There is a refined elegance about her performance that adds very sensibly to the satisfaction one derives from the spring-time freshness and the jolly abandon of her style." The New York Evening Post says of Mr. Williamson's John Stofel: "This is a remarkably natural and forcible impersonation, abounding in humor and pathos, and notable for artistic finish and consistency;" and of Mrs. Williamson that as Lizzie Stofel "she is the very incarnation of merry mischief. She sings prettily, dances with skill, and speaks broken English with comical effect." The papers of England, Australia and New Zealand are equally complimentary.

NOT A BIT AMAZED.

The Portsmouth CHRONICLE republishes from our columns the letter of ex-assessor E. O. Foss, and is so amazed at the facts it contains that not a word of comment is ventured. It was a very conclusive statement of an important case, as the CHRONICLE seems to fully realize. —Dover Democrat.

Oh no! The CHRONICLE was not in the least "amazed." We have always known that our city was undervalued, and have annually for several years urged that the assessors put a fair valuation on all property, for three reasons: First, under-valuation, without in any way lightening taxes, makes the per cent of taxation appear much higher than it really is, which has a tendency to keep investors of capital at a distance; second, there is nothing to be gained by under-valuation, that we can see, excepting in the way of avoiding payment of a just share of the State and county taxes, and to attempt such avoidance is not honest; and third, if the object of under-valuation is to dodge the payment of part of the State tax, it don't work.

We believe that honesty in valuation is not only honest, but that it is the best "policy" as well, and have always said so.

FROST vs. YELLOW FEVER.

In answer to a resolution of the House of Representatives, in regard to the breaking out of yellow fever on board the Plymouth, the secretary of the navy on the 11th inst. sent a communication to Speaker Randall, in which (after referring to the reports of the commandant of this navy yard and the captain and surgeon of the ship, which he presented) he said:

The Plymouth was sent to Boston, and again to sea after the close of the winter, with the conviction that she had been sufficiently frozen and fumigated to prevent a recurrence of the disease. * * It seems, however, that such is was not the fact, and the question why it was not is now under investigation. * * It may be assumed to be true that without proper ventilation and cleanliness it will be impossible to keep any ship in a healthy condition on account of the foul air which collects in their holds and necessarily generates some form of disease, and yet it is confidently believed that ours are the best ventilated and cleanest ships in the world. * * Experiments are now being made with several methods of ventilation, some of which promise good results, and they will be continued within the means of the department, until some satisfactory plan shall be discovered. * Possibly if the Plymouth had been exposed to a temperature of cold, and had remained so for a long time, the disease might not have reappeared upon her. As it was, the degree of cold was increased beyond what it would be during an ordinary winter in the latitude of Boston, and was supposed to be sufficient in view of the actual fact that the ship was thoroughly fumigated. * * The Plymouth is now in quarantine, and will remain so until all signs of the fever disappear. Her crew generally remain healthy, and the survivor of the two attacked at sea is convalescing. The further spread on board of her is not at present feared by her officers, although it has been decided that she will not be again sent during the present season into the tropical waters, where, in the opinion of Dr. Woolverton, the disease would be liable to break out again—an opinion which seems to be founded upon the fear that the germ or poison, whatever it is, has not yet been entirely destroyed. If it be true, as he supposes, that this germ or poison has found a lodgment in the decayed timber, then it will become necessary to discover and remove it by substituting sound timber in its place, and prosecuting such miscrocopic tests with the decayed particles as may by possibility lead to a discovery of what the cause of the disease is, and the best method of destroying it.

Capt. William H. Prescott, a New Hampshire Union democratic soldier, has been "bounced" from the Capitol police at Washington under the confederate dispensation. He was appointed through the influence of Congressman Jones, but it appears, well says the Nashua Telegraph, that service in the confederate cause is now the only passport to honor at the national Capitol. That Mississippi editor who recently exclaimed "Yes, thank God, we have captured the Capitol," evidently knew what he was talking about.

The American Journal of the Medical Sciences, for April, is issued by Henry C. Lea, Nos. 706 and 708 Sansom street, Philadelphia. This number of this valuable scientific quarterly is up to the previous numbers in interest and worth to the medical profession; the work has for many years been a standard publication, and steadily increases in value and importance. Subscription price, $5 per year, postage paid.

—In sitting for a picture the person who winks at a camera gets a reply in the negative.

—A pretty girl "out West" told her beau that she was a mind reader. "You don't say so!" he exclaimed: "can you read what's in my mind?" "Yes," said she; "you have it in mind to ask me to be your wife, but you're just a little scared at the idea." Their wedding cards are out.

—The Russian judges in the recently annexed provinces of Turkestan are apt to blunder through ignorance of the language and habits of the people. One Kirgoiz farmer charged another with having burned his rick of wheat, but the defendant claimed that the damage had been done accidentally by him through his having set fire to the house of a Kalamush who had ruined him. "And what about Kalamush and his family?" cried the judge. "All were burned." The judge ordered the defendant to be put in chains and imprisoned till the day of trial. On the trial it was discovered, fortunately for the prisoner, that the Kalamush was none other than the Siberian marmot which does such damage to the crops.

OF COLORADO.

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.

PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.

UNASSESSIBLE.

Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.

The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.

Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT, by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.

The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.

Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. GAZETTE

Established 1756.

$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Eruptions, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Coitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish spots on the face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M.D., Propr. World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

None of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of drugs, crude, and hurtfully ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Disturbed feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. And does not impale the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M.D., Propr. World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes thick, watery, bloody, mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, pricking in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

produces radical cures of the worst case of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of treatment yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried into the nasal passages, and effectually applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been held at the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. E. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JOS. E. FIELDS, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been added as the Faculty, and

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book," (sent post-paid for 50 cents).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousands of these diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, I can stand with at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly. I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician, and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For Conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularity, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exhibit this medicine as a "panacea," but it admirably fulfills a diagnosis of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in The PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of these cases.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried —— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 250 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16th.

The debate in the Senate bids fair to eclipse that in the House on the political aspect of the army bill. Senator Blaine's speech, which Gen. Logan pronounced the best he ever heard in the Senate chamber, from present appearances was but the prelude to a best of campaign documents brought out by this question, for that is what these speeches will be whenever the political committees get together and begin to circulate reading matter among the constituencies. Senators Withers, Wallace and Beck have followed with the democratic argument, and Gen. Logan afterward presented another view of the republican side. Many other Senators are supposed to be loaded with speeches.

It is amusing to hear both sides comment upon the respective orators. The democrats are just as confident that Wallace and Beck have "smashed" the republican idea as the republicans are that Blaine and Logan have fatally "exposed that democratic conspiracy." The real truth as to the merits of each will never be properly understood by the average reader. It is a fact that Mr. Blaine is probably the most popular orator on either side in the Senate, although Mr. Conkling maintains the balance pretty level; but the democrats have many orators who are as logical and profound in their arguments as either of these. Mr. Thurman is one of them. Whether he is to speak on this question or not I have not learned. By the way, his elevation as president pro tempore of the Senate is recorded by his friends as a "starter" in the Presidential race. Mr. Thurman is sixty-six years old, and is vigorous and healthy, thus, his friends say, offering a promising contrast to Mr. Tilden.

The first bill of the session passed and sent to the President was that authorizing the secretary of the treasury to contract for the construction of a refrigerating vessel on the plan of Prof. Gamgee, for disinfecting vessels at southern ports. The House has disposed of it with very little objection. The President will probably sign it at once, and the vessel can be ready for action before the yellow fever season overtakes us. Great reliance is placed upon this plan, and if it is successful the government can afford to expend money liberally for the protection thus provided.

The committee on elections will very shortly present all the cases of contested seats, with the design of having them settled at an earlier day than usual in the session. The other committees of the House are organizing and preparing for work, and notwithstanding the adverse action of the House on the Monday introduction of bills, it looks as though the financial agitators were confident of being able to accomplish their purposes, that of forcing the committees into their service and pushing their pet measures through Congress. The method recommended by Stephens, of Georgia, of introducing bills by petition, will be adopted as a means of defeating the hard-money men who are disposed to block the greenback wheels.

Senator Kellogg has reintroduced the bill of last session providing for a mail contract by steamship lines between New York and New Orleans to Brazil. It will be recollected that the Senate passed this last session, the majority of Senators of both parties taking the ground that it was essential in the interests of our commercial relations and our industries to do something to improve communication with the great South American markets. The House however, refused to pass the bill, under the cry of "subsidy" and the pretence that the bill was for the benefit of John Roach, the eminent ship builder, who is now running a line from New York. Mr. Roach has since withdrawn from the contest, saying that he cannot afford to continue it. The bill, therefore, is to stand or fall upon its merits before members, as nobody is urging it. Since Congress refused to pass it last session, the Canadian government has accepted a proposition to run a line from Halifax to Brazil, paying a liberal subsidy; and the plain fact is that we must do something in that line or lose what little trade we have in that direction.

The success of the bill for the construction of the refrigerating ship to disinfect vessels supposed to be importing yellow fever has induced parties in the southwest to negotiate with Prof. Gamgee for the organization of a company to build another ship to be stationed on the Mississippi river and to make and supply ice to the cities there. The new process bids fair to achieve great success both in a commercial and sanitary way.

The strikers and blackmailers who have made war upon Capt. Eads touching his Mississippi jetties are having a hard time still. The latest reports from New Orleans, official and unofficial, show that the assured channel is twenty-seven feet deep and will be more than thirty feet in a few weeks. What these strikers want is to be bought off with a little of the money that Capt. Eads is to receive from the treasury, but he is too old and shrewd a man to be caught with that kind of chaff.

The post office officials who have been in session for a few days, yesterday took an excursion to Harper's Ferry and thereabouts for enjoyment. They signalized their advent there by singing praises to Old John Brown, but singularly enough on their return they were treated to an entertainment of a different nature. At the Point of Rocks their train stopped at the same time that the up-train from Washington came up. On board the latter train was a negro under arrest for a horrible crime, and a great crowd was in waiting for him. No sooner had he arrived than the mob seized him, dragged him a few yards away, and hanged him to an arm of the sign at the railroad crossing, in full sight of both trains and thousands of people. It is remarked as rather disgraceful to our institutions that such an unlawful and horrible mode of punishment could be possible almost within sound of the Capital. KNOX.

Massachusetts Morals.

It is said that the low state of public morals in Massachusetts has induced several gentlemen to urge Gen. B. F. Butler to become Governor of the State, that abuses in the administration of justice might have a possible chance to be corrected.

Some time ago, an official of the Eastern railroad improperly made way with funds, which he never should have been allowed, with notoriously bad habits, to handle. He was arrested, but soon permitted to go at large, on the promise of restitution. Recently he was again arrested, and surprise was expressed at the officers of justice attempting to have a man held for trial for an offence when it was supposed the peculated funds had been restored. But what a state of affairs for this age, when bank treasurers are always duly reported a defaulters. According to the Massachusetts idea, restitution will compromise the matter and compound the felony; failure to do this will be followed by punishment.

Corporate property in Massachusetts is not a safe investment if this is to be the practice. New Hampshire people are beginning to know this to their cost. It will be better to invest at home even at smaller rates of profit, and bear the burthen of taxes, than to risk the results of Massachusetts management.

Another reason New Hampshire people have for selling their bank and other stocks in Massachusetts corporations is seen in the rule now rigidly enforced, which requires local administration upon the estate of every person who may own shares in any Mass. railroad or bank at the time of his decease. However small the value of the stock, no matter what indemnity is offered, by recent decisions corporations cannot transfer shares of a non-resident stockholder, even if his executor or administrator in New Hampshire may have given bonds to the amount of a million dollars in the penal sum, and the deceased holder may not have owed a dollar; the heirs or representatives must go to Massachusetts, give bonds with local securities, and go though the costs and annoyance of a probate proceeding, before even a share of perhaps worthless stock can be sold. The officers of some of the corporations would like to oblige their stockholders if possible, but quite recently a director in a leading railroad in Massachusetts was oblige to take out letters of administration in that State, to transfer a share of stock owned by a New Hampshire relative whose executor had given bonds in the sum of double the amount of property the deceased had left at her death, and where there were no debts against the estate. Massachusetts is the most difficult place in the United States in this respect for an heir or legal representative to obtain an estate of a deceased non-resident, and the best financiers in New Hampshire have for some time been selling out of Massachusetts banks and railroads and placing their funds either in the government or other loans, or in stocks in their own State. While money is easy, this change goes on unnoticed, but the brokers have long since been familiar with the movement and the cause of its general adoption.

News and Notes.

A young woman of New Milford, Conn., cleaning house for a family on Wednesday, was called away to see her young man, who had come to from a neighboring town. She went away with him long enough to be married, and then returned to finish her work.

It can't be very amusing to be a judge in Kentucky. To illustrate: The Louisville Age says that Judge Biddle a few years back had a bottle thrown at his head while on the bench. Judge Wickliffe found it necessary to shield himself behind his desk in court to escape stray pistol balls. Judge Randall had to abandon court and leave the town of Jackson very expeditiously. And then is noted the higher phase of development—the trusty shot-gun is brought out, and the county judge of Breathitt county is killed.

A fire at Eureka, Nev., Friday night, burned half the town, including the heaviest business houses, hotels and a great number of dwellings. Three hundred families are destitute, and 2000 people are without shelter. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

By a fire and explosion in the Wellington coal mine at Departure bay, British Columbia, on Tuesday of last week, seven white men and seven Chinamen lost their lives.

The steamer Great Republic was totally lost on the bar at Astoria, Oregon, on Friday night, through an error in the reckoning. One account says eight lives were lost, and another that all hands were saved.

Leroy Nichols, a well-known broker of Wall street, New York, committed suicide by taking chloroform on Friday night. Financial embarrassment was the cause.

Mr. John Rogers, a very aged gentleman in Phippsburg, Me., went to his barn, Friday, and attempted to go up a ladder to a high scaffold. As he did so the ladder parted, letting him fall to the barn floor, and when found he was dead.

Lester A. Rose went to Cincinnati some months ago from Detroit, and has since been publishing a Paul Pry sheet called the Sunday News, devoted to scandals. On Saturday it contained an anonymous letter and editorial comments which gave great offence to the family of Ex-Attorney-General Taft, and that evening the sons of Judge Taft went to the office, and finding Rose on the sidewalk the youngest son knocked him down and pounded him severely, while the older brother kept the crowd back and called for fair play. Rose was badly used up, and had to be taken to the hospital in an ambulance. Young Taft, who did the flogging, is a recent graduate of Yale college, and is a very stout, broad-shouldered young man.

Eleven freight cars on the Kansas City branch of the Hannibal & St. Joseph railroad on Saturday morning went through a burning trestle bridge, in spite of all efforts to check the train. The cars were consumed, and one person burned to death.

While C. W. Cummings of Warren Summit was coming down Mount Moosilauke Saturday with a load of logs, the sled went over the side, dragging the horses with it, and falling a distance of fully fifty feet. The horses, both valuable animals, were killed, and Mr. Cummings had a narrow escape himself.

Political.

The Jackson (Miss.) Clarion calls upon its party in Congress to put a stop to pensioning Union soldiers, because this business is "not only a disagreeable reminder of bygones, but a most unfair and iniquitous proceeding. It is a monstrous crime against the peace of the reunited country for its government to pursue a course which will perpetually remind the weaker side that it is to be a beast of burden for the other."

There are fifty-five men in Congress who served in the Union armies, and seventy-seven who served in the confederate armies. Of the fifty-five Union soldiers the democrats elected eight and the republicans forty-seven. In the Senate there are only four Union soldiers, all republicans—Barnside, Kellogg, Logan and Plumb. The democrats have forty-two members of the Senate. Of these not one is a Union soldier, but nineteen—within two of half—are confederate soldiers. The republicans have one hundred and twenty-eight members in the House, of whom forty-seven—or one-third of all—are Union soldiers. The democrats have one hundred and forty-six members of the House, of whom only eight—or only one-eighteenth of all—are Union soldiers. The republicans have not elected a single confederate soldier to either house of Congress, while nearly half of the democratic members in Congress are confederate soldiers and owe their seats to the aid of democratic votes exclusively.

The Charlestown, S. C., News, democratic, says: "The democratic party can win, and must win in 1880, with a candidate who is the defender of the constitution and champion of Union and Public Faith. But if the democrats make up their mind to frame a platform that shall be half western and a half eastern, with a sop for the Ohio idea and a crumb for the national bondholders, they will lose strength at both ends of the line. Mr. Facing-both-ways will not be chosen President in 1880."

Everything that grew out of the war, on its loyal side, acts on the democratic party as does a red rag to a Spanish bull. The democrats in Ohio are in a quandary; having virtually pledged themselves to abolish the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home they want to keep their promise, but are afraid of the effect it will have just at the present time to do so.

—Only one inch of rain fell during the month of March in northern Texas. There is a great deal of suffering among farmers. Some of them have to go five miles to the nearest beer saloon for water. —Galveston News.

—It may be interesting for some people to know that it costs $25 to take a dog across the Atlantic, and that the animal is taken at the owner's risk unless special contract to the contrary is made with the steamship company. The Cunard company will not take them on any terms, however.

—Although John G. Whittier is a bachelor, his name seems to exert a nuptial influence. In his honor a Whittier club was organized in Cincinnati eighteen months ago, and the membership of the club was limited to eighteen—nine men and nine women, all unmarried. Since then one of the gentlemen and one lady have been joined in matrimony, five couples are under engagement and there is hope for the remaining three. It is understood that vacancies in the ranks of this society are in great demand.

THE CITY.

Robbie Shillaber, aged four years, a grandson of B. P. Shillaber, died at the house of the latter in Chelsea, Mass., on Sunday.

On Sunday afternoon two little children of Mr. James R. Morrison, while playing in an upper room, got hold of some matches and managed to set a wood-box on fire. One of the children then went down stairs and asked the father to come up, but he, not knowing that anything was wrong, declined to go until some neighbors who saw smoke coming out of the upper windows gave the alarm, when he went up pretty quick, and easily smothered the incipient conflagration. The wood-box was ruined, and so was a carpet, but no other harm was done.

The Williamsons, who appear at Music hall to-morrow evening in "Struck oil," on Saturday evening last concluded a very successful engagement at the Globe theatre in Boston; they are dramatic artists of no ordinary ability, and the play, while full of fun, affords an opportunity for the display of some very fine acting, and shows not only the versatility of Mr. and Mrs. Williamson as comedians, but also their ability to rise above the ordinary range of dramatic experience and illustrate true feeling and pathos. The New York Tribune says: "Both these actors possess true dramatic faculty, as gentle and kindly in its influence as it is fine in nature. The lady is graceful, simple, piquant and sympathetic. Her voice is soft and pleasant; her vocalism is pretty and neat; her manner is playful; her animal spirits are abundant, and she diffuses laughter, good cheer and contentment. Mr. Williamson was long ago distinguished for his skill and fidelity in dressing and interpreting eccentric character. He surprises his auditors now by the practical insight that he evinces into deep human feeling, and into the condition of disordered reason. He startles them, likewise, by two or three touches of really thrilling pathos, and by the general boldness and vigor of his action upon a plane of imaginative emotion accessible only to artists of a high class."

THE VICINITY.

Lieut. John Dennett, U. S. R. M., of York, has been detached from the revenue cutter Dallas, at Portland, and ordered to the cutter Dexter at Newport, R. I.

The weir which during the latter part of last season occupied a position off Pocohontas point, Gerrish's island, is now being set off Fort McClary. A weir is also being put up near the Cushing place at Little Harbor.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The meeting called to choose a citizens' committee to act in connection with the committee appointed by Storer Encampment for the proper observance of Memorial Day was called to order by Col. William H. Sise, who was elected chairman, and Lewis B. Marden, secretary. A committee of three, consisting of Thomas Entwistle, John H. Locke, Robert E. Rich, was appointed to select a general committee to act in connection with the one chosen by Storer Encampment, and reported the following, which was adopted: Ichabod Goodwin, chairman; William H. Sise, vice chairman; Lewis B. Marden, Samuel Dodge, J. Dwight Rundlett, Jerome C. Butler, Justin V. Hanscom, George H. Perkins, W. Russell Foster, William E. Hadley, F. W. Hilton, John E. Colcord, William O. Sides, Elbridge G. Peirce, Jr., William A. Hodgdon, Robert E. Rich, Michael E. Long, Samuel C. Whittier, Thomas E. O. Marvin, Andrew P. Preston, Edward D. Coffin, John H. Hutchinson, D. Webster Barnabee.

The following sub-committees were appointed:

On Invitations—Sise, Dodge and Colcord.

On Preparations—Rich, Barnabee and Foster.

On Finance—Peirce, Hodgdon, Hilton and Hanscom.

On Decoration of Graves—Long, Perkins and Coffin.

On Programme—Sise, Butler, Rundlett, Hadley and Marvin.

On Printing—Marden and Sides.

On Evening Exercises—Samuel Dodge.

Voted to approve of the action taken by Storer Encampment in engaging the services of the Dover Cornet Band.

Col. J. Horace Kent was unanimously elected Chief Marshal, and a committee of three was appointed to wait upon him and request his acceptance. Col. Kent thanked the gentlemen for the honor, but on account of press of business would have to decline.

Adjourned to meet in two weeks.

DERELICT SCHOONER.

The schooner Julia Clinch, Capt. Maloney, cleared at St. Andrews, New Brunswick, for this port, on the 12th inst., and on Sunday, the 20th inst., the schooner was fallen in with about twenty miles off Boon Island by the steamer Cambridge, Capt. Ingraham, bound from Bangor for Boston, and was boarded; she was found to be waterlogged and deserted, with her sails in tatters, and from the appearance of her decks and the fact that the men's clothing was found on board, it was supposed her crew had been washed overboard during the gale of Friday. On the other hand, a despatch from St. John, N. B., dated April 19th, says: "Schooner Julia Clinch, 131 tons register, struck on Banthom ledge, near St. Andrews, to-day, and became a total loss; crew saved." As it is manifestly impossible that a vessel wrecked at St. Andrews one day should in a water-logged condition drift down to Boon island by the next day, it is evident there is an error in the despatch—perhaps in its date. It is possible that the schooner may have been wrecked and abandoned on the 13th inst., when leaving St. Andrews, instead of on the 19th as stated; this would give her time enough to drift to the place where she was seen by the Cambridge, but that she should find her way so near to her port of destination without a crew on board would be remarkable.

SUPREME COURT.

On the coming in of the court on Monday afternoon, the counsel for George C. Griffin, in suit against the town of Auburn, which was assigned at this time for trial, entered a motion for a continuance based on the ground that the case was an important one, and that counsel requisite to a proper trial had been engaged, but two of them were sick and unable to appear. Affidavits were read, signed by J. F. Barilett and Judge Cross of Manchester, and others. The motion was resisted by Gen. Marston and A. R. Hatch, counsel for the town. This is an action once tried at Portsmouth, and is now upon review; and is a case which will require several days in its trial. Since the counsel in this case have been taken ill, attempts have been made to engage Col. George, Mr. Waulkeigh and Mr. Sulloway, but other engagements have prevented their appearing. The court allowed the case to be continued to the October term. Cross and Burnham for plff.; Hatch, Fellows and Marston for deft.

Motion was made by defendant in No. 179, Nathaniel Bachelder vs. town of Epping, by reason of illness of Mr. Frink. The judge read a letter from Mr. Frink saying he was quite well again. The court postponed the decision of the motion.

The cases on the new docket were called. There have been eighty-nine new actions entered at this term.

No. 117, Haley vs. Colcord, in order for trial on Tuesday forenoon.

A BIG "MEMORANDUM."

NEWMARKET, April 18th.

Mr. Editor: Having seen in the GAZETTE a number of times accounts of persons keeping diaries over long periods, I wish to offer an item in that line, as follows: Mr. David P. Smith of Newmarket has kept a "memoradum," as he calls it, for forty-three years on the 16th of this month, not missing a day in all that time. He is a farmer, and notes all passing events, and everything pertaining to his farm; the state of the weather, the direction of the wind, and where the members of his family are and what they are doing, each day. He has written 2018 pages of large sized foolscap paper. Somebody else may have a record in this direction that will beat Mr. Smith's, but I have not seen any such mentioned in the papers. SUBSCRIBER.

OFFICE HOLDING IN RYE.

A correspondent writes us as follows of the way town offices are served out in Rye:

The Jenness and Drake families of Rye have gobbled all of the offices in town for over thirty years. First Col. Simeon Jenness was selectman, and his son David Jenness (now deceased) was selectman. Emery C. Jenness, a grandson of Col. Simeon, served as town clerk two years, and was selectman two years. David Jenness has been moderator at town meeting at several elections, served two years as selectman, and represented the town in General Court two years; was delegate to the Constitutional Convention in 1876, and was elected town treasurer at the election this spring. Oren Drake, a relative of the Jennesses, was selectman two years, representative in the General Court two years, and is one of the present board of selectmen; and Morris A. Drake, his son, was elected tax collector at town meeting this spring. Joseph Drake, a brother of Oren, has also served the town; been selectman, and was an aspiring candidate for representative to General Court a few years ago, but was beaten at caucus by Nathaniel Marden. John O. Drake, a son of Joseph Drake, was elected superintending school committee, and held the office a year; and at the town election this spring he ran for town clerk, but was defeated by Oren S. Green. Joseph W. Garland, a son-in-law of Mr. Drake, has been selectman and moderator several times, and is one of the prudential committee in one of the school districts; and there are various cousins of the Drakes who are in office, such as surveyors, fence viewers, etc. A. H. Hodgdon, a brother-in-law of Emery C. Jenness, is janitor of the town hall, and policeman. Nearly all the offices in town are controlled and long have been by this 'ring'; they are of course all democrats, have an eye for all the offices, and are considered very successful office-holders.

As a large proportion of the people of Rye belong to the two families named, it is not greatly to wondered at if many of the office-holders belong to them also. And for a town that is so hopelessly democratic as Rye, we believe its affairs have always been reasonably well conducted.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 178.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

In years sometime ago, there were occasionally, at least, more eminent men in the Legislature, who were promoted to higher places of trust afterward, than there have been in times of more recent date. The Legislature of 1836 was a striking example.

The Governor was Isaac Hill, and that was his first year in that office. Charles G. Atherton was Speaker of the House, and he was afterward United States Senator. Ira A. Eastman was a member from Gilmanton. He was afterwards representative in Congress, and a judge of the court. Thomas M. Edwards of Keene was afterwards representative in Congress. George W. Nesmith of Franklin was afterwards judge, and a distinguished jurist.

In the Senate were Noah Martin of Dover and Nathaniel S. Berry of Bristol, both afterwards governors. Ralph Metcalf was secretary of State, afterwards governor.

Besides these there were such able men in the House as Dr. Luther V. Bell of Derry, Thomas E. Sawyer of Dover, Joel Eastman of Conway and others.

Naval Matters.

Advices from Norfolk, Va., of Friday, 18th, say: The Portsmouth, will not drop down until Saturday. The Vandalia is moored just below the Naval Hospital. It is thought now that she will not sail before Monday. The Marion will remain in the dry dock about a week longer and then be all ready for inspection by Commodore Cooper, and his board on the 24th.

Capt. Clark H. Wells has been appointed chief signal officer of the navy vice Commo. J. C. Beaumont, ordered to command Portsmouth navy yard.

Lieut. Comdr. Samuel L. Wilson is ordered to the Ashuelot, on the Asiatic station, to leave per steamer of May 1st.

Too Close Watching.

In Paris the other day a young lady went into one of the great drapery houses to shop with her maid. They kept watchers there, and one of them, making sure he had seen something, presently tapped the young lady on the shoulder and asked her to follow him to the searching room. "You have just put a pair of new gloves in your pocket, mademoiselle; don't deny it." "I know I have," said the young lady, quietly; "and if you will be good enough to look inside them you will see that, as they were bought at another house, they could hardly have been stolen from this." "That was so," as our cousins say. The watcher had simply made a mistake; and he and the whole gang of searchers began to grovel in excuses. "Now," said the lady to her maid, "go to the nearest commissary of police and tell him that the daughter of Prince Orloff requires his protection." It was the very awkwardest of blunders; her father was the Russian Ambassador. The contrite drapery company is offering thousands to hush it up.—English paper.

—Rose Eytinge, who is one of the best dressed women of the stage, has all of her costumes made in this country, and generally under her own supervision. She evidently thinks American fashions as good as foreign ones.

—A queer phase of human nature is illustrated by the fact that the buyers of at least 20,000 tickets in the great French lottery have forgotten all about them. That number of prizes still remain uncalled for, and the most urgent appeals in the newspapers fail to get any response.

Wrenched and Racked

By the pangs of rheumatism, the joints eventually become grievously distorted, and sometimes assume an almost grotesque deformity. To prevent such results by a simple and agreeable means is certainly the part of wisdom. A tendency to rheumatic ailments may be successfully combatted with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine with the prestige of a long and successful career, of unbounded popularity, and of emphatic professional endorsement. It removes from the blood those inflammatory impurities which pathologists assign as the cause of rheumatism, and not only purifies the life current, but enriches it, promoting vigor by fertilizing its source. Digestion, the action of the bowels and the secretion of the bile, are aided by it, and it imparts the kidneys and bladder to a regular and active performance of their functions. It is besides a thoroughly reliable remedy for, and means of preventing, periodic fevers.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility in all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. 1822

My wife had a terrible cough and cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 35 cents.

The East Winds are trying to the throat. Keep Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup at hand to ward off trouble.

Live like a Prince, on $2.50 per day; you can do this now in New York, and on Broadway too, by getting a room, at the Grand Central Hotel, on the European plan for $1.00 per day and upwards, and taking your meals, at their elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices. Or you can choose the American plan at $2.00 or $3.00 per day, which includes both room and meals.

Your Voice is gone and it is because you let that cough run when you might have cured it by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

CONQUER that bronchial affection by the use of Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye. It never fails to give relief even in the most obstinate cases. Order it of C. B. Barrett & Co., 43 North Market Street, Boston.

She was threatened with lung fever, so the doctors said, but a half of a bottle of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup relieved her immediately and in less than a week she was all right.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. eod&wtnov78

Old Times.

A half century ago, a large part of the people of the United States lived in houses unpainted, unplastered, and utterly devoid of adornment. A well-fed fire in the yawning chasm of a huge chimney gave partial warmth to a single room, and it was a common remark that the inmates were roasting one side, while freezing the other; in contrast, a majority of the people of the older States now live in houses that are clapboarded, painted, blinded, and comfortably warmed. Then, the household furniture consisted of a few plain chairs, a plain table, a bedstead made by the village carpenter. Carpets there were none. To-day, few are the homes, in city or country, that do not contain a carpet of some sort, while the average laborer for a week's work may earn enough to enable him to repose at night upon a spring bed.

Fifty years ago, the kitchen "dressers" were set forth with a shining row of pewter plates. The farmer ate with a buck-handled knife and an iron or pewter spoon, but the advancing civilization has sent the plates and spoons to the melting pot, while the knives and forks have given place to nickel or silver plated cutlery.

In those days the utensils for cooking were a dinner-pot, tea-kettle, skillet, Dutch oven, and frying-pan; to-day there is no end of kitchen furniture.

The people of 1830 sat in the evening in the glowing light of a pitch-knot fire, or read their weekly newspapers by the flickering light of a "tallow dip;" now, in city and village, their apartments are bright with the flame of the gas jet or the softer radiance of kerosene. Then, if the fire went out upon the hearth, it was rekindled by a coal from a neighboring hearth, or by flint, steel and tinder. Those who indulged in pipes and cigars could light them only by some hearthstone; to-day we light fire and pipes by the dormant fire-works in the match safe, at a cost of one hundredth of a cent.

In those days we guessed the hour of noon, or ascertained it by the creeping of the sunlight up to the "noon mark" drawn upon the floor; only the well-to-do could afford a clock. To-day, who does not carry a watch? and as for clocks, you may purchase them at wholesale, by the carload, at sixty-two cents apiece.

Fifty years ago, how many dwellings were adorned with pictures? How many are there now that do not display a print, engraving, chromo, or lithograph? How many pianos or parlor organs were there then? Reed organs were not invented till 1840, and now they are in every village.

Some who may read this article will remember that in 1830 the Bible, the almanac, and the few text-books used in school were almost the only volumes of the household. The dictionary was a volume four inches square and an inch and a half in thickness. In some of the country villages a few publication-spoiled men had gathered libraries containing from three to five hundred volumes; in contrast, the public libraries of the present, containing more than ten thousand volumes, have an aggregate of 10,650,000 volumes, not including the Sunday school and private libraries of the country. It is estimated that altogether the number of volumes accessible to the public is not less than 20,000,000! Of Webster's and Worcester's dictionaries, it may be said that enough have been paid used to supply one to every one hundred inhabitants of the United States.—C. C. COFFIN, in Atlantic for May.

The Only Way.

The only way to cure catarrh is by the use of a cleansing and healing lotion, applied to the inflamed and diseased membrane. Snuffs and fumigators, while affording temporary relief, irritate the affected parts and excite a more extended inflammation. Besides, no outward applications alone can cure catarrh. The disease originates in a vitiated state of the blood, and a thorough alterative course of treatment is necessary to remove it from the system. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has long been known as an efficient standard remedy for this disease, but, to insure a radical and permanent cure, it should be used in conjunction with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the best alterative yet discovered. The Discovery cleanses the vitiated blood, while the Catarrh Remedy allays the inflammation and heals the diseased tissues.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Coffee or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, an gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from "Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
"THE LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in the region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Ages does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in pasteboard boxes, or in bulk. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative is indicated, these Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000. BUFFALO AND LONDON

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago, induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged into the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of ONE mind and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms cured within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the care of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Youth's Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Cancer, Tumors in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Strictures, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method, without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-foot, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (Sec pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for those diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it the

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, claimed it out as the chiefest of crowning gems of my medical mercy. It is meritorious, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for the class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly. I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady, I promise it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions from all unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not gold this medicine as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfils a single class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. 14 treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fulness and lassitude. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine something that we alleopathists are very loth to do) I tried——and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully, D. W. GRAY, M. D., Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son, Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is remembered that within five years over 50 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, they have cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in selling a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Joun Adams Dix.

Gen. John A. Dix died in New York city on Monday night, at the age of eighty-one years. Gen. Dix was born in Boscawen, New Hampshire, July 24, 1798. When twenty years of age he entered the United States army, but gave up his commission in 1828, and after studying law was admitted to the bar at New York. He very soon entered actively into politics in the democratic party, and in 1845 was made United States senator, to succeed Silas Wright. He was appointed assistant treasurer of the United States in 1853 at New York, and in 1859 was made postmaster of that city. Gen. Dix was appointed secretary of the treasury in President Buchanan's administration, Howell Cobb of Georgia having resigned his position and joined the confederates, and held the position until March 4th, 1861, when President Lincoln was inaugurated. At this critical period he took a decided stand on the side of the Union, and was appointed major general of the New York militia; on May 16th, 1861, he was appointed to the same position in the volunteer service, and subsequently to the same rank in the regular army. Gen. Dix was appointed to command the department of Maryland, and in 1862 was transferred to Fortress Monroe, commanding the seventh army corps. He was military commandant of New York in 1863 during the "draft riots," and of the department of the east in 1864-5. In the following year he was appointed minister to Paris, but after two years of service he resigned and returned home. The republicans of New York nominated him for governor in 1872, and he was elected by a majority of over fifty thousand votes. In 1874 he was renominated against Tilden, and was defeated by the same majority as that which elected him to his first term.

The Negro Emigration.

The exodus of colored people from the southern States has become a serious matter, though at first it was supposed to be a mere freak of a few, like the Liberian emigration scheme, and that like that it would soon die out. Instead of dying out it appears to be daily increasing in magnitude, and the planters of some of the States in which the negro has been most vigorously deprived of his civil and political rights are now urging that something be done to prevent his taking his labor to other localities. In Mississippi it has been gravely proposed to legislate against the exodus of the colored population, and a convention of prominent men of all parties and colors has been suggested to stem the tide.

A convention of colored men, held in New Orleans to consider the subject of negro emigration from the south, adjourned Monday evening. Mr. Ruby, a prominent colored man, suggested an organized and systematic emigration under leaders. The colored men last year produced $35,000,000 worth of wealth, and now it is proposed to let the white man raise sugar, cotton and rice. It was an organized movement of colonization. Mr. Ruby introduced Mr. Turke, an agent for the Honduras immigration society, who urged colored men to seek that region as one of the most congenial climates to their temperament. Rev. Dr. Newman, in his address, said he did not think the colored people should leave the State until the last minute, and not until the situation had become unendurable, when they should go in a body. Mr. Ruby moved that when the convention adjourn it should adjourn singing "John Brown's body lies mouldering in the grave." It was so ordered, and when the hour arrived for adjournment sine die, three verses of the song were sung. Mr. Blount then delivered the benediction, and the assemblage dispersed.

The refugees continue to arrive in Kansas in large numbers; those who have means at once strike for the unoccupied lands on which to settle, but many of them are utterly destitute, and must be helped or starve. At Topeka, Kansas, Monday night, a large meeting was held to consider what shall be done with the colored immigrants. Gov. St. John presided, and resolutions were adopted asking the citizens to contribute to keep such freedmen as arrive from suffering, and to transport them to localities where they may enjoy the rights and privileges of other citizens; and requesting the chairman to appoint a central freedmen's committee, of which the governor is to be chairman, to receive such contributions of food, money, etc., as the charitable people in all parts of the country shall send for distribution by said committee or its agents, as occasion may require; and this committee shall have authority to devise such other means as the urgency of the occasion and needs of these people shall demand. Over five hundred dollars were subscribed on the spot.

News and Notes.

Dr. John A. Berry of Saco died Sunday night from the effects of cancer. Dr. Berry was the oldest practising physician in that city, having been in practice there for nearly fifty years. He was about seventy years of age, and leaves a wife and two daughters.

All the members of the House of Representatives who went to Washington with bills in their pockets were able to unload on Monday, and there will be no more time wasted in that business. Under the call of States 1385 bills were introduced. Some of them were important, but most of them private bills.

Seven hundred violators of the revenue laws appeared before the United States circuit court at Nashville, Tenn., Monday. One hundred and seventy-five accepted Attorney-General Devens' amnesty, and all the rest will follow suit. A large number of witnesses who had been summoned were dismissed.

Sunday night Thomas R. Baker went into Miss Singleton's groggery in Nashville, Tenn., and treated several persons to beer. Having failed to pay for it, she demanded the money, and on his still refusing locked the door and commenced beating Baker over the head with a billet of wood. Her brother, A. M. Singleton, shot at Baker three times, one ball making a slight wound in his side, when the latter shot Singleton dead. The coroner's jury gave a verdict of justifiable homicide.

A pipe running under East river from the oil refinery at Hunter's point to the Hudson River railroad at 40th street, New York, burst on Sunday, in the middle of the river, throwing quite a jet of oil and water into the air. The oil caught fire, and the surface of the river for a long distance was a mass of flame, endangering the docks, shipping, etc. But finally the fire was extinguished, mainly by the supply being cut off.

The British garrison at Ekowe, South Africa, has been relieved, after desperate fighting with the Zulus.

Four little children, the oldest but five years of age, were at play in Lowell on Monday when they by some means got hold of poison, and two of them soon died in great agony; the other two are very sick, but may recover.

Ten lives were lost by the wreck of the Great Republic steamship, including the first and second officers and boatswain.

Barque Bothalwood, at St. John, N. B., from Rio Janeiro, reports while in that port the captain, mate and three of the crew died of yellow fever. Another seaman died of the same disease on the voyage. The vessel, which was quarantined at St. John, has been inspected and allowed to go in.

The Children's Home fair in Cincinnati, which closed Saturday night, netted over $22,000. The fair was given to pay off a debt of $6500.

On the night of the 17th, horse thieves entered the house of Mr. Foster, near old Fort Kearney, Wyoming, and hung him up by the neck to make him disclose the whereabouts of money he was supposed to have. Foster refused to tell, and was let down. He revived, and was hanged, again still refusing. The thieves took the bedding, $13, and three horses.

Eleven hundred communists paraded the streets of Chicago on Sunday, displaying inflammatory banners. About 400 of them were armed. No disturbance occurred.

At Archibald, Pa., Saturday, James Gallagher was shot dead by William Scott in a quarrel over the ownership of an axe. Scott claims self-defence.

New Hampshire Items.

The dwelling and furniture of Thomas F. Carroll, at Lake Village, were partially destroyed by fire Monday morning. Mr. Carroll and family were away. Fully insured.

Booth and Smith, the gospel temperance workers, completed their part of the work in Farmington, Sunday evening, leaving upward of a thousand signers to the pledge to carry on the work. Nearly every liquor saloon is closed, and the citizens are to continue the meetings until the traffic is destroyed.

E. J. Knee was arraigned at Concord, Monday, on an indictment of manslaughter for killing William B. Murphy last December. The prisoner pleaded guilty and was sentenced to eight years in the State prison.

A young earthquake startled the inhabitants of Barnstead Centre at midnight on Saturday. The house of Mr. John H. Bartlett was so severely shaken that bricks fell from the chimney. The noise was a sharp rumbling that lasted a minute or two.

The selectmen of Tilton have notified the liquors dealers, and apothecaries of that town that they must close their bars.

It is reported that $40,000 belonging to residents of Hopkinton was put into government four per cents, to escape taxation.

One of the most exciting town meetings ever held in Warner came off Wednesday of last week, on the question if an agent for the sale of spiritous liquors should be appointed by the selectmen. The town by a decisive yea and nay vote voted not to appoint.

THE CITY.

Lot of land and buildings thereon, on Islington street, for sale by auction today. See advertisement.

At a recent walking match in Portland Mr. Charles G. Locke of this city was referee, and the Advertiser says: "Mr. Locke, the referee, proved to be the fairest man who ever held the position here."

Messrs. William A. Ashe and Oliver S. Loomis, recently appointed to positions on the navy yard, on Tuesday celebrated the event with a grand chowder, which was enjoyed by a large party of their friends.

Albert F. Nims and Charles Hooper have been drawn as grand jurors, and Oliver Martin as a petit juror, from Walpole, to appear at the Circuit Court of the United States to be held in this city on the 8th day of May.

J. C. Williamson and Maggie Moore at Music hall this evening, in "Struck Oil." Both play and players are highly commended by the press of every place where they have appeared, and they have appeared almost everywhere.

The Western Union Telegraph Company are to establish an office at the Wentworth house. The line, which is to be erected immediately, will lead from the local office in this city, passing thro' the Rockingham house to the Wentworth, and will be so arranged as to be used as a telephone between the two houses when needed.

Grand concert in the Methodist church to-night at 7:30 o'clock. Singing by select quartettes; solos and choruses, by J. M. Foye, Mrs. Neal, and Misses Locke and Prescott; readings by Misses Giddings, Deverson and Varrell; an organ performance by Mrs. Philbrick; and little Miss White will give a violin solo. Single tickets 20 cts.; three for 40 cts.; sold at Pettigrew's and at the door.

The Times of Monday evening says: "Schooner Elizabeth M. Smith, Capt. Raymond, arrived at Spring Hill wharf from Boston, this forenoon, with a full freight of miscellaneous goods for our merchants. Capt. Raymond reports having encountered a heavy sea on his passage, but received no damage to either vessel or freight." The schooner Elizabeth M. Smith dropped across the river on Monday from the navy yard, where she arrived on Thursday of last week.

THE VICINITY.

Gen. Fitz John Porter, who has figured so largely in the papers of late, was a student at Phillips academy at Exeter in 1835, hailing from Alexandria, Va.

The schooners Hattie Lewis and Loella, from Rockland, Me., for Dover with lime, were towed up on Tuesday by the steamer Mystic, as owing to the great quantity of fresh water coming down the Cocheco the current was too strong for them to stem without steam.

The Exeter opera company realized $100, net, from their late performance of "Pinafore" in the town hall. There is a probability that the play will be repeated in about two weeks, and also given at Portsmouth. Some Portsmouth people who heard it here were hearty in its approval, and pronounced it superior to its rendering in that city by several Boston companies.—Exeter Gazette.

Mr. J. T. Albee of Wiscasset, Me., has evidently struck a streak of very bad luck. He was mate of the schooner L. S. Barnes, which was totally wrecked on the rocks off Jerry's point, Newcastle, in the gale of Friday last; and on Sunday night his house at Wiscasset, with all its furniture, was destroyed by fire.

A small house owned and occupied by Gilman Varrell, situated at Foss' beach, Rye, was burned Monday evening at about eight o'clock. There was no one in it when the fire broke out, and the cause of the fire is unknown. The house is said to have been insured to the amount of two hundred dollars. It was not a very valuable building, but its destruction leaves a poor family out of doors.

Mr. Samuel Neal of South Newmarket died very suddenly, early Monday morning, having been in his usual health on Sunday night. He had been a member of the Methodist church for many years, and was for forty years engaged in the timber and lumber trade, being widely known throughout the county. He was a member of the legislature at the time South Newmarket was set off from the parent town, and took an active part in effecting the separation.

In Dover, Monday, Thomas Whiteman, sixteen years old, employed by the Cocheco manufacturing company, stepped his right leg into some machinery and had the bones below the knee badly crushed. The bones have been set, but it is feared that amputation will be necessary.

DEATH OF AN AGED RESIDENT.

Nehemiah Moses, one of our oldest citizens, died at his residence on Court street in this city on Tuesday, after a brief illness, at the age of seventy-nine years.

Mr. Moses was born in the Moses house, on the upper part of Vaughan street, a house now occupied by his sisters, Mrs. Daniel Vaughan and Miss Moses, and one perhaps as long and continuously occupied by one family as any in our city. He learned the trade of a tailor and established himself in business on Market street, and at one time was in copartnership with his brother, John Woodman Moses, under the firm of N. & J. W. Moses, at the corner of Lunt's court, now the site of the store owned by Charles H. Mendum and occupied by Ayers & Locke.

Throughout his life he took a deep interest in politics. He was always what was termed in his day a consistent democrat, firmly and persistently advocating the principles and defending the acts of his party upon all suitable occasions. Under the administration of President Polk he was postmaster of this city, and was appointed by President Peirce as navy agent, which office he held through the Peirce administration and until a successor was appointed after the expiration of his term of office. He was a member (from ward three of this city) of the Constitutional convention which assembled Nov. 6th, 1850, to revise the constitution of the State, in which convention from Portsmouth were Levi Woodbury, Ichabod Bartlett, Ex-Governor Goodwin and the late Chas. W. Brewster.

Mr. Moses was married first to Elizabeth Green by Rev. Sebastian Streeter on the 28th of August, 1823; the surviving son by this marriage is Benjamin Franklin Moses, a graduate of Dartmouth, class of '47, now living at Atlanta, Ga. His first wife died in July, 1837, and on the first of February, 1846, he married Mary Abby, daughter of the late Levi Moses. The four children from this marriage are Wallace R. Moses, living in Florida; Frederick, who was at one time at the south, but is now in this city; and two daughters, one married and living in New Jersey.

He was a member of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., having affiliated with it after Pythagoras Lodge, to which he belonged, surrendered its charter; he was prominent in Pythagoras Lodge, and at one time senior warden of St. John's, but declined any higher position. With one exception (Mr. Wm. A. Vaughan,) we believe he was the oldest Mason in the city. He was also one of the oldest members of the Mechanics' Association, having joined that organization in 1829.

Mr. Moses was one of those gentlemen ever active and constantly on the move, and whose step gave little indication of advanced years. His later days have been passed in the enjoyment of a competency acquired by frugal habits and early industry. He was honorable in his dealings with his fellow men, firm in his convictions of right and wrong, deep in his friendship, and sincere in his views upon religious and political topics. We shall miss him, as one of the natives of old Portsmouth who has walked our streets almost daily for more than three score years and ten, and who has connected the people of our city of to-day, with those of past years, by an unbroken observance of our town and city history for a period of which but few can boast.

A CONTEMPTIBLE ACT.

On Monday evening, while the regular meeting of Old Oaken Bucket Division, Sons of Temperance, was being held in their hall on the corner of Ladd and Market streets, some person sneaked far enough up the stairs to throw a lighted cannon-cracker on the landing just outside the hall door, where it exploded with a loud report. The full merit of this brave and manly exploit will be appreciated when it is known that about thirty of the persons in the hall were females, nearly all of whom were greatly terrified, one of them so as to faint. The ladies wished to immediately dissolve the meeting, but the men refused to allow their meeting to be broken up, and the session was continued, until in a few minutes a second cannon-cracker went off in the same place as the previous one, soon after which the city marshal arrived and extinguished the fire which he found smouldering on the stairs, and the meeting then adjourned.

We refrain from employing the adjectives we should have to use in order to adequately express our sentiments in regard to this most gallant performance; but we will hint to the "liquor element" (that element being credited by public opinion, perhaps unjustly, with firing the crackers, or at least instigating the firing,) that if they are particularly desirous of driving into the ranks of the extreme prohibitionists a very large number of persons not now there—including many men who, while themselves indulging in the use of liquors, are not ready to allow the rum power to dictate as to when and where they and their wives and daughters may meet together socially — that such acts as that of Monday evening are well adapted to that end. The men and women of a temperance society have quite as much right (to put it very mildly) to abstain from drinking intoxicants, and to meet peaceably in their own hall, as the liquor dealers have to sell or the consumers to drink spirits; and public opinion will not ardently support any infringement on such right.

CROSSING THE RIVER.

It will be seen by the advertisement that the river-steamer James Sampson has increased the number of her regular daily trips by two, and now leaves Kittery for this side of the river at quarter-past seven o'clock in the morning, and the navy yard landing for Kittery at half-past seven; in the afternoon she leaves Kittery at 4:30, and this side of the river at five o'clock. There is also a change of time in the Saturday evening trips.

The James Sampson was taken on the beach on Sunday, for slight repairs to her propeller, but was on the route again on Monday. Under the direction of Mr. Stevenson, who has purchased the boat, she is doing a good business, and supplies a want that has long been felt in the accommodation of persons from the navy yard village desirous of coming to Portsmouth. The quickest time yet made from her berth in Kittery to the navy yard landing in Portsmouth is two minutes and a half; the average time required for the trip is six minutes. Persons wishing to visit the navy yard or Kittery will find the boat a great convenience, and its increasing patronage shows that the public are likely to sustain the enterprise and make it permanent.

AN ENTERPRISING VESSEL.

The uneasiness regarding the crew of the schooner Julia Clinch, before reported as seen off Boon island on Sunday, waterlogged and abandoned, has been removed by the arrival of the crew at Portland on Monday evening, where they found their vessel already arrived before them, she having been towed in on Monday by the steamer Katahdin. The crew report that they sailed from St. Andrews, N. B., on the 12th inst., for this port, with a cargo of cedar railway ties owned by J. S. Leighton of Woodstock, N. H. They had a hard passage until Saturday, when the vessel struck on Bantom ledge, near Boothbay, Me., and the gale freshening, the master and crew left her in their boats and landed on Damascove island, where they remained until Monday, when they were taken off by a fishing vessel and carried into Portland. The schooner must have floated off the ledge early on Saturday night, as she had drifted some sixty miles from the ledge at the time she was sighted by the steamer Cambridge. It is not often that an abandoned vessel gets into port in advance of her crew, but this schooner did, and had she been allowed a little more time she would possibly have found her way into this harbor, as she was apparently aware she was bound here, and doing her best to make her port of destination.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, April 21st.

The Ocean Wave, the new hotel which Mr. Henry S. Knox is building at Rye beach, is rapidly approaching completion, and will be ready for the reception of company by the middle of June. The location of this house, about midway between Foss' beach and Wallis' sands, and in close proximity to Concord point, is equal if not superior to that of any hotel on this coast. The view from the cupola is magnificent, both of the sea and land. Directly out to sea are the Isles of Shoals, and to their left Boon island, with its lighthouse. Casting the eye to the south, is seen the entire northern coast of Cape Ann, and with a glass Rockport and other villages are plainly discernable; looking inland, or towards Newburyport, the spires in that city come to view, and from there the whole sea coast is brought in sight, with its beaches, hotels, cottages, etc., to Foss' beach. Eastward is Wallis' sands, the mouth of the Piscataqua and the Kittery and York shore, and Mount Agamenticus shows itself from base to summit. Inland the view is equally grand, and takes in the White mountains, Blue hills, Stratham hill, Greenland, Rye and Portsmouth, etc. The house will have fifty or more eligible rooms, and will accommodate 150 guests. The furniture will be all new, and is now being painted on the spot; it was manufactured in Fisherville. The kitchen will be in a building disconnected from the main house, and the upper portion of it will be used as rooms for the help. A wide piazza is to be built on that portion of the hotel fronting the ocean, and will serve for a promenade and also an attractive place in which to sit and gaze upon the broad Atlantic, with no trees or any other obstruction to an unlimited view. It would seem that with so many attractions, the house can hardly fail of success; and that Mr. Knox and his two sons, who are to be connected with him in its management, will do their best to make it so, no one who knows them can doubt for a moment.

Mr. Straw's point a cottage is being erected for Hon. Dexter Richards of Newport, N. H., on the lot formerly occupied by the Tubbs cottage, which was destroyed by fire during the summer of '77.

There is not much building going on this season in town.

The selectmen were in session on Tuesday, the 15th inst., for the purpose of receiving the inventories, and about one hundred were handed in at that time; since then they have received more, so that at the present time about one half of the whole number are in. So far an increase in the amount of money is shown from last year, but the heavy weights have hung back and do not seem disposed to let the selectmen know how much money they can account for which is subject to taxation.

A ticket of invitation from Sirs T. B. and J. H. Rand, of the St. Cloud hotel, New York, to attend the "Easter Festival and exhibition drill" of Palestine Commandry of Knights Templar, would have been used if circumstances had permitted, but as they did not, the next best thing was a racy and brilliant description of the doings at that grand entertainment by "B. Hill," which he kindly wrote out the next morning and sent us. It accorded in every particular with that given by your New York correspondent, "Duke," in Saturday's issue of the CHRONICLE.

It would seem that Capt. R. W. Philbrick's statement in regard to the schooner Fairdealer ought to be a sufficient answer to the Times' appeal to have some one "decide" that little matter. If not, it is hard to imagine what testimony would be considered as sufficient to prove that the vessel did not go ashore at Straw's point, and that no one was on board of her when she went adrift. When the Times man is ready, in addition to all whom he suggests should take part in the ceremonies, let us quote H. M. S. Pinafore once more, and each of them bring in "his sisters and his cousins and his aunts" to join in the festivities.

NAT.

Charlotte Thompson as Jane Eyre.

From the Chicago Tribune.

The drama of "Jane Eyre" is one which deservedly holds the stage. The dramatic persons are drawn with such firmness of hand, and the heroine is so lovely a combination of strength and beauty of character, that "Jane Eyre" must always appeal to the highest sentiments, and win sympathy from our best moods. The conception of "Jane Eyre" by Miss Charlotte Thompson, displays a loftiness of moral bearing quite unusual upon the stage, and tells a story of something far beyond the mere study or application of a player. To reach, even by constant toil, the heights of heroism in which Charlotte Brontë moved, is a task before which fledglings, both on and off the stage, might essay in vain forever; and that Miss Thompson can reach them, that she can feel with and live in the character of "Jane Eyre," even in fancy, is a feat of moral strength. But her conception is not merely high and pure. Her delineation of the character is worthy the ideal. She is a handsome woman, with dark, expressive eyes, black hair, and stately, graceful figure, a true artist, and of that exquisite sensibility which forbears a movement which might be too pronounced, even in bold delineation. With a sweet, sympathetic, expressive voice, and a manner free from affectation, she presents her heroine as loveable, as tender, and as heroic, as the authoress herself has depicted her. She captivates her audiences immediately, and holds their sympathies with the force and firmness of a great character. "Jane Eyre," with her, is not the whimpering, crushed-out pigmy, with Sunday-school goodness, and a vapid, negative freedom from low desires. She is a brave, well-knit soul, dauntless and conscious of its power; its generosity is that of the conqueror, not of the tract-reading sycophant. She throws a new light upon the character so those who have not already their own ideal derived from the story; to those who have, her conception is so pure, her embodiment so deliciously true to nature, to art, and to that ideal, that the performance is a refreshing novelty. The support, too, is better than we have seen for some time at the Academy.

Miss Thompson will appear at Music Hall on next Monday evening. Reserved seats will be on sale at Dr. Preston's on and after this Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

EASTERN RAILROAD IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Stockholders of the Eastern Rail Road in New Hampshire will be held at Congress Hall on Congress Street, in Portsmouth, N. H., on Tuesday, the sixth day of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for the following purposes:—

I. To receive the Annual Report of the Directors.

II. To elect a Board of Directors for the ensuing year.

III. To transact any other business which may legally come before the meeting.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Apr. 22d, 1879.

NOTICE.

ATTENTION is hereby called to the following extract from Sec. 5, Chapter 17, of the Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

"No person shall throw out any wood or coal ashes, or refuse dirt of any kind into any street, alley, or other public place in the compact part of the city."

Not Deserving of Pity.

Beggared spendthrifts, to whom money has no exchange value but pleasure.

Persons who will persist in dying by inches with dyspepsia and liver diseases, when Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unfailing remedies for these maladies.

Parents who spare the rod and ruin the child. Fast young men and women are generally spoiled children to begin with.

People who suffer from catarrh, when Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is a safe, reliable, and well-tested remedy for this loathsome disease.

People who marry for money, and find too late that the golden glitter is all moonshine.

Women who suffer death every day of their lives, when Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will effectually remove those painful weakness and impart a healthful tone and strength to the whole system.

People who live beyond their means and find that style and pride, like everything else in this world, unless placed upon a secure foundation, are subject to the law of gravitation.

Invalids who do more toward fostering disease, by living and sleeping in the low, unventilated rooms of the ordinary house, than the best medicines can accomplish toward recovery, when at a moderate expense they can secure all the hygienic and sanitary advantages of the Invalid's Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y. Every physician knows how much recovery depends upon good nursing and hygienic conditions of the sick room. Chronic diseases are especially subject to these conditions.

—Mr. Tilden bought New York elevated stock at $80. It sells to-day for $157 a share, with a $5 dividend paid, so he has made $82 for every $80 invested. His profits are put at $1,200,000.

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial diseases are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify the danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

A Life Saved for Fifty Cents! Fact, for he had a terrible racking cough way down on the lungs and one bottle of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup cured it, not dried it up, and removed the cause, and so, a well man, all for fifty cents.

NEW ORLEANS, March 17th, 1879.

The undersigned certifies that he held for collection for account of L. O. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, La., and that the amount was promptly paid by a check on the Louisiana National Bank, on presentation of the ticket at the office of the Company.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday, and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple, or Eruption, Eruptions, Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sores, Eye, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the care of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eclipsed physician's prescriptions. It the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system, and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of clean, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without diet, confinement to a room, or change of clothing. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Pain in Region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, Dose for Dose, Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a single disease coming their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in common wooden boxes, and stale boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The filthy nasal secretions may be handled, or after applied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Douche. This is the only form of treatment yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the Chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which germs are most frequently extant, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in Cabeed" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.

The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streaks, and well defined lodes.

Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the present computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.

The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.

Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 41 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. A Prospectus giving full particulars sent free, on application to the Secretary.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of long standing and peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to produce a much potent and positive remedy for those diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficient remedy for the class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty surpassed before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppression when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exhibit this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a single class of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those afflictions.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Sirs: I have practiced medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried——and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions as the letter said and now I can say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membranes is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 50 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, its kindred cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in for once a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. PRICE 1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

Our "Minister's Wooing."

Once upon a time, very unexpectedly, and very much to its own astonishment, the little village of Ryefield awoke to experience a sensation. For the last thirty and odd years the spiritual affairs of the community had been presided over by the Rev. Dr. Fairfield.

But as somebody pathetically remarks, "to all things comes a change;" and one day, as the good doctor was returning from a pastoral call, his steady-going old horse was suddenly inspired with a crazy notion to run away. The doctor was thrown from his carriage, carried home insensible, and in a few days thereafter, calmly as he had lived, he died; and they carried him out and buried him where the shadow of the cross on the little village church fell daily upon his grave.

It was as his successor Maxwell Grey mounted the pulpit; and immediately from one end of the village to the other every gossip's tongue was set in motion. Never a tea-drinking for the next three months at which his appearance, his manners, and his sayings were not discussed, as it they, and they alone, formed the only topic of consideration. And when it came to be positively asserted, by those who it was supposed ought to know, that he wasn't even "engaged," such a setting of caps as was instituted.

Shelfered in the quiet, childless household of good Deacon Thompson, Mr. Grey had, happily, not even the faintest idea of the controversies extant. And when he met any of the village gears, as he very frequently did, he little suspected that the deferential politeness with which he greeted them, so unaccustomed to them and so habitual to him, could have the least power to thrill them, and set them dreaming, in the way it certainly did.

Like every other place in the wide world, Ryefield had its "aristocracy;" an aristocracy that prided its lf on the blue blood that flowed through its veins. And met the talented, eloquent young minister with enthusiastic welcome, thereby acknowledging his possession of that unmistakable, intangible quality denominated "good breeding."

At the head of the circle stood Squire Willard, who was also one of the pillars of the church; en passant, he sometimes so far forgot himself as to become one of the sleepers.

Naturally enough, young Grey was frequently in business consultations with the Squire, sometimes calling at his house and holding long conversations relative to church interests. And one evening he chanced to go there, leaving Mrs. Thompson perceptibly uneasy in mind.

"That's the third time he's called there within a month!" she said to the deacon. "I do hope he isn't paying attention to Floy."

Her husband looked up in astonishment. "And pray, why, wife?" said he.

"Why not!" she echoed. "Why, what kind of a wife would Floy Willard make? She doesn't know the very first thing about housekeeping; though I can't say it's altogether her fault; she seems clever enough; but her mother always will take the whole charge of everything, so that there's no chance for her to learn even if she wanted to. But as it is, she's just the laziest girl in town. No kind of faculty!" (Like every other New Englander, Mrs. Thompson had great respect for this last.)

Just here the deacon mildly suggested that there was really no necessity for labor in this case, and looked as if he would like to suggest that his wife was meddling with what did not concern her in the least.

But Mrs. Thompson was not thus to be appeased. "No more necessity than in every body's case, I admit," she rejoined; "but I think that everybody should know how to manage, and a minister's wife should, at a house always full of company, and visiting and charity work besides. O, no, she'll never do!" And she inwardly resolved straightway to open Mr. Grey's eyes to the atrocity of Floy Willard's "laziness," and thus, as she said to herself, crush the germs of any passion, or rather "notion," as she termed it, which she feared might be growing in his breast. "For," she added, "when a body takes an interest in another, they do like to see them up and doing."

Most worthy woman! She might have spared herself so much uneasiness had she known that, in all his calls at Willard Place, Mr. Grey had never, oddly enough, been favored with even a glimpse of the young lady in question. In her ignorance of this fact, next morning, at breakfast table, she very ingeniously led the conversation to a discussion of the Willards in general, and Miss Floy in particular; which conversation had the sole effect of inspiring Grey's mind with a strong interest in her behalf, and causing him to wonder what had become of Mrs. Thompson's wonted charity.

Peeping in at the Willard Place not many weeks after this, you would have found the house almost deserted. The door of the wide hall stood wide open, and the low windows that opened from the parlor directly upon the shady veranda were guarded only by the long lace curtains that waved and puffed in the idle summer wind.

Half hidden between the snowy folds, in a huge arm-chair, and curled among its cushions, behold at the moment whereof we write, Miss Florence Willard!

A childish little figure, slender and round; a dainty head, crowned with a rare glory of soft, waving, shining, brown hair; a complexion like a wild rose; great wistful, hazel eyes, and full red lips, with a something almost sorrowful in their soft curves. And more than all these, a certain potent charm and grace of daintness, from the soft lace about the throat to the glittering buckles on the little slippered feet.

Her father had that day betaken himself to the city, twenty miles distant, on business cares intent. Her mother had accompanied him on a shopping raid. The last remaining servant had discovered that another of her relatives had shuffled off this mortal coil; and her presence being, of course, imperative at the sad scene, she had obtained leave of absence till all the solemn ceremonials of the wake should have been enacted. And thus it happened the Floy was left in sole dominion of the household realm, (an unprecedented occurrence, by the way,) and with only one companion to her solitude—her little sister Rose, aged five years.

She had evidently been making an attempt at work, for her wicker workstand stood beside her, gay with its tangle of silks, and in her lap nestled a tiny golden thimble. Wearied with the actual accomplishment of a whole square inch of satin stitch, she had sought relief in Longfellow, and having followed faithful Evangeline through to the sad end of her journeyings, she was meditating upon the feasibility of a nap in the arm chair.

The white lids drooped softly, and the brown eyes turned to behold the visions of dreamland. Suddenly, with a start, they opened wide, and there, right in her very lap, sat an imprudent little gray kitten, its round, wise eyes fixed wonderingly upon her own.

In her idle mood even this was a diversion; and fondling and teasing it, the next object that arrested her attention was a miniature cradle, where in nightly reposed Rose's favorite doll; Rose having taken quick advantage of the mother's absence to transfer her playthings to the parlor. The clothing of said cradle was now in disarray, from the hasty withdrawal of its occupant. Floy surveyed it meditatively for a moment, then, struck with a bright idea, crossed the room, and sat down on the floor beside the cradle.

Searching, she soon brought forth a cap and gown of doll's dimensions, and proceeded to array the kitten therewith. But the kitten was contumacious, and instead of quietly acquiescing in the proceedings, obstinately persisted in twisting, curling and screwing, varying the performance with an occasional scratch, which almost had the effect of procuring its release. Not quite, however, for after a severe and prolonged struggle with the obdurate feline, Floy had at length the supreme satisfaction of seeing the rebellious arms poking demurely from the sleeves, and the cap tied securely over the little pointed ears. This grand achievement had the immediate effect of inciting her to still greater efforts; and she conceived the startling project of compelling her refractory charge to take a nap in the cradle, clothed in the same habiliments. Success crowned her efforts. Bending over the cradle and softly rocking it, her whole attention was absorbed in watching the sleeping kitten, when she was startled by the voice of Rose in the doorway:

She saw at a glance that he comprehended it all. For a moment quick blushes burned her cheeks; then, with a great effort, she summoned self-possession enough to reply to his easy self-introduction. She had barely recovered herself, when the kitten, awakened perhaps by the sound of voices, jumped from the cradle, and, frightened and impeded by its unusual incumbrances, forthwith proceeded to execute a series of evolutions which nothing but a half frantic kitten could by any possibility accomplish; alternately bounding, tripping, and rolling over, and interspersing the performance with screeches of feline agony and fright, and at last disappearing through the doorway like some strange meteor.

Local Self-Government.

The average democrat can yelp a little louder about the sacredness of "local self-government" than about any other one thing. The city of Cincinnati has a democratic police justice, but the republicans having carried the city at the last election, the board of public works came under republican control. Now the democratic senate of Ohio, in its zeal for the preservation of local self-government, has passed a bill abolishing the board of works elected by the people, and vesting the appointment of a new board in the democratic police justice!

News and Notes.

J. Murphy stabbed saloon keeper Hart nine times and J. Barlow twice in a fight near Chillicothe, Ohio, Sunday night, April 20th. Both are dead.

M. B. Coleman of Bangor, while crossing the bridge over the Little Androscoggin at Auburn, was attacked by three roughs, and in defending himself one fired a pistol, inflicting a slight wound in his side, when they took his wallet with $35. The wallet was found near by next day. A party was arrested on suspicion.

Everything so far indicates that the peach crop on the Maryland and Delaware peninsula will be unprecedented this year, both as to quality and quantity.

The inquest at Baltimore in the case of James Carrol, colored, lynched for outrage on Mrs. Thomas, rendered a verdict that his death was caused by persons unknown.

A H. Grimke, Esq., a colored lawyer of Boston, was married April 19th to Miss Sarah E. Stanley, the daughter of an Episcopal clergyman in Wisconsin. Rev. C. A. Bartol officiated at the ceremony. Mr. Grimke was released from slavery by the emancipation proclamation, and is a graduate of Lincoln university, Pennsylvania, and of the Harvard law-school.

The body of a girl named Ella Ryder, tied hand and foot, was found in the Missouri river at Independence, Mo., on Sunday, April 20th. The supposition is that her father threw her in the river and then killed himself, because she persisted in keeping the company of a disreputable man named Todd.

The prospects for a second beet sugar factory in New England, at Northampton, Mass., are so good that three hundred tons of beet seed have been telegraphed for from Europe to be sown this season. Over 300 acres of beets will be raised in and around Northampton.

The city authorities of Portland have made a seizure of liquors in a club room, which is in contravention of law as enunciated by Judge Peters. This will probably be a test case, although the fact that the room was under a hotel may be an important element, removing this from ordinary cases of club rooms.

Revenue officers on the 21st inst. destroyed the largest illicit distillery ever discovered in the New Jersey district. It was under the palisade above Fort Lee.

The board of finance and taxation of Jersey City have decided to reduce the salary lists of the city $197,000. The board also decided to reduce all appropriations and fund the floating debt.

In the supreme court at Hudson, N. Y., the jury rendered a verdict of $6250 and extra allowance against the Boston & Albany railroad in favor of Olney L. Carpenter, maimed for life last January, being hit by a mail bag being thrown from the train.

A disease is prevalent all through Vermont among early spring pigs, which proves fatal in almost every instance.

John B. Pearce, Postmaster at Bristol, R. I., was shot in the head while in bed at his residence about five o'clock in the morning, April 22d, the pistol ball entering near the right eye. The circumstances attending the shooting are involved in mystery, as nobody but himself and wife were in the house. The pistol was found in the bed. Pearce says it belongs to him, but that he had not seen it for a long time. He says he was asleep and was awakened by the flow of blood, when he sprang from the bed and went to the dining room, where he was found by the neighbors who came in, alarmed by the outcry. The wife then expressed her terror at the deed, but since declines to make any statement for publication. Opinion in the town is divided, but the theory of attempted suicide is generally accepted. Pearce recently had trouble about a girl, which is not yet settled. The wound will not prove fatal unless inflammation sets in.

Mr. Bret Harte has just given a lecture in Brighton, England. At its conclusion he was presented with an illuminated address from the principal members of the local press. The mayor entertained him at luncheon, and the aldermen of the borough were invited to meet him.

A trustworthy statistician reports that during the first month of the extra session democratic orators "flung down the gage of battle" fifty-seven times.

New Hampshire Items.

The Landaff Gold Mining Company, which erected a large mill and put in costly machinery on the Ammonoosuc river in the northern part of Bath last fall, commenced running again April 21st. The capacity of the mill is about ten tons of ore daily, the ore being taken from the old Dodge mine in Lisbon, which essays from $12 to $15 per ton. The company claim that they can mine, haul and crush complete for $4 a ton. They expect soon to double the capacity of the mill. The company is composed of St. Louis and Newburyport, Mass., parties.

The liquor sellers of Franklin, it is said, are cursing courts in general, and spotters in particular, indictments having been found against all, irrespective of race, color or condition.

The inventory law passed by the last legislature will unearth at least $50,000 interest money in Hanover, which creates a more favorable feeling for the law, the main point being to have it simplified at the next session, so as to be more easily comprehended by the tax-payers. In Lebanon $100,000 in interest money has been discovered, which has heretofore escaped taxation. Enfield shows an increase of over $25,000, while other towns in that locality show such an increase as to create favor for the bill where before disfavor was strongly prevalent. The aggregate in the State, according to returns, must be enormous.

Naval Matters.

The United States steamer Vandalia left Norfolk, Va., April 21st, for Aspinwall. The only intended stop before reaching her destitution will be for a day or two at Kingston, Jamaica. The stay at Aspinwall will probably be brief, and the return cruise will be marked by a number of stoppages. There was a good state of health among officers and men at starting.

THE CITY.

Fresh mackerel, caught off Sandy Hook, are now for sale in the markets in this city.

The high school commences at eight o'clock on and after this (Thursday) morning, instead of at half-past eight as heretofore.

At a meeting of the directors of the Eastern railroad, held in Boston on the 22d inst., the resignation of Gen. A. P. Rockwell as president was accepted, to take effect June 1st.

Mr. Walter E. H. Fentress, for some years past secretary to the commandant of the navy yard, retres from that position, Commodore Beaumont bringing a secretary with him.

The steamship Alaska, on which Commander Mortimer L. Johnson of this city sailed from San Francisco on the 6th of March for Hong-Kong to take command of the U. S. S. Ashuelot, has put into the Sandwich islands for repairs.

Nine schooners arrived at this port on Wednesday, the 23d inst., a greater number than has come in for a long time past in one day. Four schooners sailed on the same day, including the Active, this being her first trip this season.

A good proportion of the liquor dealers of the city openly denounce the contemptible and silly act of disturbing the Sons of Temperance meeting with cannon-crackers. It would not take a great number of similar acts to tran-form several of the dealers into rigid prohibitionists.

Judge Lowell, in the case of Dr. Hackett against the Eastern railroad, decides that if the plaintiff will scale down his verdict to $30,000, or in other words will knock off $9,501.81, he may have judgment, and collect if he can; otherwise a new trial will be ordered. Thirty days are allowed the plaintiff in which to consider the matter.

The quantity of saw-logs brought to Mason's steam mill this year is almost double that of last season, and the logs are much larger. Last year most of the logs came from the vicinity of Sagamore creek; this year they come from up the river. Last year the logs were owned by a few persons, each of whom had large lots; this year there are many owners, the lots being generally quite small.

The Williamsons played "Struck oil" at Music hall on Wednesday evening, the 23d inst., to a small audience. The play is very much better than the average, there being plenty of fun and many pathetic touches in it, and not a hint of anything indelicate; and the Williamsons are very much better than the average, too. The entertainment was one of the most pleasing ones given here this season.

The lecture (by Rev. Henry Morgan) and sacred concert on Sunday evening next at Music hall, with the popular prices, bids fair to make it one of the events of the season. In other places where Mr. Morgan has lectured people have been unable to get in on account of the crowds that filled the largest halls; and the additional attraction of music with the array of talent that is announced, will probably make standing room the only accommodation for late comers unless they have secured seats.

THE VICINITY.

A new lodge of the Knights of Pythias is to be organized in Kennebunk next week.

The people of Dover are moving in the matter of securing the holding of the State fair in that city.

Mr. Ezra Barker, the well known fruit-raiser and nursery-man of Stratham, says that the indications point to a very large crop of peaches in this vicinity this season.

A fire occurred at the steam grist mill of L. S. Johnson & Co., in Exeter, on the morning of the 23d inst., caused by the bursting of one or more sections of a sectional boiler, the steam bursting open the furnace doors and blowing the coals on the floor. The greatest expense will be in the repairing of the boiler, although the wood is considerable burned.

Miss Mary E. Hayes, a public school teacher in Newburyport for seven years, died on Tuesday morning of this week after a brief illness, aged thirty-six. She was a native of Dover, and sister-in-law of William H. Huse of the Newburyport Herald.

The horse attached to the candy cart of Briggs Brothers, of Portland, ran away in Biddeford on Tuesday of this week, and made a liberal distribution of sweets among the urchins on the street, besides running into and starting off several other teams, breaking one shaft of one wagon and both shafts of another, and making a lively time generally.

A girl named Bartol, only sixteen years of age, who ran away two weeks ago from a comfortable home at Cape Elizabeth, Maine, accompanied by a man thirty-five years of age, has been found at Kittery point by her paternal parent, where she was lovingly ensconced with her paramour. She has been taken back to her home, closely followed by the fellow, who claims that they are now married, though he can not exhibit a voucher.—Times.

As Mrs. Jacob Langmaid of Durham, a lady about thirty-five years old, was walking upon the track of the Boston & Maine railroad a short distance from Newmarket, on the afternoon of April 22d, she was struck by an express train from Portland and instantly killed. Every possible means was taken to warn her, but in vain. She was taken to the depot, and recognized by friends. She leaves a husband and one son.

For years it has been the custom of the railroads to carry passengers from Saco to Biddeford and vice versa, without charge, but the courtesy has been abused to such an extent that fare is now demanded—five cents if tickets are purchased at the stations, and twenty if the fare is paid in the cars. This course is taken to protect the paying passengers of the road from jostling and insult, it having been the custom for a year past for crowds of young people to take possession of trains as soon as they stopped, and gobble up every seat.

THE NEW DOVER AND ELIOT ROAD.

The New Hampshire grantees incorporated to build a bridge over the river between New Hampshire and Maine, to connect with a proposed highway from Dover to Eliot, York, etc., held a meeting in Dover on the 21st inst., to organize. Col. John Bracewell of Dover was chosen chairman, and Thomas Appleton of Dover clerk. The meeting then adjourned to Paul's hotel in South Berwick, to meet the grantees for the same purpose in Maine. Mr. Bracewell was also chosen chairman of that meeting, and John Simpson of South Berwick was chosen clerk. It was voted to choose a committee to take into consideration the whole purposes of the company, the amount of capital stock, the number and par value of the shares, the form of subscriptions and times of payment, the cost of the new bridge and what officers it may be expedient to choose, etc., and report at an adjourned meeting to be held in Dover on the 22d,—at which the committee reported as follows: The capital stock of the company shall consist of one hundred and sixty shares of the par value of $50 each, the directors to have power to increase the number of shares to two hundred if necessary; the capital stock may be still further increased by a two-thirds vote of the shareholders, but no assessments on subscriptions to be levied until a public road shall have been laid out from a specified point in Dover to the bridge. The report was adopted, and a committee of seven appointed to solicit subscriptions to the stock.

SUPREME COURT.

John T. G. Haley vs. Thomas K. Collcord; trespass, involving the question of a right of way from defendant's meadow across plaintiff's field to the highway. Jury drawn, and viewed the premises. Leavitt for plf.; Hatch for deft.

The equity suit, William H. Rollins, adm'r of Arabella Rice vs. George S. Rice et als., residuary legatees under the will of Arabella Rice, was heard before the court. Rollins, pro se.; Goodall and Geo. B. Upham of Boston for legatees.

Emil Grosser of Salem vs. Margaret S. Grosser; libel for divorce. Morrison & Bartlett for plf.; G. C. Bartlett for deft. Decision reserved.

HOTEL NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Mr. Joseph C. Perkins, the well-known hotel keeper who formerly for several years was proprietor of the City hotel and Franklin house in this city, has again entered into that business, having purchased the property Nos. 1854 and 1856 Washington street, Boston, opposite the Washington market, and also the Delavan house, No. 29 Boylston street. He has at a large expense fitted both places up in the best style, leaving nothing undone that could be suggested for the comfort of guests. The "Hotel New Hampshire," as the Washington street house is named, contains over fifty rooms, which will be let singly or en suite; hot and cold water, clothes presses, bureaus, etc., in each room; the house is heated by steam, and has bath rooms and closets on each floor. The Delevan house, which is near the centre of the business portion of Boston, has been thoroughly renovated and refurnished, and is now second to no similar establishment in the city; the first and second floors are fitted up as cafes for ladies and gentlemen, there being several private dining rooms on the second floor; the third and fourth floors are taken up with convenient and comfortable lodging rooms. Portsmouth people and others who were guests of Mr. Perkins when he kept hotel in this city will not need any assurance that at his Boston establishments they will find every attention, good meals served promptly and in the best manner, and reasonable rates.

Miss Charlotte Thompson.

On next Monday evening Miss Charlotte Thompson will appear at Music Hall as "Jane Eyre" in the drama of that name. The Cleveland Plaindealer says of Miss Thompson's performance of "Jane Eyre":

She presented last evening the character of "Jane Eyre," a dramatization from Charlotte Bronte's novel of the same title. Very few books of fiction written in modern times have been so generally read as has this one. It is a difficult task at the best to condense the substance of a book so full of interesting and exciting incidents as are found in "Jane Eyre;" but the work has been skillfully done in this case, and we have a beautiful as well as a strong and effective play. In the personation of the leading role Miss Thompson has created a character that for perfectness in symmetry, dramatic force and power, and the most delicate treatment in its minutest details, is a work of genius and art that has few equals on the American stage. When we first saw her portrayal of this character some years ago, we thought it about as near perfection as it could be, but with a closer study and the intelligence to discover any little defects, if there should be any seen, and the ability to apply the remedy wherever found, we have a creation that may be ranked first among the beautiful portraitures on the dramatic stage. She is now the complete embodiment of the ideal character that the author conceived and depicted so strongly and effectively in her story. The different phases in the life of "Jane Eyre" were presented with a faithfulness to nature that gave to them more the characteristics of absolute realism than of mimic show. Possessed of a pleasant voice, toned and modulated to the requirements of the immediate situation, graceful and correct in gestures and with a charming personal appearance, she wins and maintains the closest and enthusiastic attention of her auditors from the first scene to the grand climax. Whether words were uttered or not, the magnetism of her movements, the very look of her eyes, have such a depth of meaning that their purport is clearly and readily understood; these are among the chief attributes of a true actress. As the poor, abused orphan girl, never hearing a word of kindness spoken, full of natural wilifulness, or as the mature woman, Miss Thompson was equally successful in personation. It was an even, consistent and intelligent rendition, and the control that she holds over her listeners was manifested by the closest attention, which was only broken when the scene was finished, and a burst of applause greeted her. She was called before the curtain at the close of nearly every act. The character of "Lord Rochester" is a very difficult one to portray, but Mr. W. H. Cooper succeeded admirably. The other members in the principal parts did excellently.

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial diseases are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

Probsteier Oats.

After several years' trial of the common White, Norway, Surprise and Probsteier, on different soils, this variety has invariably given greater returns than any other except the Norway. The objection to the Norway was its color, which to us was of no account, but when for sale was made an objection. This season entirely from prejudice. It was a noble variety, and gave me over 100 bushels per acre—in fact, the heaviest crop ever grown on the farm. Some said horses would not eat them as rapidly as white ones, but I found this a mistaken notion. Like every other variety of grain, it needed renewal of the seed. New seed should be procured every second or third year at most, besides using great care in selection. The Surprise was a fine oat, very plump and heavy, but the number of bushels grown per acre was less than of either of the three other varieties tried. Everything considered, I found the Probsteier the best, and so have continued its use, occasionally renewing the seed. Great pains are taken in selecting and grading all seed grain so that none but the heaviest kernels are sown. Its growth is large, strong, not liable to lodge, wide leaves, making choice fodder if early cut, and it is ready to cut as soon as the wheat crop is secured. In favorable seasons it gives thirty-six to forty pounds per bushel, and fifty to sixty bushels per acre. — Cor. Country Gentleman.

—A touching story is told of a little New Haven child, who, having received a "reward of merit" card from her teacher, held it up to the sky all the way home, that her dead father might see how good she had been.

—It is a month devoted to and by the immortal gods set apart for weather, and sometimes in a good April, that understands it business and can get up and bristle around, there are eight kinds of climate in one day.—Burlington Hawk-Eye.

—At a table a lady asserted with a good deal of vehemence that she never ate pastry. "What, never?" exclaimed a gentleman at her side, expecting, of course, the usual reply. Judge of his surprise when she remarked, quietly, and utterly innocent of any knowledge of "Paradore," "Well, sometimes."

—General Grant is not a champion billiard player. The Maharajah of Jaypore, who is an enthusiastic player, wanted to have a game with the General, who gratified him. A correspondent thus describes the game: "The General played in an indiscriminate, promiscuous manner, and made some wonderful shots in the way of missing balls he intended to strike. Mr. Borie, whose interest in the General's fortune extends to billiards, began to deplore those eccentric experiments, when the General said that he had not played billiards for thirty years. The Maharajah tried to beat the game, and said to one of his attendants that he was anxious to show the General that delicate mark of hospitality. But I can not imagine a more difficult task than for one in full practice at billiards to lose a game to General Grant. The game ended, His Highness winning by more points than I am willing to print for the gratification of the General's enimies."

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago formed several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed, and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following named Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. E. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.00 or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Those requiring operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Hare-lip, Tumors, Tumors in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cancer, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method, without cutting, Cataract, Tumors, Cancers, Crooked Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to females, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for those diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

This term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special cases invited to the organism of woman, single it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, and efficient remedy for a definite class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most exalted expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it, I pay of the admiration for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppression when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not claim that this medicine is a "cure-all," but it undoubtedly fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practiced medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used every thing in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathics are very loth to do) I tried ——— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and can now say I have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases simulate consumption, are caused by Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until that system has been brought properly and under the influence of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is remembered that statements made within five years over 250 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed to a great extent for a few years, but, unless the remedy possesses undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

JOHN P. SWEETSER,

46 Market Street,

PORTSMOUTH

Daily Chronicle.

Concluded from yesterday.

Our "Minister's Wooing."

Poor Floy surveyed it in solemn silence; then raised her eyes with such a comical expression of distress that, to save himself, Grey could not refrain from a hearty laugh. Somehow this laugh set her at ease; it was so much easier to bear than his quizzical, half-satisfied smile. She caught the infection and joined with him, half shyly, in a low, little laugh at her own detection.

"I was so lonesome," she said, almost apologetically, "and the kitten came and jumped into my lap." Then, carelessly dismissing the subject, and resolving to atone for her apparent childishness, she exerted herself to the utmost, bringing out every lurking charm and grace of speech and manner, and assuming a very new-toned dignity, which yet sat piquantly upon her.

The afternoon fled on swift wings. Five o'clock chimed from the mantel, and suddenly upon her peace of mind protruded the horrible idea of supper. She had invited him to tarry, supposing that her father would have arrived ere this; but the time for the arrival of the train had gone by, and still he had not come. But the supper was a ceremony which, unfortunately, could not be dispensed with in her experience, a subject that troubled her deeply. And then horrible thought! suppose there shouldn't happen to be anything "good" in the house! She resolved to know the worst, and, excusing herself, set out upon an exploring expedition to the unknown regions of the pantry. A prolonged search through every box and drawer discovered, to her unspeakable comfort, that, although there was an abundance of cakes and sweets of every description, not a single article of bread or biscuit was to be found. She could be no punishment to herself to be obliged to sup on these, but with "company to tea," what was she to do? She sat down almost in despair to have a real good "think" about it, and he recollections at which she arrived were very satisfactory.

With a face lightened, she flew around, and soon from its hiding-place came forth a snowy apron, to be tied tidily around the lithe waist; then the sleeves were pushed up from the round arms, and with somebody's most approved cook book as a guide, she courageously set to work. And after various difficulties and discouragements, and triumphantly surmounted, was busily shaping a "batch" of soft, white dough into the most entrancing little biscuits imaginable. When in due time they came forth from the oven, the very ne plus ultra of flowery compositions, dainty, round and fair, she could have found it in her heart fairly to dance for joy. When seated opposite Mr. Grey, at the nicely spread table, she modestly handed them to him, but did not call a the curious glance he fixed upon her. He was mentally reviewing the comments upon her housekeeping qualities, with which Mrs. Thompson had favored him, wondering if that lady had ever eaten any of her biscuits, and thinking that, after all, it was possible that she hadn't made them, when his teeth came sharply against something hard in the one he was then devouring, and quietly drawing it forth, he discovered Floy's ring. Glancing at her hand, he saw that it was bare, and Floy, catching the direction of his eyes, suddenly held up the taper member with a look of dismay. "My ring!" she cried. "I have lost my ring!" And with a full knowledge of all the trouble and anxiety which she would undergo, what could he mean by slipping it into his vest pocket without a word? And he a minister!

However, the supper came to an end, as all good things will, and the minister took his leave. Walking home slowly through the moonlight, with his mind filled with its late sweet vision, he came to conclusions very different from those of the deacon's wife; thinking of the world of talent and sweetness lying dormant, waiting on the touch of an awaking hand, and very willing to undertake the sweet task.

And thus it was that, walking in one morning, (on business, of course,) and finding Floy idly conning an old romance for want of some better employment, he opened to her eyes a living page in a sad history that he had just discovered. It was the old story of a self-willed marriage, and consequent desertion, poverty and distress.

"Would Miss Willard have the kindness to visit her? She might do much by a few kind words. The woman was delicate and refined, and sympathy would not be thrown away." Floy's eager eyes attested her interest, and that very day the call was made. She came back eloquent with pity, and desiring to give some substantial token of it, one of her first acts was a shy request to her mother to teach her how to make "something nice" wherewith to tempt the invalid's appetite.

And so, ere many weeks, there were no more days lounged away in the library, or spent in idly dreaming in the bow-window arm-chair. The quick fingers became skilled in needle-craft, and many a poor cottager blest them as they bestowed the gifts of their own shaping, and called down benedictions upon the sweet face that brought joy and sunshine with it.

It happened that many times they met at the bedside of the sick and dying, the earnest minister and the fair young girl; and daily did he note her growth in sweetness, and deep underlying reverence; lost in wonder sometimes at her utter unselfishness. And she, enjoying to the full her new companionship, and mentally placing him in just niche of her heart which she was wont to fill with

Probsteier Oats.

After several years' trial of the common White, Norway, Surprise and Probsteier, on different soils, this variety has invariably given greater returns than any other except the Norway. The objection to the Norway was its color, which to us was of no account, but when for sale was made an objection. This arose entirely from prejudice. It was a noble variety, and gave me over 100 bushels per acre—in fact, the heaviest crop ever grown on the farm. Some said horses would not eat them as rapidly as white ones, but I found this a mistaken notion. Like every other variety of grain, it needed renewal of the seed. New seed should be procured every second or third year at most, besides using great care in selection. The Surprise was a fine oat, very plump and heavy, but the number of bushels grown per acre was less than of either of the three other varieties tried. Everything considered, I found the Probsteier the best, and so have continued its use, occasionally renewing the seed. Great pains are taken in selecting and grading all seed grain so that none but the heaviest kernels are sown. Its growth is large, strong, not liable to lodge, wide leaves, making choice fodder if early cut, and it is ready to cut as soon as the wheat crop is secured. In favorable seasons it gives thirty-six to forty pounds per bushel, and fifty to sixty bushels per acre. — Cor. Country Gentleman.

—A touching story is told of a little New Haven child, who, having received a "reward of merit" card from her teacher, held it up to the sky all the way home, that her dead father might see how good she had been.

—It is a month devoted to and by the immortal gods set apart for weather, and sometimes in a good April, that unchastaste it business and can get up and bristle around, there are eight kinds of climate in one day.—Burlington Hawk-Eye.

—At a table a lady asserted with a good deal of vehemence that she never ate pastry. "What, never?" exclaimed a gentleman at her side, expecting, of course, the usual reply. Judge of his surprise when she remarked, quietly, and utterly innocent of any knowledge of "Pinafore," "Well, sometimes."

—General Grant is not a champion billiard player. The Maharajah of Jaypore, who is an enthusiastic player, wanted to have a game with the General, who gratified him. A correspondent thus describes the game: "The General played in an idle desultory, promiscuous manner, and made some wonderful shots in the way of missing balls he intended to strike. Mr. Borie, whose interest in the General's fortunes extends to billiards, began to deplore those eccentric experiments, when the General said that he had not played billiards for thirty years. The Maharajah tried to be as the game, and said to one of his attendants that he was anxious to show the General that delicate mark of hospitality. But I can not imagine a more difficult task than for one in full practice at billiards to lose a game to General Grant. The game ended, His Highness winning by more points than I am willing to print for the gratification of the General's enimies."

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these ills.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. Used in connection, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for the class of diseases, and under circumstances, as shall be set under all circumstances, set kindly, I am willing to place my reputation as a physician, and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and which a certainty never before attained by any medicines: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Depo'ency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I claim, and this medicine as a "specialty," but it adds only fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH
A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried—and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say that I had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases soon supply a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influences of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is remembered that at least one hundred and fifty years of the best medical talent of the world have been placed on sale, and have, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few articles into sale, unless the merely possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

Concluded from yesterday.

Our "Minister's Wooing."

Poor Floy surveyed it in solemn silence; then raised her eyes with such a comical expression of distress that, to save himself, Grey could not refrain from a hearty laugh. Somehow this laugh set her at ease; it was so much easier to bear than his quizzical, half-satirical smile. She caught the infection and joined with him, half shyly, in a low, little laugh at her own detection.

"I was so lonesome," she said, almost apologetically, "and the kitten came and jumped into my lap." Then, carelessly dismissing the subject, and resolving to atone for her apparent childishness, she exerted herself to the utmost, bringing out every lurking charm and grace of speech and manner, and assuming a very unwonted dignity, which yet sat piquantly upon her.

So the afternoon fled on swift wings. Five o'clock chimed from the mantel, and suddenly upon her peace of mind protruded the horrible idea of supper. She had invited him to tarry, supposing that her father would have arrived ere this; but the time for the arrival of the train had gone by, and still he had not come. But this supper was a ceremony which, unfortunately, could not be dispensed with, in her experience, a subject that troubled her sadly. And then Doloriha thought! suppose there shouldn't happen to be anything "good" in the house! She resolved to know the worst, and, excusing herself, set out upon an exploring expedition to the unknown regions of the pantry. A prolonged search through every box and drawer discovered, to her unspeakable consternation, that, although there was an abundance of cakes and sweets of every description, not a single article of bread or biscuit was to be found. It would be no punishment to herself to be obliged to sup on these, but with "company to tea," what was she to do? She sat down almost in despair to have a real good "think" about it, and the conclusions at which she arrived were very sensible.

With a face brightened, she flew around, and soon from its hiding-place came forth a snowy apron, to be tied tightly around the lithe waist; then the sleeves were pushed up from the round arms, and with somebody's most approved cook book as a guide, she courageously set to work. And after various difficulties and discouragements, and triumphantly surmounted, was busily shaping a "custard soft, white enough for the most exquisite of the epicures imaginable. When in due time they came forth from the oven, the very ne plus ultra of dainty compositions, dainty, round and fair, she could have found it in her heart fairly to dance for joy. When seated opposite Mr. Grey, at the nicely spread table, she demurely handed them to him, but did not notice the curious glance he fixed upon her. He was mentally reviewing the comments upon her housekeeping qualities, with which Mrs. Thompson had favored him, wondering if that lady had ever eaten any of her biscuits, and thinking that, after all, it was possible that she hadn't made them, when his teeth came sharply against something hard in the one he was then devouring, and quietly drawing it forth, he discovered Floy's ring. Glancing at her hand, he saw that it was bare, and Floy, catching the direction of his eyes, suddenly held up the taper member with a look of dismay. "My ring!" she cried, "I have lost my ring!" And with a full knowledge of all the trouble and anxiety which she would undergo, what could he mean by slipping it into his vest pocket without a word? And he a minister!

However, the supper came to an end, as all good things will, and the minister took his leave. Walking home slowly through the moonlight, with his mind filled with its late sweet vision, he came to conclusions very different from those of the deacon's wife; thinking of the world of talent and sweetness lying dormant, waiting on the touch of an awaking hand, and very willing to undertake the sweet task.

And thus it was that, walking in one morning, (on business, of course,) and finding Floy idly conning an old romance for want of some better employment, he opened to her eyes a living page in a sad history that he had just discovered. It was the old story of a self-willed marriage, and consequent desertion, poverty and distress.

"Would Miss Willard have the kindness to visit her? She might do much by a few kind words. The woman was delicate and refined, and sympathy would not be thrown away." Floy's eager eyes attested her interest, and that very day the call was made. She came back eloquent with joy, and desiring to give some substantial token of it, one of her listeners was a shy request to her mother to teach her how to make "something nice" wherewith to tempt the invalid's appetite.

And so, ere many weeks, there were no more days lounged away in the library, or spent in idly dreaming in the bow-window arm-chair. The quick fingers became skilled in needle-craft, and many a poor cottager blest them as they bestowed the gifts of their own shaping, and called down benedictions upon the sweet face that brought joy and sunshine with it.

It happened that many times they met at the bedside of the sick and dying, the earnest minister and the fair young girl, and daily did he note her growth in sweetness, and deep underlying reverence; lost in wonder sometimes at her utter unselfishness. And she, enjoying to the full her new companionship, and mentally placing him in just that niche of her heart which she was wont to fill with an imaginary brother, was totally unconscious of the gossipping tongues that commented eagerly upon every movement.

Pacing home slowly throug the woodpath one bright autumn afternoon, he caught the sound of a singer's voice carolling softly a verse from a quaint old ballad that he remembered to have heard before. He quickened his step, and soon, ahead of him, he saw the soft shimmer of a gray silken skirt, trailing over the glowing mosses.

The wearer turned as he came up. "Ah! Miss Floy," he said, "I heard you sing and hastened on. You see I remember your songs."

She smiled, and the color on her cheek deepened a little at his tone, but without answering she walked on demurely by his side, pucking at the leaves of a wild daisy she held in her hand. He watched her a moment.- "Let me see," said he, "what is the charm? You name the alternate leaves, do you not? Let me try the charm for you." And he took one from the bunch, and pulling away the petals he gravely announced that the lover for whom it was named was true.

"Why don't you ask who it is?" he said, half laughingly, but with a strange light in his eyes. "Well then," more grave, "since you won't talk I shall have to tell you. Floy, dear Floy, it is myself!"

She never once lifted her eyelids, but waiked slowly along, twirling the mutilated flower in her fingers, until they came to the edge of the wood. Then he paused, and laying his hand heavily on the gate that barred the path, he said:

"Floy, I have a question for you now that must be answered; will you be my wife?"

She paused, and laying a hand on his arm, turned him round, till the faint light of the moon shone full in his face. "Do you in earnest, Maxwell Grey?" she asked. For an answer he stooped down and kissed her forehead reverently. "Now I believe you," she said simply. "But," after a pause, and calling him by his first name, "Maxwell, I am not half good enough for a minister's wife."

At that he began to declare, as lovers always do, how infinitely above him she was in every thing true and noble; how he dare not claim her, believing that he was in any way worthy of so great a blessing, etc., until her foolish little tongue was quite silenced. When they reached her own gate he paused again;

"And now, Floy," he said, "I have something of yours in my possession which I have had ever since the very first time I began to love you." And he drew forth from his pocket a ring and held it towards her.

"O, my lost ring!" she exclaimed, "Where did you find it?"

"Where?" said he, laughing, "in a hot roll, Floy!" And then followed a recital, somewhat abridged, of much that I have told you.

And so, ere long, there took place a grand wedding in the little village church. The new ruches and bonnet-strings were all there, and the back silk tassoline rustled defiantly as the wearer peeped at the face half hidden beneath the shimmering bridal veil; a face which was certainly none other than Floy Willard's.

And they do say, in spite of Mrs. Thompson's dire predictions, that there is not a better "housekeeper" in the whole village than the minister's wife.—Exchange.

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1879.

Gray vs. Blue.

On Wednesday, the 23d inst., during the discussion in the Senate of the new rule that the democrats propose to pass in order to enable them to turn the Union soldiers out of the Senate offices, Senator Edmunds proposed an amendment which created much consternation among the democrats. His amendment was, "but no officer or employee of the Senate who served in the Union army shall be removed except for cause to be stated in writing, to be approved in writing by the presiding officer of the Senate."

The democrats immediately said it was not their intention to remove the Union soldiers, but that they proposed to make their own rules and not to be dictated to by the minority.

Mr. Conkling rose, and said that in spite of the democratic assertion, Union soldiers had already been removed.

Mr. Wallace of Pennsylvania challenged the production of the name, when Mr. Conkling gave it. "The Union soldier is Mr. Fitz, who was shot all to pieces, and was a hero in several battles. He is one of the most efficient clerks in the Senate, and his successor, who it is said was a confederate, is already in Washington waiting for the desk to be vacated."

What promised to be an exciting debate was cut off by the expiration of the morning hour.

Sitting Bull Hungry.

Advices from Canada announce that great suffering prevails among some of the Indian tribes in the Canadian territories. Lieutenant-Governor Laird and the mounted police are endeavoring to relieve the sufferings of the Indians, but in so vast a territory it is difficult to ascertain the condition of the wandering bands and still more difficult to reach them with supplies. Efforts will be made during the summer to induce Sitting Bull and his followers to return to the States, as the Canadian Indians blame them for thinning out the buffalo and driving the herds southward. Big Bear, the Cree chief, has had several interviews with the police officers on the subject, and represents his people as intensely hostile to the Sioux on this account. The Sioux themselves have suffered much from lack of food, and Spotted Eagle and the younger warriors favor reconciliation with the Americans. Sitting Bull is opposed to this, but his influence is on the wane. The Sioux are scattered in small bands along the frontier, and complain bitterly of their privations. There is no talk of war. The bands travelling south of the line are simply looking for food.

"State Rights" Defined.

The Providence Journal, commenting on the negro exodus from the south, on De La Matyr's canal loan bill, and on Whithorne's resolution for a joint special committee of Congress to report upon the "fact and causes of the removal of large bodies of citizens from the southern States to certain other States," says:

The doctrine of States rights is getting to be about as elastic as would be the currency of De La Matyr. Under it the Florida coast canal would get twelve millions of currency, negroes would be prohibited from moving from one State to another, and the red-shirt-and-shot-gun policy would give the south their additional number of representatives, always of the democratic persuasion. This doctrine is now, as is apparent to the meanest capacity, wholly beyond the plausible or possible construction of the constitution. It holds that whatever the south wants is constitutional, and that whatever it does not want is unconstitutional. As now defined, it certainly has the merits of simplicity and definiteness. The slight drawback is, that the south will not be able to impose it upon the country.

News and Notes.

Two young men called at the residence of a Mrs. Wilson in Brooklyn and asked for board and rooms. Mrs. Wilson invited them to inspect the rooms, but only one of the men went with her, the other remaining in the parlor. After the men had gone, without engaging the rooms, Mrs. Wilson found that her jewelry-box had been rifled. The value was $1000.

A bill has been introduced into the legislature of Missouri making voting compulsory under a penalty of forfeiture of the right to hold office if the neglect is repeated three times in succession.

The treasurer of Fulton county, Penn., recently owned a saw-mill, but when he went to look for it a few days ago, it was missing. The mill, saws, wrenches, dogs, crowbars, logs, and the whole concern had been carried off by thieves. Being a man who believes in making the best of every evil to which he may be exposed, he is now thankful that the water power was left behind.

A tour of investigation made among the leading dry goods houses in New York by the Economist, reveals the fact that they have all increased their sales over the spring of 1878 by amounts varying from twenty to forty per cent. This is regarded as a very handsome increase when it is understood that dry goods of every description are fully from ten to twenty per cent lower than they were at that time.

Over five hundred negroes on the banks of the Mississippi between Vicksburg and Arkansas City have signals hoisted for steamers to take them to St. Louis, but the white planters have warned the steamboats not to take them, and as the negroes have but little food with them they are in danger of famishing.

A man named Mark Gray, probably insane, fired two pistol shots at Edwin Booth while the latter was performing Richard I. in the theatre at Chicago on the evening of April 23d. The actor was not hit; Gray was locked up, and the play went on.

Charles H. Hartwell, the Old Colony railroad conductor whose mismanagement caused the death of Reagan, the carman, last fall, was on the 24th inst. brought in guilty of manslaughter by a jury at Dedham, Mass. Exceptions were taken.

Secretary Sherman has ordered Capt. Bagley, commanding the revenue steamer Rush, to take supplies for a full month's cruise, leave San Francisco no later than May 15th, and proceed to the waters of Alaska, for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of law and for the protection of the government on the seal islands or other hunting grounds, and of Alaska generally.

Perhaps nothing more impudent in the way of strikes has ever occurred than the recent strike of Massachusetts State prison convicts. They were making hats and refused to work unless they were supplied with "tobacco and fruit." And the most astounding part of the story is that they were successful, the warden promising them what they demanded. This is a new way to discourage crime.

A single-scull race has been arranged between Evan Morris, of Pittsburg, and Warren Smith, of Halifax, for $500 a side, to come off on Silver lake, Mass., the 1st of July.

Adam Wolff, of Newark, N. J., learning that his wife had obtained a divorce, shot her dangerously.

The four-years-old child of Moses Dennett of Springvale, Me., was fatally poisoned by eating matches, dying in a short time.

From Panton, Vt., comes a story of lively potato-bugs being found under a snow-drift eight feet deep.

William Aiken of Fall River, Mass., thought he could do a good thing at horse trading, so he hired a team worth $300 in New Bedford, and after several trades realized $37 for it. He is now locked up.

The jury in the case of Allen, the burglar who was an accomplice with Hamlin in the killing of Watchman Shipman at the Connecticut State prison in Weathersfield in 1878, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree. A former jury disagreed, standing eight to four for acquittal. Notice of a motion in arrest of judgment was made.

William Mansfield, of San Francisco, committed suicide on the 23d of April, by taking morphine, on account of business troubles and ill health. He formerly published the Gospel Banner in Augusta, Me.

Gov. Garcelon of Maine has gone to Georgia to attend the meeting of the National Medical Association.

The American horse Parole won the race for the great metropolitan stakes at Epsom, England, April 23d, and there is great excitement in sporting circles over the event. Parole is entered for the Chester cup, the great Cheshire handicap, and gold cup at the Epsom summer meeting. These events are considered by most of the sporting papers in England at his mercy.

The Quinnebaug was at Malaga March 25th. The Wyoming arrived at Alexandria on the 18th of March, and was going to Athens. The Alliance arrived at Naples on the 2d of April. The Enterprise arrived at Toulon on the 20th of March, and sailed on the 1st of April for Villefranche, arriving the same day.

E. G. PEIRCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

William H. Vaughan has been appointed telegraph superintendent of the Eastern railroad, vice Horace W. Rowell, resigned.

The Music hall quartette, of this city, will sing at Greenland on Friday evening, May 2d, and at Exeter on the evening of the 6th.

Mr. S. P. Rhoades, for six years past employed with T. Wardwell & Sons, has gone to West Lynn, Mass., to engage in the livery-stable business.

It is stated that the Western Union Telegraph Company charges $500 for running a line of telegraph from the Rockingham house to the Wentworth at Newcastle—about $167 a mile.

The barn on Islington street, opposite the residence of Mr. Alexander Robinson, with the lot on which it is situated, was sold on the 23d inst. to Mr. Robinson by C. Dwight Hanscom & Co., auctioneers, for $370.

The schooner Edward Norton, in going up the river to Dover with a load of oysters on the 23d inst., grounded off "Frank's fort," and was obliged to send to this city for aid. Steamer Mystic went up, and towed her off on the next flood tide.

Persons wishing to invest money in government new four per cent bonds, or any other kind, or having bonds which they wish cashed or exchanged, are referred to the advertisement of Foote & French of Boston, in another column of this paper.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire occurs at Congress hall in this city on Monday, May 6th. The time for holding this meeting was changed in the revision of the by-laws adopted at the last meeting of the corporation.

A brief call upon our former townsman, Wm. H. Brewster, at Newburyport, affords us the happiness to state that he is in a much improved condition of health, having regained strength in the rest from his daily toil in Boston, to which he has for so many years been accustomed.

Rev. Henry Morgan will on Sunday evening at Music hall tell of what is to be seen in midnight rambles about Boston, and no doubt very many will be desirous of hearing his story. Of the concert, a glance at the names of the artists who are to appear, is enough to satisfy anybody that a treat is in store. The Boston Journal says of Miss Adams—"The fine voice of Miss Adams was shown to full effect last evening. She was warmly encored. Her clear notes to high C show great cultivation, while her pieces were extremely pleasing. She is a fine artist." The low price of tickets, by the express direction of Mr. Morgan, will allow everybody to be there who wishes.

THE VICINITY.

The Seabrook boys bring the bouquet of the trailing arbutus to the trains on the Eastern railroad, in great abundance.

The break in the Direct Cable between Rye beach and Torbay was repaired on Tuesday afternoon, April 22d, and a message was received at the Rye station from Torbay at half-past two o'clock in the afternoon on that day. The entire line is now in working order.

Officers Davis and Mellen of Great Falls arrested three men on the afternoon of the 23d inst., for plying their vocation in three-card monte. The men stopped at the Great Falls hotel the previous night, and registered their names as W. Walker, John Hinkly and J. Jenks, all of Boston.

Messrs. Booth and Smith, the gospel temperance workers, held a meeting at Hayes hall in Rochester on Wednesday evening of this week, at which one thousand people were present, and six hundred unable to gain admittance. A special train from Farmington brought five hundred people, accompanied by a drum corps. The American brass band of Rochester, and a chorus of one hundred voices furnished music. Speeches by Booth and Smith, and by G. N. Eastman, Alonzo Nute, J. F. Cloutman, A. J. Roberts, J. F. Safford and others awakened the highest pitch of enthusiasm. Hundreds put on the blue ribbon.

PORTSMOUTH MEDICAL ASS'N.

A number of the physicians of this city met at the office of Dr. Whittier on Wednesday evening of this week, and organized a medical society, to be known as the Portsmouth Medical Association, the object of which, as stated in the by-laws adopted, is mutual improvement and the promotion of social intercourse. The officers elected were as follows: Dr. J. F. Hall, president; Dr. N. L. Folsom, treasurer; Dr. D. W. Jones, secretary; and a business committee composed of the president and Dr. S. C. Whittier, Dr. Benj. W. Curtis and Dr. John W. Parsons. It was voted that an invitation be extended by the secretary to "every regularly-educated practitioner of rational medicine in Portsmouth and vicinity" to become members of the association.

A few years ago, when Clara Morris was carrying everything before her in New York city, Miss Charlotte Thompson, [who is to appear in this city at Music Hall on next Monday evening, April 28th], unheralded by any newspaper advertising, essayed the part of "Jane Eyre," and won instant recognition from both press and public, her assumption being then considered the finest that had ever been given in that city, and for one hundred and thirty nights "Jane Eyre" was the town talk. Since then Miss Thompson has, if it were possible, made rapid strides in her acting, her emotional power being as refined as ever, but there is an increase in the power of her intensity that awes as well as charms, and these artistics traits, combined with the grace and physical beauty of the actress, a amp her as one of the brightest ornaments of the American stage. There are many actresses to-day with whom "Jane Eyre" is a favorite character, and each has her own conception of the part, but none leaves upon the spectator such a favorable impression as that of Miss Thompson's. It is pure, womanly, and generous in its nature, and never for a moment obtrusive. As the poor orphan of Lowood, or the governess of "Rochester's" child, Miss Thompson's impersonation is perfect and is worthily entitled to the praise which has been universally bestowed upon it. A New York critic, in speaking of Miss Thompson's acting in this role, said: "I do not hesitate to say that Miss Thompson is equal to the great Charlotte Cushman in her impersonation of the difficult role of 'Jane Eyre'" Don't fail to see her next Monday evening.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21st.

The President has issued another edition of his civil service reform creed, varying again somewhat from any of his former annoucements. It was contained in a free talk with a friend, and I violate no confidence in reporting it. "Many persons appear to misunderstand me," said the President, "in the matter of my civil service appointments. By saying that a faithful officer should not be disturbed in his tenure, I mean just what the word tenure means, namely, his title to his office for the term his commission covers. Nothing more and nothing less. A postmaster, for example, who has held an office for one term is naturally supposed to be qualified for another, if his support for the succession is as nearly unanimous as the first requirement. If he has not served with such acceptance as to command the solid support of his townspeople, a new man, even with less support, has an equal claim upon the office. Indeed, in some respects, he has a strong claim, since the influence of the office-holder is sufficient in most cases to give him a preponderance of support where qualifications are only equal." This was intended to explain some late appointments which had caused some surprise to his friends. The President displayed considerable feeling at the criticisms that had been passed upon him, and declared that he would no longer be dictated to by senators and members.

Capt. Jas. B. Eads has published an open letter here to the editor of the Cincinnati Commercial, one of the most unscrupulous of his assailants, in which he presents an array of facts to prove the substantial success of his work at the mouth of the Mississippi. All his statements are borne out by the official reports, but the captain is naturally annoyed at the yelping of certain newspapers, whose advice was not taken in that great scientific work, or whose friends were not allowed to have a part of the contracts. The government officers are satisfied with the jetties, and are astonished that these assaults should be kept up on a faithful and conscientious public servant, as Eads is acknowledged by all fair men to be.

The bad but very prevalant practice of changing the language of debates in Congress before they appear in the Record was again exposed Saturday in the House. In his speech in favor of the repealing of political clause in the appropriation bill Mr. Blackburn said without qualification that he was for never calling a halt until they had repealed every vestige of republican war legislation. Whether he meant it or not, some of his friends suggested that the expression would be interpreted to mean wiping out the constitutional amendments and all. Mr. Blackburn thereupon wrote on a slip of paper a qualification of it so that it would read "every vestige of war legislation that was intended to abridge the liberty of the citizen." This was eminently conservative and quite different from the speech, and the thing was brought forward to plague him Saturday. Mr. Blackburn, however, protested that he should not be interpreted as an extreme man, since what he most desires is to drop sectional issues. Mr. Frye insisted that he must be interpreted as his own friends dictated, and read extracts from a Mississippi paper commending Mr. Blackburn for the very remark which he had qualified. There is still a good deal of difference of opinion as to the length and character of this session touching matters of general legislation. Senator Blaine, and in fact nearly all the republican leaders, and many eastern democrats predict an adjournment by May 15th, but it is possible that their wish is father to the thought. The greenbackers, probably a majority of democrats and some republicans, favor a longer session and general legislation, and so predict. KNOX.

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial diseases are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

A Life Saved for Fifty Cents! Fact, for he had a terrible racking cough way down on the lungs and one bottle of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup cured it, not dried it up, and removed the cause, and lo, a well man, all for fifty cents!

Your Cough can be relieved immediately by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

You can now stop at the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, on the American plan for $2.50 or $3.00 per day, or you can, on the European plan, take your lunch down town, or dine with a friend, and your room at the Hotel will only cost you $1.00 per day, and upwards, and meals are also provided, at moderate prices, at the Restaurant attached to the Hotel.

Free of charge—Sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 35 cents.

The President, of one of our banks, says: "that Cough and Lung Syrup of Dr. A. J. Flagg's reaches the right spot every time."

NEVER SAY DIE while you can obtain Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye. It will stop that hacking cough and give yourself and friends a rest. Furnished in quantities to suit by C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston.

Relieve Your Cough before it reaches your lungs by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Not Deserving of Pity.

Beggared spendthrifts, to whom money has no exchange value but pleasure.

Persons who will persist in dying by inches with dyspepsia and liver diseases, when Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unfailing remedies for these maladies.

Parents who spare the rod and ruin the child. Fast young men and women are generally spoiled children to begin with.

People who suffer from catarrh, when Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is a safe, reliable, and well-tested remedy for this loathsome disease.

People who marry for money, and find too late that the golden glitter is all moonshine.

Women who suffer death every day of their lives, when Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will effectually remove those painful weakness and impart a healthful tone and strength to the whole system.

People who live beyond their means and find that style and pride, like everything else in this world, unless placed upon a secure foundation, are subject to the law of gravitation.

Invalids who do more toward fostering disease, by living and sleeping in the low, unventilated rooms of the ordinary house, than the best medicines can accomplish toward recovery, when at a moderate expense they can secure all the hygienic and sanitary advantages of the Invalid's Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y. Every physician knows how much recovery depends upon good nursing and hygienic conditions of the sick room. Chronic diseases are especially subject to these conditions.

Nothing Mean About Him.

A man stepped into a sample-room down town a day or two ago and happened to meet a friend there. "Have a b. er?" was the first question.

"It's a little too early," replied the invited one.

"Well, take a little whiskey; that will warm you up."

"I don't care about whiskey."

"Try a little rum, then; now what do you say to a good, sharp, seductive, hot spiced rum, eh?"

"Deliver me from rum; I never could drink it without getting sick or catching a beastly cold."

"How would a Santa Cruz sour go?"

"That's a thing I never touch; only niggers drink Santa Cruz gin."

"Why, you try some sherry; that's mate poetic, and will make you feel good for the rest of the day?"

"Will you kindly excuse me from taking sherry, sir?"

"Of course; but won't you try a cigar."

"No, I don't know myself."

"What's the matter; you are not offended, are you?"

"Not at all."

"Well, then, won't you take some gin?"

"To be sure I will; to be sure I will drink with you."

"Well, what will you take?"

"I tell you what I'll do, sir; I'll take a glassful of water, and you give me ten cents. How will that work, eh?"

"That won't work at all," said the other, indignantly, and then he took a drink alone, and walked out of the place.—Hartford Times.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation for the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been incorporated with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers: Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER BOARDMAN, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been added to the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms treated with the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Fits (Epilepsy), Nervous Debility, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and other Nervous Affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NO NECESSITY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with personal examination. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," 1000 pages, sent postpaid for $1.50 or "Invalids' Guide to Health," 168 pages, sent for 10 cents, postpaid.

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Cobwebs, Spinal Curvature and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Modern as a Surgeon," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, have been enabled to produce a compound and positive remedy for the cure of all.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have witnessed the positive results in the special cases for which it is the specific, for a period of years, and it is the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and speedy remedy for the class of diseases, I am willing to stake my professional reputation, and I feel no hesitancy in adding my reputation as a physician and as confident that I shall not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single lady who uses it according to the directions for which it recommends it, and I will give a PositiveGuarantee. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapper bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which magic, and with a promptness never before attained by any medicine, it overrules, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not claim this medicine as a "panacea," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purposes, with the most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats intimately of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those situations.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH
A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, but finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried—one and three—then until I had sold of yours I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say that I am a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly and fully under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 150 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, it is none cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the compound possesses absolute specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00, of all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Early Corn.

A correspondent of Vick's Magazine gives the following directions for bringing corn to maturity early in the season, adding that he picked corn last year inside of sixty days from the time of planting: "Let the conditions of the soil and manure be the best you can command, and aside from the frequent weeding and hoeing, stirring the ground thoroughly, thin the stalks to three or four; three is best if you would have the largest ears and most of them. Pluck out unmoic fully every sucker and non-bearing stalk—that process alone will hasten your corn a week or ten days, as I have come to believe from experiment. I have added this year a top-dressing at the hill, when the corn was well up—a compost of one part plaster, two parts ashes, and three parts fine manure, which, I think, has been a great advantage." Those who wish the early corn should not only have for seed what is called "an early kind," but they should obtain it from as far north as possible. Seed corn raised in Canada and taken south will come to perfection one, two or three weeks earlier than that ripened on the spot. The reason is that the seed raised in the north has adapted itself to a short season. This is true, in a measure, of all seeds.

—The giant, Col. Orr, is suffering from a cold, superinduced, it is said, by having worn his feet last April. It took a year to reach his head.

—Extract from young lady's letter:—"And do you know, Maud and I are quite sure that Captain Popple had taken too much champagne at the ball, for he took out his watch and looked hard at the back of it, and then muttered: 'Bless my soul! I had no idea it was that time o'night.'"

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial diseases are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medical safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify the danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1879.

Bank Robbery at Laconia.

The Laconia national bank was broken into and robbed between two and three o'clock Friday morning, unquestionably by professional burglars. The bank is located in a block in which is the post-office and several stores and law-offices, etc., and is in the most public part of the town. The people were aroused by a loud explosion, and the robbery was quickly discovered and an alarm of fire sounded, but the thieves made their escape. The front door of the bank was forced by the robbers, and the door of the vault blown off. The plunder secured by the thieves was about $8,000; $700 in bills and specie was found on the floor, showing the great haste in which the thieves left.

Very Good Shooting.

On Wednesday evening, April 23d, a professional tramp by the name of James Tully called at the town farm in Milton, Mass., and demanded lodgings. He was refused, whereupon he asserted that he would stop there at all hazards. After a few hard words, Mr. Morris Pierce, the officer in charge, changed his mind and told the man he could stop. As Mr. Pierce turned to go in the house he was savagely assaulted by the tramp, and a desperate struggle ensued. Tully finally got a billet of wood and aimed a blow at the officer's head, which the latter warded with his arm, but he was felled to the ground by the force of the blow. Pierce sprang to his feet and drew his revolver, whereupon his assailant tried to escape by running, but four shots brought him to the ground. Upon examination it was found that each shot had taken effect, Tully being hit in the left hip, knee, ankle and shoulder; he was taken to the hospital on Thursday. Mr. Pierce was examined on Thursday, and it was decided that the shooting was perfectly justifiable under the circumstances; so it was—and it was very good shooting, too.

News and Notes.

Advices from Victoria, British Columbia say that "the state of public feeling is daily becoming more unsettled as the first of May draws near. The situation is alarming, as it threatens the permanency of Canadian connections on the Pacific, if it does not imperil British connection. Thursday afternoon, on motion of a member who has always been distinguished for loyalty, the galleries of the Parliament House were cleared, and the body sat with closed doors. The probable result of this uncertainty can only be conjectured, but the best friends of Canada in the province are despondent, as to the probable outcome of the existing state of affairs."

The leg lunacy has another victim, this time at Woonsocket, R. I., Joseph Pollard, a nine-years-old boy, having died suddenly from over-exertion.

The New York & New England railroad company now expect to run through trains to and from New York and Boston before the close of the year. The western terminus of the road is now at Waterbury, Conn., and the road-bed is graded and ready for the ties and rails from Waterbury to Danbury.

Health Inspector Cronan of Jersey City has discovered that a regular business is carried on there on a large scale of mixing horseflesh in sausages.

Edward Bertrand, on trial at San Francisco for killing Capt. Kilduan of the bark Masonic at Manila, was found not guilty, the evidence showing self-defence.

There is a panic in Lincoln county, Nebraska, over the reported approach from the south of 800 hostile Indians, who are said to be making terrible havoc on their march north.

Richard Hutchins of Auburn, Me., aged seventy-five years, has been sued by the city for placing Elizabeth Thomas, his servant girl, whom he had seduced, in the poor-house, to get rid of her and the child to which she has since given birth.

The Providence Journal prints the following extract from a business letter sent by a merchant in New Orleans to a firm in Providence: "We are now organizing a citizens' sanitary corps that just means business, and if we cannot keep yellow fever out of here this coming season, then we give it up. It is a very popular movement, and will be pushed right ahead. I will send you some account of it, and we want you to make it known among your friends. We wish to get it circulated through the north that we are going to bury the dead, clean the streets, fill the bottom holes, and endeavor to make New Orleans what it should be, a healthy city."

Alexander Cohen has fled from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, with about $10,000 which he secured by forgery, and without his wife and four children.

Mrs. Parnel Sidney, one of the oldest residents of Buffalo, N. Y., died in that city April 22d, aged seventy-eight years. She leaves an estate valued at $1,000,000. She was a resident of Buffalo during the burning of what was then the village of New Amsterdam by the Indians and British in 1813, her parents' house being the only one saved from destruction.

The grand jury at Baltimore on Thursday last returned a presentment for murder against Denwood B. Hinds as principal and against Harry T. Hinds, his brother, as accessory before the fact, in the killing of Isaac D. James, father of the young girl whom D. B. Hinds betrayed and deserted.

The Parliament of the provinces of British Columbia on Thursday night passed a resolution demanding of Great Britain the fulfillment of the treaty obligations, or that otherwise the province be allowed to secede on May 1st.

A private telegram received at Glasgow, Scotland, says: "Pisagua, Peru, has been bombarded. The guano-loading appliances at Huanillos and Pabellon De Pica have been destroyed. Iquique is still blockaded and all sailing vessels have left. The workmen fled. Business in the interior is entirely disorganized."

A schooner, supposed to be the E. J. McKinnon, O'Brien master, which left San Francisco March 20th, was disabled at sea, and all on board except one were either drowned or died from exposure and hunger before rescue came. The sole survivor was picked up by a passing vessel when nearly dead from his sufferings.

Australian advices state that a boat containing eleven French communists, sixteen days from New Caledonia, landed at Morton island March 12th, and the police took charge of them; they had suffered considerably from lack of food and water. The same advices state that the blacks are fighting among themselves in the northern districts of Queensland, and many dead bodies have been found. The Maories are troublesome in New Zealand.

A post-mortem examination of the bodies of the two children who died suddenly at Lowell revealed the cause of death to have been eating decayed parsnips. The other two children, who were made very ill, are now considered out of danger. The rotten vegetables were found on a dump-heap by the children while at play.

Political.

Senator Conkling on Thursday delivered a speech on the army bill; it was one of the most powerful ones ever made by him, and caused a good deal of troubled feeling on the democratic side.

Speaking of military interference at the polls, Senator Blaine in a recent debate said the grossest illustration of such interference was the dispersion of the Maryland legislature in 1861 by Gen. McClellan, a fact which democratic senators had remembered but to forget.

Complete returns of the late judicial election in Wisconsin show that the whole number of votes cast was 168,231, of which Judge Cole, republican, received 100,682, and Judge Cothren, democrat, 67,549, making Cole's majority 33,133.

The returns from Michigan grow better and better. The official count in sixty-five counties increases the majority for Campbell, republican candidate for judge, to 6656. In the sixty-five counties the republican vote is 5786 larger than it was in 1878, while the opposition vote shows a falling off of 25,383. This would indicate that the republican greenbackers voted with the republicans.

The Concord Monitor brings forward the name of Wm. E. Chandler as a candidate for United States Senator. The names of a large number of gentlemen in different sections of the State are mentioned by way of contrast but the Monitor is evidently as much for Chandler as Senator, as it is for its Weekly for Frank W. Miller as State printer. There is nothing like a good home endorsement with which to commence a campaign.

In preparing the foundations for the extensive brick malt house to be built this spring by Frank Jones on Albany street, considerable blasting of solid ledge is required. The work is being done under the direction of Mr. Joseph R. Holmes.

The Granite State base ball club of this city gave a dance in Trefethren's hall at Kittery, Thursday evening, and quite a large number of persons went over from this side in the steamer James Sampson, which was chartered for a special trip. There was a good party at the dance, and a very pleasant time was participated in by all.

The Journal says: "The 23d U. S. Infantry, to which First Lieut. Fred L. Dodge of this city is attached, which has lately arrived at the North-Cantonment, Indian Territory, from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, where it has long been stationed, has been mounted as cavalry, and expects orders to soon go on a campaign after hostile Indians."

The firm of Elliott & Dudley, in the grocery trade, is dissolved. Mr. Edmund Elliott has been in business in the same store over forty-eight years, and Mr. Stephen J. Dudley twenty-eight years, an unusual instance of sticking to one locality. Mr. Elliott retires with an abundant competence, and with better health and more vigor than most men of his age. Mr. Dudley will continue business at the old stand.—Exeter Gazette.

The town of Stratham has but about seven hundred inhabitants, but the "iron-clad inventory law" has added $13,155 to the amount of taxable money in the town over last year, when the amount taxed was but $16,100; this year it is $69,255. Other items in the assessors' list are as follows: Number of horses 242, value $14,780; mules three, value $140; cows 496, value $11,635; oxen sixty-four, value $3831; other neat stock ninety-one, value $1621; sheep 276, value $784; dogs fifty, "value" $56; carriages twelve, value $720.

Jacob H. Young and Frank Smith of Dover have been put under $400 bonds each to appear at the supreme court to answer charges of gambling and liquor selling, the complainant being Michael Bray, who says he was cheated out of $60 in Young's saloon at cards or dice, and is corroborated by his brother James, both the brothers having been drunk in the saloon. Smith afterward swore out a warrant against the Brays for threatening him, but the complainant failing to produce his witnesses the defendants were allowed to go on their personal recognizance.

If the two democrats who stood under the awning in front of our office at half-past one o'clock Friday morning, and anathematized Frank Jones for giving the contracts for putting up the National block and his new malt house to an out-of-town man, had been aware of how much our moral sensibilities would be shocked by their language, we have no doubt they would have selected other adjectives to use, or some other place in which to use them. We presume Mr. Jones knews what he is about—he generally does—and that Mr. Foster is a thorough mechanic.

A young man named Goodwin, sixteen years old and belonging in South Berwick, left home on Monday, April 21st, in a small boat, for a gunning excursion along the shores of the Berwick and Cocheco rivers. He has not returned, and his whereabouts are unknown. His boat was found several miles from home on the Cocheco river, tied to a post on the bank. He was last seen near the spot where the boat was found, going toward Dover point. Diligent search has failed to discover any trace of him, and his friends fear that he has met with disaster from the accidental discharge of his gun or in some other way.

During the big gale of April 18th the fishing schooner Alice Norwood, of Biddeford, lost her mainmast. The mate, Ezra Hill, was knocked overboard, but was saved by his shipmates.

The Concord railroad pays five per cent dividend, May 1st; the Manchester & Lawrence road pays five per cent, and the Boston & Providence three per cent, on the same date; the Boston & Albany roads pays four per cent, May 15th.

Tenney is engaged in painting the portrait of a well-known public character, prominent in official, political and agricultural circles, whose name we withhold for the reason of his well known distaste of public mention.

On Long beach, Concordville and Union bluffs, at York beach, there are one hundred and twenty-five cottages and two hotels. This does not include York harbor, where is located the Marshall house, Goodwin hotel and over a dozen cottages.

The schooner Emily A. Staples, Capt. Coleman, on her way from Philadelphia laden with pressed brick for the new National block to be built by Frank Jones, passed through Hell Gate on the 23d of April, on her passage to this port. Upon her arrival, Mr. M. C. Foster, of Waterville, Me., the contractor for erecting the building, will at once proceed with the work.

A meeting complimentary to Rev. Octavius B. Frothingham was held in the Union League theatre, New York, on the evening of April 23d, by his friends and members of his congregation; Ex-Gov. Frank Fuller of Utah, formerly of this city, was chairman of the meeting, and among other prominent men on the platform with Mr. Frothingham were Col. T. W. Higginson and George William Curtis.

A very large proportion of our citizens apparently propose to go to Music hall to hear Rev. Henry Morgan on Sunday evening. The Boston papers have been so full of Morgan all winter that great curiosity is manifested to hear this famous lecturer. The programme for the concert after the lecture is full of gems, and the singing by such talent as Miss Adams, the soprano of the church of the Immaculate Conception, the sweet voice of the boy soprano Merrill, and other artists, will indeed be a treat. If you want a seat you had best secure it at Preston's to-day; tickets at "bottom prices;" see advertisement.

Lieut.-Col. Charles E. Blunt, of the engineer corps of the United States army, has been ordered to relieve Lieut.-Col. James C. Duane, in construction of fortifications and batteries on the coasts of Maine and New Hampshire, whereupon the latter will report to the secretary of the treasury for duty under the direction of the lighthouse board. Lieut.-Col. Duane has for many years been engineer of the first and second lighthouse districts, extending from the eastern boundary of the United States to Gooseberry point, at the entrance to Buzzard's bay, Mass., and including the light and all aids to navigation on the New Hampshire coast.

A new plan for swindling farmers by the "promissory note" dodge has been successfully worked in Pennsylvania and some other places, as follows: The speculator, an honest-looking old gentleman, buys chickens in the country and writes out a receipt for the farmers to sign. The point of his pencil invariably breaks off just before the signature is reached, and he produces a fountain-pen from his pocket. The body of the receipt is thus written in pencil and the farmer's name in ink. When the speculator goes to town he erases all the pencil marks, and writes out in ink a promissory note for $100 or $150, and has it discounted by a bank. It would hardly be of much use, one would suppose, for this new plan to be tried on those farmers of this vicinity who within a few years have speculated in "mowing-machine knife-grinders," or the manufactures of the "Granite Agricultural Co. of Lebanon, N. H., C. B. Mahan agent;" but there's no telling. If signing an agreement written with ink was so dangerous, signing with ink a receipt in pencil would be the most reckless folly.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE OCEANIC.

Besides placing the cottages in a line with the Oceanic at Star island, Mr. Rhymes has had the Gosport house raised and a theatre and concert room constructed in the basement; this room is fifteen feet in height, and fifty-five by thirty-five feet in size on the floor, with a stage for which sets of scenery are being painted in Boston. Addition has also been made to the dining-room, increasing its seating capacity at least a hundred. The grand piazza, giving an uninterrupted sea view, will afford a walk of four hundred feet in a line. The wharf has been capped, newly planked, and a railing added. The Oceanic will open June 16th, and from the numerous applications for rooms, the promise is that a successful season will be enjoyed. Capt. Rand is to command the steamer Appledore again this season.

OBIT.

Samuel Pierse Long, a native of this city, died in Boston on Friday at the age of eighty-one years. Mr. Long was the son of George Long, a merchant and shipowner who had an office on what was formerly Fore street street and resided at the corner of Middle street and Richards avenue, and was a brother of the late Commo. John Collins Long, of the navy. He read law with the late Jeremiah Mason in the office over the First National bank; he did not practise his profession, but devoted his time to literature and painting. He at different times gave interesting lectures upon the art of painting, and upon the lives of Michael Angelo and other distinguished artists. He was an enthusiast on the subject of painting, and his opinions and criticisms upon works of art were given with the freedom of an acknowledged connoisseur. He was noted for his abundant store of wit, a trait which in his lectures often found full scope. Mr. Long married Miss Harriet Lyman, daughter of the late Isaac Lyman, Esq. Several years since he gave up his residence in Portsmouth and removed to Boston, where he has since resided. His remains will be brought to this city for interment.

Hon. Woodbridge Odlin of Exeter died suddenly of heart disease on Thursday. He had spent the winter in Boston, and returned home that afternoon, dying in less than three hours after his arrival. He was a very prominent citizen of Exeter; had represented the town in the Legislature, was president of the late Exeter savings bank, and a few years ago gave Phillips academy $20,000 to found an English branch. His age was seventy-four years.

MUSIC HALL.

In the opening address at Music hall it was truly said "that a community is known, to some extent, by the character and place of its amusements." Certainly with an improved place of resort for our entertainments a higher order of enjoyment has been ours; as the avant courier of Miss Charlotte Thompson remarked to us, "with such a hall and such a hotel we guess that your city must be a place where the highest dramatic art can be appreciated."

The period since the opening of Music hall has been noted for the improved order of representations we have been able to witness. Cheap and meaningless shows have gone by our city, and the substantial entertainments only, where one receives a full value for time and money expended, have been able to afford to cater to the taste of our people.

Following many celebrities who have visited Portsmouth of late comes Charlotte Thompson, who appears on Monday evening in the character of "Jane Eyre." Those familiar with the reputation of this celebrated artist need only know of her coming to appreciate what is in store for us. To those who have not heard of her successful career, we can safely say that she is a wonderful woman in her profession; and this is not the opinion of a few who are charmed with her acting and regard it as of especial excellence, but it is the universal verdict all over the land. The opportunity of witnessing an artist of so rare merit, displaying such acknowledged proficiency that the best critics in the United States have awarded her the palm, is seldom vouchafed us. Though heralded with less of the pomp and circumstance displayed about persons of far inferior powers, we are convinced that the entertainment provided for Monday evening is one from which no true lover of dramatic excellence can afford to be absent.

TRAVELLING FACILITIES.

The Boston & Maine and Eastern railroads are one of these days to agree upon the joint use of the new station at North Berwick, which is to be in charge of an agent impartial in his dealings with both roads. A train to connect with the second afternoon train from Portland over the Boston & Maine, from North Berwick to Conway Junction on the Eastern railroad, would be of great service to persons on the line of the latter road; as at present run the local traffic on the Eastern, coming from Portland and intermediate stations, is not accommodated, as no train leaves Portland for stations on the Eastern railroad after one o'clock P. M.

On Monday next the Providence line of steamers, from Providence to New York, will begin its summer season. The trip to New York by this line, unlike the tedious and dusty ride by the all-rail line via Springfield, seems like an excursion. The forty-two miles from Boston by rail over the Providence road are run in an hour, passengers reaching Providence in season to take the boat at the early hour of seven o'clock, giving them a fine view of Narragansett bay on the passage. The line has proved deservedly popular, and besides being the most attractive route to New York, is at the same the most economical of the many ways of reaching that city. Persons from Portsmouth and vicinity going by this line would do well to seasonably engage their state-rooms by sending to J. W. Richardson, the agent of the line, at No. 214 Washington street, corner of State street, Boston. The train which leaves Portsmouth at three o'clock P. M., reaches Boston in ample season to take the steamboat train which leaves the station of the Boston & Providence road at six o'clock P. M.

Betsey Butler of Sandown, about eighty years of age, was found dead in her bed on Sunday morning, April 20th. She and her brother John lived on the same place where they were born; John is eighty-four, and a pensioner of the war of 1812; both were unmarried.

Eugene Nelson of Manchester was arrested in Haverhill, Mass., April 22d, for picking pockets. A confederate named Mayne escaped.

Owing to a heavy rise in the Connecticut river, several hundred thousand feet of lumber were washed over the boom of Blood pond, Upper Fall. None were marked in any way, and it will be a complete loss of $50,000 or $75,000 to the owners, Messrs. Frye & Perry of Maine.

All mills on the Merrimac river are stopped by the rise of water from spring thaws. The volume of water in the river is increasing.

A young colored man named Davis, from Canterbury, at work for Samuel Cate of Loudon, made a felonious assault on a five-year-old daughter of Mr. Cate a few days since. He was arraigned before a Pittsfield justice, who held him in the sum of $500, in default of which he was sent to jail.

A son of Albert Bushman, fourteen years old, employed in Sulloway's hosiery mill at Franklin, in attempting to change a belt was caught by the belt and flung over the pulley. His thigh was broken, and head and shoulders terribly injured. He was taken up as dead, but revived, and recovery is not impossible.

In the supreme court at Concord, in the suit of John F. Edgerly et al. of Lynn, Mass., v. city of Concord, an action to recover $25,000 for damages received by Mrs. Edgerly in 1874, by being thrown from a wagon, the horse having been frightened by a stream of water from a hydrant, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $6125. It is probable that that the case will be carried to the full bench on questions of law.

By direction of the Fish Commissioners 10,000 young trout have been placed in four brooks in the vicinity of Manchester. The trout are about three-quarters of an inch long, and it is not lawful to catch them for five years.

At Enfield, the south span of the highway bridge across Mascoma river, just below Huse & Berry's bedstead shop, broke down Thursday while Elmer, son of A. G. Jones, was crossing with a load of gravel. The boy and team were with difficulty rescued.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprr. World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, obstructing more or less the nasal passages, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucus, pain in the head, extending over the face, dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stoppage up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, difficulty in breathing, and in a more aggravated form, dryness of the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice affected, nasal tones, offensive breath impaired, or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, depression, loss of appetite, bad digestion, coloured tongue, ticking cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be applied, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument and remedy with which improved results can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and in no other way can such communications therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge proceeds, be made. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.

The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done; in all cases exhibiting free fissure veins, good pay streaks, and well defined lodes.

Three of the leading mines are well opened, and need have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.

The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more quickly developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.

Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 41 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in the country, says Feb. 1st, 1875: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used every thing in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried —— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,
Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son., Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from these causes is reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 150 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston. 1y28

Daily Chronicle.

The Freedman's Exodus.

Mr. Editor: Is it not time our people commenced to move in the charitable work of assisting to alleviate the sufferings of the blacks who are now attempting to locate themselves where they will be free from persecution and murder?

When the south was scourged by the "Yellow Jack" last year, the good people of the north voluntarily put their hands in their pockets and assisted the sufferers with millions of dollars for their relief. To-day there is a scourge in the south ten-fold more terrible than the yellow fever, and as terrible as slavery ever was; for under the old regime a negro was worth $1,000, and to kill one was a destruction of property, but to-day the very coloring the soil to a crimson with the blood of the black man costs only the powder and lead. Then the fugitive-slave law prevented the black from migrating; to-day the boats are prohibited from carrying them.

In 1856, Col. Buford of South Carolina with his band of "Kickapoo rangers" dressed in red blankets, rode rough shod over Kansas, murdering the friends of freedom; to-day, the red-shirted miscreants are carrying out the same programme with the blacks, their former slaves.

In 1856, the bowie-knife glistened in the light of the tallow dip in the post-office of a Missouri town because a Yankee dared subscribe for the New York Tribune; to-day, the captain of a Mississippi steamer is debarred from transporting freeman at the dictates of the old slave-ocracy.

Last year, the National government could and did deal out vast quantities of rations and thousands of tents, to aid the white sufferers by the yellow fever; now it appears that neither tents or food can be furnished the colored people who are flying from a fate far worse than sickness or natural death, as such action would be "illegal" and "unconstitutional."

If the north could send money to the relief of the southern whites when their wallowing in filth brought just retribution upon the offenders, ought not the hand to delve to the depth of the same pocket to relieve the unoffending from sufferings maliciously perpetrated by designing tyrants and murderers?

Will Portsmouth, one of the most liberal, charitable communities of the land, close her eyes to the records of distress brought us by every mail? Cannot the churches take up contributions? Cannot a mass meeting be held? Cannot something be done? "QUESTION."

Why He Had No Money.

A noted lawyer had a case in hand in which, among other things, he wished to prove that his client had no money; and to that end he cross-questioned one of the opponent's witnesses as follows:

"You asked my client for money, did you not?"

"Well—yes, sir."

"Answer up promptly, sir. Let us have no hesitation. You asked him for money. Now what was his answer?"

"I don't know as I can tell."

"But surely you remember?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then out with it. What was his answer?"

"I'd rather not tell."

"Ho! ho! You are on that tack, are you? You won't tell?"

"I would rather not, sir."

"But you must; and, if you don't answer my question promptly and truthfully, I'll call upon the court to commit you for contempt."

"Well sir, if I must tell tales out of school, here you have it. I asked him, yesterday, if he could lend me a dollar, and he told me he couldn't."

"And you believed him, did you not?"

"Yes, sir; for he said you had robbed him of every penny of his ready money, and if he didn't get out of your hands pretty soon his wife and little ones would come to——"

"That will do, sir. You can stop down."

Portsmouth Chronicle

MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1879.

Saturday's Record of the Confederate Senate.

On Saturday the Senate by a strict party vote set aside a rule passed over twenty years ago by a democratic Senate in relation to the removal and appointment of Senate officials by the secretary and sergeant-at-arms, which rule has been upheld by the republicans ever since that party came into power. Previous to the passage of the resolution the republicans offered an amendment providing that no official who was a Union soldier shall be discharged except for cause; and when the democrats voted that down the republicans offered another, that no confederate soldier shall have the place from which a Union soldier may be put out, but, as nearly every prominent applicant for office under the Senate is an ex-rebel soldier, this amendment was of course rejected.

After thus arranging for parcelling out the Senate offices among the ex-confederate army, the Senate proceeded to reject amendments to the army bill, and then passed it as it came from the House. The vote was a strict party one—forty-one democratic yeas to thirty republican nays. The bill was conveyed to the executive mansion to be signed—or vetoed.

"Chivalry" to the Fore.

Not only have "the confederates captured the capitol," but some of them evidently propose to bring back the good old days when a northern congressman could only at the risk of his life deny any assertion of a "chivalry," no matter how false and slanderous it might be. Mr. W. M. Lowe of Alabama did good service in the war to destroy the Union, and became a colonel in the rebel army; now he is a member of Congress. Recently Mr. Lowe caused to be printed a statement that Gen. Logan at the commencement of the rebellion contemplated joining the confederates, and was instrumental in raising several companies of troops for the rebel service before he espoused the Union cause. Senator Logan in a published card denounced the statement as absolutely and wholly false, and on Friday was challenged by Lowe to fight a duel. Gen. Logan sent Lowe's "friend" back with his letter unopened, and says if Lowe wants "satisfaction" he can easily find a way to obtain it. It was stated on Saturday that Lowe threatened to administer personal chastisement to Gen. Logan unless he yielded to the demands of "the code," and Logan's friends intimated that Lowe would have a nice time if he attempted it. Possibly Lowe will creep up behind Logan when he is sitting down, and smash him over the head with a club, as Preston S. Brooks did Charles Summer.

P. S. Lowe, finding that Senator Logan contemptuously ignored him and his bullying, on Saturday evening "posted" Gen. Logan in the most approved style. Logan has shown Lowe up as a slanderous liar; Lowe has shown himself up as a "chivalric" ass.

It's Got to Come.

The confederate monument at Columbus, Ga., was unveiled on Saturday, in the presence of ten thousand people from Georgia and Alabama. The dedicatory address was made by Gov. A. H. Colquitt of Georgia, and in it he said:

So sure, however, as this republic survives, there is to be a re-opening of the discussion of the great dividing tenet of State sovereignty. In the debate which is soon to involve every section of this land, not excluding our own, we are about to settle the question of the possibility of the States of this Union conceding certain powers to the general government without surrendering all power. If, after this hot and, I here admit, most dangerous collision shall have ended, we shall have as the result of the conflict of mind and opinion a restored belief in local self-government, tempered by constitutional limitations, and guarded by a pure and courageous supreme court, all will be well.

If this means anything at all it means that the southern States not only still maintain the doctrine of State supremacy and the right of secession, but that they propose to "re-open the discussion" and force the north to acknowledge that the war for the preservation of the Union was a crime, and its success the worst of failures. The true inwardness of the ex-rebels is coming out in good style.

News and Notes.

Thus far 6000 negro emigrants have passed through St. Louis on their way to Kansas.

The British admiralty court at London has decided the action by the government against the steamship Helvetia for running down and sinking the British revenue cutter Fanny off Tuskar light, on the 31st of October, 1878. The court pronounced the Helvetia alone blamable for the collision, because her speed was excessive at the time when a proper look-out could not be kept, owing to the severity of the storm. Seventeen of the crew of the Fanny were lost.

In the suit in the Brooklyn city court by Daniel Schenck against the Brooklyn Eagle for damages for libel, the jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $3000.

Lizzie Hayden, the wife of Joseph H. Hayden of North Adams, Mass., has eloped with John C. Bailey of that town, the latter leaving a wife and child.

Jane Alline Foster died at Bangor, Me., April 22d, at the age of ninety-three years. She was born in Gouldsboro, Me., and was the daughter of a surgeon in the revolutionary army, and who was also one of the parties who threw overboard the tea in Boston harbor. Her grandfather left Nova Scotia rather than take the oath of allegiance to Great Britain, and on arriving at Machias entered the United States army. Mrs. Foster was the mother of twelve children, nine sons and three daughters.

At the inquest in the case of John Shaw of Providence, R. I., who was killed with an axe on the evening of April 23d, testimony was given that the deceased and his wife were quarrelling fiercely shortly before the tragedy. The wife testified that Shaw was killed by a man who was drinking with her husband, who struck him with an axe and herself with his fist, blacking her eye. Her testimony was contradicted in its material points by the evidence of her son and brother, and by statements she had made to the officers and others. The bloody clothing belonging to the woman was identified by her son as the garments she wore just before the murder. The murdered man and his wife were a drunken, worthless pair.

Chili has formally declared war against Peru on account of the latter's active sympathy with Bolivia.

There seems little doubt that the man who tried to shoot Edwin Booth is as mad as a March hare. The Booth family have had a strange experience in pistol shooting. The tragedy in which Wilkes Booth figured drove his brother almost insane, and for many weary nights he paced his chamber, sleepless. This bitter experience must now be again vividly brought before his memory.

Douglass S. Powell, a well-to-do farmer of Cummington, Mass., recently took some offence at his fourteen-years-old son and turned him away from home, and forbade his returning. The boy applied to the selectmen, who kept him several days when they carried him home and attempted to make a reconciliation with the father. Powell became greatly incensed at being thus interviewed, and told them they could take all his property and maintain his family, and that they would never see any more of him. He then went to the barn, hitched up his horse and buggy and drove away. Thus the town fathers unexpectedly find a job on their hands.

In a street broil Friday at Montpelier, Vt., over the possession of an express wagon claimed by John W. Clark, postmaster, and J. V. Morrow, a truckman, Clark was badly handled. He attempted to take the wagon from Morrow by force, which was resisted, Morrow using a heavy whip-stock so sharply as to break several bones and smash the knuckles in one of Clark's hands, and badly bruise him about the head. Clark was attempting to take the wagon without legal papers. Threats of suits are made on both sides.

John C. Cheney has been sent to jail at Northampton, Mass., in default of $800 bonds for having three wives. Number one was from Hillsboro, in this State, the second from Lowell, Mass., and the third from Iroquois, Canada. Number two sued for a divorce in Lowell on Thursday. Number three is of a wealthy family, and they looked up Cheney's antecedents. He has been talking temperance lately through New Hampshire and Vermont. He pleads guilty.

Naval Matters.

Naval Constructor Samuel H. Pook of the Charlestown navy yard has been granted three months' leave of absence from the first of June next, and will go to Europe, partly for pleasure and partly to make a survey of naval matters in that country. It is rumored that Asst. Constructor John F. Hanscom will take his place at the navy yard during his absence.

The orders of Gunner Thomas H. Fortune to the Jamestown are revoked, and he is placed on sick leave. Gunner Charles Stewart is ordered to the Jamestown.

Capt. Lewis E. Fagan, U. S. M. C., has arrived in Philadelphia from Europe, where he has been spending six months' leave with his family.

They Had Rather Not.

The constitutional convention of Louisiana, now in session, on Friday last by a majority vote refused to adopt a resolution requiring the members to take an oath to support the constitution of the United States. A good many of the members broke just such an oath once, about the year 1861, and don't mean to get caught that way again. Their action on Friday speaks well for their regard for the sanctity of an oath, though it does not show up their loyalty to the Union in a very brilliant light.

AROUND HOME.

Charlotte Thompson at Music hall tonight, as "Jane Eyre."

Reuben C. Clark of Berwick has been appointed a deputy sheriff of York county.

Mechanics' hall at South Berwick, the scene of the disaster on election day, has been made safe beyond a doubt.

J. Warren Prior and Thomas Kennedy have been drawn to serve as petit jurors at the United States circuit court in this city on the 8th of May.

Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., formerly pastor of the South Parish, was in town Saturday to take part in the obsequies of the late Samuel P. Long.

Gallery tickets for the great entertainment at Music hall this evening, only 35 cents. Reserved seats $1, 75 cts. and 50 cts., according to location.

The schooner Lewis A. Rommell, Jeffries master, which arrived at this port last week from Port Johnson with a cargo of coal, was on Saturday towed to the navy yard, to load with old iron for New Haven.

It is stated that about two-thirds of the population of Farmington have signed the pledge, as a result of the efforts of Booth and Smith, and that the business men of the place have pledged $40,000 to assist in putting a stop to the liquor traffic.

The Norway Plains manufacturing company at Rochester are running twenty-six sets on full time, employing four hundred and fifty operatives, and turning out each week, ready for market, nineteen thousand pounds of repellants and ladies' suitings.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire occurs at Congress hall in this city on Tuesday, May 6th. The time for holding this meeting was changed in the revision of the by-laws adopted at the last meeting of the corporation.

Ship Grandee, Jacobs master, which arrived at New York on the 24th of April after a good passage of 102 days from Manila, took the great gale of Friday, April 18th, when coming on the coast, and lost two mizzen-topsail yards, split sails, and had other slight damage done.

On Tuesday of last week Mr. Charles W. Cousens, a baggage master, while putting his car in the house on its arrival at Kennebunk, picked up a pocket book containing $15 and a pair of eye-glasses. He learned that it was the property of Mrs. R. Jordan of Saco, and returned it to her the next day.

The statement that Hon. Amos Tuck had given up his residence in Exeter and removed to New York—presumably to avoid taxation under the "iron-clad inventory law"—is denied on the authority of Mr. Tuck himself, who still retains his homestead in that town, hails from there no matter where he may be, is taxed there now as he has been for forty years, and has no intention of relinquishing either his actual or legal "residence" there.

Fruit raisers in this vicinity report that the indications are for a larger crop than usual this year of Hubbardston apples, and of several other varieties that bore sparingly last year; and that a fair crop of Baldwins for an "off year" is anticipated, notwithstanding the immense yield of last season. The peach crop also promises to be unusually large, and the pear crop much more abundant than ever before. All these predictions are of course based solely upon the appearance and number of the blossom-buds.

The manager of a travelling show attempted to give an exhibition of the panorama of Pilgrim's Progress in a schoolhouse at Kennebunk recently, and did give the exhibition, though he didn't make much out of it. The bucolic barbarians inhabiting the district took forcible possession of the schoolhouse without going through the formality of paying at the door, and compelled the manager to give them a free show, during the progress of which another gang hauled his wagon off quite a distance to a swamp, and capsized it into the deepest mud they could find. The luckless manager is satisfied that Bunyan's pilgrim would never have reached the holy city had his road led through Kennebunk.

The York manufacturing company of Saco pays a dividend of $35 per share, May 1st. The par value of the stock is $750.

Rev. O. T. Moulton, formerly of Saco but now of South Berwick, has purchased a farm in Haverhill, Mass., and will soon move to that city.

The three three-card-monte men arrested in Great Falls last week were allowed to leave town, as no one would appear against them.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. Charles H. Thompson of Kennebunk launched the second porgie steamer built by him this season, and she was immediately hooked on to by a tug which took her to Portland. Mr. Thompson has a third fishing steamer on the stocks for the same Portland parties that took the other two.

Rev. Charles A. Allen, late of Dover, was on Friday evening installed as pastor of the Unitarian church at Brunswick, Me. The sermon was by Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., of Harvard university; the installing prayer by Rev. Thomas Hill, D. D., of Portland; right hand of fellowship by Rev. C. C. Vinal, of Kennebunk; charge to pastor by Rev. J. T. G. Nichols, D. D., of Saco; address to the people by Rev. R. R. Shippen of Boston.

The Dover Democrat of Saturday waxes merry and slightly uncomplimentary, over an associated press despatch from this city to the Boston papers as follows: "A company has been organized to build a bridge between Eliot, Me., and Dover, with a capital of $160,000, the directors having the power to increase the same to $200,000." The actual capital proposed to be raised is $8,000, in one hundred and sixty shares of $50 each, the directors having authority to increase the capital to $10,000 if necessary, by issuing forty more shares of stock.

The following, which we take from the Exeter Gazette, will be of personal interest to a number of people in this city: "A curious incident took place in the supreme court in one of the counties in this State a few days ago. It was about eleven o'clock in the forenoon of a Monday, when about fifty business men of a neighboring city were called upon to come into court and answer to indictments. They were a fine body of men, and made a very respectable appearance as they sat in the jury seats. The court was called, and the clerk, whom for short we will call Mr. O'Conner, proceeded with his usual dignity and suavity of manner to empanel a jury from the gentlemen above referred to, when he was checked by a suggestion from the solicitor, that he had better read from the file of liquor indictments. The clerk don't quite understand how he made the mistake."

On Saturday two men who brought a boat to this city to sell succeeded in disposing of her, taking as part pay another boat, which they also sold. In the afternoon Officer White, who was informed of the matter and that the men had considerable money with them, saw one of the men under the influence of liquor and being "shadowed" by several suspicious characters, so he kept a lookout after him until (as the officer thought) he left on the train. Later in the evening Mr. White found the man drunk on one of the wharves at the north end, and took him to the station, when $1.60 was found in his pocket. The man's partner, who was sober and in search of his drunken mate, told the officer that he had $140 early in the afternoon, and a more thorough search of his clothing disclosed about $80 scattered loosely about between his inside and outside shirts. It was lucky for him that he was picked up as he was, for had he lain on the wharf all night he would probably have had but few cents left in the morning.

State by Mary S. Keezar vs. Freeman D. Currier, a complaint under the bastardy act, came up. The parties reside in Danville. Hills and Wiggin for plff.; Marston and Eastman for deft. The jury returned a verdict that the defendant is chargeable.

The following-named jurors are to report to-day:

Webster, Kingston; Wm. W. Martin, Newcastle; Thos. F. Pickering, Newington; Wm. W. Boswell, Newton; Christopher T. Moore, North Hampton; Daniel W. Hill, Northwood; Benj. W. Crawford, Nottingham; Ora P. Severance, Plaistow; John Wallace, Raymond; Nathaniel Marden, Rye; Justin Sanborn, Elihu B. Hoyt, Sandown; Albert McGee, John Dame, Thomas A. Prior, Edwin H. Leslie, (excused,) Ward two, Portsmouth.

The cases on the State docket are to come up to-day, and it is thought that most of them will be continued.

LEGAL SUASION LEAGUE.

On Saturday evening a considerable number of persons met in the Methodist vestry, to consider the feasibility of organizing an association for promoting the interests of temperance by means of legal suasion. Rev. C. B. Pitblado was chairman of the meeting, and after some spicy talk on both sides of the question it was decided to organize an association under the name of the Legal Suasion League, the members of which shall sign the following brief but comprehensive pledge:

I promise to abstain from all intoxicating liquors, and to enforce all the laws on the statute book.

Officers of the association were then chosen as follows:

President, James Janvrin;
Vice Presidents, John M. Davis, Eugene A. Sanborn;
Secretary, Charles T. Wiggin;
Treasurer, Joseph Pettigrew;
Chaplain, William A. Loyne.

ROUGH BOATING EXPERIENCES.

Mr. Ambrose S. Pike of Newburyport left that place for Star island, Isles of Shoals, in a small gunning float, at eight o'clock on the morning of April 23d. When about four miles off Great Boar's Head at Hampton the wind hauled in to the northwest, and blew so freshly that quite large vessels were compelled to reef down to it; and it was not until five hours later, and by pulling with all his strength all the time, that he managed to reach White island in a thoroughly exhausted condition, where he was hospitably cared for by the light-keeper, Mr. Edwin J. Hobbs.

This was a pretty rough boating experience, but Mr. Pike had one last summer which beat it. While he was on the flying-jibboom of the schooner Crown Point of Newburyport, Crabbe master, the schooner buried her nose in a sea and he was swept off. The violence of the gale and the heavy sea running made it impossible for the schooner's crew to rescue him, and all they could do was to cut adrift the yawl boat in hope that he might reach it, which was done, and Mr. Pike did reach it and climb upon its bottom, and drift away in the darkness; and though the chances were a thousand to one against his ever seeing land again, after clinging to the boat's bottom for eleven hours he was picked up by the brig Isis and carried into Liverpool, Nova Scotia.

Mr. Pike thinks that for a young man of only twenty years he has had a full share of hard times in the boat-excursion line; he has had all the share he wants, anyway.

REV. MR. HUBBELL DECLINES A SETTLEMENT HERE.

On Sunday morning, at the close of the sermon by Rev. James W. Hubbell, he read a letter to the North church and parish, of which the following is a part:

Brethren and Friends: A little more than two years ago you gave me a call to become your pastor. Uncertain as to the effects of a change of climate upon my health, and for other reasons, I did not then accept the call; but holding it in abeyance I entered into an engagement with your committee to labor with you for a year, with the expectation that then I should be able to give decisive answer. At the close of the first year, you were kind enough to appoint a committee to wait upon me regarding the acceptance of the call; and in case this was not practicable, to renew the engagement for another year. I accepted again the alternative: and at the close of my second year's labor I felt that the question must be decided, and if I continued with you I should accept the call and be installed by council. But in a very providential way, and while considering the question of acceptance, there came a call from another parish, urgent and inviting, with hopful promise of growth and usefulness. Perplexed and hesitating I have been for three weeks now, with troubled mind and restless heart, asking the question, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" And at last out of struggle I have found an answer. I indicated yesterday to the church in Danbury my intention to accept their call—and I do hereby (while it gives me pain to do it) decline the invitation of this church and parish, and will mention the next Lord's day, the first Sabbath in May, as the close of my service among you.

In conclusion Mr. Hubbell expressed his gratitude for the many expressions of kindness to himself and family, and his earnest hope that the church may continue united and prosperous.

Mr. Hubbell while here has made many firm friends among our people, and among them are included many belonging to other religious societies; and his departure is a loss to Portsmouth. He is a gentleman of liberal views, a preacher of acknowledged power, and as a citizen and friend is of the most genial and agreeable character. We like such a cheerful and pleasant man for a clergyman, who leaves upon the mind the memory of the familiar hymn, "Religion never was designed to make our pleasures less."

PRESENTATION.

At the Middle street Sabbath school, Sunday afternoon, an elegant gold-headed cane was presented to the superintendent, Henry A. Yeaton, Esq., in behalf of the school, by the assistant superintendent, Mr. Albert Rand, who in a few appropriate remarks reviewed the relations which had existed between the superintendent and school for several years, and expressed the regret which was felt by all at the removal of Mr. Yeaton from the city.

Mr. Yeaton responded in a feeling manner, and said that although he had prepared himself to say good bye, he was totally unprepared on account of the suddeness of the occasion to respond to the affectionate feeling which had been exhibited in the presentation of such a valuable and useful gift. He assured them that although away from this city he should be with the school in heart, and should ever treasure the gift as a memento of the affection and good will he had ever received from them.

The school under Mr. Yeaton's charge is in a prosperous condition, the number present last Sunday being over two hundred. Mr. Yeaton goes to Detroit this week, to enter into business there, and leaves many friends and well-wishers in Portsmouth, where he has been for so long a valued citizen.

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial diseases are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

The officers of the Laconia bank offer a reward of $1000 for the capture and conviction of any of the parties concerned in the late robbery. In addition to about $6000 in money, the thieves got some $100,000 in non-negotiable securities, on which the bank will lose nothing, as there is a full record of the whole.

At a meeting of the directors of the Mt. Washington railway, held at Concord on Friday, a committee consisting of Emmons Raymond of Boston, Walter Aiken of Franklin and J. A. Dodge of Plymouth, was appointed to make an inspection of the road to determine if anything can be done to make the road more secure.

Political.

A northern democratic paper having remarked that Jeff Davis could not be chosen to the United States senate, the Corinth (Miss.) Record comes to the front to say that "it would cost any member of the legislature his political life to vote against Jefferson Davis for the United States senate." NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid $1.50) or "Invalids' Guide to Health" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Hydrocele, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operations, Cross-Eye, Club-foot, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet cited, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Dependency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, and Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not claim this medicine as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.

The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.

Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.

The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.00 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.

Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. CATARRH
A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.
SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practiced medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used every thing in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine something that we allopathists are very loth to do; I tried one and divers others until I got hold of yours, I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is decidedly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,
Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son., Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.
MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought under the influence of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 20 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their name cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Peninsular Virginia.

The soil of peninsular Virginia is rather kindly than rich. Certainly it has not that richness of virgin land of which it is said, "Tickle it with a hoe, and it laughs in a harvest;" but light manuring produces a quick return and ample crops, and that considerably earlier than in other places north of Norfolk. There is still a remnant of the old style of farming to be seen, of which it was said that there were only three crops raised in Virginia—corn, hogs, and niggers, of which the hogs ate all the corn, and the niggers devoured all the hogs. One of these "crops," however, is removed from the list.

The "poor white" is poor—very poor. The small farmers of the north cannot compare with these in absolute destitution of money.

"Doctor," said one of them, who had slowly recovered consciousness after being terribly injured by an exploding grindstone—"doctor, I reckon I'm pretty badly bruck up, hain't I?"

"Yes, my man; you are hurt just about as badly, to stand a chance of recovery, as any man I ever saw."

"Thet's so, thet's so. Wa'al, doctor, do you know, thet ez poor ez I am, and ez much ez I need money, I—I wouldn't ev hed this happen to me fer—fer twenty-five dollars!"

Many of these poor whites are day-laborers on the neighboring farms, but others work a small patch of potatoes or corn on their own account, in ground mostly so filled with stumps and so given to overgrowing bushes as to be useless to any but themselves. One sometimes sees them working in their fields. Paterfamilias does the plowing, Filius Minimus drops the corn, and the rest come in regular consequence, Mater leading the hoeing.

The poor are wofully ignorant, as the upper classes are, in many instances, indolently unprogressive, though far less so than formerly. In short, the Virginia portion of the peninsula seems sunk in a Rip Van Winkle sleep that has lasted a hundred instead of twenty years, and that as yet shows but small signs of awakening.—Harpers' for May.

Gossipping.

It is almost frightful, and altogether humiliating to think how much there is in the common on-going of domestic and social life, which deserves nothing but to be instantly and forever forgotten. Yet it is equally amazing how large a class seem to have no other business but to repeat and perpetuate these very things. This is the vocation of gossips—an order of society that perpetuates more mischief than all the combined plagues of Egypt together. You may have noticed how many speeches there are which become mischievous by being heard the second time; and what an army of both sexes are sworn into it, that the fatal repetition shall be had! Blessed is the man or woman that can let drop all the burs and thistles, instead of picking them up, and fastening them on to the next passenger! Would we only let the vexing and malicious saying die, how fast the lacerated and scandal ridden world would get healed and tranquilized.—Dr. Huntington.

—Never be angry with a man who threatens to blow your brains out. He is flattering you with the remark that you have brains.

—At a late book sale in New York, a copy of George Bancroft's this volume of early poems sold for $15. Some one told Bancroft of it. "Ah," said he, "I've plenty of them laid away, and would have sold one for half the money."

—A singular incident happened at a store in Brockton the other day. A gentleman trying on a pair of buckskin gloves found a gold ring inside on which was inscribed the owner's name, that person having tried on the gloves previously and the ring having slipped from his finger in withdrawing his hand. It is said that this is the third time the thing had happened at that store.

—This story is being passed around at West Springfield, Mass., and is a good one, whether true or not. A citizen went home from the caucus one night and asked his wife, "Did you commit an error do anything out of character before we were married?" "Why no! What makes you ask such a question?" "Oh, I didn't think you had, but I was nominated for a town office to-night, and I knew if you had it would all be out to-morrow."

—A lady on Cumberland street, Portland, has a canary bird that will faint away and fall over as gracefully as any lady. The bird is a very fine singer, but (like some of the fair sex) when the least bit frightened will stop singing and fall from its perch in a faint of the most approved sort. It remains in an apparently unconscious condition for some ten or fifteen minutes, then rouses up and commences to warble as though nothing had occurred.

—A German physician of celebrity has lately been investigating the subject of early rising, and has come to the conclusion that, far from making a man "healthy, wealthy and wise," it has quite the contrary effect, and shortens life instead of prolonging it. In the majority of cases which he has investigated the long livers have indulged in late hours, and at least eight out of every ten persons who attained the age of eighty years and upwards were in the habit of not retiring to rest until the small hours, and of remaining in bed until the day was far advanced. He has no doubt that early rising is a most pernicious habit for those who go to bed late, and, like Charles Lamb, thinks it better for everybody to delay getting up until the morning has had a chance to become well aired.

Mississippi Political Literature.

No paper has been more liberally advertised of late than the Southern States, of Okolona, Miss., which has been quoted and commented on in Congress a dozen or twenty times, and d——d by almost every northern democratic paper for its reckless out-speaking concerning the ends and aims of the southern democracy. When the paper and its utterances were first brought to public notice, a Mississippi congressman said its editor was a northern copperhead during the war, and only emigrated from Ohio a few years ago; but the editor showed that he was born in the south, and served all through the war on the rebel side. As so much has been said about him and his paper, a specimen of his style of writing may be interesting, so we give his leading editorial of March 26th:

O, how fit—how passing fit it was that the radical party should breathe a final hiss at our Confederate President as its dying carcass was borne from the Senate Chamber of the States Union!

Hating all that is good and pure and grand and true, it was peculiarly proper that it should hate Jefferson Davis with a deathless hate.

Its history was one long lie and crime.

It flung our country into war.

It murdered 400,000 gallant southrons, like the common cut-throat that it was.

It gave our homes to the torch, like the common incendiary that it was.

It plundered our pockets and coffers, like the common thief that it was.

It sent its jail-birds to lord over us, and imprisoned the purest patriots of the north, like the common tyrant that it was.

It corrupted a whole generation, like the common pimp that it was.

Finally, with bloody hands and pockets bulging with stolen moneys, it fell before the wrath of an indignant and outraged peoplehood.

But its malignant spirit was strong in death, and while the rattle was sounding in its slimy throat it managed to utter a farewell hiss at our illustrious chieftain.

Let this fact be forgetless.

It contributes one more shining leaf to the splendid laurel crown of glory that circles the brow of our grand old Confederate President. It intensifies the immortal love and honor for our second Washington.

We have captured the capitol, and the name of Jefferson Davis will hereafter be spoken with reverence in its historic halls, while his picture will yet grace, and his memory will yet glorify the place forever.

Even that did not exhaust him, for scattered through his paper of the same date were the following brilliant paragraphs:

It may become the imperative duty of President Davis to accept the United States senatorship, whether he wants it not. These Yankees must be taught a lesson.

Yes, sir, we repeat it: The Federal brigadiers must take back seats in the work of restoring the Union. Lincoln hirelings are played out in this republic of ours, now that we have captured the capitol.

Yankee blue-coats have fallen 'way below par in Washington city. The Confederate gray commands a premium. Glorious! Push on the column!

Lincoln and his mob, yclept the Union army, were traitors; and their treason must be made odious.

Stand back, there, ye Federal brigadiers! Stand back, we say. The old Confederate boys propose to run this Republic from now on.

It may be said that this blatant rebel is only a "cross-roads" journalist and politician; but it must be remembered that the cross-roads politicians rule the southern wing of the democratic party, and that the southern wing of the democratic party rules the party at large. The sentiments of this editor are not held by him alone, for a southern democratic congressman having said on the floor of the House that he only represented himself, the Southern States immediately printed the endorsements of sixteen other democratic papers to its announcement that the confederates had captured the capitol and would undo all that the republicans had done during the past eighteen years.

Fire at Gorham.

A telegram Monday evening reported the town of Gorham in flames. The buildings of the Grand Trunk railroad were destroyed, and it was feared the whole town would go. Aid was asked from Portland.

Aid for the Colored Refugees.

Gen. Benj. F. Butler offers to Gen. Conway, who is endeavoring to render such help to the colored refugees as to furnish them homes and to be self-supporting, twenty thousand acres of good farming lands in Wisconsin, to be divided into small farms and given to these freedmen. Gen. Ingersoll is to deliver lectures on the problem of the exodus to help to raise funds in order to enable the negroes to avail themselves of Butler's offer. An elderly Quaker in Philadelphia has given $10,000 to help to secure western homes for the negroes.

In a very sensible article on the causes of the negro exodus, the New Orleans Times (dem.) says that the truth compels it to admit that there is cause for the apprehensions which the colored people entertain as to the danger of being deprived of the civil and political rights and for their belief that they cannot have justice. It further says that after making all allowance for exaggerated reports of politicians, "the fact remains that the threatened emigration of the negroes is to be traced to the conduct of a class of young politicians who seem to emulate the name of bulldozers." The Times calls upon planters and men of substance to organize in every parish to protect and aid their laborers.

The Pomeroy Creature Again.

Jesse Pomeroy, the cowardly and ferocious two-legged reptile whose worse than worthless neck was saved from the gallows by the namby-pamby sentimentalism of the women of Massachusetts, made an unsuccessful attempt to escape from the State prison in Concord, Mass., Friday morning, April 18th, but the fact is just published. By some unexplained means, Pomeroy came into possession of a portion of a case-knife, the edge of which and the point were provided with teeth like a saw. One of the iron bars of his cell window he had sawed asunder. At the bottom and nearly at the top the cast iron fittings were also sawed apart, and replaced with sawings and soap as cement to keep them in place. In replacing the cast iron parts, Pomeroy failed to restore them in line, hence the discovery.

The Legal-Tender Test Litigation.

The preliminary papers have just been served in the suit which Mr. S. B. Chittenden and Gen. B. F. Butler agreed should be brought in order to test the validity of the reissue of United States legal tender notes in time of peace. The suit has been brought in the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, and is founded upon a genuine transaction in the regular course of business. The trial of the action will probably not take place for a month at least, and whatever the decision may be the defeated party will appeal to the supreme court of the United States, in time, it is hoped, for argument at the October term.

News and Notes.

Mrs. Harriet M. Lillie, of No. 117 Maverick street, East Boston, does not lack for excitement when at home. Within a few weeks six pistol bullets have passed through the windows of her house, fired by careless marksmen at targets on Maverick square. One of the bullets hit Mrs. Lillie in the head, and inflicted a severe wound.

A policeman was attacked by roughs at Phenixville, Pa., Saturday night, and knocked down with a stone. He then shot dead one of the roughs, named Frank Devlin, and wounded one other, James McCloskey. The officer will recover.

At San Francisco, Friday night, William Boulange, a bootblack, a native of Manila, attempted to shoot Pauline Christian, a servant girl, who had repulsed his attentions. He fired one shot without effect. A policeman attempting to arrest him received a shot in the arm, and in turn shot Boulange in the face. The latter then fired at William Trey, the girl's employer, killing him. Boulange was locked up. His wound is fatal.

There was a big flood at Houston, Texas, on Friday. Many houses were swept from their foundation, and the damage to property was very great.

Peter E. Stevens was on Saturday found guilty of manslaughter at Chicago, for killing his wife, the penalty being fourteen years in the penitentiary. As the criminal was being taken from the court room to his cell, Mrs. Young, his mother-in-law, stepped up quickly behind him, put a pistol to his head and pulled the trigger; fortunately for the prisoner, the handkerchief in which the pistol had been concealed intervened between the hammer and the cap, and caused the pistol to miss fire. Mrs. Young has been arrested.

Charles H. Sherman, formely a first lieutenant of marines, died at a hospital in Philadelphia from the effects of an overdose of opium, which he had probably taken to overcome the effects of a recent drunken debauch. He resigned from the service in 1877.

A six-days pedestrian match for the championship of England and the Astley belt came off at Islington, Eng., last week, and was won by "Blower" Brown, who made 542 miles, beating the highest previous record by twenty-one miles. Weston stood fourth on the list, with 450 miles. The victor was apparently in good condition at the end of the race, but the others were badly used up.

The selectmen of Southbridge, Mass., charge amusement companies "two dollars and six complimentary tickets" for the use of the town hall.

Barque Velocity, from Hull, Eng., for Philadelphia, was run down during a dense fog on the 26th of April by the steamship City of Rio Janeiro, and sank in five minutes. The captain and ten of the Velocity's men succeeded in climbing on board the steamer by the anchor chains, but the steward and a boy were lost.

A. C. Fessenden of South Adams, Mass., a prominent business man and respected citizen, committed suicide by shooting himself in the breast and over the right eye in his own barn, Sunday morning, while in a fit of temporary insanity.

A pauper in Gill, Mass., induced one of the selectmen of that town to give him $5 for the necessaries of life, and then spent it in obtaining the luxury of a wife.

Peter Sullivan, an old man living in a retired place in Chicopee, Mass., was burned to death on Friday. His wife had emptied ashes in the yard, and the wind blew a live coal into some loose fodder which set the barn on fire and then the house. His body lay most of Saturday partially burned and exposed to view.

At Clarkston, Mich., William Dunston and wife were fatally gored by a Durham bull, Saturday.

George Einsig, convicted at York, Pa., on Friday, of murder in the first degree for killing his wife, committed suicide in his cell Sunday morning by cutting his throat with a razor and then hanging himself with a piece of rope and a towel.

Workmen digging a cellar on land of Michael Boyle at Lowell, Mass., on Friday, found a skeleton of a man. A police officer on the beat where the skeleton was found, believes it is that of a man who disappeared suddenly three or four years ago. All the teeth were sound, and in the lower row were double all around. The jaw was broken.

David Ordway, the eccentric Proctorsville, Vt., man who had his funeral sermon preached last summer, has now procured his shroud and coffin, having the latter trimmed at his direction, and had them taken to his house. He is eighty-four years old and quite unwell.

The managers of the American Bible Society in a circular announce a change of policy by which, instead of relying upon auxiliary societies alone to effect a sale of their publications, they design to secure a wider circulation of the books through the channels of trade, and make it for the interest of dealers in books to accommodate their customers by keeping for sale the society's bibles and testaments. The society does not seek profit, and in offering its books for sale has regard only to receiving the return of the cost of production. The prices at which they are offered for sale—25 cents for bibles and five cents for testaments—are probably unexcelled by any books published. It is expected that the policy now adopted will be of great service to the public, who will be gratified to find at the usual places where books are sold, bibles and testaments bearing the imprint of this great national society, which is a guarantee of the accuracy of the text and of the excellence of the printing and binding.

Naval Matters.

The U. S. S. Lackawanna was at Callao on the 2d of April, and the Pensacola was on her way up from Valparaiso.

The naval court of enquiry into the causes of the collision between the storeship Supply and the British barque Diadem, which resulted in the sinking of the latter, find that nobody was to blame. The two vessels were close-hauled on opposite tacks, under short sail, and did not see each other's lights until too late to avoid a collision.

New Publications

Another volume of Mr. Joseph Cook's Monday lectures has been published by Houghton, Osgood & Co., of Boston, entitled Marriage, with preludes on current events. The eagerness with which the public read Mr. Cook's lectures may be judged from the fact that of the first publication of the volume similar to the one before us sixteen thousand were sold, of the lectures on Transcendentalism eleven thousand, and a corresponding number of the later issues. In fact Mr. Cook, while addressing his audience in Tremont Temple, speaks to countless numbers by the aid of his publishers, who promptly issue editions of these lectures, for which an eager host of purchasers are upon the qui vive, and which are read throughout the length and breadth of the civilized world. The book is uniform in price and style with the preceding volumes, and can be found at Myers' bookstore.

Prof. Moses Coit Tyler has been for some time engaged in preparing a work on English literature suited to the wants of classes in colleges and higher literary seminaties. He has used as the basis of his work "Morley's English Literature," but with an entire re-arrangement of matter, large retrenchments, and additions of his own. Prof. Tyler has worked out a very valuable system of tables and charts for each period, which makes the classification of the great authors very clear and simple. This book, it is expected, will be the best manual of English literature in existence. Sheldon & Co., of New York, will publish it in June.

New Hampshire Items.

A well known Nashua man, who, while driving a spirited horse, ran over a young woman, has been sued for damages to the amount of $10,000.

Mr. Frank H. Champlin, stationer and fancy goods dealer of Laconia, who was closed up by his creditors last week, made a satisfactory settlement, and opened again Saturday.

AROUND HOME.

Portsmouth seems to have gotten well over the leg mania, but it still rages furiously in other places.

The "city books" have been delivered to the city clerk by the printer, and can be procured by citizens at the city rooms.

A large fleet of coasting vessels in the lower harbor on Saturday, were detained over Sunday and Monday by unfavorable winds and thick fog.

A sacred concert is to be given in Music hall next Sunday evening by the band of the 9th regiment of Massachusetts militia, assisted by the Higgins family and other vocalists.

The Storer Encampment and citizens' committees on invitations and programme are requested to meet at the common council room this evening at eight o'clock, on important business.

The new uniforms for the Dirigo band of Kittery were received on Monday, and will be publicly worn for the first time on Wednesday evening in this city, on the occasion of the band's parade with the City Guards.

The assessors of taxes will be in session at the city rooms from 7:15 to 9 o'clock this evening, to receive inventories and hear all parties in regard to their liability to taxation. This is the last meeting of the assessors announced for this purpose.

The entertainment at Music hall, Sunday evening, drew a large audience, showing that popular prices will fill the house with people even to hear a spasmodic—not to say chastic—lecture, and the singing of "The last rose of summer" on a Sunday night in April in a style which could be easily excelled by plenty of our local vocalists.

Drake, the liquor spotter on whose evidence the indictments found against parties in this city was based, was arrested on Monday for perjury,—on an old indictment, we believe—and lodged in jail at Exeter. It is pretty certain that if he swore, as reported, that he purchased whiskey in all the places in this city whose proprietors were indicted, that he committed perjury in at least four instances, and presumably in all the cases.

Henry Hanscom, Theodore James, alias Slim Jim, and William Waters, were on Saturday afternoon arrested at Rochester as they were leaving the train which had just then arrived from Portland, and taken before Justice Ela on the charge of mulcting a fellow passenger named Rice, of Springvale, Me., to the tune of $98, by means of three-card monte. The accused were held in the sum of $1000 each for their appearance at the September term, and in default of bail were sent to the county jail at Dover.

Reserved seats at a dollar apiece will keep people away from a place of amusement in this city, no matter what the attraction offered. There was but a small audience at Music hall on Monday evening, though one of the best actresses on the stage of to-day was present, with an excellent supporting company. Miss Charlotte Thompson has been highly commended, but not too much so, and those who did attend to see the play of Jane Eyre were richly repaid for their expenditure of time and money.

The following, from the Manchester Mirror, is applicable to all latitudes and longitudes: "Professional showmen understand many things which local amateurs do not, and, among others, these: That a newspaper reporter attends very few entertainments except as a matter of business; that he would willingly be excused from attending nearly all of them; that the reports which he makes of them are mainly interesting, and of advantage, to their managers, and that it is asking too much, when it is expected that he shall pay for an admission, in order to give those who would be benefitted by it a report. In these facts may be found the reason why some entertainments, especially those given by religious societies, are not noticed in the daily papers."

The Christian Benevolent society of Kittery will give an entertainment in Trefethen's hall at the navy yard village on Thursday evening, May 1st, to consist of singing, statuary, tableaux, etc. Jean Ingelow's "Song of seven," illustrated and a male quartette and a "grotesque quartette," will add to the interest of the occasion.

John M. Kay of Dover won a $2.25 purse in a foot-race on Friday; this so elated him that he "stood treat," and he had to pay $8.76 on Saturday for getting drunk. Net profit of the joint transaction, $6.51 out of pocket. The young man immediately signed the temperance pledge.

THE SOUTH PARISH.

The annual meeting of the parishioners of the South Parish was held in the stone church on Monday. William H. Hackett was chosen moderator. The report of the wardens was accepted, and the sums recommended in the report to be appropriated for the current year were voted. The wardens of last year, Messrs. William H. Sise, William W. Cotton, William R. Preston, Charles H. Rollins and James R. May, were re-elected. Jos. Hiller Foster was re-elected parish clerk. Mr. A. W. Haven resigned as a trustee of the charity fund, and Mr. Foster was elected to fill the vacancy. The wardens and five other members of the parish were appointed a committee to consider whether any other and more satisfactory method of assessing the taxes can be devised, and to report at a further meeting. It is understood that the appropriations were mainly as voted last year.

METHODIST ANNUAL MEETING.

The Methodist society held their annual meeting on Monday evening, and elected the following officers for the coming year: President, John H. Broughton; secretary and treasurer, Daniel McIntire; trustees, John H. Broughton, Wm. C. Newton, James Janvrin, Daniel Leavitt, R. B. Adams, Silas Philbrick, A. M. Gardner.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, April 28; Batchelder, J.

Daniel McCarthy, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $5.76. Same, for assault on Joseph B. White, was fined $1, costs $4.99. Not having $14.75 to spare, the pugnacious drunkard went to jail.

SUPREME COURT.

MONDAY, April 28; Allen J.

Court came in at half-past nine o'clock, and the State docket was taken up.

Case State vs. Eben L. Chapman of Epping, for selling liquor, which was tried April 18th, at which time the jury disagreed, was in order, but the witnesses were not examined, the matter having it is said been adjusted.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The Kearsarge was inspected on Monday by Capt. Jonathan Young, Naval Constructor Theodore D. Wilson and Chief Engineer Benjamin T. Garvin, preliminary to her taking on board her seastores.

The U. S. S. Plymouth was relieved from quarantine on Monday, much to the gratification of her officers, most of whom paid a visit to the shore as soon as released from their long confinement. The ship will be put out of commission where she lays, and part of her crew will be put on board of the Kearsarge to take her to Annapolis.

NEW HAMPSHIRE'S BI-CENTENNIAL.

The 18th of September of this year will be the two hundredth anniversary of the existence of New Hampshire as a separate province and a State, as on the 18th of September, 1679, the union which for thirty-eight years had existed between Massachusetts and New Hampshire was dissolved by Charles II., then king of England, and New Hampshire elevated to the dignity of a royal province. The new government was administered by a president and council appointed by the king; laws were enacted by an assembly chosen by the people, the King, however, reserving the power to discontinue the assembly whenever he thought it advisable.

John Cutt of Portsmouth, whose residence was near the spot of land now occupied by the stone store at the old ferry way on Market street, was appointed president of the council; and William Vaughan of Portsmouth, John Gilman of Exeter and Richard Waldron of Dover received royal appointment to the council, with the power of adding to their number. The council as finally organized consisted of the gentlemen named, with Richard Martin and Thomas Daniel of Portsmouth, and Christopher Hussey of Hampton. It is said that the president and councillors accepted their offices reluctantly, because of the friendly relations existing between the then feeble colonists and their more powerful neighbors of the Bay settlements.

Portsmouth, Dover, Exeter and Hampton were the only towns to participate in the election of members of the assembly, and they cast in all two hundred and nine votes, as follows: Portsmouth seventy-one, Dover sixty-one, Hampton fifty-seven, and Exeter twenty. The first business transacted by the assembly was the adoption of an address to the governor of Massachusetts, informing him that the new province had been made by "The Lord and His Majesty," and that the people otherwise would have been content under Massachusetts, and desiring "your prayers and endeavors for a blessing upon the heads and hearts of us who are separated from our brethren."

From this feeble beginning has grown a State which, though small in territory and with a stubborn soil, has prospered and maintained a proud position among the oldest States of the country for two centuries. The some public recognition of New Hampshire's entry upon the third century of its existence should be made seems to be the general feeling, and it has been suggested that the celebration be combined with the inauguration day ceremonies at Concord, and a general muster of the military of the State and such civic societies as will take part be then and there had.

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial diseases are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

Political.

What do northern democrats think of the fact that every man recommended by the Senate majority to fill Senate offices, without a solitary exception, served in the confederate army?

The "negro exodus," if it does nothing more, is likely under the census of 1880 to give the west one or two members of Congress for ten years at the expense of the south. We think it will do more. It will demonstrate to the country that the negroes are not content with their lot under white-league and shot-gun rule, and it will convince southern planters that if they expect to retain the services of the laboring population best adapted to their climate, and already skilled in the branches of labor required of them, they must give them a decent chance to live, and open a way upward to such of their number as may be qualified for higher positions.—Lebanon Free Press.

—It does not follow that women are cobblers or blacksmiths because they are good hands to shoe hens.

—When a newspaper says a kind word for a man he never knows it, but if it handles him a little roughly, he finds it out in less than a minute.

—One good reason why professional pedestrians should be allowed to walk 3,000 quarter miles in 3,000 quarter hours is that it has a tendency to kill the pedestrians.

—"The simplicity of President Taylor," says a correspondent of the Buffalo Courier, was exemplified when Secretary of State Clayton waited upon him for aid in the search after Sir John Franklin. "Yes," said Taylor, "we ought to do something, for this country is much indebted to him for his services in gaining independence." This may be "simplicity" in a president—it would be shameful ignorance in a school-girl.

"I admit it sir, but I swear I will drink no more of it." The Count de V., slightly elevating his shoulders: "You always exaggerate! I didn't ask you not to drink it; I only ask you not to put water in what's left. For, really, it isn't fair that you should drink rum pure and that I should drink rum and water."

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Hon. B. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN—With these specialties of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to Females.
NERVOUS DISEASES—Including Hysteria, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,008 pages, sent prepaid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (116 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for those diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and combined with all kinds and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician, and as a conclusion I feel it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, but I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked wonders, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic disease of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain a THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats fully of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Sirs: I have practiced medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used every thing in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried——and directly others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say that I had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully, D. W. GRAY, M. D., Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son., Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 20 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

The Real Cause of the Negro Exodus.

While the northern democratic papers are inveighing against the "unscrupulous radical politicians," and charging to their machinations the negro exodus from the bulldozed States of the south, some of the more outspoken of the southern democratic papers do not hesitate to say that the negro emigration which has assumed such alarming proportions is due solely to the outrageous and long-continued oppression of the colored people by the whites. For instance, the following from the Avalanche of Memphis, Tenn.:

The incendiary teachings of the Bourbon press and politicians have furnished in great part the material now feeding the emigration movement that so alarms the planters of the Mississippi valley. These presses and politicians have taught only bitterness. They marked for social proscription all who refused to submit without question to their partisan guidance. This became the parti-an creed. The brunt of their denunciation fell on the colored people. The lawless classes were but too ready to begin the dastardly work of persecution. They found it a certain means of suppressing the ballot. They inaugurated reigns of terror, shot and killed where shooting and killing became necessary, and so preyed on the fears of the unprotected blacks as to practically disfranchise them in every locality where the bull-dozing programme was adopted. And the Bourbon presses and publications, instead of demanding protection for all classes under the laws, pronounced all charges falsehoods, and at least indirectly encouraged the bastards to further deeds of violence. This is the truth, and the truth should be told.

A Word to Doubters.

There is a good old English maxim that teaches us to "believe every man honest until we know him to be a villain." American custom seems to have reversed this law and appears to make every man a villain until he has proved himself an honest man. As with people, so with things. Every article placed in our markets can lay claim to popular favor upon intrinsic merit and value alone. Continued popularity, therefore, is proof positive of intrinsic excellence Dr. Pierce's Family Remedies are far more popular to-day than ever before. The people have tested them and know them to be genuine remedies for the diseases they are recommended to cure. The Golden Medical Discovery and Purgative Pellets are the best alterative, tonic, and cathartic remedies that can be used in chronic diseases of the stomach and liver. The world-wide popularity of the Favorite Prescription, as a never-failing remedy for Female Diseases, would have alone secured to its discoverer the fame he has so richly won. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, of which Dr. Pierce is also proprietor, is recommended by those who have tested its virtues as a safe and reliable remedy for catarrh in its worst forms.

Portsmouth Chronicle

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1879.

Under Which King?

People who visit Concord in June, while the legislature is in session, have noticed a gentleman of rotund proportions, seated in the shadow of a diamond pin, in the rotunda of the Eagle hotel. This personage is Hosea B. Carter, of Hampstead, in this county, known by many under the peculiar sobriquet of "Humbug" Carter. Mr. Carter is a politician of the modern school, and like the hero of the cross-roads is fond of holding a position, "which is post-master." But if the post office is a convenience, the office of railroad commissioner to a man of peripatetic habits has its value, and by some process, we know not what, Gov. Prescott, by the advice and consent of his council, and Mr. Chandler, permitted Carter to become a special joint commissioner of the Boston & Maine railroad, to act in representative capacity for this State with the commissioners for this railroad in Massachusetts and Maine. We suppose the office, like that of the commissary general, is somewhat ornamental, "Little to do, and plenty to get," as Sergeant Buzfuz jocularly suggested to Mr. Sam Weller in regard to his service under Mr. Pickwick; at any rate, the duties are not arduous, and the office is presumed to carry with it the complimentary courtesy now so rarely extended by this corporation to the genus "beat" who seeks transportation over its iron without rendering the equivalent.

At all events, Mr. Carter, who is on the lookout for an early number, and who attends the conventions, and in regard to the political destinies of coming men is always busy, evidently saw the rising ambition of the governor, and turned the trait to his own advantage. Now, with his commission in his capacious breast pocket, with evidence of having been duly qualified for the office, our new incumbent is ready for business. He puts in requisition the machinery of the Globe Printing Works, that world-wide-renowned establishment which supplies postmasters and members of the legislature with printed letter-heads at fabulously reduced rates, and issues his circular informing the corporate world that he has entered upon his new duties and assumed the responsibilities of the new position.

Now this was all proper; but it appears that some one suggested to the Board of State Railroad Commissioners that Mr. Carter's object in disseminating this information was a purely selfish one, and the board issued a manifesto cautioning the unsophisticated railroad managers of the State against falling into error in this respect, and asserting that they were the only genuine sarsaparilla. As if one of the governor's appointees was to be in this manner obscured!

This course has seemed to arouse the mettle of the otherwise genial and placid postmaster of Hampstead. Carter, bland and smooth to the country members desiring information upon a subject before the "House," or to the delegate seeking knowledge as to the most available man to support in convention, is as quiet and undemonstrative as the Merrimack in an August drought; but touch his "official" position and he becomes as demonstrative and active as the Wild Ammonoosuc in a spring freshet. In fine, he issues a counter pronunciamento which abounds in conundrums deftly put, but which have a meaning unmistakable and pronounced. He hints at incumbents owning shares in railways while in office; and other forebodings appear. In short, the hero of Hampstead intends business. We shall not be surprised to see an investigation into the doings of the railroad commissioners per se, and perhaps a protracted legislative war, beside which the chronic tiff of Pearson & Son, proprietors of the People and Patriot, against Minot & Co., managers of the democracy, will seem utterly insignificant, while in comparison with it the Senatorial question will have a minor importance.

Mr. Carter has joined issue with the board of commissioners, and has put himself upon the country for trial, and unless the board acknowledge their mistake in a too hasty action, we may hear music in the air. In the meantime the special commissioner will continue to
